

MRS. CRAWFORD IN TROUBLE AGAIN

Manicurist Given Cell in Jail in Lieu of Bail Money.

In default of $1,000 bail Mrs. M. L. Crawford occupies a cell at the city prison under a charge of attempting to dispose of a piano not her own.

The complaint in the case is Martin Johnson, who alleges that he sold Mrs. Crawford a piano on the installment plan she making an initial payment of $5.

The woman traded the piano for another instrument and then attempted to sell the second piano. The technical offense charged is larceny by bailee.

Mrs. Crawford, who is a professional manicurist and maintains a shop in the Raleigh building, is not unknown to the local authorities.

A few months ago Mrs. Crawford incurred prominently in reports made to the police concerning an attempt made to cash a check for a considerable sum at the office of the Imperial hotel.

The attempt to get the money came to nothing because of the caution of the cashier of the hotel and no criminal prosecution was ordered instituted.

TEDDY IN FIST FIGHT--ALMOST

President Roosevelt and Congressman Diekema Nearly Come to Blows.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, March 27.—That President Roosevelt and Representative Diekema of Michigan shook their fists at each other in a recent argument over the Wilsey case and reached a point in the squabble where it looked as though an actual fight could not be averted is the substance of a report that leaked out today.

The president had sent for Diekema, who is a member of the judiciary committee which was investigating charges against United States Judge Wilsey at Shanghai, to inform him of the committee was altogether too officious in the matter.

Representative Diekema is said to have retorted warmly, whereupon both men lost their temper according to the report, and shook their fists in each other's face.

Astoria's Registration. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Astoria, Or., March 27.—The registration of voters at the county clerk's office has reached 2,100, which is about 100 below the complete registration two years ago.

How I Took My Wrinkles Out

After Facial Massage, Creams and Beauty Doctors Had Failed.

BY HARRIETT META.

Trouble, worry and ill-health brought me deep lines and wrinkles. I realized that they not only marred my appearance and made me look much older, but that they would greatly interfere with my success, because a woman's success, either socially or financially, depends very largely on her appearance.

The homely woman, with deep lines and furrows in her face, must fight an unequal battle with her younger and better looking sister.

I therefore bought various brands of cold cream and skin foods and massaged my face with most constant regularity, hoping to regain my former appearance. But the wrinkles simply would not go. On the contrary, they seemed to get deeper.

Next I went to a beauty specialist, who told me she could easily rid me of my wrinkles. I paid my money and took the treatment. Sometimes I thought they got less, but after spending all the money I could afford for such treatment, I next found I still had my wrinkles.

So I gave up in despair and concluded I must carry them to my grave. One day a friend of mine who was versed in chemistry made a suggestion, and this gave me a new idea. I immediately went to work making experiments and studying everything I could get hold of on this subject.

HARRIMAN OUT OF UNION PACIFIC

Union Pacific stock went to pay the demands of the banks.

Securities and Control. With these Union Pacific securities went the control of the great railroad holding company, and Mr. Harriman's resignation was a part of the bargain driven by Mr. Morgan.

Harriman's bankers, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., assented and even favored the deal, and that they fully share the views of Morgan, Rockefeller and others as to the wisdom of retiring Harriman from the forefront.

It is believed that public feeling against Harriman's railroad policies has been very largely responsible for the widespread movements and legislation antagonistic to railroads, and in the enactment of rate bills, two-cent fares, reciprocal demurrage and general railroad commission regulations.

Mellen's Appointment. The appointment of Mr. Mellen as president of the Union Pacific is expected to do great things for the railroad concerned, as he is in favor with President Roosevelt, and is also regarded as an aggressive and able railroad executive.

Mr. Mellen has for some years been in the service of railroad interests controlled by J. P. Morgan & Co., and he has eminently "made good." He is regarded by the public as one of the world's ablest railroad men.

The new alignment of Union Pacific financial interests, will it is said, strengthen the road, and materially assist in the recovery of its former strong position as a money getter.

It is believed the Morgan rule will immediately result in the supplying of the necessary money to continue the great program of expenditures and improvements that Harriman two years ago undertook in the northwest and laid down when the financial stringency of last year struck his banking friends and forced him to abandon construction of half a dozen big railroad construction projects in Oregon and Washington.

FATHER FAILS TO RESCUE WAYWARD BOY

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Bellingham, Wash., March 27.—Ragner Berg, a 17-year-old youth, is occupying a cell in the county jail and must stand trial in the superior court on a charge of grand larceny unless the prosecution decides that his age shall save him or his father comes to his assistance.

The boy has been held for more than a month and has written to his father, J. Berg of Spokane, who is a well-to-do steamship owner of that city but no reply has been received. The young man was arraigned in the superior court yesterday and it was then learned that he is barely above the juvenile age.

The offense is not as serious as might be expected from the charge, the information stating that he took a suit of clothes valued at $40 from the shop of a local tailor.

It is reported that Edward H. Harriman will be a delegate to the Republican national convention from Oswego county, New York, where his home is.

GOOD CITIZENS NAME TICKET AT WOODBURN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Woodburn, Or., March 27.—The following Good Citizens ticket was nominated in this city last night for consideration by the voters at the municipal election April 6: R. H. Scott, mayor; R. M. Henks and L. W. Durant, councilmen; P. A. Livesley, recorder; S. C. Berry, treasurer; Eugene Mooshberger, marshal.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY

22,120; W. W. Meyers, Socialist, 2,784; and in the second district W. R. Ellis, Republican, 23,315; J. H. Graham, Democrat, 12,151; A. M. Fani, Socialist, 3,632; H. W. Stone, Prohibition, 2,404.

Hopeless Battle for Democrats. At that election the Democratic party through its nominees, Galloway and Graham, polled a total of 31,491 votes or more than 25 per cent of the total of 92,481 cast for all the candidates.

Coming now to the present situation confronting the Democratic party it is safe to presume that the vote for congressional men will be at least as heavy next June as it was two years ago. There is no doubt but that the increase in population within the past two years will make it much larger, and on some hands it is claimed that the already great divergence between the Republican and Democratic vote throughout the state has been increased by this registration and increase.

With this condition and assumption it is conservative to presume that the vote for congressmen throughout the state will be at least a total of 92,461, what it was two years ago. There is to be a Democratic nominee in the second district, two candidates for the nomination having made their appearance.

In order for this nominee to be able to save the Democratic party from an official death for three years it would be necessary for him to get approximately 23,365 votes out of the second district and against the Republican nominee.

Two years ago the candidate for the second district, Mr. Graham, polled only 12,151 votes, while Ellis, the present congressman from the second district polled 23,315.

Unless the Democratic nominee this year should receive twice the vote given to Graham two years ago—which is so improbable that it does not deserve consideration—the fate that threatens the party cannot be averted.

Today is the last day on which candidates for congress can file their declaration of intention and their petitions with the secretary of state. It would be a matter of impossibility for any candidate to now be placed on the nominating ticket. There is no other way by which a Democratic candidate can be placed on the ticket in June. Therefore the Democratic party will have to go into the battle with a representative in only the second district.

Chance to Be a Party. Because of this condition the Democratic party will be compelled to take its place alongside the Prohibition and the Socialist parties in its consideration by the primary law just as soon as the votes are counted in June. It will have to stay there until it can secure 25 per cent of the total vote for congressman and there will be no opportunity until the general election in June, 1910.

Between June, 1908, and the first municipal elections following the general election of June, 1910, therefore, the only way the Democratic party of the state can be represented in politics will be by the old convention system, which has been left to parties or organizations polling less than 25 per cent of the vote.

It is provided in the direct primary law that all parties that do not poll 25 per cent of the total vote for congressmen may place their nominee on the official ballot in June after their nomination by a convention regularly called in accordance with the provisions of Sellinger and Cotton's code.

It will be necessary therefore for the Democratic party to follow this system until after the June election in 1910. If at that time the Democratic congressional nominees poll 25 per cent of the total vote the party will come back
