

EAST AREA CENTRAL MILLER CARRIES OREGON IS THROUGH OPEN OUT HIS THREAT

Evidence Before Land Office Shows Harney Valley Tracts Will Produce Crops Without Irrigation—Can No Longer Be Said Will Not Support Railroads.

After an exhaustive hearing and the showing of indisputable facts before the commissioner of the general land office it is now a matter of official record at Washington that the supposed desert lands of central Oregon will produce profitable crops of grain and that the country will support a railroad. The railroad builders of the country are expected to take notice, and no longer to permit the largest area in the United States now without transportation facilities to continue for another year without a railroad giving central Oregon an outlet to Portland.

Will Open West Area.

As a result of decisions made by the interior department affecting the project of the Harney Valley Improvement company and the Pacific Livestock company the government will this year allow to homestead settlement about 55,000 acres of good valley lands in Harney county.

The commissioner of the general land office has completed a review of the case of the Pacific Livestock company vs. the Harney Valley Improvement company, and in his report he declares the proposed irrigation plan of the Harney Valley Improvement company to be impracticable, and decides that a large part of the lands applied for are non-desert lands.

The lands in question lie in townships 22, 23 and 24 south of range 32 east, in the jurisdiction of the land office at Burns. The Harney Valley Improvement company proposed to irrigate the lands, and applied to the state for a segregation under the Carey act.

The Pacific Livestock company opposed the application, contending that the lands were capable of producing good crops without irrigation, and also that there was not sufficient water available in the Silvers river to properly irrigate the lands in mid-summer.

ports in irrigation and geological formation, also farmers who are raising good crops on unirrigated lands in the vicinity. The state application in behalf of the Harney Valley Improvement company is refused and the lands will be thrown open to homestead entry.

Will Produce Good Crops.

Further evidence in support of the theory of Oregon boosters that central Oregon will support a railroad was furnished by farmers in the country around Burns. Jasper Davis testified that he had resided in Harney county 22 years; that on some of his land located less than two miles from the segregation applied for and in the same kind of soil he is growing every year good crops of oats, rye and other small grain without irrigation; that he had been over most of the ground in question and that in his opinion it would produce profitable crops of grain without irrigation.

Similar testimony was given by H. C. Lewis, Sam Nickel, Joel Sturtevant, and Julian Byrd, all residents of the same region. The register of the land office had been rejecting applications of homesteaders who wished to settle on the lands.

Summing up the evidence the commissioner of the general land office holds that the lands are non-desert in character, and that if united by grazing animals they can be made to produce profitable crops of grain.

Mt. Hood Railway Manager Forces City Into Suit Over Right of Way.

Carrying out his threat that he would get from the courts what he wanted in the way of rights of way if the city did not grant them to him, C. W. Miller, representing the Mount Hood Railway and Power company, filed suits in the Clatskanie circuit court yesterday and the papers were served on City Auditor A. L. Barber late in the afternoon.

LIBRARY CONTEST SHOWS HEAVY GAIN

Many New Names Among Those Striving for The Journal's Prize.

This week's count in the library contest shows an increasing interest and a heavy vote among the leaders. Many new names are among the contestants and nearly all of the Portland public schools are entered with the intention of winning the library for their school. Williams avenue school still holds the lead with Shaver school close second. The artisans and the East Side Telephone club have made large gains and are working hard for the lead. Multnomah camp W. O. W. is after the library and will get to work at once.

MR. U. S. MARSHAL OR JUST MR. MARSHAL?

There is a telegram at the Hotel Portland addressed "U. S. Marshal." It might be that this telegram is for a man by the name of Marshal. And it might be that the message is for the United States marshal at Portland. It is the hotel clerks are of the opinion that the telegram is for the United States marshal at Portland, and they are expecting some one to step up to the desk and register as U. S. Marshal.

PIONEER SISTER DIES OF PNEUMONIA

In the death of Sister Mary Agathe, the Sisterhood of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary has lost one of its Oregon pioneer members. Sister Mary Agathe, nee Celina Pepin, daughter of Joseph Pepin and Marguerite Valiquet, was born in Montreal, P. Q., March 23, 1835. In 1857 Celina entered the Novitiate of the Sisters of the Holy Names at Montreal, Quebec. Having pronounced her vows July 27, 1859, the young novice offered herself as one of the band of 12 brave women who left Montreal September 15 and made their way to Portland, Oregon, then almost unknown, where they arrived October 1, 1859.

PACIFIC MONTHLY ISSUES FINE EDITION

Effort which is being put forth to make the Pacific Monthly the leading periodical of its kind in the country is being reflected in the enlarged edition of the magazine for April. Forty pages have been added to the regular size, and the pages are devoted largely to interesting descriptive articles on the state of Washington. The issue is profusely illustrated, and the front pages are devoted to eight colored half-tones of scenes in Washington. Francis J. Heney contributes a vivid article, "The Fur Business," and John Fleming Wilson and Horatio Langford King are among those who contribute fiction stories. The publishers announce in the current number that it will be the policy of the magazine in the future to concentrate interest on the section of the west at a time, and in this way perform a lasting service to the great northwest.

MAYOR COUCH OUT FOR LEGISLATURE

Mayor K. C. Couch of St. Johns has announced his candidacy for representation from Multnomah county on the Republican ticket. Mr. Couch has taken the pledge to vote for the people's choice for United States senator and choice for State Senator No. 1. Mayor Couch's office as mayor of St. Johns expires April 14. His administration has been a successful one and it has been difficult for him to refuse his friends another term as mayor.

WHEN HER BACKACHES

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away. Portland women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders. Here's proof of it in a Portland woman's words: "Mrs. A. S. Cummings of 246 Clackamas street, Portland, Oregon, says: 'Kidney complaint and backache have clung to me for a long time and often I suffered severe attacks of it. Sometimes it was a dull, heavy aching over the kidneys and again sharp, acute pain in the small of the back. The kidney secretions passed too frequently and often with pain. I had tried several remedies with poor results and was finally induced to use Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me very quickly and, continuing their use, I soon found relief from the aches and pains and the action of the kidney secretions was strengthened to a great extent. I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills in our papers three years ago. I am always pleased to say a good word for this remedy and am glad of this opportunity to confirm my former testimony.'"

JOURNAL WANT ADS PAY BEST

The ABC and XYZ of ADVERTISING

A SERIES OF TEN TALKS ON ADVERTISING written by Seymour Eaton of Philadelphia for the readers of The Journal No. 10

A man succeeds, not because he advertises his business, but because he lives it; because he eats it, sleeps it, dreams it, builds air castles about it.

The man who never builds air castles never builds castles of any kind.

The great motive power of any business is the strenuous personal faith of the man back of it.

Put your name to the front—your own personality. This is a tremendous force in advertising. People like to know individuals. They like to feel that they are being served by men, not simply getting their goods out of the hopper of a treadmill. And if people have any kicking to do—and the American people enjoy kicking—they prefer to kick individuals. It is mighty unsatisfactory, for instance, to kick an express company, or a railroad, or Brown, Smith & Co. One can't hit the bullseye.

Breathe the breath of life into your advertisements. It is safe to say that nine out of every ten advertisements which we see are as dead as Egyptian mummies. They are beautifully decorated, twined around with fine linen, draped and boxed for burial. They have eyes and nose and mouth, but they neither see nor speak. They don't even smell. Their faces are either made of putty or are chiseled out of beautiful marble. There is no throbbing pulse.

Advertisements are written to appeal to live people, and nothing can get into the heart of humanity so easily as another heart.

If you have faith in your goods, and the public has faith in you, the circuit is complete. The advertisement is simply the transmitter through which your faith operates.

The trunk lines are all laid. Every home is connected up. To put your shop in communication with 150,000 possible customers is dead easy. The newspapers go to press shortly after midnight. At 8 o'clock tomorrow morning you can talk to 100,000 people about the few little attractive features of your shop which you are making ready—some suits which you are closing out at half price, or some new importations which you got through the custom-house only yesterday. Don't run away with the idea that you need to apologize to the public for disturbing their breakfast with your affairs. The people like it. A newspaper without advertisements wouldn't sell.

Advertising isn't grammar; it isn't pictures; it isn't type; it isn't top-of-page position. It is something far more real than these things. These are merely accessories. Advertising is making the proper telegraphic connection between you and the customer. It is the art of making the type speak.
