

Despite Bearish Dealers the Price of Eggs Has Made an Advance During Past Week

Given the opportunity, I would urge every farmer to come to the Pacific northwest, where he can find in dairy farming a certain and steadily increasing income. The demand for good eggs will be met, as long as the supply is proportionately limited, as has been the case for several years past.

What is to become of the hop industry of Oregon and in fact the entire Pacific coast states? Will the growers of this section gradually go out of the business as they have done in various localities because of financial reverses or will they continue to hold on—there being no grounds as long as there is any nose to grind?
