

GLADSOME SPRING DAYS AND EARLY BLOOMS BRING CHILDREN TO CITY PARK

No Park Keep in Sight.

Cherry blossoms, seed-sowing, straw hats, picnic baskets, and bare-headed girls are here and that is a sure sign of spring. These mild days see young and old coming out to breathe the balmy air and the hills and the woods, the paths through the parks, and the country roads are teeming with people out to welcome the spring.

Saturday the school children, free from their studies, wander to the City park and make the air ring with childish laughter. The chair swings rock merrily to and fro with their light-hearted burdens; the caged lion roars with an extra flourish to send delightful thrills of terror down their childish backs; the monkeys chatter more volubly and chatter more playfully as the spring atmosphere gets into their veins; the bears begin to shed their hair in unobtrusive preparation for the warm summer when they will don their new and lighter coats; and the deer look plaintively through the bars with spring fever and a longing for their native woods showing in their wistful eyes. And everywhere wander the children wrapped in the mysterious delight of a new spring with its new happiness and new strength.

The park is a scene of busy workers these days. The flower plots have been dug up and raked and are being sown with fresh seed. New flower plants have been put out and among them many roses for the coming Rose Festival. The winter quarters of the animals are being cleaned and freshened for the out-door season. Trees must be pruned and flower beds loosened up for the better nourishment of the plants. The sun shines brightly down, bringing warmth and cleanliness in its rays. And above in the trees may be heard the twittering of the birds that have come back for the summer and are whistling out their joy in their homecoming. Yes, spring is surely here.

The Mysterious Raffles.
The mysterious Mr. Raffles, that very polished young gentleman of society, who practiced his art on his wealthiest and most influential friends, will display his cleverness and nerve at the Heilig tonight and every night this week. George Allison makes an ideal "Raffles." Matinee Saturday.

Mary Manning Sale Tomorrow.
Tomorrow, Tuesday, morning, at 10 o'clock at boxoffice, the Heilig theatre, Fourteenth and Washington streets, the advance seat sale will open for the celebrated and beautiful actress, Mary Manning in "Glorious Betsy," for an engagement of three nights, beginning next Thursday, April 2, with a special price matinee Saturday.

Big Moving Picture Show.
All this week at the Marquam the management will present a great collection of moving pictures. The performances are continuous from 2 p. m. until 10 o'clock. There are four beautiful, hand-colored films. These are "The Vestal," "The Frog," "The Animated Snowballs," and "The Old Theatre Trunk." Two of the film stories are humorous and one is spectacular.

New Bill at the Grand.
In a new vaudeville program at the Grand today every act is guaranteed to be in the first class. Maude Sutton and company will have the headline act in "Cinderella," a little musical playlet. Richard W. Craig is a musical comedian with a reputation. "The Ballet Girl" is an amusing piece played by J. H. Davies and company. Brooks and Jeanette are singers and dancers and so are O'Neill's college boys. Young Buffalo, the crack shot, and others, will make up the bill.

"The Black Hand."
A play founded on the plots of "The Black Hand," and bearing the title of the mysterious organization is being presented this week at the Star theatre by the French Stock company. The first performance was offered yesterday.

Cure for Drunkenness

Urine Treatment to Be Used at Home Without Publicity, or Loss of Time From Business.

The best aid to temperance is something that will strengthen the drunkard's wrecked nervous system and cure his unnatural craving for drink. We believe that any man who really desires to be cured of the liquor habit can cure himself by using Urine. This remarkable treatment has made so many cures that we are glad to sell it under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

It is in two forms: No. 1, that can be given secretly, and No. 2, for those who wish to be cured. It is not only the most reliable treatment known, but it is also the most economical, as it costs only $1 a box, and there is no deduction from the usual duties, while if a cure is not effected there is no expense whatever. Mail orders filled on receipt of price in plain sealed package. Write for free booklet. The Urine Co., Washington, D. C., or Clarke-Woodward Drug Co., and nearly all druggists in Portland.

MASKED BURGLAR ATTACKS WOMAN

Mrs. L. A. Palmer, San Francisco Hotel Proprietress, Robbed in Apartments.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, March 30.—Every member of Chief Biggy's detective squad is today searching the city for the robber, who, after beating and gagging Mrs. L. A. Palmer, proprietress of the St. Rose hotel, and attacking a maid in his flight, last night stole money and diamonds valued at $464.
Wearing a false mustache, goggles and a black slouch hat, after the manner of a stage brigand, the robber knocked at the door of Mrs. Palmer's room. As she opened it he grasped her by the throat. "I'm a desperado," the robber whispered. Mrs. Palmer was not unnerved by this remark. She fought back with all her strength until the robber struck her full in the face. She felt he caught her head and effectively gagged her. Then he tore open her waist and seized a chain-link bag containing diamonds valued at $200 and $50 in money. Leaving his victim in a semi-conscious state, he rushed out of the room and encountered a maid, who grappled with him, but was soon choked and thrown aside.
Mrs. Palmer is on the verge of nervous prostration today.

ORDER OF HIBERNIANS EXPRESS THEIR THANKS

Portland, Or., March 29.—To the Editor of The Journal—We, the undersigned committee of the St. Patrick's day celebration, in meeting assembled, gratefully acknowledge the hearty and strong appreciation of the invaluable service rendered by The Journal in connection with the demonstration of March 17 in honor of Ireland's patron saint.

We also wish to congratulate The Journal upon its excellent reproduction of St. Patrick on March 17, which adorned its first page. The tender memories thus awakened in the hearts of the Irish and their friends in this city shall long be remembered, and the A. O. H. will ever cherish an abiding respect for all the courtesies of the press.

DEATH AT EUGENE OF MRS. ROSALIA BAUSCH

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., March 30.—Mrs. Rosalia Bausch, one of the wealthiest women in Eugene, died Saturday from paralysis, after a short illness and was buried Sunday afternoon in the O. P. cemetery. The funeral services were held at the Catholic church.

Mrs. Bausch was born at Wiesenberg, Bavaria, Oct. 14, 1846. In 1864 her father, John Ausman, and eight children came to America and settled in Wisconsin. She was married to Peter Zimmer in 1864 and three children were born to them, as follows: John and Frank Zimmer of Eugene and Mrs. Mary Kendall of South Dakota. Her husband having died, she removed to St. Paul and came to the coast in 1872, settling at San Francisco. She came to Oregon in 1876 and was married to Peter Bausch at Albany. Shortly afterward they came to Eugene. Mr. Bausch died September 17, 1904.

Mrs. Bausch owned much real property in Eugene, several brick business blocks included.

FALLS SIX STORIES AND YET MAY LIVE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Spokane, Wash., March 30.—E. D. Linn of this city, a concrete employe on the 12-story Paulson building, fell from the sixth floor through the frame work to the ground and is still alive. The doctors say he has a chance to live. Outside of a broken jaw no bones were injured, which the doctors have not as yet discovered, the man will live.

Linn was climbing a ladder between the fifth and sixth floors, two other men preceding him at the same time. For some reason the first man stopped and the second man backed down a step, stepping on Linn's fingers, causing him to lose his hold and fall.

Exposition Bank News.
By special request the moonlight skating will be continued this week. Every one attending tonight will receive a free chance on $1 in gold. There will be a drawing and the winner must be present.

Such a Nice Day for a Picnic.

OREGON SUPPLIES MATERIALS FOR CUSHION SEATS IN PULLMANS

When riding in a Pullman car in any part of the United States or in a sleeper in Canada and enjoying the nice, soft plush seats, or touring about the city or the country in an automobile covered with a great, thick plush robe, did it ever occur to you that most of the material of which all this plush is manufactured comes from Oregon? Probably you never thought about it, but nevertheless, such are the facts. Oregon supplies more mohair from which plush robes and seat coverings are made than any other state in the union.

O. F. Kendall of Boston, a retired plush manufacturer, is at the Hotel Portland accompanied by his son, G. H. Kendall, of Idaho. Mr. Kendall was in the business many years and was formerly senior member of the firm of L. C. Chase & Co., the originators of the plush manufactory in this country. Several years ago he retired and is now enjoying life by traveling about the country. Mr. Kendall came to Portland from southern California.

day and was well received. Matinees Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

"Captain Impudence" Tonight.
The great show of the week will be the Allen Stock company in Edward Milton Royle's beautiful play "Captain Impudence." The first performance occurs tonight. Do not miss it.

INDEMNITY NOT DUE MRS. MARY HAYDEN

Olympia, Wash., March 30.—The supreme court has decided in favor of Reinhold Zerbst of Vancouver in a controversy with Mrs. Mary Jane Hayden as to who was entitled to receive the $1,200 awarded in a judgment against the Portland & Seattle Railway company in condemnation proceedings instituted by the railroad to acquire all of a lot in Vancouver. Mrs. Hayden

When Mr. Kendall first went into the plush business most of the mohair was imported from Turkey. This continued for many years until the farmers of this country took up the vocation of raising Angora goats. Gradually the idea spread until it soon became a business. Finally the farmers of Oregon began raising Angora goats with great success. The animals thrived on the food and climate of this state and their wool is of an unusually good quality.

The firm of Chase & Co. has four factories in the east and manufactures all of the plush used in the Pullman cars on the various railroad lines of this country. These fine plush seats which nearly every one has enjoyed at some time or another are made from mohair. Many of the plush robes used by the automobilists and for carriage robes are also made from the hair of the Angora goat. Some of the grades of mohair used by the manufacturers in making certain plushes are imported from Turkey still, but the greater part of it used in the United States comes from this country.

Mr. Kendall will remain in Portland several days.

Instituted the action, claiming the deed by which Zerbst acquired the property through her husband was void because she had not joined in the conveyance. The court decides it was the separate property of her husband.

NORTH BANK WINS RIGHT-OF-WAY SUIT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Olympia, Wash., March 30.—A controversy between the Portland & Seattle Railway company and the Columbia Valley Railroad company over a right of way on the north bank of the Columbia river between Camas and Vancouver has been decided by the supreme court in favor of the former. The Columbia Valley company claimed to have acquired the right of way in 1892 and that the Seattle & Portland had invaded its land. It sought an injunction to restrain the boring of a tunnel through the promontory at the point in question and to restrain other railroad construction through section 15, township 1 north, range 3 west.
