Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Jane Singer, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. M. Misamore, Wednesday evening, were held from the residence, 499 Gantenbein avenue, this morning. Mrs. Singer was an Oregon pioneer of 1852 and had many friends among her acquaintances in Portland and in Oregon City, where she had made her home for the past 40 years. She was born in Carnavenshire, North Wales, 81 years ago, and came to the United States in 1847. She was first married to Robert E. Williams, with whom she came across the plains, afterwards marrying William Singer at Oregon City. The following children survive her: Mrs. M. L. Misamore, of Portland; Robert E. Williams, of The Dalles; W. E. Singer, of Waitsburg, Washington.

Remains of Mrs. Mary Bell Holmes will be interred at Oakland, California, beside those of her husband. Mrs. Holmes died in Portland at the home of her cousin, Mrs. W. M. Ladd, last Thursday after an illness extending over 12 months. Mrs. Holmes was the widow of Captain Samuel Holmes, whom she married at Oregon City. She lived with her husband some time at Celilo, where he was employed by the Oregon Steam Navigation company. They subsequently moved to Oakland, which had been their home during their later life. Ten years ago Mrs. Holmes came to Portland and has made her home with her cousin here during that time.

POSTPONE VOTE ON NEW BRIDGE

Special Bond Election to Be Called After June Campaign.

(Journal's east side office, 360 East Morrison street. Telephones—Pacific, East 839; Home, B-2444.)

As was announced by The Journal Thursday the North East Side Improvement association voted unanimously last night to postpone the consideration of a bond issue for the construction of a $2,000,000 high bridge at Albina until a special election can be called during the summer or early fall. Such special election is considered unavoidable for several reasons, the most important of which is that bonds must be voted by the people at once, or as soon as possible, to replace the Madison street bridge, which has been in an unsafe condition for several months.

In view of the fact that an election must be called in order to vote bonds to reconstruct the Madison bridge the members of the North East Side Improvement association thought it advisable to postpone the consideration of their bridge as the cost will be no more. There will be other matters that will come up at that time, including an additional conduit to Bull Run river considered by some to be more important even than the construction of a high bridge at Albina.

The feasibility of running tubes under the river to accommodate the streetcar traffic was discussed but it seemed to be the consensus of opinion that a subway is undesirable at this time and that the city has not reached that point where a subway is practicable. However, it was expressed by some that the time had arrived for a subway and nearly all thought that subways would have to be built sooner or later.

The petitions for the vote on the bridge bonds now contain nearly 4,000 names. It is undeterminable at this time when a special summer election can be called. That will depend largely at what time the decisions of the supreme court are handed down in the cases pending, including the bond issue for the Madison street bridge voted last June but declared illegal by Circuit Judge Cleland.

It was also decided to ask the city council to appropriate $5,000 for the employ of Ralph Modjeski, the engineer who has charge of bridge building for the north bank road and who was the constructing engineer for the two bridges built by that corporation across the Columbia and Willamette rivers to the peninsula. A committee including the following men was appointed to wait on the council for that purpose: Dan McAllen, W. P. Olds, W. T. Woodward, Dr. J. R. Weatherby, D. L. Povey, A. B. Manley, L. T. Peery, T. B. McDevitt Sr., K. V. Lively, J. F. Sinnott, K. E. L. Simmons, L. T. Adams, E. Versteeg, George W. Bates, John Pittinger and Judge M. G. Munly.

PUT AUTO ON RUN TO PRINEVILLE

P. B. Poindexter, a stockman of Prineville, has purchased a 20-horsepower Reo auto, which will be put on the run between Shaniko and Prineville this summer. The machine was shipped to the terminal of the Columbia Southern railroad today, and will carry its first load of passengers to the interior the first of the week. This is the second auto to be placed on the run of 65 miles between the two points. The distance is covered in about five hours and a half, about one-third the time required by the mail stages.

AT THE THEATRES

Seats Selling Mrs. Patrick Campbell.

Seats are now selling at the box office of the Heilig theatre, Fourteenth and Washington streets, for Mrs. Patrick Campbell. This celebrated English actress will present "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" next Monday night, April 6, at the above theatre, and "The Notorious Mrs. Ebbsmith" on Tuesday night. Mrs. Campbell is supported by her own company of London players.

Last Time Mary Mannering.

The last performance of the charming actress, Mary Mannering and her excellent supporting company, in the delightful comedy "Glorious Betsy," will be given at the Heilig theatre tonight at 8:15 o'clock. Seats are now selling at the theatre.

"Raffles" Closes Tonight.

If you have not seen "Raffles" at the Baker this week there is just one more chance and tonight will close the remarkable run of the play with the mysterious gentleman thief. It has packed the Baker to the doors at every performance, and could evidently run another full week to the same business.

"Fantana" Tomorrow.

"Fantana" opens its engagement at the Marquam tomorrow. Teddy Webb will be on hand in his famous character and will sing his killing song, "Don't Go in the Lion's Cage Tonight, Mother." The San Francisco opera company has been reorganized and returns to Portland stronger than ever. Wallace Brownlow, the English baritone, and a number of other noted singers, have been added to the cast. "Fantana" is a sparkling musical comedy.

"Captain Impudence."

The Allen company has seldom pleased the patrons of the Lyric so well as during the present week, when "Captain Impudence" has been the bill. It is a delightful comedy-drama, by Edwin Milton Royle, author of "The Squawman" and "Friends." Last performances tonight, tomorrow afternoon and night.

"The Black Hand."

Tonight the last performance of "The Black Hand" will be given by the French stock company at the Star theatre. This is a modern and up-to-date drama with scenes in Kentucky. The plot concerns the doings of the black hand association, which has been terrorizing the community.

Last of Marquam Pictures.

Moving pictures will continue at the Marquam until 10 o'clock tonight. There are four pictures, an illustrated song and a specialty by a soubrette. The pictures have made a hit and the daily attendance has been large. The performances are continuous and one can drop in at any time and see an hour's show for little money.

Vaudeville Sunday.

Tomorrow will be the last opportunity to see the present vaudeville entertainment at the Grand. This bill has as one of its features Young Buffalo, a marvelous rifle shot. This act is the greatest sensation and novelty in the shooting line that has been seen in the west. Usual performances Sunday.

ENGINEERS' CLUB ENTERTAIN MEMBERS

Members of the Engineers' club, which was recently organized, met last night in the club's hall, Second and Morrison streets. After the business session the newly elected members were seated at a dinner prepared by the wives and daughters of the members. The latter part of the evening was given over to dancing.

Politicians.

Get wise! Eighteen votes at Hotel Castle Edel Brau (12-Mile House) and Rose Vista Farms all for you. Come out and stuff off a few dollars—don't be a stingygut—a lot of good men will get left because they are full of "hot air" and stinginess. Plenty chicken broilers and amusements.

N. B.—Don't believe any "knocking" lies about "cock fights." That was a joke. We ate the chickens. Remember it pays to advertise.

Defective Wires Cause Fire.

The roof and a portion of the upper story of the Glendora apartment house at Nineteenth and Couch streets, were damaged by a fire that started in the attic of the building shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Prompt arrival of the department and quick and effective work by the men in charge of the apparatus prevented a spread of the flames, the firemen being enabled to confine the fire to the upper story of the house.

Defective electric wiring is assigned as the cause of the fire. The building and contents were damaged to the extent of about $1,000.

GRAINHANDLERS THREATEN STRIKE

Waterfront Tied Up This Spring if Union Refuses Reduction Tomorrow.

Upon the action taken tomorrow at a meeting to be held by the Grainhandlers' union will depend whether a strike is to be declared along the waterfront this spring.

The grain exporters notified the union several days ago that they would not be in position to renew the contract which is now about to expire and which calls for 40 cents per hour on the various wheat docks along the harbor.

The communication of the exporters will be taken up at tomorrow's meeting of the union and it is said there can be no alternative except a strike should the employes refuse to accept a reduction in wages, which it is understood will follow the exporters' declination to renew the old contract.

Exporters say they can get all the grain handled they wish on Puget sound for 30 cents an hour and to pay 40 cents here means to drive a large amount of shipping from this port to Tacoma.

PERSONAL.

Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, who arrived at the Hotel Portland yesterday, left this morning for Salt Lake. He was taken slightly ill while in Tacoma, but had recovered entirely before starting east.

Walter R. Brown and family, accompanied by a party of Minneapolis people, are at the Hotel Portland.

ATTACK ON COLE LACKS STRENGTH

Moser's Fireworks Cause Much Laughter at Republican Meeting.

A regular old-fashioned Republican rally was held at June hall, Front and Gibbs streets last night under the auspices of the South Portland Republican club at which about 30 candidates for office told the large audience why they should be elected. Among them was James Cole, candidate for district attorney, who followed shortly after Wallace McCamant, who had been billed as the principal speaker.

McCamant was expected to sting Statement No. 1 in about a dozen places, but not once in his whole speech of nearly an hour did he mention Statement No. 1 and all he had to say against the principle was by inference and left his auditors in doubt as to whether he was on the fence or just climbing over.

Gus Moser attempted to reply to Cole's speech at Gresham Tuesday night when Cole stated that Moser and Cameron were making a bid for the north end vote. After stating that he had not been in the north end save to visit business houses, Moser started to tell that he knew Cole had been there. He almost said he knew this, because he had seen evidence of it, and the crowd hooted. Everybody laughed and wanted to know how Moser knew this if he had not been in the north end. Moser was forced to explain, after the crowd stopped laughing, that he had been told so.

Moser's Reply Weak.

Moser's reply was so weak that it had no effect and was forgotten altogether after Cole made his speech. Cole told his auditors in a straightforward manner what his platform would be; why he had entered the race and what could be expected of him if elected. Cole made but a brief speech, but that was enough to convince his auditors that his motives are honest and that a fair and impartial enforcement of the laws could be expected if he was elected to the district attorneyship.

Cole explained that he would enforce the Sunday closing law, the gambling law, the laws to protect minors, the bribery laws and would make a thorough investigation of all rumors of graft which have filled the public mind so much recently. Cole explained that he did not know whether there was anything to these rumors of graft, but said that he would investigate them and if he found evidence sufficient to convict would prosecute the offenders without fear or favor.

Cole Speaks at Montavilla.

Previous to the meeting in South Portland Cole addressed a gathering at Montavilla, where he made a strong impression upon the voters present. His speech at Montavilla was much along the lines of his speech at South Portland.

Following Cole, Dr. L. M. Davis, a Statement No. 1 candidate for the state legislature, made a strong address which was heartily received by the audience. Charles J. McDonald, another Statement No. 1 candidate for the state legislature, also spoke. B. D. Sigler, candidate for reelection to the office of county assessor, spoke, as did Judge Cameron, Dr. Emmet Drake, K. K. Kubli, William Reid, J. W. Bell, Lou Wagner, T. T. Taggart, C. N. McArthur and many other candidates for the various offices to be filled at the June election.

The meeting last night was one of the most successful of the campaign and in addition to the long array of speakers a pleasing musical program was rendered. Miss Lena Harwas sang several solos which were heartily applauded.

SMOKE CHRISHENS BOARD'S NEW HOME

Many Speakers Add Spice to Smoker at the Board of Trade Rooms.

A well-attended smoker was given by the Portland board of trade at its new home in the Commercial club building last evening, and numerous indorsements of the board's new produce exchange were heard from prominent citizens and members. Among the speakers were Mayor Lane, W. D. Fenton, Tom Richardson, C. F. Swigert, D. M. Dunne, T. S. Townsend, all of Portland, and C. M. Epply, Salem; Dr. J. P. Tamasie, Hillsboro, and President Clark of the Seattle Produce Exchange.

Mayor Lane dwelt on the importance of city ownership of water power and electric lighting plants. Colonel Dunne spoke in behalf of the Manufacturers' association. Mr. Swigert's talk was in the line of congratulations from the chamber of commerce, of which he is president.

President Townsend of the board of trade asked the cooperation of the membership of the board in its new plan of a produce exchange. He said:

"The total or combined holdings of the membership that has now signed up for stock will aggregate more than $40,000,000, and I challenge any city in the United States to make same showing in five weeks' time. As modest as I may be, it would be unkind of me not to say that I am proud to be the president of such an organization, and I promise you personally, that in starting this board of trade and exchange, and for nine months to come, which is the term of our office, we shall do everything in our power to have nothing but fair and square dealings through the exchange. However, I wish to state that Mr. Muller and myself cannot do this work alone. It is your influence and cooperation that we want and need."

Free Breakfast Food.

It is not often that a manufacturer will give away a full size package of prepared food, to prove its merit, but that is what the Columbia Milling company is doing. Every one bringing a want ad to The Journal office tonight will be given an order, which, presented to the D. C. Burns company, 210 Third street, will entitle the holder to a full-size package of the famous "Morning Glory Wheat Meats," one of the best breakfast foods on the market. Want ads in The Journal cost only 1 cent a word, so don't forget to bring your ad to The Journal office tonight for the big Sunday Journal.

The Democrats of Oregon, by their own volition, are expected to write the name of George E. Chamberlain in on the primary ballots on April 17, and thus nominate him as the party's choice for United States senator.

In announcing his candidacy for the senate Governor Chamberlain took the ground that he would make the race provided the members of the party by their votes at the primary election called him to the task. He outlined his position regarding the senatorship, and then left the matter of nomination in the hands of the voters. It is expected therefore that he will be given the full party vote of nomination, this being accomplished by writing his name in the blank space left on the nominating ballot.
