

THE season of weddings is at hand. The Easter weddings are among the prettiest of the year and many young women realising this have announced the week immediately following Easter for their weddings.

The first of the April weddings was celebrated last night when Miss Maud Hahn and Clarence Boothe Lamont of Seattle were married. Originally their intention was to have an Easter wedding but arrangements to spend Easter in New York necessitated a Lenten wedding and the ceremony was therefore made less elaborate. The color plan was yellow, a color that has prevailed throughout the luncheons and teas given for her. Her maid of honor was Miss Della Hahn, her sister, and her bridesmaids were Miss Maud Howell and Miss Ethel Shea. The best man was F. Wynn Palmer of Virginia, and the ushers were T. S. McGrath and Ralph Hahn. The wedding was celebrated at St. Mark's Episcopal church and a reception followed at the handsome Hahn home on Cornell road. The bridesmaids were gowned in yellow satin on semi-empire lines and wore black picture hats with sweeping plumes and carried bouquets of black-eyed Susans. Miss Della Hahn wore white fillet net over chiffon and tulle in yellow with a white hat and yellow hydrangeas. The bride wore white duchess satin cut empire, with a panel of old lace, a long veil and natural orange blossoms. Mr. and Mrs. Lamont have gone to New York to be gone six weeks and will live in Seattle, where Mr. Lamont is president and manager of the Pacific Engineering company.

Easter week will be gay with four weddings of some prominence. Tuesday evening, April 21, Miss Edwina Mastick will be married at 8:30 at the First Unitarian church. This will be a pink wedding and the bride's sister, Mrs. T. M. Patterson, will be the matron of honor, her two sisters, Misses Cara and Maud Mastick, and Miss Wilma Fiske and Miss Edith King will be the bridesmaids. Warren Swayne of San Francisco will be the best man. The same evening at the same hour Miss Agnes Hill and Horace Chapman will be married at Trinity church. Miss Hill's maid of honor will be Miss Judith Scott and there will be four attendant matrons, all recent brides, Mrs. Walter Gadsby, Mrs. Ambrose Scott, Mrs. Elnathan Sweet and Mrs. Ben Gadsby. The best man will be Elmer Sweet, and the ushers Ben Gadsby, Walter Gadsby, Ambrose Scott and Arnold Rothwell.

The next evening, Wednesday, Miss Laura Gale Dunne and John Ker will be married at a home wedding at Colonel David M. Dunne's home. Miss Lucile Dunne, a sister of the bride, will be the maid of honor and Miss Ethel Shea will be the attendant bridesmaid. The best man will be the bride's brother Frank Dunne, who will come up from San Francisco for the wedding. The ceremony will be for the relatives only and a reception will follow.

The same evening Miss Hannah Maria Lucile Smith will be married with a quiet ceremony at the home of her aunt, Mrs. R. H. Birdsell, to Edmund Bennington Levy. Miss Edith Levy, the bridegroom's sister, will be the maid of honor and Louis Cronin the best man.

Miss Edwina Mastick, bride-elect, was the guest of honor at a pink shower given her last Saturday by Miss Evelyn Bell. The rooms were decorated entirely in pink, and hearts was the game played. Mrs. Arthur Kerron and Miss Sarah Rogers were the prize-winners. The guests were Miss Ella Rogers, Miss Sarah Rogers, Miss Eva Jenkins, Mrs. William Harold Stalger, Mrs. Henry Frank, Miss Mina McKelvey, Miss Florence Dayton, Miss Margaret Henderson, Mrs. Arthur Kerron, Mrs. Jesse Martin, Miss Grace Lottman, Mrs. T. M. Patterson and the Misses Edwina, Cara and Maud Mastick.

Mrs. James Alexander Ellis (Helen Lytle), entertained recently for Miss Mastick with five hundred. Miss Mastick won the prize.

Mrs. Charles E. Stolte (Arvilla McGuire) gave a picture shower for her Friday, and cards were played.

The Misses Marshall entertained informally at the Hill Monday afternoon with five tables of bridge in compliment to Mrs. H. A. Bodine, who leaves this week for Salt Lake City, after spending the winter here. The Misses Marshall will also leave late in the week for New York. Early in May they will sail for Europe and will spend the summer in England and Scotland, returning to Portland in the fall. A good deal of informal entertaining has been done for them. Madame Von Bolton gave a luncheon and bridge for them Thursday, and Mrs. E. L. Thompson gave a luncheon Wednesday. Several hostesses will entertain for them informally this week.

Invitations have been received here from Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Barnes for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Gladys Theodora Barnes at Santa Barbara, California, Wednesday evening, April 15, to Captain John J. Reynolds. The wedding and the service was all in pink and white. A swan in the center was banded with pink carnations and white wedding bells were hung above in the midst of greenery. Pink satin ribbons and pink tulle made a beautiful effect, and the favors were little gift slippers. At cards Miss Anne Ditchburn and Mrs. Arthur McComb were the prize-winners. The guests were Miss Hahn, Miss Shea, Miss Howell, Miss Ditchburn, Mrs. Edward H. Irwin, Miss Fanny Brown, Miss Frances Jeffery, Mrs. Millard Holbrook, Miss Helen Van Schuyver, Mrs. Barnard, Miss Lockwood, Miss Delta Watson, Mrs. McComb, Miss Dunne, Mrs. Humphrey and Mrs. George Barker.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Arthur McComb gave a bridge and shower. Miss Dunne and Miss Lockwood were the prize-winners. A bride's cake was brought to Miss Hahn to eat, and found to contain the shower of handkerchiefs.

Miss Agnes Hill was one of the honor guests at a house dance given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. William Gadsby. The dance was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gadsby's first anniversary, and Miss Hill's approaching wedding. There were about 50 guests and Parson's orchestra played. The decorations were bridal in spirit. Mrs. William Gadsby was handsomely gowned in champagne silk crepe trimmed with rich cream lace. The members of Miss Hill's coming bridal party assisted in receiving Mrs. Walter Gadsby, who wore pale green silk with violets; Miss Hill wore cream lace with red Duke of Richmond rosebuds; Mrs. Ambrose Scott wore cream lace over a new machine; Mrs. Elnathan Sweet, black voile decole with heavy black lace, and Miss Judith Scott a fine gown of pale green and lavender silk combined with fine thread lace.

Miss Dagmar Korrell gave a surprise china shower for Miss Hill last week, which five hundred was played. The decorations were of hearts and the idea was carried out in the service of refreshments. Mrs. Rittenberg won the card prize.

A delightful musicale was given by Mrs. Frank Brubh Tuesday evening at her pretty new home, 341 East Ninth street north, in honor of Miss Esther M. Plumb of New York. The rooms were very prettily decorated and proved well adapted to parlor music. The hostess is an artist of some accomplishment and her abilities are shown in the arrangement and decoration of the rooms.

Several of the prominent music folk were asked in to meet Miss Plumb and to hear her sing. She has a large contralto voice of power and range and has had wide experience in public singing. Her manner is dramatic and many think her admirably suited for grand opera by temperament and training. Mrs. Wiljer Reed, J. Claire Monteth, Miss Kathleen Lawler, Miss Ethel Lytle, Miss Frances Bachelor and Miss Gregory added to the evening's entertainment with songs and piano numbers. Mrs. Warren E. Thomas played charming accompaniments.

The prettily decorated parlors of the home of Mrs. A. W. Whitmer were filled last week on club day with the members and guests of the Tuesday afternoon club, who had assembled to hear the annual lecture given before the club. Roll call was responded to by quotations from Shelley. The president, Mrs. A. J. Stiles, then introduced Dr. C. E. Chapman, who was heard with deep interest and close attention in a lecture on Shelley, Byron and other poets whose writings have formed the study of the club for several months. Mordant Goodenough played several piano numbers, and was accompanied for Miss Evelyn Hurley, who sang charmingly and responded to an encore. Violets, the club flower, were used in decoration, and were worn by the members. Light refreshments were served in the dining room from small tables. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. G. M. Holmes, 843 East Everett street. Take M-V. or E-A. cars.

The directors of the Old Ladies' home are making their plans for the annual Easter Monday tea at the Hobart-Curtis. This is annually the most brilliant and fashionable charity affair of the year, in which the leading society folk of the city are interested and to which they give their active aid. The parade of new spring costumes at this function is usually exceptionally beautiful. Mrs. P. J. Mann is the president of the society.

Miss Beattie Henry, whose engagement to C. E. Grell has been recently announced, has been entertained the past week while she was a guest at the Grell home on King's Heights. Mrs. Donald Mackay and Mrs. W. C. Alvord were dinner hostesses for Miss Henry and Mr. Grell. Miss Henry expects to leave for her home in San Jose this week. No announcement has yet been made of their wedding arrangements.

Mrs. Fred Sellar entertained Thursday afternoon with an informal tea and musicale for her sister, Miss Amy Sellar, who left for her home in San Francisco last night after several weeks' visit here. Mrs. Emma E. Carroll was made an honor guest as well, and she and Miss Sellar gave some delightful piano numbers.

Mrs. A. L. Maxwell entertained with three tables of bridge Friday in compliment to Mrs. C. J. Smith of Seattle, who formerly lived here. The guests were several of Mrs. Smith's most intimate associates when this was her home. Mrs. C. P. Beebe and Mrs. Smith won the prizes.
