Judge O'Day in the circuit court yesterday gave a verdict for $250 in favor of Miss A. L. Carroll against the O. R. & N. Co. in addition to the value of a round trip excursion ticket purchased by the defendant two years ago when she came to Portland from Fort Dodge, Iowa, to the Christian Endeavor convention. When she presented the ticket to the agent here to be validated for the return trip it was taken up, the agent claiming that its terms had been violated by transfer later it was proved that Miss Carroll was the original purchaser of the ticket. In the meantime she had made several trips to the local offices of the company and claims that she was humiliated and treated with scant courtesy. For the impoliteness of the agent and the inconvenience she suffered, Judge O'Day allowed the $250 damages.

A basket social was given by the Willamette Park club Friday night in Anderson's hall, Willamette station. The Italian quartet furnished the music and there were a number of recitations. The quartet was composed of Messrs. Barberi, Bellini, and Marzotto. Recitations were given by Miss Dorris Christensen, Miss Manda Benick, Royce Cranchill and Pory Bremer. L. C. Fones, chairman of the entertainment committee, favored the assembly with a few reminiscences of the campaign in the Philippines, where he was one of the first to arrive.

At a largely attended meeting of the bar yesterday resolutions in memory of the late Judge T. G. Bailey were adopted. High appreciation of the services and personal worth of the late jurist was expressed by Governor Chamberlain, who made an address on moving adoption of the resolutions. W. D. Fenton, Judge E. C. Bronaugh and Judge Thomas O'Day made short talks. The latter responded for the local bar. The resolutions were ordered transmitted to the supreme court, that they might be entered on the records there.

Residents in the vicinity of station 7, in Portland Heights, were alarmed about 9 o'clock last evening, when three electric street lights were smashed by some unknown person or persons. It was learned that a street car holdup was contemplated and the facts were telephoned to police headquarters. Detectives Fries and Taylor were dispatched to the scene, but were unable to find any suspicious persons in the neighborhood. They patroled the vicinity for an hour or more.

Republicans and Friends—Since announcing my candidacy for district attorney, I have been making a personal canvass among you and have met with much encouragement and I am convinced that you all believe in my integrity as a lawyer, and the honesty of purpose generally to conduct the office fairly and squarely and for the best interests of the community, and thanking you for your support, I again ask you to vote for me on April 17, 1908, for district attorney. EDWARD T. TAGGART

For spring wear—There is nothing so nice as some of the patterns we are showing this year. All the latest shades of brown and blue in the latest weaves, patterns that they ask $30 and $35 for at the other tailor shops. Don't take our word for it, but come in and look over our stock and convince yourself that what we say is true. We make any suit in the house to order for $25, no more no less. Unique Tailoring Co., 309 Stark street.

The Teachers' Progress club of Multnomah county met at the city hall yesterday morning and listened to an address by County Superintendent of Schools F. S. Robinson on "Oral Reading." The talk was an instructive one and the meeting well attended. The next meeting will be held four weeks from yesterday in the office of the school superintendent.

Albert Holmes Cross of Cleveland, Ohio, a well-known lecturer, will speak at the Central Baptist church, East Ankeny and Twentieth streets, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the I. U. club. There will be special music, with voice and violin solos. There will be no charge for admission, though a free-will offering will be taken.

All our customers agree that our brands of wines and liquors are widely known for their rich, mellow flavor, smoothness and strength. They are well matured and have none of the defects of young whiskey or wine. In plain quart or gallon get our prices. List of fancy wines and liquors. It's interesting. National Wine company, northeast corner Fifth and Stark.

W. H. Wallace and Thomas C. Devlin, recent purchasers of the quarter block at the southwest corner of East First and East Taylor streets, have commissioned Architect Emil Schacht to prepare the plans for a four-story warehouse with concrete foundation to be erected on the site. The building when completed will represent an expenditure of about $45,000.

Our Book bear of unusually good quality this year will be ready for delivery in quarts and pints commencing April 13. Orders now booked. Will be on draught in all first-class places Saturday, April 12. Henry Weisard, brewer, Thirteenth and Burnside streets, Phones Main 73, A-1173.

Drake O'Reilly of the Diamond Round Lumber company, who has been dangerously ill with pneumonia at Byron Hot Springs, California, has returned to Portland and is almost completely restored at his home.

A Maco, proprietor of a saloon at Second and Davis streets, was arrested last night by Detectives Hellyer and Maloney on a charge of selling liquor to minors. The detectives found three young men.

Firm Secures Former Ad Man After Absence of Months.

Charles A. Foster.

Charles A. Foster, the ad man, after an absence of several months this week entered into a permanent engagement with the furniture house of I. Gevurtz & Sons. Previous to eight months ago Mr. Foster prepared the firm's advertising for nearly three years—three years of wonderful growth for this house. Drilled in the school of practical experience and long association with the general public through official and semi-official capacity, Mr. Foster should be a good judge of human nature and well qualified to command a hearing through his advertising. In the early twenties he published the Bellevue, Idaho, Daily Chronicle, and in 1922 was appointed by President Cleveland postmaster of that place. In those days, as now, the country newspaperman was called upon to assist the local merchants in preparing their advertising copy. That was Mr. Foster's beginning as an ad writer. He has filled many positions since and invariably makes good. One original feature of his advertising lies in the bold, striking illustrations he frequently uses, one of which appears in the Gevurtz page ad today. But one other ad writer, a Pittsburg man, adopts so hard a method to win attention. It is expensive, but pays, he says, in these days of full-page ads.

WATCH MAEGLY JUNCTION.

This Is the Watchword Given by Cobb Brothers.

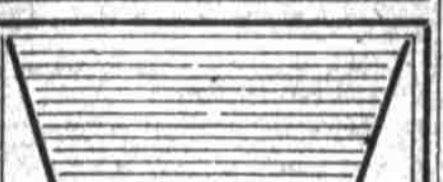

Maegly Junction is being watched with considerable interest by investors and home-seekers. Cobb Brothers have put the magnifying glass on the peninsula in order to bring it to the general attention of the public. College Place plays an important part at Maegly Junction, inasmuch as immediately adjoins it. See the pointer on another page of today's Journal.

PORTLAND HEIGHTS ACTIVE.

Indications Point to Great Stir Up There During Summer. D. E. Keasey & Co. report renewed activity in the Portland Heights property and say that from present appearances this year will see a great many handsome residences erected up there. The Heights property is appealing in a particular manner to those who enjoy beautiful scenery and the embracing air always in evidence on the hills. Many outsiders attracted by the beautiful landscape and snow-capped mountains of Oregon and Washington, are making inquiries and will no doubt build this summer. The choicest view sites are getting fewer all the time. It is noteworthy that the architectural beauty of Portland Heights homes cannot be much improved on. Many more costly residences are said to be assured this spring. The picture of the advantages of the Heights. This company deals exclusively in Heights property, lots, blocks and acres.

the tailors are still out

The tailors' strike is still going on. The prospects for settlement are still far off. The certainty of getting an Easter suit in time for Easter is less favorable, unless that suit is Columbia Tailored.

Columbia Tailors are still loyal

The same expert work—the same high-grade wools—the same careful attention to details—the same degree of satisfaction—the same prices—the same long-wearing qualities as though there were no tailor strike.
