BEAVERS SLAM SEALS REAL HARD

McCredie's Players Get Into Form and Take Game in Easy Style.

PINNANCE PITCHED IN SPLENDID FORM

Melchoir and Raftery Knock Out Two Baggers and Every Man on Team Makes a Hit or Two—Frisco Draws Blank.

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, April 11.—The Beavers quit their fooling today and showed the form that has been expected all along. The Seals, seven times returned winners, didn't play a bad game. The only problem that Long's bunch fell down on was the solving of Pinnance's snakes and shoots. The Carlisle Indian had just as little trouble in disposing of the opposing palefaces as on the day of his debut. He did not make a strike out record, as on that first ocasion, but kept the bingles scattered, which was just as good.

The McCredie following pounced on lank Mr. Henley's offering right from the start, and continued the bombardment with slight intermission until the end. Not a Seal in all the nine innings ever got as far as third. In the second round Melchoir reached second on a corking two bagger to the right field fence and almost, but not quite, worked his way up to the third bag.

Fireworks in Fourth.

The Beavers began their run getting in the fourth. "Jeff" Dansig singled to right and was sacrificed to second by Johnson. The giant first baseman wanted to get a good lead to third, and had all he could do to get back in time when Henley grabbed Cooney's grounder and shot the ball to Mohler.

Things were breaking right for a northern victory. Bassey singled to right and Dansig romped home.

Bassey's hit was a high fly in the direction of the right field foul line, and Melchoir made a desperate run for the ball, but only getting the tips of his fingers on it.

Cooney Scores.

Cooney made it two runs for the inning by galloping in on Walsh's hot liner through Henley. Walsh tried to make the circuit while the Seals were tossing the ball around, but was easily put out at the plate. The score was made a little more lopsided when Bassey came home on Nick Williams dropping an easy thrown ball by Henley.

In the sixth the Beavers got to going again. With one out Cooney came through with a single to center, went to third on Bassey's hard wallop to the right field fence and tallied on Walsh's liner through Henley. Bassey tried to make third on the play and was nabbed by McArdle. Walsh was sprinting for second and McArdle made an overthrow to that bag. The Beaver catcher kept right on running and was put out at the plate easily.

Pinnance Held Up.

Pinnance did not fall to pieces, as it had been predicted, and in the seventh was the first man up. The grand stand and bleachers cheered lustily, the red man doffed his cap and picking out one that suited, whacked it to right field. Melchoir was right on the job and had the ball sailing for first in such quick order that Pinnance had to make a great effort to beat it.

Henley had been batted freely, but the heavy slugging was only beginning. Raftery walked, McCredie chopped out a bingle and the bases were full. There were two out. Portland had a chance to cinch the game. Husky Johnson did not come very near connecting with the first ball pitched.

Then the Fall.

The hopes of the Seals' supporters were on the ascendant. The fall came when the Beaver third sacker made a successful swipe at the sphere. It was not a hard hit, however, and was rising quite a distance in the air. Williams, Mohler and Melchoir were after the ball, while Pinnance, Raftery and McCredie were losing no time in making for home. Luck favored the Beavers. Two of the flying runners scored while the ball was falling just inside the foul line and just outside the reach of the three willing fielders.

In the eighth two runs were garnered off four bingles. Bassey, Pinnance, Casey and Raftery were the ones that made Henley lose his smile.

Down and Out.

For the first time this season the Seals took their turn at the bat in the ninth. Williams was safe, but his mates were easy outs. Cooney had the distinction of catching the last hit ball, a liner from McArdle's bat. The little shortstop was overcome by astonishment at the victory and dropped to the ground. The other eight men of the team followed Cooney's example and even the extra bunch on the bench flopped themselves on their backs.

The Score.

OLDEST HOUSE IN UNITED STATES AN AUTO GARAGE

A celebrated French author, referring to a very aged person, remarked that death seemed to have forgotten him and passed him by. In like manner it may be said that the furies of fire, frost and blistering sun seem to have forgotten an old house that stands in St. Augustine, Florida. It is the oldest house in the United States—built 375 years ago, in 1525—yet with a new roof and new siding, it stands there today like a sturdy bit of the sixteenth century carried over into the twentieth.

The house was built by French Huguenot emigrants who came to a new world to seek the religious peace that they could not find at home. While they were rearing its walls of sea shells and mortar, Michaelangelo was building the famous dome of St. Peter's in Rome.

Back across the Atlantic the forefathers of Washington and Lincoln were living in England, unmindful of the unborn descendants who were to make their names imperishably illustrious, but in spite of their labors the religious peace that they sought came not. Instead came Spanish adventurers, who interfered with their form of worship and at length butchered them.

From 1565 to 1580 the house was used as a home for the monks of St. Francis. In 1586 the English came, under Sir Francis Drake, and the Spanish town was raided as the French town had been. The English and Spanish warred incessantly uptil 1762, during which time many houses were burned, but the little old house shown in the picture always came through intact some way.

Since 1821 the land on which the house stands has been American territory. The structure is on a quaint old street opposite the United States barracks. And, strangely enough, when this picture was taken of a sixteenth century house that had lingered over into the twentieth, the two periods were also facing each other in the street—a 1908 automobile and an ancient ox cart.

BEWARE OF THE MAN WHO SPRINGS A GAG

Y. M. C. A. Members Practicing for Minstrel Show Soon to Be Put On.

If you meet a Y. M. C. A. man in the street this week make most elaborate plans to avoid him. In all probability he is one of the big minstrel show performers and will want to try the effect on you of some new "gag" or joke. At least that is what the odd 1,500 or so members of the Y. M. C. A. who are not minstrels are saying, but probably they are jealous.

Larry Larimore is the guiding spirit in the show as in the renowned Bungling Brothers' circus, when at both performances it was just impossible to pack another spectator into the big gymnasium. Larry Larimore says that the ticket-man wishes that the auditorium were twice as big, for even now the booking is pretty lively for Friday and Saturday, the two days of the show. "We shall show a host of attractions that Primrose could not get at any price," said Mr. Larimore yesterday, "and without a shadow of a doubt we are in to beat all previous records in the minstrel business."

The program will open with a scene in the Y. M. C. A. boarding camp up the river, when, as is the custom in Y. M. C. A. boarding camps, everyone will burst into choruses. Will H. Hale as camp interlocutor will hand out the remarks on the remaining campers which will force them in self-defense to sing. Physical Director Grilley will inflict a coon song, while McMichael, Marriott and others are down to try the patience of the campers with other songs.

The songs have an irritating effect on the athletic men and with Irwin at their head they go through horizontal bar stunts of a dizzy nature, Hale and Larimore then go on in a darky sketch and the whole company disbands singing the military song, "The Stars, Stripes and You."

As a novelty in the minstrel line the Y. M. C. A. show will likely meet with considerable success—success that is deserved after the long weeks of rehearsal that have been taking the place of sports for which the minstrel souls undoubtedly longed.

JUNIOR HUNT CLUB HOLDS FIRST CHASE

The first paper chase of the Junior Hunt club was held yesterday afternoon, the course starting at the Cornell road and ending at Inspiration point. The hounds were John Tarpley and Alexander Linthicum. The hounds were Ernest Crighton, Wayne Coe, Frank Ransom, Hugh McGuire, Rossalind Kingsley and Frieda Bardgh.

All of the hounds finished in fine form, Wayne Coe, Frank Ransom and Archie Kingsley being first in the order named. The next meet of the club will be held April 25.

ONLY THREE MEN WILL REPRESENT SPOKANE AT PORTLAND MEET

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Spokane, April 11.—Fred Creel and Heine Ritter will be the only men who will represent S. A. A. C. at Portland at the May meet. Such is the recommendation of Fred Gaston, athletic director, to the board of directors of the club.

"Butler recommended to me that Reager, Johnston and Larsen be sent," said Gaston, "but I thought the expense too great compared with their chances of winning their events. Creel and Ritter are the only ones who have shown themselves the best of their class with any chance of winning, and them only shall I recommend to take the trip."

BOWEN ALLOWS BUT ONE LONE BINGLE

Salem Goes Down in Merciless Defeat Before Woodburn's Pitcher.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Woodburn, Or., April 11.—Woodburn defeated Salem here this afternoon in the first game of the season by a score of 3 to 0.

The home team was in superb form and played an errorless game, allowing only two men to reach first. Pitcher Bowen held the visitors to a single hit, that by Outfielder Edwards in the seventh inning.

Lucas, the old Oregon State league twirler, was touched up for 10 hits and his support was erratic at times. The same teams play here tomorrow, Southpaw Manning pitching for Woodburn, and Hull, last year with Kelso, will put 'em over for Salem.

Runs and hits by innings of today's game:

Woodburn	1	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	x	—3

SMITHSON GETS WORLD'S RECORD

Big Hurdler Runs in Record Time—Oregon Wins Columbia Meet.

WINNERS IN OPEN EVENTS.
University of Oregon, 41.
Oregon Agricultural college, 32.
Multnomah Athletic club, 17.
Astoria High school, 1.
Pacific university, 1.
West Portland High school, 1.

The crack team of the University of Oregon had little trouble winning the Columbia indoor field meet yesterday, leading its nearest opponent, Oregon Agricultural college by nine points. Multnomah club finished third with 17 points, 16 of which were won by Forrest Smithson, the national hurdling champion. West Portland High school, Astoria High school and Pacific University each captured a point in the open events.

Smithson, in addition to being the star of the day, also lowered the world's hurdling record in the 50-yard high hurdle event. The big timber-topper ran a special race with Captain Eberle Kuykendall of the University of Oregon and covered the course in 6 2-5 seconds. The previous record was 6 4-5 seconds for the distance. However, it is doubtful if the record will be accepted by the A. A. U., although it will go a long way toward establishing Smithson's right to a place on the American team which goes to the Olympic games in London in July.

The varsity men were afraid of the collegians but seconds and thirds gave them the meet over the larger number of first places won by O. A. C. Smithson captured the events in which Oregon was stronger than the "Aggies," and deprived the Eugene bunch from getting more firsts.

Claude Swann, the crack little vaulter of the Corvallis squad, suffered a severe fall during the pole vaulting event. His pole snapped in two just after he hit the take-off and he went head first into the soft dirt. However, the injury was slight, and did not prevent him from continuing.

While the contestants showed lack of condition in many respects, there were some exceptionally good records made. This is notably true in the case of the half mile run, which was reeled off in the fast time of 2:06 seconds. The runners circled the track six times, their free moments being hampered by the sharp turns.

Dart, the Portland high school sprinter, was a distinct surprise, the school boy capturing third place in the short dash. Harbart, an Astoria lad, made a splendid showing in the high jump.

Among the interscholastic teams, Columbia University, West Portland and the Eugene high school showed considerable class.

The results of the meet were as follows:

Fifty-yard dash, open—Finals, Smithson, M. A. A. C., first; Huston, Oregon; Dart, West Portland high school. Time, :05.3

First heat—Gammie, M. A. A. C., first; Schroeder, O. A. C., second. Time, :05. Second heat, Dart, W. P. H. S., first; Moon, Oregon, second. Time, :05.4. Third heat, Smithson, first; Huston, second. Time, :05.3.

ANDY GLARNER SETS NEW WORLD'S MARK

Olympic Club Track Captain Clips Three Fifths of Second Off Record.

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, April 11—Andrew A. Glarner, the Olympic club track captain, today set a new world's mark for 900 yards at the University of California relay carnival, covering the distance in 2 minutes and 1 1-5 seconds. This clipped three-fifths of a second off the former time of 2:01 4-5 held by Melvin Sheppard of the Irish-American Athletic club of New York. Five watches were clicked on the race and three of them showed one-fifth of a second faster time than the figure given out, the other two being 2:01 2-5 and 2:02 3-5. Glarner made the record in a special 900-yard race in which Dowd, the crack University half, was on the scratch mark with him. A quarter of a mile from the finish Glarner drew clear and urged by the vigorous cheering of the spectators he spurted at the finish and just managed to get over the line within this record time.

Take your wife to see Evanston. It is on the W-W carline, 14 minutes from Morrison st. bridge; it is without doubt the finest lot purchase in Portland. An agent will be there today, Sunday. The Spanton Co., are the sole agents.

VICTORY FOR PAPERMAKERS

Oregon City Baseball Team Wins Opening Game With Vancouver.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Oregon City, April 11.—The opening game of the Tri-City league, played at Canemah park, between the Papermakers and the Vancouver nine, resulted in a victory for the local team, the score standing 7 to 1. The work of Havernicht and Kelt, the local battery, was the best seen on a local diamond. Pitcher Pender, of the visitors, held the locals down for a time, but was replaced in the seventh inning by Onley. The entire local team played a good game, and Manager Partlow is confident that with a bit more team work, they will easily hold their own with any nine in the league. The score:

TOMMY BURNS WILL FIGHT JOHNSON

Two Heavyweights Are Practically Matched for Championship.

New York, April 11.—Tommy Burns and Jack Johnson, the burly negro heavyweight, are practically matched to fight for the championship of the world. Billy Neill, who looks after the interests of Burns, met Sam Fitzpatrick, the manager of Johnson, in the office of "The American" this afternoon and in a very few minutes they came to terms.

In fact, Fitzpatrick knew in advance that Burns would demand something close to $30,000 as his share, win or draw, and that there was no chance of making the Canuck's manager concede a point in this respect.

Neill had his orders and announced them at once. Fitzpatrick therefore agreed to have his man fight for a very small share of the purse. Fitzpatrick is sure the negro will win and feels that he will make big money out of the fight with the aid of $5,000 side bet, other wagers at the ringside and theatrical engagements. Then again, if some club bids well over $30,000 Johnson may be able to save the amount of his side bet in the event of defeat.

The representatives of the fighters will meet in "The American" office again Monday and draw up articles, post forfeits and clinch the match officially. Neill announced that Burns preferred a fight of 45 rounds or a finish rather than one limited to 20 rounds.

In practically forcing Johnson to fight for nothing Burns has set an example that future champions will not be slow to follow.

FRENCHMEN ON WORLD'S TOUR

Two Motorists Make Cross-Country Run to Portland —Leave for North.

R. Jean Dubois and H. Le Fevre, two French automobilists, arrived in Portland about noon yesterday on a trip around the world, and while they are in no way connected with the international race, they have followed practically the same route across the United States as did the cars in the famous run now in progress.

At Oregon City they met with a mishap and their car was damaged slightly, but they succeeded in repairing the breaks and proceeded on their way to this city, housing their machine at the Crowe-Graham Motor company's garage at Sixteenth and Washington streets, where it underwent a thorough overhauling.

This morning about 9 o'clock the motorists will leave for Vancouver, B. C., and from there they will proceed by steamer to Yokahama. Both state they had a pleasant trip across the United States to San Francisco, the only trouble they experienced being in the Allegheny and Rocky mountains.

While here yesterday they called upon the French consul, C. Henri Labbe, to have their passports properly indorsed, and collected money on letters of credit at the United States National bank.

ST. JOHNS WINS FROM ALBINA CLUB

Season's Opening Game of Tri-City League Goes to Apostles.

St. Johns opened the Tri-City baseball season at that place by winning from Albina by a score of 8 to 5. The game proved exciting all the way through to the handful of spectators who attended for it was hard fought and up to the eighth inning the result was undecided.

Although hit hard in the eighth inning, little Wakefield, the south-paw pitcher of the St. Johns team, twirled a beautiful game. He struck out 11 men and allowed but eight hits, all widely scattered. He had an out which curved almost two feet and had Bobby Burns and Charles Ray and the rest of the old timers in the Albina team swinging their arms off.

Boy Good Pitcher.

Albina pitched Broughton, a boy of about 18 years of age. For the first seven innings and he twirled a fine game. He was as steady in pinches as a major leaguer and kept the hits well apart up to the seventh inning, when he went up and the Apostles scored three runs off his delivery.

Neither team was able to score in the opening spasm but the old timers on the Albina team got busy in the second. Giles dumped up an infield hit but Gardner forced him at second. Helser then laced out a two-bagger on which Gardner reached third safely but died going home. Helser got to third while Gardner was being put out and scored when Moore dropped Schroeder's third strike. Wakefield caught Schroeder napping a minute later.

Things Doing in Fourth.

There was nothing doing then till the fourth, when Helser again hit safely, went to third when Schroeder singled, and scored when Philbrick fuzzled on Pattison's chance.

The Apostles finally got a tally in the sixth. Wakefield got to first on a base on balls, went to second when Broughton made a balk and scored on Fleming's infield hit.

The seventh proved Broughton's undoing for before the inning closed the whole St. Johns team had taken a chance at the bat and four runs had been pushed across the plate. Parker opened things with a hit to right. Houck attempted to sacrifice and both he and Parker were safe. Philbrick advanced both men with a neat sacrifice. Big "Swede" Anderson then cleaned the bases with a dandy three-bagger. Wakefield flew out to Pattison, making two gone and making things look brighter for the Albinas, but Schroeder missed Brown's hard chance and Anderson scored. Brown stole second and scored on Clark Moore's two-bagger.

Giles Starts Something.

Cal Giles opened the eighth inning for the Albinas with a clean home run over the left field fence. Brown fell down on Gardner's ground hit and the "windy one" stole second. Helser flew out to center, but Brown again broke into the error column when he dropped Schroeder's fly. Schroeder stole second and both he and Gardner scored when Pattison hit to right. This made the score five all and the fans grew nervous.

St. Johns broke things up in the next inning with three tallies. Parker walked, was sacrificed to second by Houck, stole third and scored when Goddard missed Philbrick's fly, the manager getting to second on the throw in. Anderson's infield tap was safe, Philbrick negotiating third on the play. Anderson stole second. Wakefield hit to the pitcher and Ray threw the ball over the first baseman's head, allowing Philbrick and Anderson to score. Helser then threw wild to third in an attempt to cut off Wakefield's progress towards the home plate and he easily scored.

The Score.

Albina could do nothing in their half of the ninth hand the game ended with a score of 8 to 5.

BIG PAGEANT DRAWS INTEREST

"Spirit of the Golden West" Promises to Be Strong Festival Attraction.

Reports of the campaign to interest all the towns and cities of the Willamette Valley in the gorgeous pageant "The Spirit of the Golden West" during the Rose Festival will be at hand early this coming week. G. B. Thomas, representing the Festival Association, has made a thorough canvass of the various communities which have shown an interest in the celebration. It may be said on good authority that at least half a dozen of the towns in the valley which have the matter under consideration will join the entry list and participate in a pageant which will cost not a cent under $30,000, and which will be one of the most spectacular, decorative and illuminative cavalcades ever given in the west.

The work of arranging for a magnificent East Side children's parade on the second day of the Rose Festival is progressing nicely. Several good-sized subscriptions to the fund to defray the expenses of preliminary drills and training have already been received, and yesterday afternoon, R. D. Inman sent his personal check for $100 to help the work along.

This feature is to take the place of the proposed school children's street pageant in welcome to Queen Flora, which the school board turned down several weeks ago. A parade of not less than 2,000 boys and girls is promised by the East Side Business Men's League, which is handling the picturesque features of the festival to be pulled off on that side of the river.

Tomorrow night the business men of Sixth street will meet at the Commercial club to arrange for converting the thoroughfare into a court of honor for the holding of a number of the public demonstrations that require spacious street areas for proper display. It is believed that about ten blocks of this street will be embellished with decorations and lights and with other attractive features that will make it the center of attraction for the entire week.

The second part of the campaign of publicity and exploitation throughout the country on the part of the festival is now ready. The issue of 100,000 post cards in the official colors of the festival with a brief outline of the main features of the week's program with plenty of space for individual writing is now ready for distribution. Post-card shops, department stores, drug stores, hotels, cigar stores, restaurants and all other places of business that have writing conveniences are urged to secure a supply of these illuminative advertising cards, which will be supplied by the festival headquarters free of charge.

This scheme is to supplement the work of sending out broadcast the 250,000 advertising inserts, the most of which have already been given out. This is a feature of the advertising of the festival in which everybody can assist without the outlay of a solitary penny and one that is calculated to do an immense amount of good all over the whole United States in the way of bringing t
