"The Store That Rights the Wrong"

SOL GARDE, Prop.

NEGRO HIGHWAYMAN SHOT BY POLICEMAN

men were searching the district on the west side of the river the highwayman crossed over to the east side, where they made an unsuccessful attempt to enter and rob a saloon at Williams avenue and Welder street. The proprietor had closed the place for the night and refused to open the door when commanded to do so.

The thugs then went to the saloon of Jacob Wynn at East Third and East Burnside streets, where they held up the proprietor and robbed the cash drawer of its contents, about $100. After leaving Wynn's saloon the robbers met Guy Burgey, who lives at East Fourteenth and East Yamhill streets, and attempted to hold him up. Burgey escaped by taking to his heels. A short distance down the street he met G. W. Stevens and told him what had happened. Stevens was incredulous, but a few minutes later was convinced of the truth of the story when he met the highwayman and was held up and relieved of $4 in cash and two gold watches.

Revolver Duel Begins. Captain of Police Bailey, who went on duty at police headquarters at midnight, dispatched all available officers to the east side with instructions to make every effort to apprehend the robbers. Among those sent to the east side were Patrolmen Henson and Vessey. They had reached a dark place on the railroad track near Ankeny street when the two officers saw the three robbers running toward them.

When commanded to halt, all three opened fire on the policemen, one of the bullets taking effect in the fleshy part of Henson's right arm. Both officers returned the fire, three bullets from Henson's gun striking the robbers, two in the head and one in the chest. He died almost instantly, though his revolver, from which two shots had been fired remained clutched in his hand.

When the negro fell his two companions, Reithke and Ives, turned and ran, followed by the remaining shots in Vessey's revolver. One of the bullets struck Reithke in the leg, inflicting a flesh wound. He was captured a few minutes later by Vessey and Patrolman Tennant as he was attempting to hide under a nearby wharf. Ives succeeded in getting away for the time being.

Ives Captured in Home. After being taken to the police station Reithke confessed to his participation in the holdups. He said he did not know the name of the negro who was killed, but had been told by the man that he was an ex-convict. He said the man who escaped was Edward Ives and that he lived with his parents at 61 Quimby street. Patrolmen Wendorf and Abbott found Ives at the house designated and placed him under arrest. Ives is an example of the evolution of a youthful criminal. He seems to be a hardened youth and it is likely that he will, before many days, give the police details of many holdups, as it is thought that he knows more of recent robberies than he admits. The prisoner has been keeping company with low characters and easily fell in with his older companions when his money ran short. The thugs planned to make a big cleanup in Portland, then leave for the north. The dead negro had shot to kill and Henson was lucky to have been able to bring him. The wounded officer said: "He came near getting me with several shots before I landed him. The crowd commenced firing as soon as we called to them to halt and pulled my gun and fired at the negro and he came back at me immediately."

Captain Bailey said: "I lost no time getting my men out as soon as Stevens gave the alarm. He ran into the station breathlessly and his prompt action helped us to do away with a desperate gang that might have given the city a lot of trouble. The boy lives a bad record. He was under arrest here some years ago and he may have been involved in other crimes near Portland."

ENGINE HORSE HITS MOVING STREETCAR

Motorman Did Not Stop, as Is Customary, and Collision Results.

While making a run to a fire yesterday morning engine No. 13, stationed on the east side, collided with a streetcar and it is considered a miracle that the horses were not hurt badly and the engine damaged.

A horse preceded the engine when leaving the firehouse and passed a St. Johns car near Hancock and Williams avenue. Instead of stopping, as is the rule in case of a fire, the car kept on its way and the engine turned the corner of the street named the heavy engine struck. One of the horses struck the car and was bruised badly. It was not thrown to the ground, however, and kept on its run.

Officials of the department are now investigating the affair and the motorman of the offending car may be taken to task.

WHITE FAMILIES TO TAKE PLACE OF JAPS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) La Grande, April 16.—Five families of a colony of 25 German families have just arrived here from Walla Walla, having been secured by the management of the sugar factory to locate on best lands near here. White labor will now take the place of Japs, who have been employed in these fields for years. Before the week is out 20 additional families will be located here.

The sugar company will have white labor exclusively, and they believe that they will prove more reliable and respectable than the Japs. One third of the best crop in the valley has been planted up to this time.

STREET ARCS BILL TOO HIGH

Mayor Thinks City Not Getting All Power It Pays For.

Mayor Lane has refused to sign the city's March lighting bill, amounting to $8,000, on the ground that it is excessive, and has sent it back to the city executive board to be checked up. This means that the Portland Railway, Light & Power company will not get its money until it shows that it has furnished the city the amount of current provided for in its contract.

Several weeks ago Mayor Lane called into his office Oskar Huber, consulting engineer of the company, Harry S. Bladen, transmission engineer and F. G. Sykes, general manager of the light and power department, and compelled them to testify under oath as to the amount of current used by the street lights. All possessed a lack of knowledge relative to the lighting proposition, according to their testimony, and now Mayor Lane has refused to sign the warrant for the bill until the company shows that it is entitled to the money.

Entitled to Rebate. Mayor Lane declines to state how much rebate he expects to secure from the company, but says that he knows the amount he should get. The lights require, even if the company officials do not. He said today that "he would like to know" and if he could not find out one way he would another.

Mayor Lane said: "I have a right to know whether this company is furnishing as much current as its contract calls for. It is a duty I owe to the people to find out, and if the amount is smaller than called for by the city's contract we are entitled to the difference in the cost to the company."

New Lights Save Current. "When the city gave the company the right to change its lamps from one type to another without notice, the contract expressly stipulates the amount of current to be used. I have since learned from persons whom I consider reliable authorities that the company is using about three fourths the amount of current in the new lamps that it used in the old ones. If it is, why is the city not entitled to the difference in the cost?"

The warrant will be returned to the city executive board by the city auditor, A. L. Barber. The members will then make an investigation of the conditions, and it is expected that a lively fight will be participated in by the city and the company.

WATER DEMANDED BY VERNON RESIDENTS

Residents of the Vernon-Lester Park district are up in arms against the water board because they have not got sufficient water.

Last summer the construction of an eight-inch main was authorized but down to date the pipes never have been laid. The only service is a two-inch main and persons living in the district say that it is not big enough to supply the territory in question.

Four hundred families are compelled to rely upon the service of that two-inch main and there are times in the day when they are unable to obtain any water at all.

It is likely the subject will be brought to the attention of the board very soon.

ASK LENIENCY IN LOGAN CASE

Larkey Logan, an Indian, indicted on a charge of manslaughter for killing Willie Garner on the Siletz reservation, March 29, was found guilty by a jury in the United States circuit court yesterday. Owing to the fact that there was considerable conflicting evidence in the case the jurors recommended to the court that the defendant be dealt with leniently.

POSTOFFICE SO BIG PRINTSHOP NEEDED

Will Probably Be Advanced to Rank of New York Office in July.

Portland's postoffice will probably be equipped with a printing press, printing material and an additional employe during the summer.

Owing to the great amount of business that has been transacted at the Portland office during the last few months the Portland office will in all probability be advanced to the rank of New York and other larger city offices after July 1.

The advance is assured if the business of the future until July 1 equals that of the past. An increase in salary for the postmaster goes with the advance in rating.

In addition several clerks will be added to the present force. The printing outfit will turn out the advertised letter list and do other work in connection with the office and its branches.

EX-GOVERNOR GEER

Republican Candidate for Congress. (Extract from his platform January 5, 1908.)

I am in favor of the "simple life" among our people; of less tending to wealth, as such; of less red tape in conducting governmental affairs; of the use of less money in political campaigns; of the requirement of full publicity as to the expenditure in this direction by candidates for official position; of the holding of public officers to the strictest account for the faithful discharge of their duties and, in short, of a government whose sole purpose shall be to subserve the best interest of all its people, alike for those of high and low degree.

MAYOR TO PAY FARE ON BULL RUN JAUNT

Majority of the Councilmen, However, Are Willing to Accept Favor.

Mayor Lane not only believes that it is wrong to accept free tickets from a railroad corporation after it has its lines in operation, but also believes that it is wrong for city officials to take a free junketing trip at the cost of a corporation seeking valuable concessions from the city.

To this end Mayor Lane has announced that if he makes the trip planned by the officials of the Mount Hood Railway & Power company, up the Bull Run river, he will pay his own expenses.

The trip was planned for today but has been postponed until Saturday. The members of the city council and water board will leave the city Saturday morning at 7:15 o'clock at First and Alder streets. The trip will take in an inspection of the railway line of the company and the water rights and privileges asked for by the company in the Bull Run reservation. The party will return about 6 or 6 o'clock. The party was arranged by the company and most of the officials have shown a willingness to attend.

FISHERMEN ARRESTED BY STATE OFFICERS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Astoria, Or., April 16.—M. Falanga, John Stralich, M. Constantine, Jens John and Leon Patsay were arrested by Water Bailiff Sottem for fishing for salmon about six hours before the season opened. All were making drifts in the slough below the Clifton cannery. The men make no denial of their guilt, but claim they thought the season opened at 6 a. m. in place of at noon. Complaints are to be filed in the justice court, and the trials will probably be held tomorrow.

On Sunday evening two nets were seized by Bailiff W. A. Mack in the slough near Clifton, and one net was captured shortly afterward in Cathlamet slough.
