

HOLY week has necessarily been very quiet and society has been centralizing its efforts and its expectations on the immediate post-Lenten season, which promises to be brilliant indeed. The Old Ladies' Home tea tomorrow will start the season off with the usual brilliancy. The four weddings of prominence will follow—Miss Agnes Helen Hill and Horace Earle Chapman at the Trinity church Tuesday evening at 8:30; Miss Edwina Mastick and George Anthony of San Francisco at the Unitarian church at the same time; Miss Laura Gale Dunne and John W. E. Croft at the home of Mrs. David Dunne, Wednesday evening at 8:30; and Miss Hannah Marie Smith and Edmund Remington Levy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Birdsan the same evening.

The usual amount of entertaining has been done for Miss Agnes Hill the past week. Monday evening Mrs. Ambrose Scott entertained at cards with about 50 guests and the prize was won by Mrs. Ben Gadsby. The decorations were jonquils. Tuesday Mrs. Harry Nicolai entertained for her at luncheon for six. The decorations were pink and white. Wednesday Mrs. A. C. Pantan, Mrs. Walter Gadsby, Mrs. Ben Gadsby and Mrs. Ambrose Scott, entertained at cards with about 50 guests. Thursday evening Mrs. Ambrose Scott gave a luncheon at the Nortonia. Yellow jonquils formed the centerpiece and a bunch of violets was at each place. There was music during luncheon and afterwards bridge was played. The guests were: Miss Mildred Long, Mrs. A. C. Pantan, Mrs. John Scott, Mrs. Edwina Mastick, Miss Judith Scott, Miss Eva Long, Mrs. Ben Gadsby, Mrs. Walter Gadsby, Mrs. Ambrose Scott and Miss Hill. At the evening Mr. and Mrs. Sweet gave a tallyho party on the Clarendon road. There were 14 in the party and supper followed at the Sweet's. The place was decorated with miniature tallies, and jonquils were the flowers.

Thursday evening Miss Judith Scott gave a five hundred party with six tables. Miss Mabel Ayers won prize. Supper was served at a long table in the dining room, covered with pink carnations and lighted with pink candles. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Miss Mabel Ayers, Miss Ethel Honeyman, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gadsby, the Misses Eva and Mildred Long, Mrs. Edwina Mastick, Mrs. Walter Gadsby, Mr. and Mrs. Edwina Mastick, Miss Judith Scott, Miss Agnes Hill, Harry Stephenson, Mr. Johnson, Mrs. R. H. Birdsan, Dr. James I. Keeney, Mr. Goodall, and Horace Chapman.

The annual meeting of the North Pacific Presbyterian board of missions at the First Presbyterian church has been interesting several prominent matrons the past week. About 50 out-of-town delegates were entertained at various prominent homes. Mrs. George B. Cellars, Mrs. A. E. Butterfield, Mrs. George Fuller, Mrs. Lomax and Mrs. F. Thorne formed the hospitality committee. A feature of the meeting at the church was a handsome bunch of 21 Bridesmaid roses, presented by the board to its president, Mrs. W. S. Ladd, in honor of her birthday, which she celebrated a few weeks ago and of her 50th anniversary as president.

The delegates included many prominent women from other towns. They were: Mrs. M. L. Pomery of Los Angeles; Mesdames Heilebrand, King, Matthews and Steele, and Miss Heilebrand, from Seattle; Mesdames Ackley, Barrett, McLeod, Laughlin, Boyle, Gentry, and McElroy of Tacoma; Mrs. Brady, Chehalis, Mrs. Porter, Browns, Oregon; Mrs. Higgins and Mrs. E. H. H. of Astoria; Mrs. M. J. of Dallas; Mrs. French, Mrs. Mossley and daughter, and Mrs. Sunderland of Ellsworth, Washington; Mrs. McGee and Mrs. N. N. of Portland; Mrs. M. W. of Minthorne of the Carlisle Indian school, a daughter of Philip Minthorne, an English merchant, who came to the United States near Pendleton; Mrs. Young, North Yakima; Mrs. Hayes, Olympia; Miss Helen Clark from Neah Bay; Miss Julia Birch, from the Astoria; Miss H. H. of Astoria, formerly of Sitka Training school, now of Eugene; Mesdames Marchand, Mrs. and Harry Salmon, Mrs. Palmer of Albany; Mrs. Patch, Mrs. Albert Robinson and others.

Miss Laura Dunne and John Ker who will be married Wednesday evening has been much entertained for the past week. A number of informal dinners and luncheons have been given for them. Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ker were entertained at bridge for them. On their arrival they were surprised to find a whole company in most fantastic garb which caused much merriment. Mrs. Ker and Mrs. Ker-Comb won the first prize. Late in the evening a burlesque shower for Mr. Ker delighted the company.

Thursday noon Mrs. George Barker gave a pretty luncheon at the Portland hotel with nine covers. Pink carnations were the decorations and the service was in pink. The guests were: Mrs. Dunne, Mrs. George Willard Brown, Mrs. Harry Salmon, Mrs. Arthur McCormick, Miss Lucile Dunne, Miss Ethel Shea, Miss Delta Watson, and Mrs. E. C. Spencer.

The marriage of Miss Gladys Theodore Barnes, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Barnes, to Captain John J. Reynolds of Medford was celebrated Wednesday last at Santa Barbara, California, where the Barnes are spending the winter and spring. The ceremony took place at the Hotel Potter and Rev. Benjamin Goodrich officiated. The parlor was decorated in green and white, with marguerites and asparagus ferns as the motif. Dinner was served after the ceremony, and the table was decorated in pink and white with Bridesmaid roses.

Captain and Mrs. Reynolds left the same evening for Medford, where they have a pretty bungalow on the Reynolds fruit ranch. They will be at home after May 1. Captain Reynolds formerly lived here and has many friends, and Mrs. Reynolds lived in Irvington.

The baby home dance at the new Masonic hall is attracting a good deal of attention because of the prominent matrons who have lent their patronage. The dance will be given Thursday evening, April 30, and J. G. Mack has charge of the decorations; George H. Hill, of the refreshments and E. H. Nicol, of the entertainment. Wilder's orchestra will play in the clubroom and Espar's orchestra and band in the ballroom.

The Arts and Crafts society of Portland has arranged for an exhibition of general arts and crafts objects, beginning May 15, and continuing for three weeks. The exhibit will be placed in the Art museum and promises to be an interesting affair. A number of local workers will exhibit and it is expected that Mrs. Hugh Hume will bring home a good collection of articles from eastern cities where she has been interested in gathering them.

A luncheon was given at the Nortonia yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Hannah Marie Smith, one of the Easter brides. There were 14 covers, and Dr. Equi was hostess. The guests were: Miss Leslie Fiske, Miss Gertrude Lyons, Miss Edith Levy, Miss Wilma Fiske, Mrs. Charles E. Bunyon, Mrs. E. B. Colwell, Mrs. R. D. Cannon, Mrs. H. P. Palmer, Mrs. Philip Neud and Mrs. J. F. O'Donnell.

The regular Patton home tea will be held at the home, 975 Michigan avenue, Tuesday afternoon. Miss Alice Just will have charge of the program. The ladies receiving will be: Mrs. W. Rowe, Mrs. A. L. Berkeley, Mrs. H. A. Cushing and Mrs. C. Irwin. Serving in the dining-room will be Miss Lucy Nicolai, assisted by Mrs. J. G. Hoffman, Mrs. L. H. Peters, Mrs. G. Kaddery and Miss Jefferys. Take 'L' car.

Mrs. A. M. Williams of the Dalles will arrive soon to make her home temporarily in Portland. She will occupy the A. L. Rush home while Mr. and Mrs. Rush and Miss Alta Rush are touring abroad. Mrs. Williams is the mother of Mrs. Charles Marshall and Mrs. Russell Sewell of this city.

Mrs. Alexander H. Kerr who has just east some weeks ago has been visiting her son Thomas at Harvard. Mrs. Kerr intends to spend some time visiting relatives and friends in Philadelphia and elsewhere before returning home. She has placed her daughter Jeanie in a school near Boston.

Miss Alda Broughton gave a luncheon Wednesday for Miss Edwina Mastick. The guests were: Mrs. T. N. Patterson, Miss Marie Smith, Miss Laura Fox, Miss Sabine Dent, Miss Vesta Broughton and Mrs. William Harold Steiger.

Mrs. H. B. Miller, Miss Laura and Miss Winifred Miller are visiting at the home of Judge and Mrs. A. H. Tanner and will be there for about a month. The Millers have just returned from Yokohama where Mr. Miller holds the United States consulate. Their home was formerly in Eugene, where they were prominent in society, and both the daughters were graduated from the University of Oregon. They have many friends in Portland who plan to entertain for them when they have become rested from their long ocean trip. Judge Tanner, who has been very ill is slowly improving. Mrs. Tanner and Mrs. Miller are sisters, members of a prominent Oregon family.

The Columbian of Columbia university will give their first annual promenade next Monday evening at Muriak hall. This annual affair will probably become the leading social affair in the city.

Catholic circles. The patronesses for the first dance are: Mrs. James P. O'Brien, Mrs. M. W. Daly, Mrs. F. E. White, Mrs. A. C. Smith, Mrs. J. E. Cronin, Mrs. E. H. Pihan, Mrs. David M.
