PRIZE SHOWER TO DESCEND ON DOGS

Trophies for Winners of All Kinds of Breeds in Next Week's Show.

WEDNESDAY LAST DAY TO RECEIVE ENTRIES

Benching Will Be Placed in Splendid Quarters at Fifteenth and Washington Streets Early This Week—Owners Requested to Enter Dogs.

Wednesday is the last day that entries will be received for the annual Portland bench show, which begins Thursday morning and comes to a close Saturday night. Beginning tomorrow the office of the Kennel club at 229 Lumber Exchange building will be open daily from noon until 6 o'clock. All information concerning the show will be cheerfully given by the secretary. Entry blanks can there be secured and entries made by fanciers.

Splendid accommodations have been found over the garage at the corner of Fifteenth and Washington streets, where the benching will take place. There is plenty of room for the exhibition and large crowds can be accommodated.

Local dogs will be forced to compete with some of the classiest animals in California and Washington. Strings which are prize-winners are due from Spokane, Seattle, Vancouver, British Columbia, and San Francisco. Thirty dogs from outsidethe city are now being conditioned by Charles Campion, the local handler.

It is earnestly requested by the bench show committee that intending exhibitors make their entries as soon as possible so that they may help in getting the catalogue ready on time. It is also hoped that every owner in town will show his dog. There will be plenty of benching to accommodate all. The benching is being made in Portland and will be in place tomorrow. It will probably be given a coat of point tomorrow and will be dry for the reception of the dogs Thursday.

Scores of Trophies.

There are scores of trophies to be presented winning dogs including silver cups, silver medals and bronze medals. The cups are offered to winners of special prizes, silver medals to all first prize winners in all classes, bronze to all second prize winners. Handsome gilt lettered ribbons will be awarded for the first three places in each class and a rosette for each first in the winner's class.

A trophy will be presented for the best field trial dog and for the best dog in the show. Major J. M. Taylor of Rutherford, New Jersey, has offered two volumes of his splendid book on field trial dogs, as prizes in the setter and pointer classes.

In the mixed miscellaneous classes cups will be given for the best puppy in the show, the best puppy bred in Oregon, the best terrier in the show, the best dog owned by a lady and the best dog owned by a member of the Portland Kennel club.

The show will be superintended by Gerald Fleming, the well-known bench show superintendent who has been so successful with past exhibitions.

BEAVERS ANNEX TIRESOME GAME

Pernoll Driven to Clubhouse by Sudden Onslaught of Angel Batters.

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.)

Los Angeles, April 18.—A tiresome game of the sand-lot variety characterized the play of the Portland and Los Angeles teams this afternoon, the Oregonians winning by a score of 10 to 6.

Each team made a run in the first inning and were blanked in the second. The northerners took all the interest out of the game for the time being when they scored five runs in the third inning on three bases on balls and two hits.

The homesters exhibited a flash of class in the seventh when they drove "Stumpy" Pernoll to the clubhouse, making four hits for as many runs. It was a fearful exhibition to look at from an Angel point of view. Score:

PREPARING A FINE TRACK AT PACIFIC

Athletic Committee Is Arranging for Big Tryout May 4.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Pacific University, Forest Grove, Or., April 18.—The athletic committee took advantage of the good weather last week to put the athletic field in shape for the spring meets. The quarter mile circular running track was leveled and widened, so that eight courses may be run in the 220-yard dash. A steam road scraper and roller was employed in making these improvements, which, combined with the 2,000 feet of tile laid a month ago, make Pacific's athletic field one of the best in the state.

The enlargement of the tract was made necessary by the large number of men entered for the local tryout on May 4. At that time the classes compete for a handsome cup which goes to the class winning the largest number of points. This cup was presented by H. B. Millis of the class of 1902, and is now held by the seniors.

D. I. Aller, last year's sprinter, has accepted a position with one of the local banks, which will compel him to give up his track work this spring. His absence will prove a serious loss to the team, but several new men are showing up well, and there will be keen competition for his place.

Plans are being drawn up and a movement inaugurated whereby Pacific is to have a new gymnasium. The present gymnasium is not large enough for indoor training, and this has made it difficult for the men to get in condition for the early meets.

Seals Blank Oaks.

San Francisco, April 18.—The Seals had their own way today of celebrating two years after. It took the form of administering a coat of whitewash to the Oaks. In every other game of the series Van Haltren's nine had a chance at some stage of the contest. Today Skillman, the southpaw that had been taken out of the box at Oakland last Sunday morning after several innings of non-success, was all the goods. Score:

Pendleton Beats La Grande.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Pendleton, Or., April 18.—In a game of baseball this afternoon between the La Grande team and the local team, Pendleton won by a score of 6 to 0. This was the first of a series of games with La Grande. The next will be played Sunday afternoon. The game was fast. Parkes, who twirled for Pendleton, is credited with 14 strike-outs. Pendleton secured 5 hits and La Grande 6.

NONPARIEL WAS KING OF WELTERS

Billy Delaney Says Jack Dempsey Had It on the Present-Day Fighters.

By Tad.

New York, April 18.—Billy Delaney says that there has not been a middleweight in the past ten years who classed with the famous nonpariel, Jack Dempsey.

"I've watched them all—Papke, Sullivan, Ryan, O'Brien, Kelly, Burns, Carter, Gardner and Thomas—but in my opinion Jack in his day would have taken them one by one and put them away," says Billy.

"You must remember that the fighters now have an easy time of it, in nice heated halls, big gloves and plenty of fine handling. In Dempsey's days it was knuckles, out on the turf and usually the rough and tumble sort of milling.

"He could take a harder punch than any man I ever saw and then come back with a terrific burst of speed. I never saw a man who resembled his style more than Kid McCoy. Of course, the Kid was much bigger and a harder hitter than Jack, but they were almost ringers on tricky fighting, punishing welts and cleverness.

Jack Was a Cooper.

"Dempsey, you know, was a cooper in Brooklyn before he entered the ring. He and Jack McAuliffe worked over there for years, and at lunch time they played ball, wrestled and boxed a bit. Dempsey was pretty good at wrestling, and after a bit quit his trade and was a professional collar and elbow wrestler. McAuliffe taught him to box, and then Jack entered the ring as a fighter. He had some tough bouts on the turf over there and beat them one after another.

"Yon know when Jack started at the game all fighters used the straight punch. They figured that the straight line was the shorter distance between two given points and used nothing at all but straight punches. Jack started the hook that McCoy made famous later on. While the other fellow looked for a straight left and was ready to block it, Jack hooked an undercut with such speed and good judgement that the other man was down and out before he had hardly started.

"One of the toughest fights I ever saw him in was the one with Jack Burns out in Frisco. That was a grudge fight for you, and they were both afraid of a double cross. They were so frightened that when it came to the selection of a referee they couldn't decide, and two men were selected.

"Dempsey took old Billy Jordan, and Burke selected Jack Hallman. It was a ten-round fight, and at the end of the go Jordan named Dempsey as the winner, while Hallman picked Burke. It was finally called a draw, but it was the hardest fight I ever remember of seeing.

Knocked Out for First Time.

"Jack received his first setback out there, too, if you look it up. George La Blanche, the 'Marine,' was the man who gave it to him, and it was the biggest surprise in the world. He is the man who invented the pivot blow. Some call it the 'La Blanche swing,' but it was barred after that and called a foul blow. They were fighting in the old California club, and in the thirty-second round, when Jack had the 'Marine' pretty well tired, the latter suddenly swung around backward, and with his right hand caught Jack right on the bridge of the nose, knocking him out as clean as though it had been done with a hammer.

"There was an awful hullabaloo about it, but the 'Marine' won out. It was the first time they had ever seen the punch and the first time that the great Dempsey was ever knocked out. Of course, Fitzsimmons knocked him out later, and that, too was a great surprise, but the punch La Blanche put over on him was the one that startled the world.

"No, Jack wasn't born in Brooklyn. He was an Irish lad, born in County Kildare, Ireland, in 1862. He was buried in Portland, Oregon. He was 5 feet 8 inches tall, but had a grand form. I hope to see another Dempsey some day, but it seems to me that there is something lacking in the most of them.

"Dempsey really was a 'nonpariel.'"

Hans Says He Was Wrong.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Cincinnati, April 18.—Hans Wagner rejoined the Pittsburg team here today. "I have been convinced," Hans said, "that the team needs my services and decided to get back into the game and that is all there is to it. There was no financial trouble or any other misunderstanding between the club and myself. I simply thought I was in need of a rest. I was wrong."

FAIR ONES CRY FOR KNOCKOUT WHEN BURNS SENDS SMITH DOWN

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.)

Paris, April 18.—Tommy Burns, the American heavyweight, knocked out "Jewey" Smith in the fifth round of their 10-round contest tonight.

Smith was a mere novice in Champion Burns' hands. The American could have finished him at any stage of the fight but kept stalling off the knockout punch until the picture machine man had secured enough films to reproduce the scene.

Burns didn't have a scratch. It was the easiest fight he has had on this side of the pond.

The men fought for a purse of $2,000. About one-third of the spectators were women, many of them Americans and English. Their enthusiasm was intense. They cried joyfully for a knockout when Burns had Smith helpless in the fifth round. A flashlight for the moving pictures also started a panic by setting fire to a bunch of paper flower decorations in the balcony. Women led in the stampede and many were knocked down and bruised.

Excitement began just after Burns knocked Smith down in the third round, and Referee Phelan, unmindful of the commotion, calmly continued the count. The flames were quickly extinguished and so great was the women's interest that the rush into the building was almost as violent as was the exit.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT SKINNED IN FAKE WRESTLING GO

(United Press Leased Wire.)

South Bend, Ind., April 18.—Fighting to recover $10,000, which he says he was swindled out of through what he now knows was a fake wrestling match, Public Inspector W. J. Springborn, Mayor Thomas Johnson's chief lieutenant and a Sunday school superintendent, confessed today that he handled bets on the bout.

But he did not do it intentionally, he averred. He brought the $10,000 here with him to buy real estate and "accidentally" mixed it with the stakes. One of the men connected with the match took the whole sum from his hotel room, ostensibly to put it in a safety-deposit box. That was the last Springborn saw of the coin.

William Fleming of Cleveland, whom Springborn accused of "enticing" him into the game was held in $7,500 bonds to the grand jury. G. E. Foster, also accused of complicity in the alleged fraud, was freed.

ELEVEN BEAVERS STICK OVER .250

Big Danzig Is Next to Melchoir in Leading Regular Players.

Portland has reason to be proud of her baseball team, for in spite of some hard luck sustained at San Francisco she has been playing fine ball at Los Angeles. She now has 11 men batting above .250. All of the regulars but Cooney and including all three catchers are now above the coveted mark and unless they take a most unexpected slump must begin winning games more regularly, for no team can keep the Beavers down at the gait they are now setting.

Melchoir, the Frisco outfielder, has the honor of leading the league with an average of .454. He has been hitting at a terrific clip. Danzig is next in the list of regulars with .350. The fans are all enthusiastic over little Bassey's hitting for the "Little Marquis" has been smashing the ball regularly and now has an average of .321. McCredie and Raftery are hitting well, the manager having gained 31 points over his average of last week.

May Wrestle in June.

New York, April 18.—Tom O'Rourke, the sporting impresario, came forth with an offer today to Frank Gotch and George Hackenschmidt, the Russian lion, to wrestle another catch-as-catch-can contest for the championship of the world. O'Rourke will offer the strong men a purse of $20,000. If both gladiators consent to O'Rourke's proposition the match will take place in Madison Square Garden some time in June.

Gotch and Hackenschmidt received an offer recently to wrestle in Europe for $10,000. O'Rourke did not hesitate to double the amount for he feels sure of drawing a good crowd to see the contest.

Oregon's Trip Called Off.

The University of Oregon will not make its trip to Portland this week to meet three local teams. The varsity men were to have met the St. Johns team of the Tri-City league, Hill Military academy and Columbia university. Columbia was the only team ready to play and the collegians thought one game would be hardly enough.

Musical Entertainment.

On Friday evening, April 17, a musical entertainment was given at the Hawthorne Park Presbyterian church, corner of East 12th and Taylor streets. Miss Ethel M. Lytle, soprano, Miss Mary Mackenzie Cahill, violin, Mr. John W. Boothe, reader and Mr. Frank L. Grannis at the piano, made up the program which was enthusiastically received.

Miss Lytle sang the Indian love lyrics delightfully and received a hearty encore. The rest of her numbers were also greatly appreciated. The violin numbers, played by Miss Cahill, proved conclusively that she thoroughly understands this instrument, and she was obliged to respond to encores after each of her numbers. Mr. Boothe gave "Lasca" in a truly dramatic and realistic manner. He responded to a hearty encore with "The Parson's Son." The piano solos and all accompaniments were played with the Artistano by Mr. Grannis in a most satisfactory manner. The entire program was furnished by Sherman, Clay & Co., and the evening proved one of great enjoyment.

Tomorrow (Monday) will positively be the last day for discount on East Side gas bills. Portland Gas Co.

Boatman Hoodwinks Portland Anglers

Henry Jenning, the furniture man, Frank Davis of the St. Charles hotel and a Mr. Torey of New York, made up a fishing party that left Los Angeles recently for Santa Catalina island. The above cut shows the result of a few hours' catch at that famous resort. Mr. Jenning is pointing to a 40-pound barracuta. Other fish in the string are the yellowtail and rock cod.

The story goes that Davis, though a noted angler in northern waters, found considerable difficulty in landing the fickle beauties of the deep in the south; that after a few hours' fishing Davis returned to the beach exhausted, medical attendance being sought by his associates. Mr. Jenning, who acts as spokesman of the crowd, says the boatman who took them out on their daily excursions received the fish as his reward, claiming that they were not worth anything to speak of. But as soon as the party was out of his reach on shore, he found no trouble in disposing of his cargo of fish at 4c a pound. With all the drawbacks the outing is reported to have spent a most enjoyable week.
