HURRY TO RESCUE OF COMRADES

Two Thousand Russian Troops Sent to Assist Detachment Which Is Harassed by Kurd Brigands Near Belesuvar.

Fear Expressed That All Will Have Been Massacred Before Relief Expedition Reaches Scene of Trouble.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Tiflis, April 21.—Two thousand Russian troops were today sent under rush orders to reinforce the regiment of soldiers, who, while searching for Kurdish brigands in the neighborhood of Belesuvar, near the frontier, were completely surrounded by a superior force of Persians. The small Russian expeditionary force is now entirely hemmed in by enemies. On account of there being no railroads to carry the reinforcements they will be unable to reach the scene for several days.

First news of the sore straits in which the Russian troops have been placed was received here Saturday. The clash between the Kurds and Russians is believed to have taken place and the fighting is undoubtedly in progress. It is feared that the small band cannot hold out and that a massacre will follow before the reinforcements arrive.

AMERICAN SAILORS SEND MONEY HOME

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Diego, Cal., April 21.—Jack ashore is not always a spendthrift. The records made up by the money order division at the local postoffice prove that. The first day the sailors from the Atlantic fleet were ashore here they sent off about $7,500 to their relatives, and it is estimated that they sent money orders for about $20,000 through the office while the fleet was here. Almost every order was drawn on the postoffice of some small town in the middle west or the east.

The sailors also sent thousands of dollars home by checks through the San Diego banks, and many of them used express money orders.

FAIRVIEW HOLDS ITS FIRST CITY ELECTION

Shaver was elected the first mayor, receiving 42 votes. William Butler was chosen recorder, with 41 votes. The same number of ballots chose A. T. Axtell as treasurer and J. H. Schram was given 39 for marshal. For aldermen the vote was as follows: C. E. Cree, 31; William Elliston, 40; D. S. Dunbar, 40; J. Luscher, 39; Grant R. Shaw, 36; E. A. Whitney, 29, and C. Shepherd, 23.

MAYOR CONSULTS BOYS AS TO WHICH IS BEST CAR FENDER

It was out at the demonstration of streetcar fenders yesterday that Mayor Lane made up with two boys and consulted them as to the advisability as to which of the life protectors should be accepted by the councilmen as the one to be adopted on the Portland streetcars.

"Come on, boys," said the mayor, "and ride to town with me. I want you two to decide which is the best fender. You have seen them all work."

The youngsters were particularly bright and healthy looking and, as they climbed on the car by the side of the city executive their eyes glistened and there was an expression of extreme happiness on their faces.

The car started. The mayor sat between the two. Both the boys were as proud as peacocks.

"Well," said Dr. Lane, finally, "which of the fenders do you like the best? Which do you think is best for the protection of the public?"

One said he thought it was the shear-shaped contrivance which threw the body to the right of the track. The other boy thought likewise.

The question of streetcar fenders which has been agitating the minds of councilmen and the mayor and the president of the streetcar company for months, had been settled in a minute by two boys.

The car came to Twenty-third and Washington streets. The boys arose to get off.

"I wonder did he mean that?" said one as the two left the car.

"Sure, he did," was the answer.

The two stepped proudly and walked in the direction of Boyville, thinking of their great influence with the mayor of Portland.

MANY SUBURBS POUND AT CITY'S DOOR

Section Southeast of Portland Is Clamoring for Annexation.

Residents southeast of the city want their territory brought into the city limits and to that end have filed a petition with City Auditor Barbur asking that annexation be voted upon at the June election. There are 154 signatures to the petition, 15 per cent of the voters of the territory at the last registration. This means that if the annexation is approved the population of the city will be increased about 4,500.

The district affected in the petition includes Lents, Arleta, Archer, Myrtle Park, Nashville, Middlesex, Laurelwood, Firland, Anabel, Kern Park, Oakdale, Ivanhoe and Lexington Heights.

ROOSEVELT DEFENDED BY SENATOR WARNER

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, April 21.—President Roosevelt's action in ordering the discharge of the negro troops concerned in the Brownsville affair was vigorously defended on the floor of the senate today by Senator Warner of Missouri. He denounced the criticism of the president's stand as a political move and denied that the removal was influenced by reason of the color of the soldiers.

"It is incredible to me," said the senator, "that any intelligent man, white or black, could have the hardihood to charge that the president, in issuing the order discharging those soldiers was influenced by reason of their color. It is to be regretted that a systematic effort has been made to arouse the negroes of the country against the president because of his action in the Brownsville affair."

PORTLAND "RED" EXPLAINS VIEWS

Lone Anarchist Throws Entirely New Light Upon His Creed.

J. Lewis Drinker—"the only anarchist in Portland"—at least the only one to register as such (on the registration books of the courthouse has written a letter to The Journal replying to criticisms of himself and his political beliefs. The letter follows:

Portland, Or., April 20.—To the editor of The Journal—"Behold! What a great matter a little fire kindleth." No words more fittingly describe the "kick-up" that is being made over the simple act of an American citizen (more distinctively an American—technically.) Proof of this assertion may be had by sending an able reporter to my home, and I suggest that he bring along Mr. Middleton, who is trying to earn a little cheap notoriety by starting a movement looking to my deportation, and Chief Gritzmacher—they will find nothing more explosive in the house than the vigorous voice of a month-old baby, registering as an anarchist. Inasmuch as the act referred to has been the means of directing toward me much public comment and criticism, some of which was decidedly adverse—notably that in the "Oregonian." I ask that in simple fairness "The Journal" (whose comments were at least fair and truthful), allow me a chance to "make good."

To begin with why should so commonplace an act occasion so much public notice? Simply because the public is grossly ignorant of the meaning of the word anarchist. And what is an anarchist? Why is he so feared and hated? Listen! An anarchist is one who holds that all men are created equal. That true government can only come through the consent of the governed, i. e., the will of the people. That the policies of government should be so shaped as to conduce to the speedy eliminations of war and the leveling of all class distinctions, and lastly and most important of all, that no man ever was, is now or ever should be entitled to profit by another's toil, an exacting philosophy, but unimpeachably correct, and destined completely to efface our present industrial system, including its two chief features—the church and the state, for both have become, through the pernicious influence of class rule, rotten to their foundations.

Why Abuse?

But why should the advocate of the foregoing principles, which, are clearly those of the Christ who was thus the father of philosophical anarchism, be so feared and hated? For precisely the same reason that the master was so feared and hated that he lost his life defending his principles, viz., because of the ignorance of the masses and the jealousy and hatred of the scribes and the chief priests, for the same conditions prevail today in the industrial world as prevailed in that day in the religious world. To fully elucidate the above statements a brief history of true anarchism should be given, but time and space forbid; it is enough that they cannot be criticised until they are disproved and that no man can do.

In conclusion, let me say that 20 years' study of the great question of economics together with a brief period in the service of the corporations, has made me a philosophical anarchist, and I stand in brilliant company—stars of the first magnitude, as it were. Among them I may mention Voltaire, who did more for the cause of human liberty than any man that ever lived—saving alone the Christ; the poet Gray, whose "Elegy in a Country Churchyard," the most divine production the genius of man ever conceived, was inspired by the tenets of the anarchistic faith; Tom Payne, a member of the committee that drafted the constitution of the United States and who first incorporated the word liberty in that sacred instrument; Robert Emmet, the world's most brilliant orator and one of its greatest patriots, and whose last address, the most sublime that ever glorified a scaffold, will live long after the name of every king and queen has been expunged from the page of history; Ella Wheeler Wilcox, the foremost woman of the century, and to come down to our immediate day, hour and place, the leader of the Portland bar.

From a New Standpoint.

To the populace in general, but particularly the wage-earner, let me say that in the light of existing conditions every thinking man or woman, who uses his or her brains for other than the prosaic purpose of making a living, must necessarily be a philosophical anarchist or a dishonest person; failing to run in either of these classes his status is assuredly fixed as that of the fool. Let me add that if "Journal" readers will read this article carefully and without prejudice, tomorrow there will be 10,000 more anarchists in Oregon than there were yesterday.

As to those members of the press who are ever ready to use the lance of adverse criticism, we urge them to submit every proposition to the clear light of reason, that the scales of prejudice may fall from their eyes and their judgments be as a straight-edge, instead, as now, warped out of all semblance to justice by the heat of human passion. J. LEWIS DRINKER.

O. R. & N. ANSWERS IN BAKER CITY RATE CASE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Salem, Or., April 21.—W. W. Cotton, attorney for the O. R. & N., has filed an answer to the complaint made before the railroad commission April 7 by the Business Men's association and Citizens' league of Baker City. The discriminations protested against by the people of Baker City were similar to those complained of by the business men of Spokane in the case before the interstate commerce commission, though on a smaller scale.

The O. R. & N. company through its attorney denies the allegations made in the complaint as they apply to any discrimination against the jobbing interests of Baker City and in effect denies that there are any large interests in Baker City that are affected by the rates now in force.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 21—Bewildered by the maze of tracks and moving switch engines in the Santa Fe railroad yards, F. Johansson, aged 21, sailmaker's mate on the battleship New Jersey, was run down and killed by a freight train early this morning. Johansson enlisted in Boston.

MAYOR WANTS TO STOP BIG STEAL

Calls Attention of People to Efforts to Vacate City Streets.

Tomorrow is the day set apart by the council to consider the petition of the Inman-Poulsen Lumber company asking for the vacation of certain streets on the east side and Mayor Lane has addressed a letter to the people calling their attention to the fact. Mayor Lane points out that if the vacations are granted by the council the city will be practically cut off of access to the river south of the Madison street bridge.

The streets which the lumber company want are those on which its mill site is now located. The company has occupied the streets for many years and believes they belong to the company by right of occupation. Mayor Lane's letter follows:

"To the People—I have at times called your attention to matters of legislation concerning your affairs, which I had reason to suppose might be of interest to you, it being my belief that it would pay you quite well to keep in somewhat closer touch with them than you are in the habit of doing.

"In pursuance of this plan and respecting a question of considerable importance to you, I would respectfully ask you to note that tomorrow is the day set by your representatives to hear any objections which you may have to make to the vacation of a number of streets to the Inman-Poulsen Lumber company.

Worth $100,000.

"In respect to this matter I have to say that there are parts of eight of these streets, that they amount to the equivalent of eight blocks of land in the aggregate of a value of not less say, than $80,000 to $100,000. When these streets are parted with, all means of access to the river over public property south of the Madison street bridge on the east side of the river will be practically cut off from the public for the reason that they take in the last street north of the bluffs which is accessible to the river channel.

"Once vacated, these streets are lost to public use for all time unless the city buys them back again. I can understand how you might loan the use of them or rent or lease them for a small sum to be paid annually and such loan or lease of them to be renewed, say every three or five years. Or how you might vacate them in exchange for lands of equal value to be used for park purposes or playgrounds, but I see no reason why you should alienate them, receiving nothing in return, and at the same time allow an entire district to be blocked for all time from access to the river, which is the vital artery of the city's existence.

"Unless you bestir yourselves, I look to see these streets pass from out of the control of the city. If there is anything to be done in the way of stopping the process of erosion, which wears away the property of the people to meet the never ending demands of private persons, it will be accomplished only when the people of this city awake to intelligent and concerted action and call a halt in the game. I have protested these vacations to the council.

"Respectfully,
"HARRY LANE, Mayor."

OFFICERS TO ANSWER TO CHIEF'S CHARGE

Charges of conduct unbecoming officers will soon be filed with the police committee by Chief Gritzmacher against Ernest Johnson, acting police sergeant, and Patrolman Asa Welch. While off duty yesterday the two officers had an altercation on the street, and several hard blows were exchanged. The injuries were such that neither could report for duty last night.

WOMAN'S POWER

The healthy woman; strong mentally and physically, whose ambition and magnetic influence urge men to deeds of grandeur and heroism; such women are all-powerful.

Weak, sick and ailing women have little ambition; their own troubles occupy all their thoughts. They dwell upon their pains, suffer from nervousness and headaches; often are extremely melancholy, and avoid society. For thirty years has been saving women from this awful condition.

Mrs. Louise Jung, of 332 Chestnut St., Detroit, Mich., writes:

"I suffered from a very severe female weakness for a long time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, restored my health. I hope it will do other women as much good as it has me."

Mrs. Emma Wheaton, of Vienna W. Va., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was a walking shadow. My husband insisted upon my writing to you and trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did. It relieved all my pains and misery, and made of me a very different woman."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice.

Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good;" and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

While the case against Elmer Jennings, charged with attempting to extort money from William Becket, a contractor, by an alleged "badger game" was being heard in the municipal court today the allegation was made that as the crime was committed in Clackamas county the case could not be brought to trial in Multnomah.

This is the case of the infuriated husband who appeared at the Oregon City hotel, and who thoughtlessly accepted a note from the erring contractor in lieu of cold, non-telitale cash. The case was continued until Friday.

FOREIGN COUNTRIES PROTECT WORKMEN

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, April 21.—Foreign workmen are better protected in case of injury than are Americans, is the statement made in the report of the United States bureau of labor made public today. The document is expected to have a great influence on congress in the matter of the employers' liability bill, on the passage of which President Roosevelt has set his heart. It is intimated by those opposed to the bill that the report coming at this time is merely the carrying out of the president's orders, issued in the hope that it will arouse sufficient sentiment in favor of the bill to insure its passage.

The report says in part:

"Practically every foreign country industrially important has, by legislation, recognized the principle that workmen are entitled to compensation for injuries received while employed. Exact compensation is fixed by law."

NEW GOLD DISCOVERY IN THE KLONDIKE

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Seattle, April 21.—T. O. Oliver, who has returned from four years of prospecting on the MacKenzie and Peace and Lelard rivers, during which time he crossed the barren lands to the first cache of the Franklin expedition, brings news of gold discoveries which he says surpass the early finds in the Klondike. He will head a party that will leave Seattle early next month on the return to these discoveries. Further than to state that his discoveries were on Great Slave lake, Oliver declined to go into details of the location of the new gold fields. He confirms the recent reports received of the big gold strike at Herschel island and predicts a big rush into the MacKenzie river country this year.

ON DEATHBED WHEN HE INHERITS FORTUNE

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Seattle, April 21.—Unaware that a legacy of $50,000 awaited him, Willis A. Chapman, penniless and sick, died at the Wayside Emergency hospital yesterday. While Chapman, who was 53 years old, was slowly sinking to his death, friends were searching the city to acquaint him with the news which would have spelled comfort to a wanderer. Two weeks ago Tim Chapman, a bachelor uncle, died in Illinois leaving farm lands valued at $100,000 to his brother's sons, Willis A. and Lewis Chapman. The latter lives at Spring Valley, Minnesota. He was notified yesterday of the death of his brother and is now on his way to Seattle to take charge of his body.

Chapman lived on the Pacific coast for 26 years.

MARIS IS APPOINTED DEPUTY INSPECTOR

Paul V. Maris, the new deputy appointed by J. W. Bailey, state food and dairy inspector, assumed his duties today and started his operations at Albany, where he will inspect the cows of the various herds there, make tests of the milk and investigate separator conditions.

From Albany, Mr. Maris will go to other dairy districts, where cow testing associations have been formed, and probably will not return to Portland for several weeks.

The expenses and salary of the new deputy will be paid by the Buttermakers' association, recently formed in Portland.

WASHINGTON TABOOS PRIVATE GAMBLING

Olympia, Wash., April 21—Any gambling game whether conducted in a public or in a private place, when it is run for gain is unlawful, according to a decision of the supreme court handed down in the appeal of Charles Preston, who was arrested, found guilty and fined for conducting a gambling resort in Walla Walla. Preston ran a roulette wheel in the basement of a building and while the game was on kept the doors locked. He was charged with conducting and carrying on a gambling game. He made his appeal on the ground that while it constitutes a felony to run an open gambling game, when the game was conducted behind closed doors it was only a misdemeanor.
