TODAY'S MARKETS

A Special Review of the Hop Situation From an English Standpoint Will Be Printed on the Market Page on Sunday

LOCAL ONIONS HOLDING STRONG

Scarcity Sends Price Back to $5 in the Front Street Market Today.

Front street features:
Local onions selling higher.
No business for export flour.
Local flour market steady.
Eggs are selling lower.
Poultry is down a notch.
Heavy orders for fresh fish.
Potatoes show more activity.
Some concessions in veal.
Dressed hogs are very firm.
Garlic advanced with scarcity.
Creamery butter sells to north.

Local Onions Selling Higher.

Because of the scarcity of the small supplies of local onions on this market, the price is stiffer and higher today, with the best stock finding a ready call at $5 per hundred pounds. Texas onions are still holding at $3.75, because that is the price agreed upon and for the reason that the stocks cost nearly that amount to lay down in Portland. New arrivals will cost less money to bring into the northwest and this will allow jobbers to cut their values accordingly.

No Business for Export Flour.

According to flour sellers there is still an entire absence of oriental flour demand in the Pacific coast markets because of the great business depression abroad and the inability of the local people to quote still lower prices because of the higher cost of the wheat. Editor Leo Peterson of the Commercial Review tells the following of the market:

"The week just closed has been a particularly discouraging one to the millers. Everything has been dull in the milling line. Production has been limited. The foreign flour market continues to be characterized by lack of confidence in the general situation. So far no fresh feature has arisen of sufficient potency to stimulate demand, and buyers are not prepared to make fresh purchases in excess of more immediate requirements, while at the same time millers are equally indisposed to accelerate sales by any appreciable concessions from present quotations. Country mills are experiencing the same dullness which is generally reported by the coast mills. Millers are not anticipating a heavy trade, but believe that more or less business will continue to be done, particularly if prices can be shaded from present quotations. It has been noticeable heretofore that whenever there was a decline to a certain basis, business suddenly sprang up from many directions and millers took new life again. Clear flour is in fair demand and satisfactory sales are being made. Prices are slightly lower, but show a tendency to hold firmer than on patent, owing to less competition. Although mills are unable to do foreign business, the demand from domestic markets has been fairly good. The local demand has been increased of late. Most of the business is confined to California, and buyers there do not stock up freely, buying only standard brands, and the quantity is small. A more active demand from that state has been looked for week by week, but the flour buyers seem to still have a fair stock on hand, and are not disposed to load up much more."

Eggs Are Selling Lower.

Along Front street the egg market is quoted at a lower range, with some weakness manifest by prices. There has been a disposition among the general trade to beat the market down, because every one was becoming afraid that prices would not get low enough to store again. Along the street during the past 24 hours sales were made between dealers at 16½c a dozen, but most of the sales along the street were made by the buyers at 17c. Once in a while 17½c was obtained in single case sales, but to move a dozen cases or so at a time a lower price had to be named. The northern cities are again in the market for eggs, but did not offer more than 17c here, and those who held out for 17½c did not effect a trade.

Poultry Is Down a Notch.

The price of poultry is down a notch in the Front street markets. Supplies are somewhat heavier and added to this is the fact that the larger retailers have been held up for such high prices for so long a period that they have been compelled to bring in large quantities of eastern stock in order to sell at a reasonable price and hold their trade. All lines except ducks, turkeys and spring chickens are affected, the former being in nominal arrival.

Creamery butter is holding quite steady locally because of the recent advance in the southern price. This shut the California creameries out of the Puget sound markets and local people are shipping quite liberal supplies in that direction at this time.

Larger supplies are noted in the cheese market, with prices fractionally easier, with some quoting a slight decline.

Brief Notes of the Trade.

Orders for salmon are very heavy in the fresh fish markets and supplies are quite well cleaned up at former values.

Because of the continued heavy arrivals some dealers are quoting a slight decline in dressed veal. Dressed hogs are holding their own because of nominal arrivals.

Potato shipments continue to increase, with former prices still ruling.

Strawberries are holding steady, with lighter arrivals because of the rains in the south.

Garlic shows another sharp advance. As high as 22c was obtained for supplies the past 24 hours. Stocks never so scarce as now.

BUTTER PRICE SHORT WITH LONGER GRASS

"Eggs are steady at previous quotations with receipts and demand about a stand off.

"Butter is in large supply but prices are about the same as they were last week. I do not look for much change until the weather warms up a little and grass becomes longer.

"Receipts of poultry have not been large the past week; stocks have cleaned up pretty well. Broilers and fryers are scarce and in great demand. Ducks are good sellers and some geese are wanted. Live turkeys are good sellers and fancy dressed ones are in great demand. I am of the opinion that poultry will be in very good demand the coming week.

"Despite the fact that receipts of veal have been very large of late, the demand seems also to be large, and best grades are quickly taken up. Poor and rough are not as quick sellers, but I look for a continued good demand for the best article. Pork is very firm for small and medium, and stocks of best grade have been light. I look for a continued good demand."—Tom Farrell of Everding & Farrell.

SALEM BERRIES TO CALL CREAM PITCHER

Salem growers will have strawberries to feed Portland with this finest of fruits early in May. So says George W. Weeks, who was down from the Cherry City this morning. "The strawberries are now about as large as a man's thumb nail," he says, "and it will not be long before they are ripe and ready for the cream pitcher. There is every prospect at this time of a heavy crop."

Chicago, April 24.—The wheat market started under severe pressure, profit-taking of some of the big bulls giving the shorts hope. They sold wheat from the start and created a miniature stampede among the bulls.

May was started at 97¼c, a loss of 1¼c from the previous closing, but regained a fraction of this amount soon after. Further pressure was brought about by the sharp loss of Liverpool after the opening, and the closing shows a net decline of 1c for May and 1⅜c for the July.

Coarse grains were affected by the weakness in wheat, but the principal loss was in corn. Provisions were weak and May pork lost 15c.

HARRIMAN RALLIES STOCK MARKET LIST

Union Pacific Makes New High Record Since First of Present Year.

New York April 24.—Give the stock market good news and it invariably results in a serious decline in prices, but give it something not so good and the chances are 10 to 1 that the market will rapidly advance in value. This latter was the attitude of today's market. It advanced from the start and advanced — almost every trade.

The failure of T. A. McIntyre & Co., one of the largest stock, cotton and grain firms in the country, had no effect upon the bullishness and the advances were not checked. A bank failure in Kentucky had the same effect. The market advanced in spite of both of them.

Harriman issues brought their best foot forward this morning and helped the rest of the market to advance. Union Pacific struck a high mark for the trading since January 1, advancing to 133⅝ and closing at 133½. The latter was an advance of 2½ points over the closing Thursday. Other leading issues closed with the following net gains for the day: Northern Pacific, 2¼; Reading, common, 1⅝; St. Paul, 1¾; American Smelter, common, ⅝, and Southern Pacific, 1⅝ points.

The market closed firm.

MONARCHS CARRY SIX SHOOTERS

King Edward Has Pretty Gold-Mounted Gun but It Is Useful Weapon.

Paris, April 24.—During the recent visit of King Edward a local reporter discovered to a certainty that the monarch carried a revolver, a very pretty gold and ivory affair, but a six shooter just the same. This caused further inquiry, resulting in the discovery that most living monarchs carry revolvers. Indeed, Edward carried one before he became king. It is recalled that at one time when his horse fell, receiving a mortal wound, the then prince of Wales drew a revolver and put the animal out of his agony.

On the body of the late King Carlos of Portugal a loaded revolver was found, but the crown prince, after being shot, had strength enough to draw his pistol and wound one of the assassins.

The German emperor's revolver is daily inspected by his gun charger and freshly loaded. His majesty also has a revolver lying on a small table nearest his bed.

In the bedroom of the murdered King Alexander of Servia a small arsenal was found when the conspirators entered through the door shattered by dynamite. If Alexander had not lost his head he might have put up a good fight.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS PRIMARIES TODAY

Two Tickets Are in the Field and Much Interest Is Taken in Election.

At the meeting of the Woman's club this afternoon nominations will be made for the election of officers in May. Two tickets are in the field, although the full support of the club is pledged to certain candidates. The matter of greatest interest is the nomination for president, for which office Mrs. Robert Lutke and Mrs. Grace Watt Ross are prominently mentioned. There is but one candidate for first vice-president, Mrs. John W. Alexander. For second vice-president, also, Mrs. James Moffett is the only candidate mentioned.

It is expected that the office of recording secretary will have two nominees, Mrs. T. R. Wise and Miss Anne Shannon Monroe, for treasurer, Mrs. E. J. Jaeger and Mrs. C. M. Rankin are supported, and for financial secretary, Mrs. C. E. Runyon and John M. Scott are both mentioned. It is expected that two nominations will be made for auditor, Mrs. O. P. M. Jamison and Mrs. C. C. Chapman.

There is no difference of opinion in regard to the office of director, for which Mrs. A. Staiger and Mrs. Alice Weister are named. Directors are elected two at a time to serve three years.

Mrs. A. B. Manley is the chairman of the day, and a social hour will be spent after the nominations.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE TO USE BILLBOARDS

By next Wednesday the Anti-saloon league expects to have 5,000 signatures to the petitions asking that the question of making the east side a prohibition district be voted upon at the coming June election. Although only 500 signers are required by law the members of the league having the petitions in charge hope to secure 10 times as many in order to show the popularity of their movement.

It is not the rule for the league to work through committees in conducting a campaign and so the churches and Sunday schools are carrying the brunt of the work with regard to the petitions. Advertising of the campaign by means of 20 huge billboards to be placed in prominent points on the east side will be begun this week and posters of the campaign will be placed wherever space is available.

BOSSES IN FAVOR OF ARBITRATION

United Metal Employers Will Try to Forestall Future Strikes.

Millions of dollars in capital are represented at a meeting of the United Metal Trades association—the boss iron workers of the Pacific coast—the members of which convened at the Hotel Portland this morning. The sessions will continue until tomorrow evening.

This is the second annual convention of the organization. The purpose of the gathering is to discuss trade conditions and to formulate more definite plans of organization. The idea of the association members, all of whom are in the iron and steel business along the Pacific coast, is to take up industrial disputes, should they arise, and settle them to the best of their ability.

These men employ thousands of mechanics and other workmen, many of whom are members of the different metal trade unions. When disputes arise between the men employed and the iron and steel managers and superintendents the questions will be discussed and settled if possible by the association members and the representatives of the labor concerned.

The members say there are no labor disputes confronting them at this time, and that nothing will be done at the present sessions except attend to the details of formulating their organization plans for the future.

W. H. Corbett of the Willamette Iron & Steel Works is president, and Charles M. Gunn of the Columbia Steel company is treasurer.

Other members who are attending are among the representative foundrymen of the Pacific coast. They are: James W. Kerr of San Francisco, vice-president of the California Metal Trades association; Harry F. Davis, San Francisco, secretary of the same association; Senator Frink, Seattle, of the Washington Iron Works; Senator T. B. Sumner and J. Bruce Gibson, Everett, of the Sumner Iron Works; F. M. Burpee, Bellingham, of the Burpee-Letson company of Bellingham bay and Vancouver, B. C.; Gilbert Hunt, Walla Walla, of the Gilbert Hunt company; John L. The session will close with a banquet at the Hotel Portland tomorrow evening.
