

TODAY'S MARKETS

The Englishman's Side of Hop Story Will Be Told on the Market Page of the Sunday Journal—Tells Facts to Public

SALE OF SALMONS VERY SLOW

Catch During First 10 Days of Season Is Disappointing to Packers.

Front street features: Lower river salmon run small. Millers are moving wheat. Local flour is steady. Cutting export flour price. Larger arrivals of California. Cattle market is weaker. Eggs generally at par. Dressed meats hold firm.

Columbus salmon run small. Ten of the spring-summer salmon season in the Columbia river have passed. The results of the fishing have been most disappointing. Before the season opened it was every likelihood that a very liberal catch during the first few days but the good prospects seem to have been disappointed. The fish on the lower river to date has been so small that few of the canneries are able to operate at all. One of the cold storage plants remains closed because of the small run but generally speaking, the storage operators have been in the market for fish caught here generally because the fish caught here generally is of large size—this being the kind especially sought after by the canneries and for export. They usually pay a premium over the figures allowed fishers by the cannery operators. The small run has been so small that a large per cent of the fish caught in the Willamette has been purchased by canners in order to keep their plants running.

Cochella onions from the south. A shipment of onions from the Cochella valley in California, is due in the Portland market about Tuesday. For some time the Cochella have been in the San Francisco and southern California markets and supplies a decline and the supplies due here during the coming week are expected to sell at a slightly lower figure than those of the Cochella variety and are said to be in quite good condition. They are packed in the same style crates as those from the southwest.

Butter Market Is Weaker. A somewhat weaker feeling is displayed on outside brands of creamery butter by Portland buyers. Supplies are increasing but while there has been no sign of stocks since the last drop in values, the market is expected to show signs of weakness and a further drop in values the coming week is likely.

Storage operations have been resumed in the egg market on quite an extensive scale. Receipts are slightly increased and the conditions are somewhat easier. The trade in general is at 17c although for single crates and while the market is somewhat better than a few days ago, it is not yet able to obtain a slightly higher figure.

Receipts of strawberries from the south today were somewhat more liberal than in the market. The firm Sunday demand sent the market to a stiffer position. A few crates of "Dolly" arrived from the Oregon market at $2.25 a crate of 15 boxes. This is 25c above the price of "Jessies." Indications of a higher market are expected with a view to lower prices. Quality of fruit is fair.

The first shipment of cherries to this city, the first of the season, arrived yesterday from California and another small shipment arrived this morning. Both shipments were quoted at 30c a pound.

Cauliflower is in very liberal supply but the market is quite good, although at former prices.

At the quoted prices, dressed meats are holding firm. This applies to best quality only. The market is very quiet with no new business reported during the past 24 hours.

Potatoes are steady at unchanged values. Onions are holding. Top of the market is very quiet with no new business reported during the past 24 hours.

Asparagus from local points has practically driven the California stuff out of the market. Prices are quoted on shipments from Walla Walla.

A small shipment of rhubarb came from Sumner, Washington, this morning. Quality is good. The market is quiet. Front street sells at the following prices: Those paid shippers are less regular commissions.

WILD COON PLEASED BY WOMEN VISITORS

While front street can be safely depended upon to sell almost anything the shipment of a coon in a cage broke the animal's independence. The animal's concern has been having the time of its life. The animal broke loose the other night and went on a tour of inspection of the wholesale houses and played havoc with stocks. Whenever a man approached the coon in a very savage, but will allow a woman to pet him and seems to enjoy it.
