

ROBBERY OF ORIENTAL WOMAN CAUSES CLASH BETWEEN SAN FRANCISCO SOCIETIES.

Members of Highest Aristocracy of France in Pay of the Police—Assist Head Office in Locating and Capturing Crooks.

Paris, April 25.—That some of the members of the highest French aristocracy are in the pay of Chief of Police LePine has just been revealed. The Parisian secret service department is one of the most effective and because of the presence here of swindlers and criminals even in the most aristocratic and exclusive circles. M. LePine has made it a rule to have some of his agents present at all of the social functions of the Faubourg St. Germain. A few days ago a certain count, who is a millionaire many times over, received a very courteous letter from the chief of police, asking him to call at his office.

Count I have been informed that you are to give a large party immediately after Easter, said M. LePine, when the count called. "Would you kindly send an invitation to one of my agents?"

Why, M. LePine, what do you mean? I am absolutely impossible, only the choicest names selected from the Almanac de Gotha will be present at my soiree and you will understand that I cannot ask these people, some of whom are related to royal families, to sit down at the table with ordinary detectives.

With pleasure, the count said and handed over to M. LePine a list of names. The chief of police scanned the list carefully and he smiled and returned it, he said: "I notice count, that it is unnecessary for me to insist, for among those people, are five who are in my service and who will inform me of everything that happens."

And now Paris society is wondering who these five people are. While Belgian politicians are arguing the question of annexing the Congo, that country is suffering the ravages of a terrible epidemic and in the scene of a stubborn native revolt against the white tyrants.

Sleeping sickness has laid hold of the native population, who are dying by thousands. The native villages are deserted, the able-bodied men being away on the forced labor on the rubber plantations, while the old men, women and children are stricken with the terrible disease.

Nothing is done to fight the plague, although the reform committee decided in 1902 to build hospitals. Half of the area of the Congo is in a state of revolt induced by the misery of the natives and the administration is powerless to quell the uprising. These are the troubles of the land of "red rubber" is enduring in addition to the atrocious rubber trade, which costs so much in native blood.

CHINESE KILLED IN TONG WAR

Robbery of Oriental Woman Causes Clash Between San Francisco Societies.

(Special News by Longest Leased Wire.) San Francisco, April 25.—Two Chinese shot to death, one fatally and another seriously injured, marked the first clashes tonight in a new tong war, started by the attack on two Chinese slave girls Wednesday in Sullivan alley. One of the Chinese killed was slain by two others in Sacramento late tonight. The other was killed in a pitched battle at the corner of Washington street and Waverly place in this city at 8:50 tonight. In this battle Yum Ying was slain, Lee Toy fatally injured and Quong Hong was shot through the leg. One of the women over whom the war started is Lee Moy, wife of Tung See, a wealthy and influential member of the Hop Sing tong. Last Wednesday morning things entered her apartments, which she shared with another woman, and after a violent attack, escaped with jewelry the value of which was $1,500. Tung See laid the matter before his tong. He accused members of the Bing Kong tong of having a hand in the deed and demanded the usual satisfaction. Whisperings of Tung See's charges went through Chinatown and reached the ears of the Bing Kong tong officers. The latter were stirred up. Tonight two bodies of gun men marched from their respective headquarters at the corner of Washington street and Waverly Place they met. All most breast to breast they started to fire. Finally the men of one faction retreated.

Yum Ying of the Hop Sing tong fell when the battle first commenced. He expired before an ambulance reached the scene. Lee Toy, 60 years of age, who disclaims any connection with either tong, was shot through the body and will die. Lee Tong was the man killed in Sacramento. He was shot down on the street by two members of the Chee Kong tong.

STICK PINS IN BOY'S FINGERS

Youth Stands Pain Without Flinching to Rob Seattle Streetcar Company.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seattle, April 25.—The conviction today in the superior court of Mrs. Mary Vinnette on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the Seattle Electric company out of $5,000 marks the end of a case which in many respects was remarkable. Carl Windell, a boy 13 years of age, whom the woman used as a tool, admitted injury last November in a streetcar collision. His parents brought suit to recover damages. They alleged the boy's mind was affected and that he was insensible to pain. A commission was appointed by the court to examine him. The experts thrust pins into his body and under his finger nails. The boy apparently felt no pain. On a second examination, being severely cross-examined, the lad confessed that he was shamming under instructions from Mrs. Vinnette. He again allowed the physicians to stick pins in him to show that he was able to carry out his part. He declared that the woman curiously coached him and compelled him to act according to her instructions. Mrs. Vinnette and her husband were arrested and the husband was tried on all. The woman was tried once before, but the jury disagreed. Vinnette has been out on bail, but his bail was doubled today and he was sent back to jail. The case was marked by stormy scenes between Deputy Prosecutor George Vanderveer and Vinnette, who challenged the lawyer to fight.

After losing all control of the animal and resulting a serious accident was inevitable. Mr. May leaped from the buggy and alighted on his sprained ankle with all his weight. WOMAN LIKELY TO FACE BIGAMY CHARGE Mrs. Jory Has Husband at Toledo and Another in Portland.

Mrs. J. W. Jory, the woman with one arm, for whom her husband and step-father have been searching the city, has been found, but it seems probable that as a result of her absence a serious charge will be laid at her door. She was found last evening by Patrolman Ferguson living in a house at Twelfth and Marshall streets with a man named Edmondson. Edmondson declares that they have been married, and he swears that he knew nothing of a husband at Toledo, Oregon, until he was informed by the police. Mrs. Jory denied her identity until confronted with her picture. "Well, I guess there's no use denying it any longer," she laughed. She has been in Portland for six weeks, and for the past week her step-father, Isaac Norton, has been hunting high and low for her. She is a slim, powerfully built woman, whose right arm is missing above the elbow. An investigation of the truth of the statement that a marriage ceremony was performed will be made, and if it proves to be true a charge of bigamy will be entered.

RAILROADS FAIL TO FILE THEIR REPORTS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Salem, Or., April 25.—Attorney-General Crawford has been notified by the railroad commission to bring pressure to bear upon five railroad companies doing business within the state that have failed to submit casualty reports for March. These companies are the United Railways, the Great Southern railroad, the Northwest Lumber company, the Portland Southwestern railroad and the Sheridan & Willamina Railroad company. It is not the intention to have the attorney-general impose any hardships upon these five railroads, but the commission now feels that the matter has been forced. Blanks are submitted to each of the railroads on which to make these casualty reports so that very little extra work is required of the railroads to comply with the law. The report prepared by the commission shows very few casualties for March. Only two persons were killed and one injured. The only accident was a derailment. Estimated damage to equipment during the month was $1,700.

Before the conference was held many crews had been tied up at Kamela

SKIMMED MILK DIET FOR FAT FOLKS?

Physicians who are callous and hard-hearted prescribe a diet of skimmed milk for the reduction of fat. It is a sure, but insupportable method of cure. Other doctors are more successful, but more considerate of their patient's comfort prescribe a teaspoonful after meals of a diet of the following: One ounce Marmola, one half ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and three and one half ounces Syrup Simplex, which is the way just as sure and quick a means of relief as the old-fashioned skimmed milk method, and a far more pleasant one, for a fat person can eat the same variety and quantity of food as usual while taking this remedy and still lose weight in sixteen ounces of superfluous flesh a day.
