SOCIETY

Two engagements of importance and interest were announced last week. Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Brigham announced the engagement of their daughter Miss Helen Katherine Brigham to Norris B. Gregg. Miss Brigham is an attractive blonde, prominent in the younger set and is an accomplished musician. She is particularly well known for her pretty singing voice. Mr. Gregg was formerly of St. Louis, but has made his home in Portland for the past two or three years. The wedding is to take place at the First Presbyterian church June 17.

W. T. B. Nicholson has also made public the engagement of his daughter, Miss Grace Bryham Nicholson, to Laurence Herbert Holman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Holman. Their marriage is to take place June 10. Miss Nicholson is a handsome brunette with a charming manner and attracted a good deal of attention at the Old Ladies' home tea last Monday when she assisted Mrs. Holman. A number of entertainments are being planned for her. The wedding will take place at St. Stephen's chapel with Miss Mateel Howe as maid of honor and Raymond Holman as best man.

Mrs. David Jordan entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. M. Boot with an afternoon of bridge and a tea following. The affair was given to announce informally to their young friends the engagement of Miss Helen Brigham and of Miss Grace Nicholson. The honor guests won the prizes at bridge. Later, when more guests arrived, Mrs. P. E. Brigham and Mrs. Herbert Holman poured tea. A guest who was there to greet old friends was Mrs. Carl Weil of Chicago, formerly Miss Rena Kuhn of St. Helen's hall, who has many acquaintances here.

Mrs. Blanche Irbe Kofoed has been entertaining Dr. Rose A. Bebb of Seattle, the Washington state bacteriologist, at Blakely Hall. Wednesday Mrs. Kofoed gave a pretty luncheon for her of eight covers. Easter lilies were the table decoration. The guests were Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, Mrs. F. L. Grannis Mrs. G. B. Johnson, Mrs. F. J. Arkins, Mrs. Ralph Meyer and Miss Myna Josselyn. Afterward Mrs. Johnson took the party out into the country in her new car for a long ride. Mrs. Kofoed expects to leave tomorrow for Baker City to appear in a concert there.

The literature department of the Portnomah club met Wednesday with Mrs. Fitzpatrick, 760 Flanders street. Mrs. George and Mrs. Torrange gave short biographical sketches of Edgar Allan Poe, and the club joined in a general discussion of the beauty of his poetic style and the eccentricities of his character. Mrs. Nina Larowe gave a reading, "The Raven." Kenneta and Kathryn Hall, as grandchildren of the hostess, and Thomas and Dorothy Green contributed several songs which delighted the guests. The rest of the afternoon was pleasantly spent over the teacups.

The first annual promenade of the Columbians of Columbia university, given in Murlark hall, Monday evening, was a most pleasing gathering. The hall was prettily decorated with college colors and pennants of various institutions of the northwest.

The arrangements were under the direction of Robert E. Gleason, Alfred O'Brien, Joseph Kehoe and Matt G. Ennis. The patronesses were Mrs. J. P. O'Brien, Mrs. M. W. Daly, Mrs. F. H. Waite, Mrs. A. C. Smith, Mrs. J. E. Cronan, Mrs. P. H. Flinn, Mrs. David M. Dunne, Mrs. J. P. Cooke and Mrs. F. E. Dooly.

★ ★

The fourth annual Easter Monday party given by the ladies' auxiliary to A. O. H. last Monday night in the W. O. W. hall, east side, was most successful. The large hall was beautifully decorated with Oregon grape, palms and Easter lilies. Miss Marie Chambers, with her able assistants, made the hall a bower of beauty. The patronesses were Mesdames P. Douglas, E. F. Meagher, P. J. Smith, W. A. Evers and L. Hodler.

WEDDINGS

Last Tuesday evening at Oregon City a wedding of interest to many Portland people was celebrated when Miss Gertrude D. Wetzler was married to J. B. Garretson of Portland. The wedding took place in St. Paul's Episcopal church, Rev. T. F. Bowen officiating.

Previous to the ceremony Mrs. J. C. Cassou sang "I Love You Truly," to the organ accompaniment of Miss Marian Lewthwaite, who also played the wedding march from Lohengren. The bride was handsomely gowned in a princess gown of white messaline, over white silk, and her veil was caught up with natural orange blossoms from California. The bride's only ornament was a handsome diamond and pearl sunburst, the gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a bouquet of Easter lilies.

The maid of honor, Miss Muriel Massey, wore a dainty gown of white point d'esprit, over pink silk, and carried pink roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Laura Garretson, sister of the bridegroom, was gowned in yellow silk mull and carried yellow roses. Mrs. J. C. Cassou wore her wedding gown of white lace over white silk and chiffon, and a white picture hat with plumes. The best man was Clarence Bartlett, and the ushers were Paul Simber and J. C. Cassou.

A reception was given at the home of the bride's parents, 1305 Main street, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, the parlors were decorated with apple blossoms, and the dining room, where refreshments were served, was in yellow. Miss Ruth Wetzler, in a dainty blue frock, presided at the punch bowl.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Garretson left on their honeymoon trip to Puget sound, and upon their return will reside in their new home at Ivanhoe.

One of the prettiest Easter weddings was celebrated last Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Jarvis, 748 Johnson street, when their daughter, Mable Levina, was united in marriage to Dr. Treve Jones. The house was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies, ivy and dogwood. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Melville T. Wire. Miss Carrie Johnston sang charmingly D'Hardelot's "Because." The bridal party entered to the strains of the Lohengrip music played by Miss Edna Benson of Bay City, Michigan, the bride's cousin. The aisle ribbons were carried by Miss Ruth Jarvis and Miss Shawnnice Killingsworth. The bride wore a pretty gown of white chiffon cloth over taffeta, with trimmings of princess lace and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor, Miss Mazie Shirley of Owosso, Michigan, was gowned in lavender silk and carried violets. Miss Grace Jarvis, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid and was attractively gowned in pink flowered chiffon over pink taffeta and carried a shower of sweetpeas.

Alfred Anthony Ayr was the best man. The ushers were Dr. Fixot and Dr. Shean. Refreshments were served in the basement, which was a perfect fairyland, with the color scheme of yellow and white illuminated with candles and Japanese lanterns. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Mazie Shirley.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones left on the midnight train for a fortnight's trip to the sound.

CIGARETTE PAPER.

France Makes World's Supply and Does It Well.

Rice paper, with which cigarettes are made, has nothing to do with rice, but is made from the membranes of the bread fruit tree, or more commonly of fine new trimmings of flax and hemp.

France makes cigarette papers for the whole world, says the London Tribune, the output of Austria and Italy being insignificant.

Cigarette paper should be of the very best and purest quality obtainable, and every effort is made by manufacturers to provide a paper free from injurious elements and effects.

All the alleged harm of cigarettes is due to bad paper, the deadliest thing a smoker can consume. This manufacturers have recognized, and the cigarette paper is now as pure and perfect as possible.

So light is it that 500 of the tiny sheets go to the ounce. They are perfectly combustible and give off the minimum of smoke. Before being rolled with tobacco they are analyzed to prove that they are free from all deleterious ingredients and that they contain nothing but the purest paper fiber.

Only new material—flax and hemp trimmings—is used, and these are thoroughly purified. Chopped by machinery into minute particles, they are well mixed by a revolving fan and then reduced almost to dust. This is placed in a solution of lime and soda.

In order that every foreign substance may be eliminated, it undergoes a thorough washing process, the water being obtained from artesian wells sunk for the purpose. The pulp is again crushed and rolled out into paper. This is of a grayish tinge, and the pure white of the finished leaf is obtained by an electric process, which also cleanses it of all possible impurities.

The cigarette making machines are among the most wonderful products of human ingenuity and mechanical skill. With a single exception they are of American invention.

The machines work on two principles. In those of one class an endless roll of tobacco is enveloped by an endless ribbon of paper and chopped up into cigarettes of the required length. Other machines roll the tobacco separately and press it into its paper case. The former are the faster makers, but they turn out a larger proportion of faulty cigarettes.

At one end of the machine a girl sprinkles the finecut tobacco on an endless cloth, which carries the tobacco under rollers to be combed and curried of every knot and lump. Gliding along a groove through U-shaped wheels, the tobacco becomes a continuous roll or rod, which is carried forward to the paper.

This is bearing the tobacco onward when the machine clips the paper enveloping the tobacco, moving past a brush which imparts a tiny streak of starch paste, the edges are pressed down and the continuous paper enshrined roll of tobacco moves forward beneath a knife, which, descending at intervals, cuts it off into cigarette lengths. These fall into a receptacle, and in many cases are counted and packed by machine also.

The machines turn out from 200 to 800 cigarettes a minute. One machine crimps instead of gums the paper and thus removes one objection to cigarette smoking.

The introduction of these machines, necessitated by the increasing demand for cigarettes, has greatly decreased the cost. Made by hand, the cigarettes cost 2s 6d a thousand, while the same number is mechanically made for 2¼d. By hand from 1,500 to 2,500 cigarettes can be made a day, the output varying according to the method adopted. In the same time a machine will turn out 180,000 cigarettes.

Some cigarette makers roll the tobacco with the paper, while others form the paper into a cylinder, then roll the tobacco the required size and push it into the paper tube.

Church Popular With Lovers.

From the Wide World Magazine.

The little church of Absam, near Innsbruck, enjoys a reputation which is probably unique of its kind.

It is a popular superstition that couples united within the church of Absam, especially during the month of May, are assured of unclouded happiness during the whole of their wedded life.

This idea brings scores of lovers to Absam, and during May in particular the familiar notice, "Come early to avoid the rush," might very well be displayed outside the building.

Steinway Pianos

VERTEGRAND EBONIZED CASE

WHEN purchasing a piano, no matter what consideration may be paramount, it is invariably best to buy a Steinway, for no other piano stands for the same high standard of piano construction.

If it is a question of quality and permanency of tone, of superior materials and workmanship, of proven durability—then the recorded judgment of the world's most eminent musical and scientific experts declares the Steinway the Standard of the world.

If it is a question of price—then, all things considered, the Steinway is the greatest piano value for the money paid, for experience has proven that a Steinway Piano depreciates less both in intrinsic and market value than any other make.

For visible, tangible proof of Steinway primacy, examine a Miniature Grand at $800, or a Vertegrand at $550. Each piano the criterion of its class.

MINIATURE GRAND EBONIZED CASE

Steinway Pianos can be purchased from any authorized Steinway Dealer at New York Prices, with transportation cost added. Illustrated catalogue and booklet, "The Triumph of the Vertegrand," sent on request.

Death Was on His Heels.

Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a close call in the spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found out that New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and lung disease in all the world." Sold under guarantee at Skidmore Drug Co.'s drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
