The New La Vida Corsets Are Here

As usual, the shapes are a season in advance of the popular brands. New models show a radical chic and dashiness. At no time have we been able to present so many entirely original styles. Each pair is made entirely by hand labor. All the stays are pure whalebone of the first quality. The corsets are crafted with numerous gores and cut on curving bias lines. An imported corset of equal excellence must cost considerably more and cannot afford the same fitting to an American figure, even after extensive alterations.
