

HUG HOLDS UP OFFICER

While Searching Suspicious Character at 3 a. m., Patrolman Arnold Suddenly Confronted With Revolver and Relieved of Gun.

A bold-nerved man, expert in tricks with a revolver, covered Patrolman Arnold with a gun held in his left hand early Sunday morning when the officer's search of his clothing revealed a long narrow bottle. With a muzzle almost in his face the policeman had no other alternative than to surrender his own weapon.

The bottle which the owner was so determined to protect is believed to have contained nitro-glycerin, the "soup" of the safe-cracker. The police are working on the theory that this man was implicated in the robbery of two east side safes two weeks ago.

Undoubtedly he was the same man who held up William Gottschalk's saloon in Sellwood two hours before he met Patrolman Arnold. Though he wore a mask when he entered the saloon and none when he met the officer, the description of the clothing tallies exactly. It would seem that after holding up the saloon as a "curtain-raiser," the left-handed one hurried north, until on East Sixth between East Main and East Madison Arnold saw him and ordered him to stop. This encounter took place at 3 o'clock.

Near East Side Bank.

A walk of seven blocks farther in the direction in which he was proceeding would have brought the man to the back door of the Citizens bank at Grand avenue and East Alder street. This coincided with the presence of what is believed to be the container of an explosive in his pocket, makes the detectives feel confident the safe-cracker who drilled the safes of W. H. Markell & Co. and the Aultman-Taylor Machinery company two weeks ago is still in the city, and now furnishes with a good description of him, together with a knowledge of his remarkable dexterity with the left hand, they are setting nets with the hope that his capture will quickly follow. That the man is an expert in drilling safes was shown by a glance at the holes drilled in the safes in the east side stores.

Thug Was Too Quick.

Arnold, who is one of the best marksmen in the department, is not blamed for his failure to capture the man. When feeling for a hidden revolver, the policeman always goes over the right side first. Arnold had just found the bottle in the man's right coat pocket and was drawing it out for closer inspection, when like a flash his vis-a-vis leaped backward a pace and throwing a revolver into the officer's face cried "hands up or I'll blow off your head."

There had been no drawing of the revolver. It had laid hidden in the left hand until the exact moment it was thrust into the policeman's face. Completely covered, Arnold surrendered his weapon at the highwayman's command. Instantly the robber was gone. Arnold reported the hold-up to Captain Bailey at once.

The description given is that of a man about 28 years of age with a dark suit and short dark overcoat.

ROBBED GUESTS WHILE THEY SLEPT

Linus Carlson, who shared a room at the Victoria hotel with Gus Magnuson Saturday night, was robbed of $45 while the two men were asleep. The landlady saw two strangers leaving the building at the time, and it is those men who are now wanted by the police. The purse which contained the money was recovered. This is the latest of a series of extremely daring room robberies in a few days ago a man's watch was removed from under his pillow while he slept.

LITTLE TOT SLEEPS ON SCHOOL STEPS TO BE ON TIME IN MORNING

Little Mary Strich's Russian mother, who cannot read English, received a letter last Friday from Mary's school teacher to the effect that Mary had been selected as one of the six little people to go to Beaverton as a Portland primary class to demonstrate the phonetic method of learning to spell. Mary is only 6 years old, and she cannot read very much English, either.

Little Mary was very much perturbed over the matter, and did not sleep soundly that night. Next morning the janitor of Highland school, who goes to look after the fires at 6:30 o'clock a. m., found her curled up sound asleep on the school house steps, waiting for her teacher to come and take her on the trail to Beaverton.

She was clad in a red calico dress and thin underwear and an old torn coat. She had forgotten her hat, and her brown hair formed the only cushion between her head and the school house steps. The janitor, who has children of his own, bundled the child home, and explained to her mother that she should not go to the school house to meet her teacher until 10 o'clock.

The teacher, Miss Harriet Warden, came according to appointment with her pupils, and found no Mary Strich. As Mary was a favorite with her she sent immediately to the child's home, and Mary came running, still wearing the torn coat, but haldest. She was dispatched home again to get a hat, and when she returned to the school she had a hat but no coat.

As the weather was cool the teacher was unwilling to take the child on the trip without a coat, so one was borrowed from Hazel Lenth, an English cousin mother who cannot read English. The trip to Beaverton was a notable one, and the six little pupils from Highland school had a serious experience that was a distinct feature. The Beaverton event was a county institute under the direction of the Washington county superintendent, and he had invited Professor Stanley, principal of Highland school of Portland, to go over to Washington county and give a lecture on instructing children how to read.

Professor Stanley, to make the talk more forceful, decided to take a picked class from the primary department, and Miss Warden was selected to conduct the demonstration. The class was composed of Hazel Lenth, Isabel McArthur, Ransom McArthur, Irwin Raabe, Mary Strich, Edna Jorga.

AT THE THEATRES

'The Ham Tree' Tonight.

The attraction at the Hellig theatre, Fourteenth and Washington streets, tonight at 8:15 o'clock, will be America's foremost negro impersonators, McIntyre and Heath, with their big company of 60 people in their famous musical play, "The Ham Tree." This merry offering will be the bill tomorrow and Wednesday nights, with a special price matinee Wednesday afternoon. Seats are now selling at the theatre for the entire engagement.

'From Sire to Son' Tonight.

Tonight the Allen company will open its week at the Lyric, the biggest theatre's greatest play, "From Sire to Son," an idyl of California in the golden days of forty-nine. The company will be cast so that the members thereof will play roles that fit them. The management has provided a fine production. Moving pictures between acts.

Grand's Better Vaudeville.

Every week sees a better vaudeville bill at the Grand than the week before. Today there is a new program which gives promise of surpassing even the splendid show of last week. The new headliner is the great Henri French, who is without a rival in his own line of entertainment. French gives impersonations of famous music masters and an augmented orchestra will be used for this act.

'A Scotch Highball.'

There is a new policy at the Star theatre these days. The house on Washington street is now the home of a musical comedy and will make this class of entertainment its feature for an indefinite season. The Armstrong company opened its engagement yesterday with a jolly affair called "A Scotch Highball," in which the company made its bow to Portland and established itself as a clever organization.

Sherlock Holmes.

The story of the world's greatest detective, Sherlock Holmes, is vividly told by the Baker stock company this week and this is one of the best performances ever happening in stock in this city. It will be the attraction all week, and seats should be procured at once, for the advance sale is unusually heavy. The only matinee will be Saturday.

New Time Card.

The Canadian Pacific has placed in effect a new time card on the Spokane route, the short line to St. Paul. Their trains are models of luxury, electric lighted, library, buffet, compartment observation cars, excellent dining car service. For rates and full particulars apply at local office, 143 Third street.

OFFICIAL PUTS VETO ON HIS OWN SALARY

New Brunswick, N. J., April 25.—This city's reform mayor, W. E. Florence, has vetoed his own salary bill for the present quarter. The mayor has made it a rule to veto any bills ordered by common council which overdraw appropriations, and he claims there is not sufficient money in the appropriation for salaries for city officials for the present quarter. He has vetoed all of them. The mayor is a Democrat and the council Republican.

DO YOU BELIEVE OUR ADS?

If You Don't--If You Believe We Are a Pack of Humbugs--If You Have an Atom of Apprehension That Our Word Is Not Good--Stop Right Now--Do Not Read Another Word of This Advertisement!

We declare to you now, as earnestly as we know how to speak it, that soon--VERY soon--we will have disclosed one of the best gold mining propositions ever advertised in Portland.

IT IS IN GOLDFIELD, NEVADA, THE RICHEST MINING CAMP ON THE FACE OF THE EARTH! It is a part of the world-renowned Florence mine--richest gold mine on the face of the earth. Our superintendent at that mine is a brother to our superintendent at Rawhide, Nevada, where we have another wonderful property. The Goldfield brother wrote a letter to the Rawhide brother, and the latter wrote the following letter to us, which we reproduce verbatim et literatim.

Both Gold and Silver in This Mine

Rawhide, April 21, 1908.

W. B. Stewart, Portland, Or.--I am sending you a few samples of our Rawhide ore which shows free gold and will give the people an idea of the quality of the rock. I include a specimen from the Prosky lease which runs way up, and one of the other pieces shows the character of the rich silver ore impregnated with gold. I had an assay running across our shaft yesterday which went 40 ounces in silver and high in gold. The vein is about four feet wide where we are sinking and shows good shipping values clear across the ledge. This is undoubtedly the Last Chance vein which runs through our claim and continues on through the Burns lease and Hooligan Hill, which is producing such wonderful values on the Miller lease. One of the encouraging features about our ledge is that it is widening up with depth and values are increasing, and I believe we have one of the biggest things in camp.

I had very encouraging news today from our lease on the Florence in Goldfield. You know the picture rock (high grade) on the Florence is always found in that blue sulphide quartz which lays along side of the dacite dikes and which we felt so confident about being in our block of ground. I received word from my brother Fred that he was encountering rock of that nature just about where we figured it ought to be, and unless all signs fail we will soon have one of the famous Florence ore chutes. Mr. Melick, superintendent of the Rogers lease, who has been looking over our ground very carefully, feels confident that we have ore in sight--says it looks like a cinch--don't see how we can miss it. Now when we get shippers on both our Rawhide and Florence leases, which looks like a certainty, we will have one of the biggest propositions in the country, and will be in a position to make all kinds of money for ourselves and friends.

Rawhide is looking better every day and I believe by early fall will be the greatest camp in the country. We are on the lucky number this time, and are bound to win out.

Is this enough for you? If not, what more do you want? If you believe us, is there not enough in the above letter to start your blood flowing hotly in your veins, and your feet hurrying your body toward this office? WE ARE MINING IN THE TREASURE VAULTS OF BOTH GOLDFIELD AND RAWHIDE, NEVADA.

Wake Up, People!

You Have but Five More Days in Which to Procure Shares of the Portland-Florence Mining & Leasing Co. at 10c Each

ON MAY 4 THE PRICE WILL BE ADVANCED TO 20 CENTS PER SHARE, SPOT CASH! In five or six months, when this stock is paying dividends fabulous as those of other Goldfield mines, there will be a great many people in Portland and the neighboring country regretting their failure to own shares in this company. Hearts will be full of self-reproach. It will be said: "WE HAD THE OPPORTUNITY, BUT NEGLECTED TO EMBRACE IT!" We have received another bunch of ore from Rawhide in which the gold is visible to the naked eye. We have a letter from our superintendent at Goldfield telling us that "We have reached the point at which water begins to ooze through, and you know as well as we that THE FORMATION IS THE SAME AS THE LITTLE FLORENCE, AND THE SIGNS ARE THE SAME AS THAT OF OUR SISTER MINE IMMEDIATELY BEFORE THE MINERS CUT INTO THAT IMMENSE BODY OF THE RICHEST ORE EVER TAKEN FROM THE EARTH!"

Linked together these two leases and our own 100 acres comprise a gold mining proposition that it seems to us a person who has a little money is actually blind to his own interests not to get into while he may.

$100 Invested in These Shares This Week Is Almost Certain to Pay $100 Per Month Hereafter

Out-of-town buyers will do well to telegraph or telephone their orders. We reserve the right to reject all orders received after this block of 50,000 shares is sold. Therefore, it is "FIRST COME FIRST SERVED."

NOW IS THE TIME TO SOW SEED FOR A HARVEST THAT WILL LAST FOR A QUARTER OF A CENTURY OR MORE

The man of small means, especially, has a hard time of it in this world. We wish we had a thousand of these as partners. It would give us the joy of our lives, a little later, to lift those persons above the plane of want and penury. WE BELIEVE FROM THE DEPTHS OF OUR HEARTS THAT THIS IS EXACTLY WHAT THESE MINES WILL DO FOR THOSE WHO OWN THEIR SHARES! But this week will end the opportunity to get in at 10 cents per share. THE STOCK GOES TO 20 CENTS NEXT MONDAY MORNING!

BITULITHIC TO IMPROVE STARK

New Pavement Will Cover Up One of City's Eyesores.

As a result of The Journal's frequently calling attention to the disgraceful appearance and dangerous condition of the Stark street pavement in front of the Chamber of Commerce and from there west to Seventh street, the old worn-out vitrified brick that have done duty there for more than 10 years are being torn out and the street made ready for a coat of bitulithic pavement. For several years this bit of street has been one of the worst eyesores in Portland. Numerous vehicles have been wrecked by dropping into the chuck-holes that abound on that part of Stark street, and at least one horse was destroyed by falling and breaking a leg. A large force of men with teams went to work this morning removing the worn-out brick and preparing a foundation for a bitulithic pavement. The work will be paved from the west side of Third street to the east side of Seventh.

FIND VALUABLE BODY OF GRANITE

Quarry of Fine Building Stone Uncovered Near McMinnville.

What is said by stone experts to be one of the finest bodies of granite, suitable for building purposes, in the United States has been uncovered four miles out of McMinnville. The quarry is 45 acres in extent and of unknown depth. The owner of the property recently brought an expert in building stone from the east and had a thorough test made of the stone. The expert pronounced it to be equal to the highest grade of granite from the famous New England quarries, and suitable for all building purposes. It is probable that this stone will be in the Portland market this year. Four miles of a spur track will have to be built from McMinnville to the property before the granite can be profitably quarried. Portland contractors are of the opinion that on account of its cheapness it will largely take the place of cement in building foundations for heavy structures. In color it is a dark gray and weighs about 150 pounds to the cubic foot. It is highly mineralized and sparkles like high-grade quartz.
