DAN MURPHY DUE HERE THIS WEEK

Veteran Rowing Coach Said He Would Start North After Race.

Coach Dan Murphy of the Portland Rowing club is expected here this week, although no word has been received from him since last Saturday. At that time Murphy informed Captain McMicken that he would start north immediately after the California-Stanford boat race last Saturday. Dan told the captain that he was feeling fairly strong after his long illness with typhoid fever and would be able to direct the work of the local oarsmen immediately upon his arrival.

Should Murphy reach town this week it will give the Portland boys five weeks to get into the best of shape for the race with the University of Washington here during the Rose Carnival. But when Dan goes out on the river with them he will find that so far as physique is concerned they are up to snuff. All they need is a little more coaching in the Murphy style to give them the necessary speed.

Washington has a good crew this years and inasmuch as the collegians have been rowing a distance of four miles in practice they will be hardy enough to speed up nearly all the way over the local course, which is for a mile and a half. But this does not frighten the veterans of the local crew. With three such men as Dr. Loomis, Art Allen and Captain McMicken occupying the seats which they have filled together for a year, reinforced by Rex Conant, the husky paddler from Stanford university's famous eight of last season, the Portland club has nothing to fear.

Heretofore the locals have been practicing on Sundays, generally taking an eight-mile spin during the afternoon. Sometimes they have hit up to 32 strokes a minute, which is going pretty rapidly for the Murphy style of rowing. Dan's peculiar system, however, will not permit the men to go higher than 36, and this is so wearing that the crew cannot endure it except over a short distance.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS SALE OF FINE HORSES

Four hundred horse buyers from all parts of the coast are congregated at the fair grounds today attending the annual horse sale, there being some 250 head of high-bred horses from the Brook Nook farm of Montana for disposal. The sale began at 11 o'clock and the bidding is quite spirited.

The sale will continue this afternoon, all day tomorrow and Friday.

PORTLAND HIGH TEAM IN TRIANGULAR MEET

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

University of Oregon, Eugene, April 28.—A training table will be started today for the track men. For a while only 11 men will eat there, but others will be added from time to time. Those chosen so far are: Sprinters, Reid, Houston, Oberteuffer and Kiltz; distances, Lowell, Dodson, Stevers, Downs and May; weights, Zacharius and McIntyre. Trainer Hayward will also eat with the men.

Manager White has completed all arrangements for a triangular meet between the University of Oregon freshmen, Eugene High school and Portland High school, which will take place on Kincaid field next Friday afternoon. The idea of having a freshman track team is new here and the event is expected to be very popular. The freshmen have some splendid material and in all probability will win by a good margin.

VIC M'LAGLEN STARTS OUT FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Tacoma, Wash., April 27.—Victor McLaglen, the heavyweight boxer, is matched to box George Paris, the boxing instructor of the Vancouver Athletic club, at Victoria, British Columbia, on the Twenty-third of next month.

McLaglen will also meet Jim Arnold at Aberdeen on Decoration day, and he has in view a match with big Fred Russell, who is without doubt the biggest man in the ring today. McLaglen and Russell will no doubt come together in a six-round contest in this city.

Since wrestling Dr. Roller at Portland, McLaglen has decided to cut out the art of grappling on the mat. He will in the future devote all of his attention to boxing, his ambition being to become the heavyweight champion.

Brainard Cubs Beaten.

The Brainard Cubs of Portland were defeated 4 to 2 on the Wilsonville diamond Sunday.

BILLIARD EXPERTS OPEN PLAY TONIGHT

Amateur Champion of France and America Title Holders to Meet.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, April 28.—Billiard admirers on both sides of the Atlantic will follow with keen interest the international amateur championship tournament, which will begin tonight in the concert hall of the Liederkranz club. The entrants include four of the most prominent amateur players of the United States and one representative from France who is of equally high standing. The Frenchman is Lucien De Rolle, who for several years has held the amateur billiard championship of France. The American contestants will be Calvin Demarest and C. F. Conklin of Chicago, J. F. Poggenburg of New York and Edward W. Gardner of Passaic, New Jersey. Each of these players has in the past carried off first honors in the national amateur tournaments.

The tournament will mark a departure in amateur championship contests in this country in that the games will be at 18.2 instead of 14.2 balkline. The balls also will be a trifle larger than the American standard. Both of these changes were agreed upon as concessions to the French player.

SQUEEZE PLAYS.

Beavers and Seals today.

• •

It will be the last series in the south for Portland until June 16.

• •

Let us hope the Beavers can do as well against the Seals as their brethren from Oakland.

• •

Adams, the shortstop of the Butte team, is a former University of California player. California has turned out a number of good ones.

• •

All over the country flags on the baseball parks were at half mast the other day when the news of Henry Chadwick's death was flashed over the wires.

• •

Bull Perrine will umpire the first series in Portland between the Beavers and the Seals next week, and O'Connell will officiate in Frisco. Perrine is in "better voice" than ever before and his decisions can be clearly heard. Bull was weak in the pipes last year.

• •

Henry Spencer, who wasn't fast enough for Portland a few years back, and whom Long traded to Sioux City for Catcher Slattery, pulled off a home run with the bases full. Sioux City was playing with Lincoln and needed four runs to win. At the psychological moment Henry elevated the ball over the garden wall.

• •

Reports from Stockton have it that John I. Taylor of the Boston Americans is making another effort to get Ben Henderson of the Stockton team. Though Henderson was blacklisted by the national commission for jumping from Portland to Stockton, Mr. Taylor is of the opinion he can get the blacklist raised, provided Ben will join his team. Henderson is well pleased with Stockton and it is hardly probable he will want to leave.

• •

Casey is the walking kid. Like Hildebrand, the pitchers must cut the plate before he will swing at their offerings. In the three games against the Red Dogs he has worked the twirlers for nine passes. Wednesday he drew three passes, Thursday four and Friday two. A batter who can get on like this is a valuable player. A base on balls is almost as good as a hit, and there is a superstition among players that a batter who reaches first on a walk is more likely to score than one who hits safely.

• •

"I have seven pitchers on my staff, but only two of them are in condition," remarked McCredie. "I have Harmon, Pernoll, Pinnance, Kinsella, Bloomfield, Groom and Garrett. Kinsella, who is one of the best men I have, has a sore arm. That was the reason he left the game Thursday. His arm got to hurting him and he quit. But for Pinnance I don't know what we would have done. He has won all his games except one and seems to be hard to beat. Of course I won't carry seven pitchers all summer, but I am not going to turn any of them loose until I go home. I want to give all of them a fair trial before I release anybody."

This Day in Sport Annals.

1875—At New York, Albert Garnier defeated Maurice Vignaux, 600 to 258, in three-ball billiard match for $1,000.

1884—At London, Lord Falmouth's stud sold, realizing $491,360. Busybody, $44,000; Harvester, $43,000.

1891—At Sydney, N. S. W., James Stansbury defeated John McLean in scullers' race for championship of the world and $2,000, 3 miles 330 yards.

1898—At Detroit, Joe Walcott and "Kid" McPartland went eight rounds to a draw.

1903—At San Francisco, Jimmy Britt won decision over Willie Fitzgerald in 20 rounds.

1906—At San Francisco, James Whalen of the San Francisco ball club pitched 39 innings without allowing the opposing team to score.

Connecticut League Starts.

New Haven, Conn., April 28.—The Connecticut league, one of the strongest of the minor baseball organizations in the country, begins its season today with Hartford playing at New Britain, Springfield at Holyoke, Meriden at Waterbury and Bridgeport in this city. The season will continue until September 12.

JUDGE THOMAS HERE FOR SHOW

All Dogs Must Be on the Benches by 11 o'Clock Tomorrow.

With the arrival in Portland this morning of George S. Thomas of Boston, judge of the Portland bench show, added interest was given the exhibition which starts tomorrow noon. Thomas is not unknown to local fanciers, having judged the show here three years ago. He expressed himself as being glad to visit Portland again after a lapse of two years and see the improvement that has been made in the city.

Mr. Thomas reached Portland from San Francisco this morning, he having officiated at the Fresno and Bay City shows. He said there was not much improvement over the shows of several years back and that there were but few dogs of high class shown there.

Judging from his familiarity with northwestern and California dogs he does not believe the southern animals have anything on the northern for high degree.

The benching is in place at the show rooms, over the garage at Fifteenth and Washington streets, and everything will be in readiness for the dogs tomorrow morning. The room is large and well ventilated and it bids fair to be the most popular place in town during the remaining days of the week.

It was stated this morning that dogs must be on the benches ready for judging by 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. The judging will continue from that hour until Saturday night, each one of the 230 odd dogs being gone over minutely.

MAY MATCH SAILOR WITH BAT NELSON

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Santa Barbara, Cal., April 28.—Billy Roche, matchmaker for Jimmy Coffroth's Colma Athletic club of San Francisco, is here today to arrange for a 20-round fight between Battling Nelson and Jim Lulinsky, of the United States ship New Jersey, who won the lightweight championship of the navy at Los Angeles last week, for some afternoon during the fleet's stay in San Francisco.

It is said Roche has secured Nelson's consent to meet Lulinsky for a $2,500 purse, to be divided $1,500 and $1,000 and Roche hopes to secure a similar consent from Lulinsky.

Roche will also endeavor to arrange a series of lightweight matches between fighters of the fleet, for which, besides good purses, the Colma club will offer a $1,200 belt, which will remain a perpetual challenge lightweight championship belt for the entire navy.

JUNIOR BALL GAMES.

The Albina Jr. added another victory to their list Sunday by defeating the O. P. Church team by the close score of 5 to 6. Though the O. P. Church team was quite a bit larger than the Albina boys, the two teams batted about even, each getting seven hits. Two of these were home runs, made by Swint, the Albina center-fielder, and Fitzner, the O. P. Church pitcher. Any fast team under the age of 18 desiring a game for May 10 may have same by calling up East 3956 and asking for John Miller.

The South Portland Colts and the Hood River team played a fast and interesting game at Hood River Sunday, Hood River winning by a score of 12 to 5. The Colts could not solve Hart's delivery at the beginning of the game, but they came up strong at the finish, making three scores in the ninth by some timely hitting and baserunning. The Colts would like to hear from any out-of-town teams—St. Paul, Forest Grove, Gervais, Canby, Dallas and Seaside preferred. Address H. Scott, 632 Third street, city.

The Arletas of Arleta, Oregon, wish a challenge from any 15-year-old team in the city for games. Write Henry Laren or Eddie Calhoun of Arleta, Oregon, on the Mount Scott carline, giving phone number or address.

The Brooklyns beat the Rosebuds, 9 to 0.

Hack Signs With Gotch.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

London, April 28.—A match between Hackenschmidt, the "Russian lion," and Frank Gotch, the American wrestler, to take place either in France or England, was practically made today when the managers of both men signed a tentative agreement with the promoters of the syndicate offering $10,000 for the contest. The articles have been signed by Hackenschmidt and forwarded to Gotch in America. It is not known how the purse will be divided.

PORTLAND HOMERS MAKING FAST TIME

Young Birds Engage in Trial Flights From Albany, Making Good.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Albany, Or., April 28.—Fifty carrier pigeons were liberated in Albany Sunday and made the return trip to Portland in the remarkably fast time of 1 hour and 45 minutes.

These pigeons were taken from the dove cotes of Portland and sent to Captain C. B. Winn, agent for Wells, Fargo & Co., by Theodore Barr with instructions to liberate them if the weather was propitious.

The birds were liberated here at 7:35 a. m. and word was received here at 9:20 that all except two had returned.

Two more crates were received last evening and were liberated early this morning for the return flight to the metropolis. These experiments are of an interesting character and considering that all the birds liberated were new and inexperienced the showing is an excellent one.

RIVAL "PREP" SCHOOLS WILL BATTLE TODAY

This afternoon at Twenty-fourth and Vaughn streets the baseball teams of Portland academy and West Side High school will meet in a game which will more than likely determine who will have second place in the inter-scholastic league. As an interesting little sidelight there is likely to be some great enthusiasm shown by the rooters of the two schools.

This rooting may be along sane lines or it may assume a pugilistic pose. Only the closeness of the game will decide this.

Hickson and Patterson will be the battery for the high school and Meyers and Gray for Portland academy. Hickson, should he pitch in the same form he showed against Seattle high, should get the game but he will be up against a vastly different proposition in the bunch of stickers from the academy. In the two games she has played so far the academy has scored a total of 30 runs and may keep up this reputation and wallop Hickson all over the lot. The game will be called at 3:30.

Horse Show at Asheville.

Asheville, N. C., April 28.—Horse lovers and society folk turned out in force today for the opening of the annual exhibition of the Asheville Horse Show association. The show this year is to continue two days. The entry list is larger than ever before and the competition for the Vanderbilt cup and other trophies promises to be exceedingly brisk.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS MEET

State Convention at Forest Grove Working Out a Fine Program.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Forest Grove, Or., April 28.—The twenty-third annual convention of the Oregon Sunday schools opened here last night with a crowd that taxed the seating capacity of the Congregational church.

Rev. Herbert Boyd opened the convention with prayer. Addresses of welcome were made by E. W. Haines, Rev. C. A. Sias and President W. N. Ferrin of Pacific university. Response was made by C. A. Phipps, general secretary for Oregon.

W. C. Merritt, international field worker, gave the principal address, speaking on "The Organized Work and the Rome Convention, With Its World-Wide Vision."

A large chorus from the choirs of the Christian, Methodist and Congregational churches, under the leadership of Principal H. L. Bates, led the singing, the audience joining with fervor. Miss Maude Shannon sang beautifully a solo.

The program today consisted of the following:

MORNING SESSION.

9:00—Song service, led by Professor E. O. Excell of Chicago.

9:20—Devotional Bible study, Rev. F. E. Billington of Albany, secretary of state Christian missionary convention.

9:40—Announcement of committees by State President Professor R. R. Steele; (1) nominations, (2) finance, (3) press, (4) enrollment, (5) resolutions.

9:50—Annual reports, as follows: State executive committee, Chairman A. F. Fiegel, Portland; state president, Professor R. R. Steele, Portland; state secretary, Dr. Theo. Fessler, Portland; state treasurer, E. F. Allshaw, Portland; superintendent teacher training, Mrs. Howard N. Smith, Oregon City; superintendent home department, Mrs. Samuel Connell, Portland; superintendent elementary department, Mrs. Lorena A. T. Hodson, Newberg; superintendent adult department, Rev. W. W. McHenry, Ashland; superintendent temperance and good citizenship, Mrs. Lucia F. Additon, Lents.

10:50—Address, "The Value of the Home Department," A. H. Cross, Ohio.

11:20—Address, "The Value of Organized Sunday School Work," by General Secretary Marion Lawrence of Chicago; announcements and adjournment.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

1:30—Praise service, led by Professor E. O. Excell.

1:50—Bible study, Rev. S. V. Milligan, D. D., synodical Sunday school missionary for Presbyterian church.

2:10—Address, "Fundamentals in Teacher Training," Rev. W. C. Merritt; "Teacher Training in Lane County," Rev. J. M. Morris, Eugene Divinity school; general discussion on teacher training; presentation of diplomas, Mrs. Howard N. Smith, state superintendent; special music, Professor E. O. Excell.

3:10—Address, "The New in the Old," Rev. Luther R. Dyott, D. D., pastor of First Congregational church, Portland.

3:50—Recognition service, "star" and "banner" counties; two-minute talks by county presidents.

4:10—Round table, "The Big Boy and How to Deal With Him," conducted by Marion Lawrence.

4:40—Business; aljournment.

Portlanders Make Lucky Strike.

Goldfield, Nev., April 27.—Another lease on the Florence promises to make good. The graveyard shift on the Portland-Florence broke into high grade ore on the 250 level last night. They have been cutting rich stringers for several days, and there is hardly any doubt now but what this will prove another of the Florence bonanzas. The Portland-Florence is the old Ledge lease, and was taken over last January by W. B. Stewart and associates of Portland, Oregon, when the Ledge people got into financial difficulties.

NOTED MEN WILL ATTEND MEETING

Governors Who Will Gather at White House Will Be in Distinguished Company.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, April 28.—The conference of governors and other public men which the president has called for a three days' session beginning May 12, is going to be an important gathering in the first place, every presidential candidate will be on hand—Taft, Bryan, Hughes, Johnson, Fairbanks, Gray, Cannon, Knox and all the rest. Governor Frear of Hawaii will make the pilgrimage from Honolulu, with three delegates; the governor of Alaska has sent an enthusiastic acceptance, and then a host of plain American citizens will attend as delegates from all the national organizations which have to do with the conservation of the country's natural resources.

Forest, rivers, soils, mining, transportation and agriculture are some of the big subjects that will be discussed. President Roosevelt has long been deeply interested in the problem of how to get the most out of the earth while yet leaving the geatest possible store for future generations. The alarming increase in the devastation per annum of our natural resources, the wasteful cutting of timber, erosion of soil, river floods, etc., have brought him to believe that there should be some concerted action looking to more conservative use and better protection.

Therefore he has summoned the governors of the states to meet with him, and with the help of a large number of other public men, scientists, engineers and economists, try to thresh out a future course of action which shall result in a policy whereby it will be possible to eat the cake and still have some of it left.

James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern, will make one of the opening addresses, dealing with the transportation problem. Andrew Carnegie will talk on ores and related minerals. Former President John Mitchell of the United Mineworkers will speak on the coal question from the standpoint of the miners. T. C. Chamberlain, one of the foremost authorities on soils and president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, will address the conference on the waste of the soil, and ex-Governor George C. Pardee of California, will dwell on the question of land reclamation.

INSPECTION A BOON TO RAILROAD MEN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Olympia, Wash., April 28.—The Spokane division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has written to the railroad commission a letter commending the commission for the efficient inspection of railroad tracks and equipment inaugurated under the law passed by the last legislature. The order asserts that conditions have greatly improved.

In replying to the letter, Chairman Fairchild of the commission says that the fact that annual casualties among railroad men were 11 per cent of the total number of men actually employed in railroad operation convinced the commission that these casualties were not wholly due to the hazardous nature of the employment and led the commission to recommend that it be authorized to inspect tracks and equipment.
