TONIGHT'S AMUSEMENTS.

The placer gold mines at Florence. Idaho county, Idaho, once the most famous diggings in the United States, $100,000,000 having been taken from the guiches that poursed their spring and fall waters down into the meadows at their feet, are again brought to public attention by the Florence Placer Mining company of this city, which will mine these meadows for the enormous deposits of placer gold known to be hidden beneath the surface of the ground. At the time the guiches were worked there was no such thing known as the modern hydraulics and earth elevators of the present time, hence the meadow gold deposits were immune from the touch of the placer miner. It is different now, however, and a company has been organized under the laws of Oregon with Circuit Judge John B. Cleland as president; George L. Peaslee of the Peaslee Bros. company, vice-president; Richard C. Hart, superhiendent of the U. S. Light House service as secretary and treasurer, and Captain J. F. Boone, W. A. Cleland, W. W. Peaslee and H. B. Perks, members of the directorate, to wash from the Florence meadows gravel their precious contents. The company has secured 540 acres, or 27 claims, and a plant is now being installed, and washing will be commenced in August or September. At the company's office, 220 Commercial club building, Flith and Oak streets, it is said that the wealth of these meadows will only be understood when the gold actually is preduced and stakeholders of the company have it in their possession. For centuries the semi-annual floods from the Idaho mountains washed the gold down the guiches into the deposits at their base, and there it has slumbered until now. Its hiding place will be unearthed by the local company, which expects to secure millions of treasure for its reward. It is believed that 25 years will be required to conclude the work. When the financial crash came Barr & Hoggatt, men's furnishers, were forced to the wall and their large stock of clothing, furnishings and shoes is now under the creditors' hammer. To satisfy the creditors a big bankrupt sale is announced to begin otmorrow (Saturday) morning at 9 o'clock. This is a grand opportunity for men to secure their new spring suits and other requirements at ridiculously low prices, as a perusal of the large announcement on another page will reveal. Note the big deep cut in prices of suits, pants, hose, handkerchiefs, hais, shirts, collars and shoes. The sale will be conducted at the old stand, 208 Morrison street next to the St. Charles hotel between Front and First streets. & Hoggatt, men's furnishers, were

The Oriental building at the Lewis and Clark fair grounds is soon to be utilized for the amusement-loving public. A local company, known as the Oriental Amusement company, has had the floor surfaced and will open with a ball on May 6. The floor space available is 75 by 250 feet and there are 50 boxes, with a general seating careality. boxes, with a general seating capacity of 10,000 in the building. For three weeks dancing programs will be given. The building will be turned over to the Rose Carnival the first week in June, and after that date probably will be used for opera through the summer season.

The city council granted a permit to the Multnomah Rod and Gun club to practice shooting near Rohse's park and to hold a match shoot during the Rose Festival. Mayor Lane is expected to veto the ordinance on the ground that it infringes upon the ordinance prohibiting shooting within the city limits. Inasmuch as the measure came from Councilman Anmand a member of the majority party, it is probable that the ordinance would be passed over the mayor's veto.

W. J. Hawkins has ill-luck with his excavation work, having been sued for damages in the circuit court for the second time within a year because of the falling walls alleged to have been weakened by excavations for which he was responsible. Lawis W. Love and others have sued to recover $1,635 for the fall of a building on lot 4, block ill on April 2. Judgment for several hundred dollars in a similar case was recently given in the circuit court.

The cost of interments has been greatly reduced by the Holman Undertaking company.

Heretofore it has been the custom of funeral directors to make charges for all incidentals connected with a funeral. The Edward Holman Undertaking company, the leading funeral directors of Portland, have departed from that custom. When casket is furnished by us we make no extra charges for embalming, hearse to cemetery, outside box or any services that may be required of us, except clothing, cemetery and carriages, thus offecting a saving of $25 to $75 on each funeral.
