

WILSON GAINS IN INCREASE STOCK, M'ARTHUR'S RACE

Portland Lawyer's Strength Lies in Pledge to Statement 1.

Voters of Multnomah and Clackamas counties will have an opportunity to vote for a man pledged absolutely to the principle of direct election of United States senators by the people through the medium of Statement No. 1. In the person of A. King Wilson, a well-known Portland lawyer, who has been given the Democratic nomination in opposition to C. N. McArthur, the Republican nominee, who is pledged to vote for the people's choice, provided he is a Republican. Mr. Wilson is well known in Portland, where he has lived for a number of years, having built up a large law practice during his residence here.

Born in Maryland.
Mr. Wilson was born in Allegany county, Maryland, in 1844. His father was a farmer and he worked on the farm and attended the public school until he was grown, when he went away to school. He was educated at Pottsville seminary in New Jersey, and at Phillips-Exeter academy in New Hampshire. He taught school for a few years, and then entered the mercantile business.

Mr. Wilson read law with the firm of Swaine, Swaine & Hayes of Toledo, Ohio. He spent about five years in the employ of R. G. Dun & Co., part of the time in Ohio and part of the time in Oregon. His experience in the mercantile agency and in the manufacturing business gave him a wide knowledge of business affairs. He came to Oregon in 1871. He was admitted to the bar before the supreme court of Oregon in 1872, and graduated from the department of law of the University of Oregon in 1873.

Brought Phone Company Here.
Mr. Wilson had more to do with the bringing of the Home Telephone company to Portland than any other resident of the city, presenting the matter to the city council and also to the voters of the city.

He is familiar with the problems regarding the use of city streets, and has always been interested in agricultural problems. He recollects of boyhood days on the farm have never been forgotten. He is interested in farming and fruit raising. He has taken great interest in irrigation in the state, and has five times attended the National Irrigation congress.

Resident of Oswego.
He is a taxpayer in both Clackamas and Multnomah counties, and is interested in large real estate holdings in Multnomah county. He believes in the progress and improvement of the city of Portland, and with due regard to the fact that too high taxes do not encourage improvements or outsiders to invest in the city.

Mr. Wilson has been actively engaged in the practice of law for 35 years and is a member of the firm of Wilson & Neal. His home is in Oswego, Clackamas county, upon a tract of five acres, which is almost an experiment farm at the present time along lines which are of especial interest to him. He has a western woman and has three children, and is identified with the best in the state and cannot do otherwise than favor an honest and economical administration of public affairs. He is a Democrat in politics but extremely independent and has never been subject to the dictation of any man or set of men in any party.

You never know how valuable any philosophical umbrella is until you get caught in the rain.

CHANGE OFFICERS, SAVINGS BY WOMAN

Ladd & Tilton Banking House Files New Incorporation Papers.

The Ladd & Tilton bank is now incorporated under the laws of Oregon. The change from a partnership to incorporation was completed yesterday with the filing of articles. Along with it comes the announcement of the directorate of the bank placing behind it several new names that are prominent in the financial world.

Heretofore the partnership was composed of William M. Ladd, Charles E. Ladd and J. Wesley Ladd. Besides the three Ladds the directors now are Henry L. Corbett, the local capitalist; Frederick E. Pratt, a prominent financier of New York; Theodore B. Wilcox, lumberman; Edward Cookinham, long cashier of the bank, and S. B. Lintbush, owner of the law firm of Williams, Wood & Lintbush.

W. M. Ladd continues as president of the bank. Cookinham becomes vice-president and W. H. Dunckley cashier and secretary. Assistant cashiers are Robert B. Howarth, Jr., J. Wesley Ladd and Walter M. Cook.

POSTAL FIGURES SHOW STEADY GAIN
Growth of City Reflected in Increasing Business at Local Office.

Portland apparently still keeps up her growth of about 2 per cent a month," said Postmaster Minto last night. "The April figures in the stamp department show as follows: April, 1908, $57,995.24, and for the same month last year $48,225.77. This is an increase of $9,769.47, or just 19.8 per cent over last year. Two per cent per month would, of course, be 24 per cent a year, but we are just going over the recent financial freeze-up, so next month the figures will no doubt be high enough to balance the slight difference between a total of 19.8 per cent and the average of 2 per cent per month. Nothing shows more surely the growth of a city than does the sale of stamps. According to the figures of our stamp windows, there must be at least 200,000 stamps sold in Portland. But this is not the most encouraging sign that our figures show this month, good as the stamp figures look in themselves. Last year when some four of the banks was in the air over $500,000 was put into the keep of the Portland postoffice as if it were a postal savings bank. Of course this was needless, as now appears, and the public has shown its faith in the resumption of business here by drawing out nearly half of this half million dollars and putting it back into the local channels of business. No better proof of the revival of business could be produced. Mind you, this was not money put into money orders to send away, nor is it cash sent away from the city. It is money put into office orders still fall for absolute safety till the storm blew over. I believe that the other city officials can make such a showing from its indisputable postoffice figures based on actual cash transactions as can Portland."

CHAUFFEUR FIGHTS PROFESSOR FOR GIRL

Pedagogue, Who Was Not Handy With His Fists, Draws Revolver.

Freeland, Pa., May 2.—Enmity growing out of rival suits for the hand of pretty Miss Martha Newton, a school teacher, at the suburb of Jeddo, near here, this morning resulted in a fight between Alfred Mant, chauffeur of John Markle, millionaire coal operator of that place, and Professor Wiend, principal of the school where Miss Newton had been teaching. Mant, who is the chauffeur, it is probable more than blows would have been passed.

OPEN BIG HOME FOR WOMEN ONCE RICH

Rye, N. Y., May 2.—The home for rich women reduced to needy circumstances, and furnished by Mrs. William Osborne, widow of Charles Osborne, the Wall street banker, and mother of Howell Osborne, who died shortly after his marriage to Fay Templeton, was dedicated yesterday afternoon at Rye-on-the-Sound.

The home stands in a plot of about 25 acres overlooking the sound, and is said to have cost more than $1,000,000. It is open to women who have lived 10 to 30 years in New York City or Westchester county, but they must pay an admission fee of $500.

WIFE OF CAR ECHER BETTER

Widow of Count Took Position With Secret Police After Death of Husband.

Paris, May 2.—Members of the Russian colony here tell a remarkable story of how the czar's spy, the well known Countess Della Torre, delivered up to Nicholas a would-be assassin.

The countess, whose real name is Emma Bellome, is a woman of eminent intellectuality and unlimited ambition. When her husband died, leaving her without means, she applied to the chief of the St. Petersburg black cabinet, and not succeeding with him, asked the president of the secret police for a position as a spy.

The first case entrusted to her related to an alleged conspiracy against the czar's life. Russians in Paris and London were being recruited to hand in hand to bring about Nicholas' murder. The deed was to be executed by an official of the palace, a courier in whom the czar placed much confidence.

DUKE HAS QUEEN TURN SMUGGLER

Italian Art Treasures Taken to Paris by Stealth in Her Automobile.

Paris, May 2.—Of the Duke d'Aosta, brother of the duke of the Abruzzi, Miss Katherine Elkins' fiancée, the following amusing story is told:—The duke, who possesses one of the finest picture galleries in the world, was recently temporarily embarrassed for ready money, and determined to realize on some of his art treasures.

LOSES HER LIFE TRYING ON HAT

Girl Burned to Death in Midnight Display of Finery.

New York, May 2.—Her tender regard for her finery cost 17-year-old Mary Knapp, of 140 North Tenth street, Williamsburg, her life. She died in the Williamsburg hospital today. She was taken there from her home at midnight, after she had been terribly burned and had run through the hallway of her home from the second floor, and then into the street, where neighbors caught her and wrapped her in blankets.

HOUSE LEADERS HAVE AGGRESSIVE PROGRAM

Washington, D. C., May 2.—House leaders declared this afternoon to put through an aggressive program of more far-reaching effect and greater strength than at any previous session.

WIFE TOLD TO CHOOSE BETWEEN THEM SAYS "THAT'S EASY; YOU CAN SKIP."

St. Louis, May 2.—If William Biehlich thought he would make his wife feel badly by running away from home, and that she would be anxious to get him back again, he was very much mistaken.

"His shoes" what he was when he went away and left me. Now let him stay away," said Mrs. Biehlich. "I am tired of having a man around, anyway," she continued. "What good is a man, anyway, except to worry and spite me? He thought I'd be just crazy for him to come back."

Mr. and Mrs. Biehlich have a grocery store at 4413 South Broadway. They have been married 13 years, and have three sons, the eldest a sailor in the navy. They quarreled about her membership in a women's eucher club. She went to the meetings twice a week, and he objected to it. He said to her while he was angry: "You have got to give up your eucher club or give up me."

PRINCE PRISONER IN BOW ST. COURT

Russian Is Charged With Crime of Obtaining Goods by False Pretenses.

London, May 2.—Prince Serge Oursouf, a member of a well known Russian family, was arrested at Bow street police court as defendant in extradition proceedings begun by the French government.

Originally, the princess was a favorite in the sultan's harem. Under the influence of French romances she learned to detest oriental seclusion, and with the aid of sympathetic slaves she escaped in the dead of night, disguised in European dress. Accompanied only by a servant, she got safely to Paris, Turkish detectives were hot on her trail, but eventually she freed herself from pursuit, and was divorced by her husband.

SKULL BROKEN; WALKS TWO MILES; THEN DIES

Beaten in Brawl, Victim Seeks Aid—Expires in Doctor's Office.

Pittsburg, May 2.—After walking two miles with a fractured skull, John Schultz of Jenners, Somerset county, stepped into the office of Dr. John Herzler at 1015 Broadway, and a cheerful greeting and then dropped dead.

HERMISTON TO USE UMATILLA WATER

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Hermiston, May 2.—The town of Hermiston has arranged with the government for the use of water from the Umatilla project for the use of irrigation in the city limits. A continuous flow will be given for $3.60 an acre per year, plus $1 for maintenance fee. This will give all Hermiston citizens an equal right to the water.

DR. HILL'S ARABIAN KOUMYSS

A MILK CHAMPAGNE

KOUMYSS, as it was originally made by the Calmucks of the Arabian desert, was then, as it is now, the greatest health food drink known to creation.

KOUMYSS, to be perfect, must be made as these tribes made it, and the formula under which Dr. Hill makes his ARABIAN KOUMYSS, which is introduced to you in this advertisement, is exactly the same as that used by these wild tribesmen, except that cows' milk is substituted for mare's milk.

KOUMYSS should be an effervescent milk drink—made effervescent by its own fermentation. In truth, a milk champagne. It is anti-bilious, making the stomach and entire intestinal tract sweet, clean and free from gases caused by decomposition, and aiding digestion in a wonderful manner.

Many different concoctions under the name of KOUMYSS have been offered the public. These concoctions all depend upon YEAST mixed with milk to produce fermentation and are only BASE and UNHEALTHY IMITATIONS of the GENUINE—THE ORIGINAL KOUMYSS. DR. HILL'S ARABIAN KOUMYSS is made as it was made hundreds of years ago, made with the same care used in making rare old wine, no CHEMICALS, DRUGS, GASES, ALCOHOL or YEAST being used in making it. It's nature's first and best health food drink given to man. It builds up wasted tissues and assists nature in eliminating those which are diseased, restoring health and strength, improving every function of the body. It never fails. Its benefits are absolutely permanent.

It appeals to the physicians as the most nutritious diet in wasting diseases, both during the progress of the disease and the stage of convalescence. As a diet in Diabetes and Bright's Disease it has both a medicinal and food action. Cases have been reported where rapid progress toward recovery has been made in these two diseases under an exclusive diet of KOUMYSS, extending through a period of 60 days.

To the nursing mother it comes as a blessing, restoring the strength, avoiding the use of the malt and alcoholic tonics that very often impair digestion and frequently creating a permanent appetite for strong drinks. To the expectant mother, its value as a diet is beyond estimate. Under the use of Koumyss vomiting disappears as if by the touch of a magic hand; its great nourishing powers build up wasted tissues and exhausted nerves, and when the "day of waiting" has passed, we find the mother not a "ghost of her former self," but a strong, healthy mother and a still healthier babe.

KOUMYSS is the principal food used for the consumptive patients in one of the largest sanitariums in Europe, with grand results. The gain in weight in some cases being enormous. This is always the case where KOUMYSS is used in wasting diseases, or where excessive thinness and emaciation prevail.

Complying to a request from many of our patrons, including a number of physicians, we have opened a parlor for the sale of Koumyss by the glass at 143 Eleventh street. We can assure the public positively that Arabian Koumyss, the Koumyss of song and history, the milk food that repairs waste, gives muscle and weight, fills you full of vitality—prolongs life—for as the Arabs say, "drink plentifully of Koumyss and you'll have perfect health and always remain young," is made and sold for the first time and is to be had nowhere else in North America outside Portland, Oregon.

It is sold only in quart syphons and pint bottles and we will ship it to you anywhere in the world where the road is cut through. Write or call for some Koumyss history.
