One of the fashionable events of the week will be the second concert of the Portland Symphony orchestra tomorrow evening at the Helbig. The orchestra has shown its quality, and as a recognition of its good work and efforts and as an encouragement for its continuance Portland will give it the support it needs.

These local orchestral concerts are being made events of fashion. The last concert which was given in the afternoon at the Marquam was attended by one of the most representative gatherings of women seen at any public function in Portland. The evening hour has been arranged to accommodate the men who were unable to give up the afternoon time. Many parties are planned for tomorrow evening with dinner preceding and supper following at some of the downtown grills. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burns will entertain a party as will Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Wilcox. Mrs. Solomon Hirsch, W. D. Wheelwright who has always been one of the most active and enthusiastic supporters of the local orchestra, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wessinger, and Mrs. Charles Dierke who was the soloist at the last concert. He desired to put Fulton's Renal Compound in stock for his own case and if he got results he would sell it to others. He wrote several times for advice, showing a very obstinate case. He now writes: "It is now ten months since I began using the compound, and although my case has been very obstinate, it seems to have finally yielded to the treatment. I have no doubt results would have been obtained sooner had I not kept at work."

(Due to the results obtained in this case our agencies were promptly accepted in Callaway and the adjoining town.)

Simply another case of kidney trouble in which the inflamed kidneys refused to respond to the futile old-time kidney excipients and that after all else had failed, yielded to Fulton's Renal Compound, the first and only emollient for inflamed kidneys. Inflammation of the kidneys, even in its advanced forms, is now curable. Send for literature.

W. Perry, Mrs. A. E. Rockey, and Mrs. Gordon Corlies. Among the honorees vice-presidents are: Mrs. T. L. Elliot, Mrs. W. S. Ladd, Mrs. H. D. Green, Mrs. W. J. Honeyman, Mrs. L. F. Addison, Mrs. James L. Ladd, Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, Mrs. R. B. Wilson and several interested men workers.

Another charitable organization which has prominent society people interested in it held its annual meeting yesterday when the Portland Woman's union met. The president is Mrs. P. J. Mann, who is actively interested in and president of so many charities of large undertaking. Mrs. W. P. Olds and Mrs. C. A. Coburn are vice-presidents; Mrs. E. B. Hamilton, the secretary; Mrs. Helen F. Spalding, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William MacMaster, treasurer; Mrs. A. J. Meier, Mrs. E. C. Protzman, and Mrs. H. H. North, directors.

Miss Margaret Walter and Miss Leahie Knapp left yesterday for eastern Oregon for a six weeks' visit with Mrs. Thomas Sharp. Both the girls were bridesmaids at the wedding of Mrs. Sharp, which was Miss Margaret Morrison.

Mrs. S. A. Mulford of Elton Court, left yesterday morning for New York to be gone about three weeks. Her son, Stockton Mulford, is studying art there and is doing exceedingly well. A student here at Portland academy he was most promising in his work and popularity with the young people. Much of his cartoon work was shown in the academy paper, the Troubadour, of which he was editor-in-chief his last year in school.

Frank Vincent DuMont has arrived from New York to take up his work with classes at the Art Museum. He is visiting at the home of Mrs. Henry E. Jones where Mrs. DuMont has spent the winter. He is being entertained a good deal by his friends with whom the famous artist is a great favorite.

ARCHITECT'S CLUB WANTS MORE MEMBERS
 To increase the membership of the Portland Architectural club, new members will be received for one month from today without the payment of an initiation fee. This was decided last night at the annual banquet held at the Meyer hotel on the east side. Hereafter the club will meet on the first Tuesday of every month instead of the first Monday. The following officers for the ensuing year were elected at the business meeting preceding the banquet: Joseph Jacobberger, president; Edgar M. Lazarus, vice-president; J. W. Wilson, treasurer; Richard J. Grace, secretary. These officers will immediately take steps to affiliate the local club with the national architects' organization. It is also planned to give an exhibition this year similar to the one last year, but on a larger scale. After the business meeting the members of the club listened to interesting addresses by E. F. Lawrence, who spoke on "Traveling Scholarships"; Ernest Kroner, "Organization"; L. H. King of

SUCH A PEACEFULNESS HAS MILWAUKIE
 Milwaukie, Oregon, is a peaceful town. Lawbreakers there are few and far between. If you don't believe it, the citizens proudly ask you to look at the police blotter—if there is such a thing. The first case to come up before City Recorder W. F. Lehman in more than a year that he has held the office was tried yesterday afternoon. Three mischievous boys were arrested by City Marshal Keck, charged with disturbing the peace. The youthful disturbers of the untroubled quiet of the Milwaukie Sabbath were let off with a reprimand by the recorder.

THE PLAY
 Grand—Vaudeville.
 "The Visitor" is the latest thing in the form of dramatic skit to be offered at the Grand. It is suffering from a complication of disease and yet is not without its appeal—there is a climax that is unexpected and novel, that makes up for the many improbabilities that are dragged in early in the act and wipes out the bad melodramatic moments.

But in spite of the good points in the act the "and company" part of the arrangement does its best to spoil things by belittling Porter White, playing the counsel for the defense, is good, even with his exaggerations. Julian Greer the district attorney, looks well, has a good voice and stage presence, but is hopelessly noisy. There is no such thing as answering anyone in a conversational tone of voice in his house. You must howl at the servant, howl at the reporters (perhaps he's right there)—and howl at your guests in order to come up to Mr. Greer's ideas. At the same time "The Visitor" is the most interesting one-act play that has been played here for some time.

The Marco twins are featured on the program as the headline attraction. They are familiar in farcical plays and are in themselves, ludicrous. One is extremely tall and angular and the other very short. Their act, from time immemorial, has been for the tall one to slap the little one in the face with his foot, knocking him down and rolling him over. This is repeated again and

Money-Making Ways of Using Want Ads
 To Buy or Sell a Business
 A small business is always profitable, if properly conducted. As owners, about every day, are selling some line of business, it will pay you to keep close "tab" on our "Business Chances" column on our Classified page, where nearly all the important business deals in this city originate. If you want to Buy, you may find just what you want under this heading today, or by watching until you do. But to get quick action, there is nothing so sure as your own little Want Ad inserted in this column. Suppose you have a small Business and must Sell at once. You are bound to reach ready buyers by placing an announcement of the fact here. Buyers and Sellers get quick results this way—for a few pennies.

CONSCIENTIOUS DRUGGIST
 About a year ago E. A. Sodergren, a druggist, wrote us from Callaway, Nebraska, that he had a serious case of kidney disease and that his physician did not offer him much encouragement. He desired to put Fulton's Renal Compound in stock for his own case and if he got results he would sell it to others. He wrote several times for advice, showing a very obstinate case. He now writes: "It is now ten months since I began using the compound, and although my case has been very obstinate, it seems to have finally yielded to the treatment. —a deftly plied needle is not all there is to fine tailoring. The measuring is important—so important that all the afterwork depends upon how skillfully it is done. The cutting must be done only by an experienced and skilled cutter, for upon the cutting depends the success of turning out a well-measured suit. Then, there's the fitting. It is fully as important that a man be fitted well as that a woman should, by her accomplished dressmaker. It requires a careful observer to fit a man correctly. The finishing is next and is a considerable feature. Columbia Tailors do it right.
