FIRST UNION HIGH SCHOOL AT STAYTON

This the Hope of State Superintendent—His Argument for Schools.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal, 347 State street.) Salem, Or., May 5.—There is an excellent prospect that Stayton in Marion county will establish the first union high school under the law passed by the legislature last winter. Six districts are included in the plans and the people seem to be generally in favor of effecting the proposed union. J. H. Ackerman, superintendent of public instruction, and President Campbell of the University of Oregon, addressed the people in the districts Friday and Saturday and report sentiment very much in favor of the proposition at Stayton. "The people in the districts are doing better than they are doing elsewhere," said Superintendent Ackerman after his return from Stayton. "The people in the outlying districts at first feel that they are doing better than they are doing elsewhere, while they fall to look at the advantages that will come to them and especially to their children. "The establishment of county high schools practically places before the county people their exclusive use city high schools where they will have every advantage they would have if they lived in the city. It costs them very little, while if they were compelled to send their children to the city to school the cost would be great; besides there must be taken into consideration other things that surround the young student in the city." So far there are six county high schools in Oregon but no union high schools have yet been established, though there has been much talk of establishing high schools in various parts of the state. Jealousy of the center has for the most part prevented the establishment of the schools and prevented the people from taking advantage of the law allowing the establishment of these schools.

PROFITS OF MINES IN THE COEUR D'ALENES

Net Profit Over $5,000,000 Turned In to Assessor of Shoshone County, According to Idaho Law.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., May 5.—The mine profit of the Coeur d'Alenes for 1907 was $5,119,320. The Bunker Hill and Sullivan was the largest producer, clearing $2,264,218. The Federal Mining & Smelter company, operating the Last Chance mine at Wardner, the Morning mine at Mullian, the Tiger-Mormon at Burks and the Standard Mammot at Marcus, showed a gain of $1,697,707 in spite of the fact that the last three mines were closed the latter part of the year and the others ran with reduced forces. The only mine not a silver-lead producer, the Snowstorm, netted $454,283, and copper during the year was lower than usual. The Hercules mine at Burks cleared $761,150 and the Hecla mine $427,188. The total production of the mines was $14,722,315 and the total expenditures for labor, transportation, installation and maintenance of machinery was $9,602,484. The figures are taken from those of the assessor of Shoshone county and show an increase over last year. The Snowstorm increased $900,000 over 1906. The tonnage extracted during 1907 was 96,425 of a gross value of $1,396,257.82. The cost of extraction was $216,998.92; cost of transportation, $60,112.20; cost of reduction and sale, $68,572.05; value of improvements at mine, $185,822.40; total working expenses, $941,485.57. This gives a net profit for the year of $454,283. For 1906 the net profits were $144,322.51 and the number of tons of ore shipped, 22,679.05.
