

NO REFERENDUM IN STATE GRANGE

Discussion of Appropriation in University Town Ruled Out.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Albany, Or., May 6.—The Linna county grange will not attempt to carry the University of Oregon referendum matter into the sessions of the state grange, which will be held at Eugene. At a recent meeting of the council it was decided that it would be inadvisable to carry the fight into this meeting unless discussion was precipitated and the necessity of vindicating its attitude was forced upon it.

A resolution favoring the California plan of apportioning county school moneys was introduced. It provides that the funds be apportioned on the basis of the number of teachers in charge of daily organized districts. It is thought this plan will give each district equal advantages as to length of term.

Linna's delegates to the state grange were instructed to work for a change in the rules of the order so that it may be possible to confer four grange degrees at one meeting. This is to be optional with each subordinate organization and subject to the approval of the national grange.

Allan Eaton, father of the University of Oregon appropriation measure, was present and explained the needs of the university. He was accorded every courtesy by the leaders in the fight for the referendum on the appropriation measure. Professor L. R. Alderman was present and as president of the university alumni spoke in behalf of that institution. The friends of the university feel that the very existence of that institution is endangered and that the sustaining of the referendum will be a direct blow at Oregon's educational system.

Eugene Palmer and Cyrus H. Walker of the Linna county grange answered their arguments and explained the motive that actuated the grange in invoking the referendum on the Linna measure. Altogether the session was a most harmonious one and resulted in drawing the warring factions closer together and may possibly serve to convince the leaders that sincerity of purpose is possible on both sides.

The fight over the university referendum has been waged with more or less bitterness in this county and in other sections of the state. Linna county people, in common with all others, feel that the university is a necessary part of the state's educational system and do not desire to do it injury. The members of the Linna county grange also believe in higher education and the druggist would have to turn grocer. There's no stomach so weak that it cannot digest FORCE. Its thin, crisp flakes are quickly penetrated by the digestive fluids and the barley-malt enables the intestines to digest the starch. FORCE helps Nature. Not a medicine, but a food.

"FORCE" is made of the best white wheat, steam-cooked, rolled into thin flakes, combined with the purest barley-malt and baked. Always "crisp" it before serving it by pouring into a pan and warming it in oven. Then serve in large dish with cream, piling the flakes in one side of the dish and pouring the cream in the other side, dipping the flakes as eaten.

Your grocer sells it. No other Flaked Food is "just as good."

BOARD THE REAR PLATFORM IF YOU REALLY MUST SMOKE

Tomorrow and thereafter you can smoke your cigar on the back platform of any and all streetcars in Portland except those on the O. W. P. and Portland Heights lines. Safety here requires that the platform be kept clear so a dry smoke is in order on these two lines. But otherwise just light right upon the back platform. You may keep off the front platform however. The reason for this rule is that the rule is that the cars now stop with the front platform nearest the walk so more people are supposed to step on and off the front platform than from the back ones. In actual practice in other cities, however, one platform is used just as much as the other. The change promises to be a good one as heretofore the smoke from the front platform blew back into the car, where on the back end it goes trailing in a thick murky cloud over the rear rail. On open cars this summer the poor deprived male smokestack will be allowed to fumigate the two rear seats as usual. Smokers generally had the new rule with whiffs of joy. The actual order causing all this change reads thus: "Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, Effective May 7, on Portland railway division only, smoking on closed cars will be allowed only on rear platform. Conductors will keep the rear doors closed as much as possible and will not allow passengers to stand on the rear platforms to the extent of blocking either the platform or the steps, thus interfering with passengers entering or leaving the car."

STOLE OLD SILVER SERVICE IN EXCHANGE FOR KINDNESS

Mrs. B. M. Denison, of 252 Sixth street, is looking for a handsome, tall, dark, young man about 22 years of age, gifted with a smiling and affectionate command of the mother tongue, and armed with a splendidly consistent hard-luck story warranted to go to the heart of any tender-feeling housewife. And she wants him bad. He answers to the name of Taylor Adams and supposedly hails from New York, though if you talk to him long enough and he doesn't want to work you he will admit that he has been all around the world and it has cost him nothing. But although it is his silver, that she is after it is not in a matrimonial way that Mrs. Denison is looking for him. There are other chains than those of Hymen that she will have waiting for him. She wants the silverware that she believes he stole from her trunk in the basement after she had trusted him.

Her sympathy and in the process of moving she had found him an able assistant, willing to do anything because he had looked everywhere for work and had not found it. So she bequeathed him and his services to Mrs. Denison who listened to his story and gave him a place in the basement Friday night. Saturday morning she went to call him for breakfast and he had disappeared. Eighty suspicious she looked in the trunk she had left in the basement but all looked smooth and undisturbed. Last night she went down to get her silver and found it gone though the top of the trunk had been carefully arranged to cover the theft. The old silver service, including coffee-pot, teapot, sugar-bowl, creamer and spoon-holder, which belonged to her mother who is now in the east, was gone. The police were notified, but from Saturday to Wednesday is a long stretch and Mrs. Denison is skeptical about ever seeing her silver again. However, she is anxious that other housewives should not be so imposed upon as she is, and is willing to make her discomfiture public.

Al Dobson Sends Fifty-One Bangtails to Twilight Racing Circuit.

Al T. Dobson, who is known to every horseman on the coast, arrived in Portland this morning on his way to Cranbrook, British Columbia, where the Western Canada Turf association will open an 80 day racing season, the circuit of which will extend as far east as Winnipeg. Mr. Dobson is the California representative of the association, and secured shipment of 51 horses from the south to the provinces.

The cities in the circuit are: Cranbrook, Blainmore, Calgary, Claresholm, Lethbridge, Edmonton, Brandon, Winnipeg, Killarney, Wayburn, Moose Jaw, Regina, Indian Head, Prince Albert, Saskatoon, Swift Current and Medicine Hat. Among the California stables which are included in the list are Barney Schrieber's Tallen, Gene Handlon, Saint Agnes, Earl Dellen, Banonica, Inspector Halpin and Banford, which were winners at Oakland. J. A. Lynch will send a string of eight, including Head Dance and Indors. In H. C. Ahl's stable will be Alta Sue, Otto Price, Balmade and others. W. Durker will send a string of three, two being Iris and Llava Webster. J. Pierce of Baker City, Oregon, will campaign his string of eight in the twilight, his horses including Peter J. and Jerusha. The racing season will open at Cranbrook, May 15, and close at Edmonton, October 15. Purse amounts to $100,000 will be distributed. The races will be worth all the way from $200 to $1000. Mr. Dobson expects to see 125 horses campaigned, many of which are harness horses.

The new Canadian association is patterned after the Pacific Jockey club, with which it is affiliated. It has also established relations with every other organized racing association in the country, and the rulings are interchangeable. No outlay horses or persons are permitted to have anything to do with the racing. Mr. Dobson leaves tonight with Mrs. Dobson for Cranbrook.

SQUEEZE PLAYS.

History repeated.
Hail the ancient battery.
Bull's voice is more resonant.
Hits were even, both got nine.
Garret's first one over was called a ball.
Casey knocked three flies into Melchior's hands in succession.
Johnson had a chance for some pretty work in the eighth. He threw Garret and Berry out at first, but fozzled Henley's grounder.
Larry Piper, that heavy sticker, went the ozone route twice.
Three extra catches were numbered among the Beaver, swats Garret, Madden and Johnson drew them.
Six Beavers evidently found something in the right garden that attracted them, for an even half dozen fled out to Melchior.
Big Babe Danzig, who has been sticking so hard down south, celebrated his arrival at his foster home by lifting the sphere in the air. But that was all.

Henley, Berry and Williams figured in a pretty double play that cut off one score for Portland. A misplay would have meant one, possibly three runs.
Little Bassey and Rolly Zeider divided honors with the willow. Three times did they rep safe ones.
Jesse Garret is a hard-working boy and a mighty good pitcher, too. He should be roasted because two Selz stole home. It's likely to be done with the best man in the business.
The busher, Bloomfield, who pitched the last two innings, allowed no one hit. He kept the ball well up in the air, four of the six men facing him going out on high flies.
The Portland team looks good in action, regardless of the poor showing in the opening matinee. That hitting pleased the fans immensely, but the fielding was heart-breaking. Anyhow, the chances are that Portland will take the series.
On the other hand, the Selz are lightning fast. Their dealing baserunning was immense. Probably not again in the season will such steals be made as those of Piper and Zeider. They were half way to the plate before Garret was on and the batsmen helped the turn by stepping in front of Madden.

That boy Ryan is certainly the goods. He is as fast if not faster than Piper on the bags and fields in a manner all his own. His natural position is third base, but he fits in at the right garden as if he was designed for the place. He is one player that the fan will do well to follow.
