

COAL WASTED BY CARELESS MINERS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, May 7.—Coal valued at $200,000,000 is being wasted every year through improper mining methods. It is estimated by officers of the federal geological survey that the loss represents 200,000,000 tons, and that this amount would supply the country for six months. The coal is worth at least $1 a ton.

J. A. Holmes, one of the officers of the survey, who are trying to solve the fuel problem, says today that nearly half of the total coal supply in the underground is either as pillars to support the roof of the mine, or because it is of an inferior quality.

The investigators find that the waste is also due to the fact that the working out of the lower beds of coal first in some cases breaks and renders impracticable the subsequent mining of the adjacent higher coal beds.

"We are skinning the cream of the natural resources," said Mr. Holmes, "and we are using the best and cheapest of our supplies. Each of the succeeding generations will obtain its needed general supply, but each will pay higher prices, as mining will continually grow more expensive and more dangerous."

MRS. LONGWORTH WILL CAMPAIGN

Agrees to Meet Countess of Warwick on Stump and Argue Socialism.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Bellefontaine, Ohio, May 7.—The Countess of Warwick, England's famous Socialist agitator, will be pitted against Mrs. Alice Longworth, daughter of President Roosevelt, in the congressional campaign in the Eighth Ohio district next fall.

That both women will make speeches from the stump has just been learned. Some weeks ago Representative Longworth told Ralph D. Cole, Republican nominee, that he and Mrs. Longworth would make speeches in the district for Cole.

Today E. G. Wharton of Kenton, Socialist candidate, announced that the Countess of Warwick had agreed to give the district on a speech-making tour in his behalf.

It is said that the countess will make a money contribution to the campaign, believing a chance to put the Socialist in the United States congress is at hand.

MAY COMPROMISE AND NAME FOLK

If Bryan and Johnson Find Deadlock at Convention Missourian Will Run.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Chicago, May 7.—Following the meeting of a few big guns in Democratic national politics in Chicago today, it is reported that Governor Folk of Missouri may be a compromise candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

This possibility was discussed at a meeting between Chairman Taggart of the Democratic national committee, Secretary Urey Woodson of Kentucky, Norman E. Mack of New York and Roger Sullivan of Illinois. An attempt may be made to nominate the governor in case less than two thirds of the delegates to the Denver convention are for Bryan, and that a few more than one third are for Johnson.

SAYS WIFE "PEEPED"; DOCTOR GETS DIVORCE

Declares She Had Eye on Him and His Many Women Patients.

Newark, N. Y., May 6.—Dr. Charles A. Palmer of Lakewood, testified today that life with his wife was unbearable because of her jealousies, and that she returned to her folk in Farmingdale.

He began action for divorce on the ground of desertion. The doctor said that when women patients visited him in his office his wife frequently "peeped" into the room.

Frequently, he said, she would open the door and tell the woman patient that he was about to see her.

He also testified that on one occasion she wrecked most of his office furniture and destroyed his books.

Dr. Palmer also said his wife would sit alongside of him while he was in bed, telling him to go to sleep so she could hear him talking in his sleep.

"What did he say?" asked Magistrate Furlong.

"I love you, Cissy, dear. I love you, Cissy. I adore you. I think something of my wife, but in a different way. I am cold to her," said Mrs. Nodell.

"Do you really think your husband loves this woman?" asked Magistrate Furlong.

"CISSY, I ADORE YOU," HE CRIED IN SLEEP

At Least Nodell's Wife Tells Court She Heard Him So Proclaim in Dream.

New York, May 6.—The professional joke writers, who for years have been filling the papers with stories of husbands who talked in their sleep, were vindicated yesterday when a real case of this kind came up before Magistrate Furlong in the Lee avenue court, Brooklyn.

William L. Nodell, a student of electrical engineering and an instructor at the Polytechnic institute, was the husband and defendant. He was accused of abandonment by his wife, Florence. The wife and her young son live with her father at No. 83 Canal street, New York.

"Do you really think your husband loves this woman?" asked Magistrate Furlong.

"I love you, Cissy, dear. I love you, Cissy. I adore you. I think something of my wife, but in a different way. I am cold to her," said Mrs. Nodell.

"Do you really think your husband loves this woman?" asked Magistrate Furlong.

"He said so in his sleep," replied Mrs. Nodell.

"But suppose he had said in his sleep that he was worth $5,000,000, would you have believed that?" asked the magistrate.

"No-o-o," answered Mrs. Nodell.

The wife then testified that she knew the woman whom her husband had named in his sleep and that she was a school teacher. She said he had never talked in his sleep again after that night. In answer to her husband's questions Mrs. Nodell admitted that she had been jealous of still another woman.

Nodell denied that he had abandoned his wife. He said she had gone to the home of her parents. He was instructed by Magistrate Furlong to give her a weekly allowance and provide her a suitable home. The magistrate advised the couple to patch up their differences.

BURGLARS? NO, SIR! BANDITS, BY GUM!

Wore Real Masks, Made Mrs. Black Dance Barefooted and Rioted in Plunder.

Waterbury, Conn., May 6.—Four masked burglars robbed Beacon Falls' one hotel and seven residences early this morning and fired upon the bare feet of Mrs. Joseph Black, the only person who dared to oppose them. The burglars got away before the town constabulary could be routed out.

The burglars first robbed the High Rock house of all the money in the barroom till and the proprietor's trousers. The proprietor, Victor Lingenheld, was awakened by the assault upon his nether garments, but kept profoundly quiet. Next they robbed the home of James Welch of a small sum in cash and a pair of gold spectacles. Five other houses were raided and finally the home of Joseph Black. As the robbers were departing with Mr. Black's waistcoat and watch chain, Mrs. Black, a young bride, attacked them with a poker. Mr. Black had the sagacity to remain in bed.

Mrs. Black's response to an order to return whence she came was an energetic but poorly aimed right swing with the poker.

"You would, would you?" cried the leader of the burglars. "Well, dance to this tune!"

Threat the quartet fired a volley at her little bare feet. Mrs. Black leaped into the air with a scream and escaped injury. As the burglars disappeared Mr. Black cried:

"Look at all the trouble you've made. That floor is simply ruined!"

From Tom Melbourne's chicken coop two dozen eggs and two fat Plymouth Rocks disappeared with the thieves. Constable Booth, who is working on the case, says the marauders were not ordinary thieves, but bandits.

Visalia, Cal., May 7.—Crooks Mills, a well known rancher, was fatally hurt by falling from a Santa Fe train this morning. His skull was fractured.

SWIMMER TOWS BOAT TO SHORE; LIVES SAVED

Rescuer Says, "I'm Theodore Roosevelt, and the World is My Home."

Waterville, Me., May 6.—A strange man of tremendous physique, who said his name was Theodore Roosevelt, rescued five boys from drowning in the Kennebec river this afternoon. The boys were paddling around in an old rowboat, when it began to sink. They yelled for help, and a big man, who looked like a tramp, leaped out his coat and plunged into the river.

Reaching the boat, he fastened the painter around his chest and struck out for shore, towing the waterlogged craft and his crew behind him. He swam with powerful strokes and finally reached the bank.

When piled with queries, the stranger said: "I am Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States—the world is my home."

A Eugene woman who is visiting her husband in Alberta writes from that conditions there are far from good. They are half-frozen all the time and there is not a sign of a green leaf or blade of grass as yet. They have to haul their water in barrels on a sled and there is not a tree in sight.
