PRINT BLACK DAILY PAPERS

Wisconsin Manufacturers Have Scheme to Revolutionize Business.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Appleton, Wis., May 8.—Wisconsin manufacturers of print paper today put forth a proposition, which, if adopted, will revolutionize the print-paper industry of the country and the newspaper industry as well. They propose that newspapers in the future be printed on what is known as "black" instead of white paper, thus bringing about a saving of millions of dollars annually in pulp wood, assisting in the preservation of forests, and reducing the price of newspapers about one half the present price. Black paper or unbleached, somewhat brown paper, can be made of old newspapers, and almost any fibrous stock, while white paper requires spruce and hemlock wood. Wisconsin paper manufacturers intend bringing the matter before the eastern manufacturers, and if possible bring about concerted action with the publishers of the country.

A special train bearing some 200 was run to the city from Cove, and these, together with an outpouring from the rural districts, packed the county building and left scores standing on the outside fully 15 minutes before his address began. ty concede a majority vote for the Democratic candidate, and one as large if not larger than he received when elected governor the last time. The conservative estimate given is 250, although the more enthusiastic nearly double these figures.

The run from Union to La Grande was made in an auto yesterday afternoon, the governor arriving at the county seat a few minutes past 8 o'clock last night.

Grand Reception at La Grande. He was met by a reception committee of 30 of La Grande's leading citizens, and although behind the scheduled hour for arriving, with a cold wind blowing and a sprinkle of rain falling, the main business street of the city was blocked with people who cheered the Democratic candidate when he appeared.

Standing room at the opera-house, where the governor spoke, was scarcely to be had, and he held his audience to the man, although Republicans, as has been the rule throughout the present tour, predominated.

During his address he dwelt particularly upon the fellow-servant law he found so difficult to defeat while advocating, as a national measure, the employers' liability law, greater powers for the interstate commerce commission and an eight-hour statute, besides other laws advocated 10 years ago by Bryan and which at present President Roosevelt is using his utmost endeavors to drive through a Republican house and senate.

At the conclusion of his address here Governor Chamberlain was tendered a banquet at the Elks club, and at 10 o'clock left for Pendleton, where he will spend the night and tomorrow touring Umatilla county, besides speaking at Pendleton.

50 YEARS SINCE TEMPLE BETH ISRAEL WAS FOUNDED

The fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Congregation Beth Israel will be observed with special services at the temple, corner of Twelfth and Main streets, this evening. The services will be simple, consisting of addresses by Rabbi Samuel Koch of Seattle and Rabbi Jonah R. Wise, the present rabbi of the congregation. Music will be under the direction of Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer, by a double quartet, consisting of Mrs. Bauer, Mrs. W. A. T. Bushong, Miss Flora Fleischer and Mrs. Imogen Harding Brodie. Dr. George Ansell, John Claire Monteith, W. A. Montgomery and Claire Richards.

An interesting feature of the musical program will be the singing of the thirtieth Psalm, as arranged by Mem-bach, and dedicated to Rabbi Isaac M. Wise, the father of the present rabbi of the congregation. Mr. Membach was the organist of the church presided over by Rabbi Isaac Wise.

Plans are under way to erect a mortuary chapel and to wall the Jewish cemetery as a memorial of the fiftieth anniversary, although plans are not yet completed.

The growth of the congregation Beth Israel has been continuous since its inception in 1858, and in influence and wealth the congregation is now surpassed by none in the northwest. In fact, its relative standing is among the first rank among the similar congregations throughout the United States.

Rev. Mr. Schwab, Rev. M. May, Rev. A. Rosenfeld, Rev. Jacob Bloch, Rev. Stephen S. Wise, now of New York, and the present incumbent, Rabbi Jonah R. Wise, who assumed the pastorate November, 1906.

There Are Rivers of Praises for Hornsilver and that Camp's Mines. It Actually Is Looked Upon as One of Nevada's Modern Wonders

Seven Days Ago a Carload of Ore Was Settled for at the Rate of $136.60 to the Ton

It was the last of a 10-car train from the Great Western, and consisted of 33 tons. So busy is that mine that visitors are no longer permitted to descend down the shaft, but, says the Goldfield Tribune, "All the visitors are invited to help themselves to what ore they want to carry away with them, as it is dumped into the bins, and some very rich specimens of Hornsilver ore were brought back to Goldfield by persons returning from that busy camp."

The Rush Has Only Started. The Tribune further says that: "The rush to Hornsilver apparently has only fairly started. Yesterday no less than five automobiles left here for the new camp, and many wagons went down, loaded with all kinds of material, as well as foodstuff. Of those who went in autos and returned last night, there was heard to say a bad word about the district and, on the other hand, if some of the stories of the enthusiasts are true, there are more good things in the camp than have yet been developed in any of the districts that have come to the front in the past few years in the state. "The high-grade shoot at the 200-foot level on the Great Western Gold Mining and Milling company may or may not have been entered. None of the tourists from Goldfield was taken down for an inspection of the mine, as a rule has been adopted, for the present at least, not to allow anyone below. The small hoist has all that it can do to lift the ore and waste and rock, and if one was allowed to go down there would be 20 others to claim the same privilege, which would mean that no work in the shape of ore production and development could be done on the day shift."

Our Own Tiger Butte Mine Is in This Camp. It is rapidly nearing that point of development that will place it on a level with the Great Western—producing as the Great Western is producing—and yet, that we may be enabled to procure the machinery—gallows, engine, etc.—to hurry that hour, we are still selling stock at

12 CENTS PER SHARE

And at this price it is the cheapest stock sold on this market, because we are selling only 100,000 shares. Not another share will be offered for less than 50 cents each. It is well worth 25 cents per share today, but that we may be able to procure our outfit at the very earliest moment

We Have Put This Stock on the Market at Exactly Half Its Real Value.

On the small amount of outstanding shares we will be able to, we are confident, pay dividends greater than any other business in the universe apart from gold mining, and a small investment in our stock now may afford a competence to the fortunate owners in all the years to come.

We Have Five Full Claims in Our Hornsilver Property. And every share of stock covers every acre of the 100. The promise of those 100 acres are marvelous. They surpass those of nearly every property in Goldfield or Rawhide, and that is to place them on a pinnacle high as that of any mining eminence in North America.

Write Us a Line for More Particulars. Shares may be paid for in installments of 10 per cent down and 10 per cent per month, and 10 per cent discount will be given for cash with order.

The directors of the company are Harry J. McNamara, M. A. Maher, J. P. Cosgrove and Bert D. White. The first three are prominent business and mining men of Goldfield, Nevada, while Mr. White is now a resident of Portland. So far the company has expended about $5,000 on the property, furnished principally by officers of the company. It is the intention, now that railroad facilities are at hand, to prosecute development work on a large scale and to that end the directors authorize the sale of 100,000 shares of stock at 12 cents per share. It is fully paid and non-assessable. The company is free from debt, has a balance in the treasury and is in splendid physical condition.
