PORTLAND TAKES THREE STRAIGHT

Jess Garrett Allows Angels But One Hit on Slippery Field.

For the second time in the series Portland hung up a 3 to 0 victory against Los Angeles on a field so soggy and slippery that it was remarkable a hundred errors were not piled up instead of a lonely miscue. Jess Garrett was the enigma, the spitball artist allowing but one hit to the Angels, and pitching a phenomenal game all the way through. Rainy weather scared the big crowd away but it did not dampen the enthusiasm or the players.

Perfect support was given the Beaver slabster, some classy stops being made by Danzig, Ryan, Johnson, Raftery, Cooney and Bassey.

Portland started off with a run in the first. With bases full Ote Johnson worked Thorson for a pass when the bags were covered, scoring Raftery. The other scores came in the eighth, Johnson and Maden scoring on a base on balls and an infield hit.

The score:

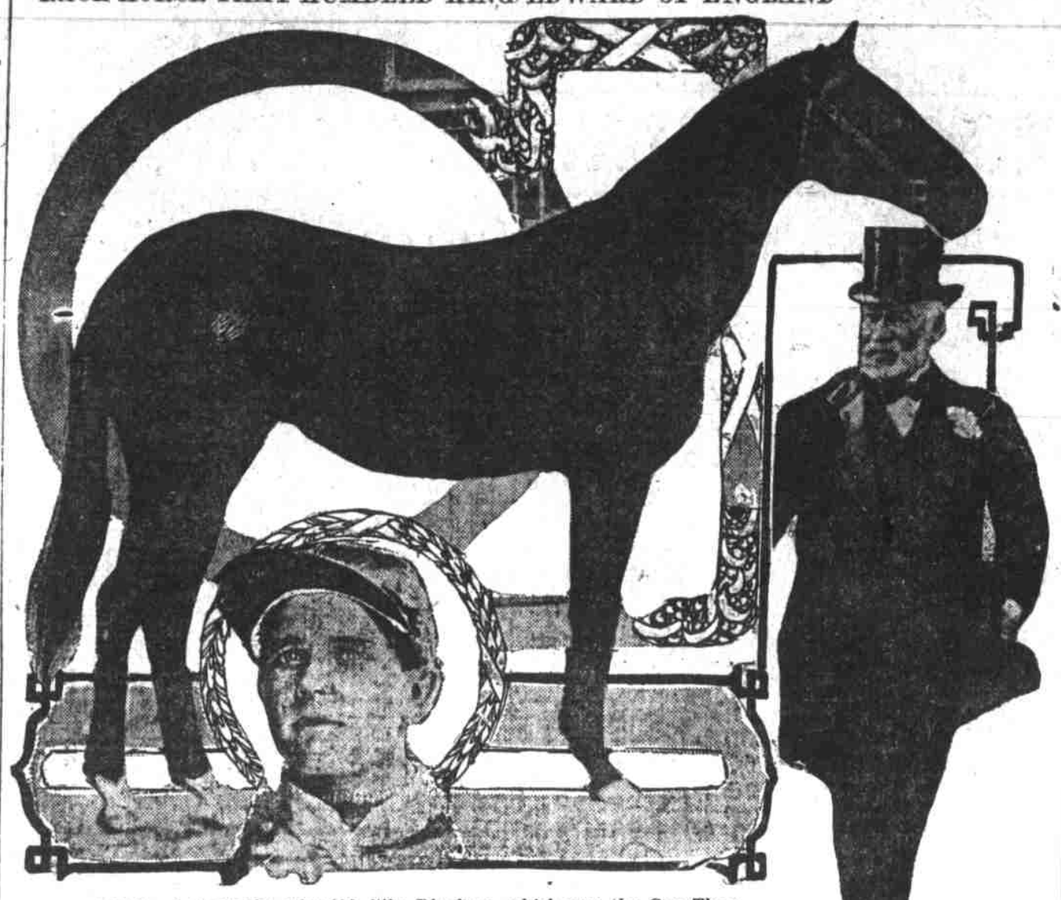
RACE HORSE THAT HUMBLED KING EDWARD OF ENGLAND



Richard Croker's splendid filly Rhodora, which won the One Thousand Guineas at Newmarket, the American jockey Lucien Lyne, who rode her, and her owner, the former Tammany Hall leader.

By Richard Dahlgren.

London, May 18.—With an American horse winning the Grand National, another taking the Two Thousand Guineas and a third the One Thousand Guineas, the British turf is beginning to sit up and take notice, and the shadow of another American invasion is being cast across the racetracks.

And it is feared worse is to come, for the American Norman III, Mr. Belmont's winner of the Two Thousand Guineas, is now first choice for the Derby, while Mr. Croker's Rhodora, a granddaughter of the great Hanover, is looked on as the most likely winner of the Oaks. If Belmont should by any chance win the Derby, and Croker the Oaks, there surely would be weeping and wailing to say nothing of "gnashing of teeth" on the part of English turfmen.

The Americanism of two of these horses is not subject to question. Rubio was sired and foaled in California; Norman III is a product of August Belmont's nursery stud in Kentucky, and Rhodora's dam is Rhoda B., a daughter of Hanover. Rhodora is English on her sire's side, but as Rhoda B. also produced Orby, a Derby winner, by a different sire, it is not hard to believe that much of Rhodora's greatness is due to her American blood lines.

Not since the day of Iroquois and Parole have American horses created such a sensation on this side of the water. When Parole was sent across in the seventies to win the Newmarket handicap from Isonomy, the City and Suburban, the Metropolitan stakes, the Great Cheshire handicap and the Epsom gold cup, he was regarded as a freakish wonder which had sprung from mediocre stock. When, a few years later, Iroquois was taken to England, where he won, among other races, the Derby and St. Leger, English turfmen were amazed.

It was noticeable that soon after Iroquois' performances, the hue and cry which ultimately almost completely drove American owners, trainers and jockeys from the British turf developed. It would not be surprising, if the Derby falls to Norman III, and the Oaks to Rhodora, if there was not another great anti-American shout. With all his vaunted love for fair play, John Bull is not a graceful loser. He is prone to think that no one can beat him at any of his own special games, save by "trick and device."

WILL PORTLAND LOSE DANZIG?

Boston May Recall Beavers' Great First Baseman to Replace Unglaub.

Is Portland about to loose her great first baseman?

When Sporting News arrived at the local bookstands this morning, there in bold black type was the statement that Harold Danzig might be recalled by Boston to take the place of Captain Unglaub at first base, the veteran being all in.

To lose Danzig at this time would be the worts catastrophe the Beaver team has ever known. Although known personally to Portland but two weeks, Babe has become one of the most popular men on the team. He is the greatest initial sacker without doubt that Portland has ever had. They don't come too high, too low or too wide for the big fellow and he is making the best showing of any first baseman in the league, Nick Williams to the contrary notwithstanding.

Babe was secured by the McCredies from Boston along with Outfielder Ryan and Catcher Tom Madden in exchange for Jimmy McHale and Pat Donahue. It was one of the best exchanges Mac ever made.

Danzig Is Needed.

Danzig has more than once pulled the team ought of tight places by his timely work in the field and at the bat. Babe would probably strengthen McGuire's team and his many followers are pleased to know that he is classy enough for the big brush. But just now they are selfish and want him to stay here. Danzig is needed now when the team is gradually climbing to the top and if there is anything the McCredeies can do to keep the young giant they owe it to the Portland fans.

Here is the story the Sporting News prints:

"Captain Unglaub is the bad cog in the Boston American machinery. He is not playing fast enough for a minor league team, let alone for the big leagues and until a shift is made in that initial sack position the Boston fans won't rest content.

"Deacon Jim McGuire says outright that if Unglaub can do some effective hitting, he will retain him in the position, but it is a well-known fact that Unglaub wants to get away from Boston, as he is wise to the fact that the fans have located his number and know that it is time for him to make a move.

"It has been rumored that Danzig, the big youngster who was secured from the New England league last fall and "farmed" to one of the Oregon teams, would be recalled and worked at first base, but McGuire does not care to be interviewed on that subject. Unglaub will probably play the bag for a few days longer, and if an improvement is not noted, then Laporte or McHale will take a few turns at filling in to strengthen the team."

YOUNGER ATHLETES CHALLENGE ELDERS

Y. M. C. A. Juniors Think They Can Show Stars a Few Things.

The thorough way in which the athletes from the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. trounced the men from Salem has induced them to offer a challenge for an indoor meet to the members of the senior department at the local association. The challenge would have been issued for an ordinary track and field meet, but owing to the fact that many of the senior members would be unable to get off at a suitable hour as well as the difficulty of obtaining a suitable field, the boys decided to issue the challenge for an indoor meet in order that there could be no question of the ability of the seniors to accept.

Director Larimore for the boys claims that already they hold practically all the records for the association and that the senior department is bound to be exterminated.

After a meeting of the boys last night, a committee consisting of Jordan, Crickmore and Jackson were deputed to convey the challenge to Victor Wetterborg, chairman of the running committee of the Y. M. C. A., and himself one of the finest runners in the association. On receipt of the challenge this morning Wetterborg said that he at first never took the matter seriously, simply putting it down to the unexampled impertinence of the infant department exulting in their victory of Saturday.

On learning that the challenge was a serious one Wetterborg said, "The conditions under which the challenge is made makes it compulsory for us to meet the boys in a meet under the ordinary conditions, and we will try to fit in with their date, Thursday, May 28. These kind of challenges are of course very ridiculous for there is not one chance in 100 that the boys will win more than an odd event and while I admire the spirit shown by the "babies," it would have been wiser if they had prepared themselves better. I presume the usual events of an athletic meet will make up the program, with the exception of the shot-put and distance baseball throw. The rest of the program, from sprints to distances, will, I gather, be carried out in full."

PHILBROOK LEADS WHITMAN ATHLETES

Coast Discus Record Holder Chosen to Act as Captain Third Time.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., May 17.—George Philbrook, for two years captain of the Whitman track team, has been chosen to act in that capacity for the third time. Philbrook, during his three years at Whitman, has been a prominent figure in college and northwest athletics.

As guard and tackle on the football team he has achieved a reputation. But he has been especially brilliant in track. As a hurdler, high jumper and discus and shot man he holds more college records than any other athlete who has ever been at Whitman. He also holds the coast record in the discus throw at 131 feet 7 inches, made at Seattle last month.

Philbrook has been a star performer in every meet he has entered. At Seattle this year with University of Washington he took the highest number of points of any individual. He did the same at Pullman in competition with Idaho and W. S. C. and in the Oregon meet here last week again did the same, surpassing the individual work of any member of the strong Oregon team. His election for a third term next year as captain is a tribute to his ability and popularity.

Nampa to the Rescue.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Boise, Ida., May 18.—The Nampa baseball team has taken the place made vacant in the Southwest Idaho baseball league by the withdrawal of the Caldwell team and the games promised by the league will now be played. It was thought for a time that the league would disband after the withdrawal of the Caldwell team.

Will Race at Burley.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Boise, Ida., May 18.—Burley is to have a fine race track. It will be one mile long and 60 feet wide. Work on it is soon to be commenced. It is proposed to have races there some time this season.

VAN ARNAM WINS SUNDAY SHOOT

Powell Gets First Perfect Score in Ballistite Medal Event.

President Van Arnam, of the Rose City Gun club, got away with the best score in the 25-bird event at the regular weekly shoot of the club yesterday at Wagner's. His score was 22. Keith, Thompson and Moore were his nearest competitors, each of these getting 19 birds. All the scores made in this event were very good.

Powell won the first shoot for the Ballistite medal, getting 10 straight. In order to win the medal he must get two more perfect scores. The trophy is to be given to the first member of the club who gets three perfect scores. Bogart broke nine bluerocks in this event and Armbruster shattered eight of the clay birds.

In the special shoot at unknown traps and unknown angles, Buck Keith almost got a straight score, his record being 14 out of 15 targets. Knight got 13 birds and Martell 12.

Following is a summary of the shoot:

Regular club shoot 25 birds, unknown angles—Martell, 17; Ray, 18; Keith, 19; Van Arnam, 22; Powell, 14; Knight, 16; Bogart, 15; Thompson, 19; Fay, 20; Moore, 19.

Straight away 10 birds for Ballistite medal perfect score only counting, Powell, 10 straight; Bogart, 9; Armbruster, 8.

Special shoot, unknown traps and unknown angles, 15 birds. Keith, 14; Knight, 13; Martell, 12; Ray, Van Arnam and Powell tied for fourth place with 11 birds each.

WHITMAN STUDENTS GIVE FOB TO MURPHY

Young Portland Coach Is Popular with Missionary Students.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., May 18.—Before leaving Whitman at the conclusion of the track season, Coach E. M. Murphy was presented with a handsome gold watch fob and locket by his many friends at the college.

"Spud" Murphy has only been at Whitman six weeks, but during that time has made a host of firm friends, has shown himself a gentleman, has made a good coach and has turned out a track team from comparatively meager material which has won the championship of Washington, Idaho and Montana, suffering defeat only before the superior athletes of University of Oregon.

The presentation function was a very happy one. It occurred at dinner at Billings Hall. The fob, suitably engraved, was presented in a simple speech by Captain George Philbrook of the track team. Appreciative addresses, speaking of the work and character of Mr. Murphy in the highest terms, were made by Dr. S. B. L. Penrose, president of the college; Professor W. A. Brattan, faculty member of the associated students' executive committee, and Professor N. F. Coleman, a dean of Billings Hall. At the conclusion, the building resounded with college yells and cheers for Murphy, who has endeared himself to all during his brief stay. He was deeply affected by the demonstration, which was an entire surprise and said his only regret was that his stay was not six years instead of six weeks.

Is there a weakening in Bob Grown's gray matter. Local sports don't understand why the Aberdeen manager released such a hitter as Outfielder Roberts, whose stickwork was responsible for several games won by the Black Cats. Roberts is one of the best hitters in the northwestern league.
