George Long wants still another test made of the vehicle tax ordinance recently passed by the city council and which was carried into the courts where Judge Gantenbein decided that the new law is effective until repealed by the council or by a direct vote of the people. Long appeared at City Auditor Barbur's office yesterday and asked to be arrested for failing to pay his license until the referendum question to the supreme court can be decided. Papers will be drawn today and Long will be arrested so that the question can be tried out in a friendly suit. The ordinance provides that an annual tax for all wheeled vehicles shall be collected, and now Auditor Barbur is wondering whether he can collect for the first quarter of the year. Under the old law payments were made quarterly. An opinion on this point will be made by City Attorney Kavanagh.

All difficulties confronted by the city water board in regard to having a recent order for cast iron pipes laid down on the east side, where the pipes are to be installed, were settled yesterday, when an agent of the company appeared before the board and assured the members that his company would bear the added expense of unloading the pipes on the east side. Previously the railroad companies notified the water board that they would not transfer freight for the purpose of unloading it in their east side yards.

Emma Goldman, the anarchist leader, will deliver two lectures in Portland Sunday. The first will be in the afternoon in Merrill's hall. Her subject will be "The Message of Patriotism." The second will be in the evening at the same hall. The subject for the evening address will be "Direct Action, a Logical Method of Anarchism" will be the subject of an address by Miss Goldman Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. hall.

While waiting at the Jefferson street depot to catch an outgoing train 9-year-old Eugene Tucker was taken in custody by Officer Justis last night. The little chap was the wanderlust. His father told the officer that he has made several attempts to run away from home. His mother is dead. He was taken to his father's home, 674 Flood street.

Daniel Connors was up before Judge Cameron this morning, charged with damaging the personal property of Charles May. May is the proprietor of a saloon and alleges that Connors while in his place became abusive and threw a glass through the mirror over the bar, breaking it. He claimed the mirror was worth $200. The case was continued till May 29.

The Milwaukee city council has instructed City Recorder Lehman to advertise for bids to complete the new city hall. An exhibit was introduced at the last meeting prohibiting stock from roaming at large. This was referred to the street committee. At its next meeting the council will vote on the proposition of giving the Milwaukee Water company a 21-year franchise.

Unknown miscreants placed a railroad tie across the street track below Stewart's, on the Mount Scott line, last night after 12 o'clock. A car in charge of Conductor Brannon and Motorman Maddox struck the obstacle, but was not thrown from the track. Only a few passengers were on the car at the time, and they were not even shaken up by the incident.

The Multnomah county W. C. T. U. will hold an all-day institute in Sunnyside Friends church, corner East Thirty-fifth and Main streets, commencing at 10 o'clock, Friday, May 22. State President Mrs. Brown is expected to be present. Bring lunches. A medal contest will be held in the evening. No meeting of Sunnyside W. C. T. U. this week.

Suit on a note for $5,000 given by Milton W. Smith to D. C. Pelton on March 10 has been started in the circuit court by the Columbia Valley Trust company, to which firm Pelton has assigned the note for collection. It was to run 30 days, and it is stated that nothing has been paid.

SAFE OUTLET FOR YOUNGSTERS' SPIRITS

Playgrounds Generally Under School Board, Says Secretary Hanmer.

Lee F. Hanmer, secretary of the Playground Association of America, gave an interesting talk last night at the Unitarian chapel on the subject in which he has so deeply interested himself. There was a good attendance of interested listeners, especially representing the educational circles and the park board. Mr. Hanmer spoke of the establishment of playgrounds as an essential of the children's education, rather than as a mere incidental pleasure. In most cities, he said, they are under the management of the board of education. For the smallest children such playgrounds are especially necessary as the only outlet for children's spirits and the only opportunity for developing healthy bodies. As the children grow older, he said, physical directors should be provided to give them systematic and methodical training for their bodily welfare. The only failure of a public playground happened in Cincinnati, and there it fell into the hands of hoodlums, because there was no one in charge appointed to take care of it. It has everywhere been declared a great aid to the work of the juvenile court to have public playgrounds. Interesting stereopticon views were shown of the children of the congested districts of the large cities and of the playgrounds answering the need of such districts.

"That's the Paint I Want!"

DID you ever stop to consider the fact that good paint is an investment, while poor paint is merely an expense? Any painter, or building owner who has tried both kinds will instantly corroborate this assertion. Poor paint is not only an expense, and a needless expense, but an endless expense, for you can always obtain —A paint that wears from two to four years longer than the other—thus costing far less per year than any cheap-priced paint.

Low's Brothers High Standard Liquid Paint

Now, poor paint will give trouble as long as your house stands—no repainting, however good, can "stick" if put on over poor paint—and it will cost you vastly more to burn off poor paint, (the only way to get the surface so painted into proper condition for repainting,) than to use good paint in the first place

But when you use on a proper surface "High Standard" Paint—

A paint that doesn't chalk, doesn't crack, doesn't scale—at the end of the five to six years' wear, that surface will always be in good condition for repainting.

Sold only in sealed air-tight cans all ready for use.

Every can of "High Standard" Paint—large or small—contains the full government measure of paint.

Just as dependable as "High Standard" Liquid Paint are Low's Brothers Varnishes and Enamels, Carriage Gloss Paint, a beautiful glossy finish for heated surfaces on the buggy and Vernicol, a stain and finish for floors and wood-work.

They will save you money. Let us make suggestions for your color combinations. Ask for Color Cards. See sample panels.
