

RAILROAD TO MINES

Eagle Valley Line Has Cornucopia District and Iron Dyke Mines as Its Ultimate Destination—Construction Will Be Pushed.

The Eagle Valley Railroad company, backed by Cincinnati capital will put on a large construction crew June 1, and the road will be built to Richland, 60 miles east of Baker City. Its ultimate destination is the Cornucopia mining district and the Iron Dyke mines in the seven Devils country. Funds have been secured to build the first 50 miles, and it is said this insures the completion of the entire 80 miles of road as soon as the line is in operation to Richland.

Due East From Baker City.

The route of the line will be nearly due east from Baker City to the Powder river, and after crossing this stream it will run almost straight to Richland. From that point the road will touch at Pine and Eagle valleys and Carson, and continue north to the Cornucopia mines, and then run east to the vicinity of the Snake.

William J. Patterson, one of Baker City's well known property promoters, while in Portland yesterday was a guest at the Portland Commercial club, and fold of the progress Baker City is making along commercial lines.

Baker's Citizens Subscribers.

"We have a great fruit country, a good mining region and one of the best livestock sections in the world," he said. "These industries, together with the lumber and grain products, are building up Baker City rapidly. Baker City citizens subscribed $100,000 toward construction and last year seven miles of the line were graded. The road will be built this year to a point 25 miles east of Baker City, and construction will be pushed on steadily to Richland and thence northward. The road will tap a number of fine agricultural valleys, and further on will serve some rich mining camps and carry out ores that will make fortunes for the owners." It is said Baker City is destined to become a jobbing center for eastern Oregon, and that its mining wealth will be found on further development to surpass that of the country around Spokane.

SQUALLY WEATHER CREATES WORDY STORMS AMONG LAWYERS

Those who adhere to the theory that the state of the weather is reflected in men's tempers might have found ammunition to fortify their position by visiting the courthouse yesterday. Outside the weather was choppy, intervals of sunshine and good cheer being followed by chilling gusts of wind and copious downpour of rain. Inside, where justice sits and attorneys wrangle, the atmosphere was likewise torn by windy gusts and dictionary overflow that at times inundated three courtrooms.

CAKE CROWD IS LOSING CONTROL

County Central Committee Passing Into Hands of the Friends of Hodson.

Who owns and controls the Republican county central committee? That is the question. Just at this time it is supposed to be in the hands and under the care of the Cake-Bourne combination forces, but there is a growing doubt concerning the matter. It is hinted that should a showdown come it would be found that the Beach-Bailey-Hodson-Reed combination had recovered from its defeat at the primaries and was able to climb into the saddle at its own free will. If such is the fact, say the prophets, it is due to the dissatisfaction and strife stirred up among the rank and file of the committee by the management of the Cake-Bourne people.

At the time of the primary election, it will be remembered, there was a period of ardent strife for the control of the central committee. It was charged openly that the Hodson faction was attempting to secure control of the central committee in order to further its organization and control of Multnomah county politics. The Union Republican club linked arms with the Cake forces to defeat the machine combination. Two complete tickets were put in the field and the organization of the new committee resulted in the election of Cake-Bourne officials.

In the afternoon came breeze No. 2 in Judge O'Day's court. The Stitt divorce case was on trial and Charles J. Schnabel was making his address to the court. He assailed W. C. Morgan, one of the witnesses for the other side, remarking: "Everybody knows Morgan. Whenever any one needs a witness in a case he gets Morgan." "Ed Mendelhall," here interrupted. "If you mean me—if you mean that I got this witness—I will answer you," said Schnabel. "But if you mean this, put it on." Although ruffled feathers were shown, the affair did not go further and Judge O'Day's advice to proceed with the argument was heeded.

stances to pledge themselves to Bourne as a prerequisite for election. This move, led by James Kercheval, secretary of the committee, W. E. Williamson, A. W. Orton and others, caused a bitterness to spring up in the ranks which was fanned into open revolt just before the state convention when severals of those who had been forced to pledge themselves to Bourne went to the leadership and forced a revocation of their pledge.

Since that time there has been a steady and rapid spread of the dissatisfaction among the rank and file. Many precinct committeemen, formerly aligned with the Cake-Bourne faction have resigned or intended to resign in many cases resigning in favor of men who are not aligned with the Cake-Bourne camp. Each resignation takes one vote of the Cake-Bourne roll call and in case of the election of the man in whose favor the resignation is made, adds one vote to the list of the Hodson-Beach-Bailey-Reed faction. The matter has already gone so far that it is claimed the Cake-Bourne faction has really lost control of the committee and is only left in command through the sufferance of the other side.

The Government Buying Tons of Candy.

The navy department has ordered another lot of 40,000 pounds of high grade chocolate bonbons for the Pacific fleet, to be delivered in San Francisco before the ships sail for the east. Like former orders, these are Lowrey's. During the Spanish war and when 100,000 United States soldiers were in the Philippines the Lowrey company sent 45,000 pounds a month of the finest chocolate candy for several consecutive months in response to government orders and since that time large shipments have been repeatedly ordered for both army and navy owing to a conviction on the part of the medical corps that chocolates lessen the desire for strong drink and are especially good for men in the tropics. Purity, flavor and keeping qualities are the three requirements. Every bonbon is wrapped in tinfoil and then packed in airtight tin boxes with screw tops to resist heat and salt air. Ogr fighting men do not care for the pretty paper boxes, but they like the goods and order in carload lots.

Clatsop Candidate Withdraws.

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.)
Dr. Astor, May 20.—W. W. Morrison of Seaside has filed his formal declination of the Republican nomination for the county seat of Clatsop county. This leaves Professor L. Keegel of Hammond the only aspirant for the position. After his election, he is said to will appoint Miss Emma Warren, the present incumbent, as his deputy.

Excessive Drinking

Orrine Destroys the Craving for Drink—Sold Under Positive Guarantee.

Excessive or continued use of alcoholic beverages always results in a diseased condition of the nervous system. The drinking man is often heard to say, "I can stop of my own free will and when I wish," but the poor fellow is now devoid of the power to act at the proper time and in the right way. It's too late, the craving has secured a firm hold and because of the diseased nervous system he has not the ability for sustained effort. The result we all know.

Drunkennes is no longer considered a crime; eminent scientists and physicians have agreed that it is a disease and must be treated as such. The home treatment that has been used for a number of years, and is highly successful, is Orrine. It is sold under a positive guarantee that if it does not effect a cure your money will be refunded.

Orrine is in two forms. When desiring to give secretly, purchase Orrine No. 1, and if the patient will voluntarily take the treatment, Orrine No. 2 should be given. The guarantee is the same in either case. Orrine costs but $1.00 per box. Mailed in plain sealed wrapper on receipt of price. Write for free treatise on "Drunkennes," mailed in sealed envelope by The Orrine Co., Washington, D. C. Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in this city by Clarke-Woodward Drug Co., and nearly all druggists in Portland.

DAMROSCH IS COMING WITH N. Y. ORCHESTRA

Three Fine Orchestral Concerts With the Addition of Mme. De Moss.

The sale of seats for the three performances of the New York Symphony orchestra, under Walter Damrosch, one of the most noted conductors of the age, will open May 23 at Sherman, Clay & Co.'s music store, opposite the post office. It will continue until the day of the first performance, Wednesday, June 1, at the opera house. The concert of this well known organization to Portland will be the high water mark in musical achievements here, for never before has the local musical world had the chance to hear so great an orchestra. There will be three purely orchestral concerts with the addition of Mme. De Moss, one of the foremost concert sopranos of the east, and of the instrumental soloists.

There has already been an enormous demand for information regarding the seat sale and apparently every music lover within a radius of 100 miles or more will be in the audience. As soon as the programs have been received from Mr. Damrosch they will be published, and though it has been definitely decided to have an all-Wagner program has never been settled at which performance it is to be given. The three concerts will be under the direction of Lois Steers-Wynn Coman and the sale of seats will open Thursday, May 23.

Oscar G. Murray's Birthday.

Oscar G. Murray, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, was born May 20, 1847, at Bridgeport, Connecticut, and was educated in the public schools of that city. His railroad career dates from 1865, when he entered the service of the Galveston, Houston & Henderson railroad as ticket agent at Galveston. He remained with that road until 1880, rising in the service until he became general freight and passenger agent. During the next five years he occupied a similar position with the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe. He next went with the Missouri Pacific lines and from there to the Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis & Chicago road. In 1892 he became second vice-president of the Baltimore & Ohio and from 1896 to 1899 he acted as receiver of that road. A year or two ago he was promoted to the first vice-presidency to the presidency of the company.

EX-POLICEMAN'S WIFE GETS THE DIVORCE

Mrs. Gerlie Stitt won a complete victory in her divorce duel with former Policeman W. O. Stitt by the decision of Judge O'Day in the circuit court late yesterday afternoon. Declaring that he would not place a brand of dishonored motherhood upon a woman and her children unless the evidence were overwhelming, Judge O'Day refused the husband's application for divorce. At the same time he found that the penalty for false accusations by the husband should be divorce for the wife on her cross-complaint.

Mrs. Stitt was awarded the custody of her two children and $50 per month alimony. She is living at the Stitt home and as long as she is allowed to remain there the husband will be allowed a $12 credit on the alimony in the way of rent. Stitt was a member of the police force for 14 years and is now employed at the Willamette Iron Works. He attributed all his troubles to John Katcher, but the court decided that his jealousy was unfounded.
