

THE OREGON DAILY JOURNAL, PORTLAND, SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 23, 1908.

Teams From the Grammar School League Run Relay From Oregon City to Portland—Time Is Much Slower Than That Last Year.

Roy Flaherty of the Hawthorne school finished first in the annual relay race of the Grammar School League of Portland this afternoon, beating his nearest competitor from the Mount Taber school by one minute and five seconds.

Following is the personnel of the winning team: Earl Everst, Oscar Noron, Raymond Manahan, Lazar George, Carroll Starr, Henry Meis, Walter Rossing, Cecil Cobb, Tom Richardson, Fred McKean, Raymond Jensen, Milton Robinson and Roy Flaherty.

The schools which entered the race this year are the Hawthorne, Mount Taber, Astor, Falling and Holladay. A team of 13 men from each of these schools entered the race, which started at Oregon City and ended in front of the Y. M. C. A. building on Fourth street, Portland.

Each boy on a team ran a mile and judges were stationed along the course at 100 yard intervals before the race started.

At the start in Oregon City each of the five who ran the lap carried a message from Mayor Caryl of Oregon City and according to the rules of the relay race, the runner who carries the message first presented Mayor Lane with the message.

The time made last year by the winning team was 1 hour, 21 minutes.

Before a crowded house at an open meeting of the Federated Trades council held in Bartender's hall last night E. S. J. McAllister and Ralph R. Duniway debated the single tax amendment to the state constitution to be voted on the June election.

Mr. McAllister opened the debate with a vigorous defense of the land tax theory, saying that he was opposed to the taxation of personal property because that among Anglo-Saxon people no system had ever been devised by which such property was assessed, appraised and collected and for the further reason that it incites to perjury and fraud in its payment and that those who are most able to bear the burden of taxation largely escape and those who are least able to pay are compelled to bear the burden.

Mr. Duniway replied to perjury in repeated this year in the usual farcical manner. Last year the tentative personal assessment was $3,492,015, $889,000 of which was paid, leaving only 25 per cent of the other tenths of the total amount assessed and represented by the public franchises of New York city do not appear on the personal tax roll.

Declares It Is Probable Russian Secret Service Caused the New York Explosion That Killed Silverstein—Believes Christ Was an Anarchist.

Miss Emma Goldman, known in the New York newspapers as "the High Priestess of Anarchy," arrived in Portland this morning from Tacoma, and in the course of half an hour's interview failed to make any statement more rash than to say that it was quite probable that the recent bomb throwing in New York City in which the anarchist Silverstein was killed was instigated by the Russian government.

When she was asked if she thought it had been found everywhere that as the governing power shows its oppressive strength the protest of the crushed grows stronger, it is always so in Europe. She replied that she believes the ones that create opposition and violence. There is infinitely more violence in America than in England or in the Scandinavian countries, because the people of those countries enjoy a much greater amount of personal liberty than do the people of America.

She looks you in the eye and practically tells you that she is a king of God is within you. Egoist to the point where she calmly breathes "My truth is the truth," she replies not least upon asking her why she leaves one to do as she likes, while she pursues her way preaching the doctrine of the criminality of government and the wickedness of force.

Miss Goldman has been making a rather careful study of economic conditions over the country since the financial crisis last fall.

"All through the west," she said, "I find that the minds of the working classes are more receptive to my doctrine than in the east."

At the start in Oregon City each of the five who ran the lap carried a message from Mayor Caryl of Oregon City and according to the rules of the relay race, the runner who carries the message first presented Mayor Lane with the message.

Mr. McAllister opened the debate with a vigorous defense of the land tax theory, saying that he was opposed to the taxation of personal property because that among Anglo-Saxon people no system had ever been devised by which such property was assessed, appraised and collected and for the further reason that it incites to perjury and fraud in its payment and that those who are most able to bear the burden of taxation largely escape and those who are least able to pay are compelled to bear the burden.

Mr. Duniway replied to perjury in repeated this year in the usual farcical manner. Last year the tentative personal assessment was $3,492,015, $889,000 of which was paid, leaving only 25 per cent of the other tenths of the total amount assessed and represented by the public franchises of New York city do not appear on the personal tax roll.

Mr. McAllister opened the debate with a vigorous defense of the land tax theory, saying that he was opposed to the taxation of personal property because that among Anglo-Saxon people no system had ever been devised by which such property was assessed, appraised and collected and for the further reason that it incites to perjury and fraud in its payment and that those who are most able to bear the burden of taxation largely escape and those who are least able to pay are compelled to bear the burden.

Mr. Duniway replied to perjury in repeated this year in the usual farcical manner. Last year the tentative personal assessment was $3,492,015, $889,000 of which was paid, leaving only 25 per cent of the other tenths of the total amount assessed and represented by the public franchises of New York city do not appear on the personal tax roll.

City Auditor Will Lead Big Wooden Procession During Rose Festival.

City Auditor A. L. Barbur, who will act as grand marshal of the big Saturday parade which will be held Saturday, June 6, in connection with the Rose Festival, announced today that not less than 100 floats will be in the parade.

According to Mr. Barbur, each of the following cities will be represented in the parade by at least one carload: Astoria, Warrenton, Eugene, Salem, Newburg, Hillsboro, Dallas, Astoria, Oregon City, Hood River, Silverton and Vancouver.

There will be a free band concert this evening at the Catholic Young Men's club on Morris street.

Mr. Redfield's death was unexpected. He had been in the hospital for several days and was expected to die.

Following is the result of the voting contest up to date: Politics—Evan 208, Taft 159; Chamberlain 214; Manning 1263; Cameron 213; Word 804; Stevens 832; O'Day 212; Morrow 223.

Reorganization of the Portland board of trade has been completed by election of the following board of directors: T. S. Townsend, A. B. Steinhilber, D. A. Farnham, Leo Page, Fred M. Sweet, W. Cummings, Richard Chilcott, John F. Dally, W. B. Glaser, W. H. McCorquodale, Willis Fisher, C. F. Johnson, T. R. Stoppacher, W. T. Taylor, E. W. Bell, J. E. Murphy, F. E. Beach, E. C. Johnson, F. W. Swanson, G. A. Westgate, C. L. Goodrich.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Three Hundred Thousand People Watch Warships Steam Into Port—Connecticut Sighted in Lead Shortly After One O'Clock.

Seattle, May 23.—Three hundred thousand people gazed down from the roofs and hills of Seattle this afternoon as the Atlantic fleet under Admiral Sperry, aboard the flagship Connecticut, steamed slowly into Elliott bay and cast anchor within a stone's throw of Seattle's five miles of waterfront.

Seattle's many hills rising gradually away on the right, the smoke of the long line of vessels following, was sighted by those at the most outward points of the city, and the word went out, "Here they come!"

Seattle, May 23.—Three hundred thousand people gazed down from the roofs and hills of Seattle this afternoon as the Atlantic fleet under Admiral Sperry, aboard the flagship Connecticut, steamed slowly into Elliott bay and cast anchor within a stone's throw of Seattle's five miles of waterfront.

Seattle, May 23.—Three hundred thousand people gazed down from the roofs and hills of Seattle this afternoon as the Atlantic fleet under Admiral Sperry, aboard the flagship Connecticut, steamed slowly into Elliott bay and cast anchor within a stone's throw of Seattle's five miles of waterfront.

Seattle, May 23.—Three hundred thousand people gazed down from the roofs and hills of Seattle this afternoon as the Atlantic fleet under Admiral Sperry, aboard the flagship Connecticut, steamed slowly into Elliott bay and cast anchor within a stone's throw of Seattle's five miles of waterfront.

Seattle, May 23.—Three hundred thousand people gazed down from the roofs and hills of Seattle this afternoon as the Atlantic fleet under Admiral Sperry, aboard the flagship Connecticut, steamed slowly into Elliott bay and cast anchor within a stone's throw of Seattle's five miles of waterfront.

Seattle, May 23.—Three hundred thousand people gazed down from the roofs and hills of Seattle this afternoon as the Atlantic fleet under Admiral Sperry, aboard the flagship Connecticut, steamed slowly into Elliott bay and cast anchor within a stone's throw of Seattle's five miles of waterfront.

Seattle, May 23.—Three hundred thousand people gazed down from the roofs and hills of Seattle this afternoon as the Atlantic fleet under Admiral Sperry, aboard the flagship Connecticut, steamed slowly into Elliott bay and cast anchor within a stone's throw of Seattle's five miles of waterfront.

Seattle, May 23.—Three hundred thousand people gazed down from the roofs and hills of Seattle this afternoon as the Atlantic fleet under Admiral Sperry, aboard the flagship Connecticut, steamed slowly into Elliott bay and cast anchor within a stone's throw of Seattle's five miles of waterfront.

Seattle, May 23.—Three hundred thousand people gazed down from the roofs and hills of Seattle this afternoon as the Atlantic fleet under Admiral Sperry, aboard the flagship Connecticut, steamed slowly into Elliott bay and cast anchor within a stone's throw of Seattle's five miles of waterfront.

FILIPINO THRONE IN ROOMS OF THE COMMERCIAL CLUB.

An oriental throne sent across the sea to the Portland Commercial club as a gift from Captain George Welf of Manila has been set up in the club lounge-room and presents a sharp contrast of the furniture of a barbaric nation with that of the most civilized people on earth.

The Japanese who has been responsible for a reign of terror among little girls living in the vicinity of Second and Harrison streets is believed to have been captured. This morning the wife of a former police detective informed the police that she had handed the guilty person.

Two charges will be preferred against him if he is identified by the little girls whom he is thought to have attacked. The first by the parents of the young girl who was attacked a month ago and the second by the parents of his latest victim last Saturday.

When Officer Evans in company with the woman sleuth had about reached the door the Japanese walked out. When he saw the officer he drew back over his eyes and moved as though he would run away. Immediately however, Evans grabbed him and brought him to the station.

The face of the Japanese is badly scratched and this implicates him further for it is known that he was the man who was attacked last Saturday.

Reorganization of the Portland board of trade has been completed by election of the following board of directors: T. S. Townsend, A. B. Steinhilber, D. A. Farnham, Leo Page, Fred M. Sweet, W. Cummings, Richard Chilcott, John F. Dally, W. B. Glaser, W. H. McCorquodale, Willis Fisher, C. F. Johnson, T. R. Stoppacher, W. T. Taylor, E. W. Bell, J. E. Murphy, F. E. Beach, E. C. Johnson, F. W. Swanson, G. A. Westgate, C. L. Goodrich.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Seattle Man Pays $3,000 Tolls to Wire Complaint to Alaska and Get Possession of Alaska Central Railroad.

Fairbanks, Alaska, May 23.—On application of John E. Ballaine of Seattle, Judge Silas Reid of the federal court Thursday placed the Alaska Central railroad in the hands of a receiver and appointed John F. Goodwin of Fairbanks as receiver.

The action vests the property from control of the Frost-Osborne interests, whom Ballaine had been fighting for more than a year. Mr. Goodwin immediately qualified, giving a bond of $100,000, and took possession of the property at Seward by telegraphic order to the deputy United States marshal at that place.

Ballaine's complaint, covering 40 typewritten pages, was called from Seattle at an expense of $2,000, and is approved by interests representing more than $3,000,000 of Alaska Central bonds and a large amount of stock.

Former Judge James Wickham represented Ballaine and the other plaintiffs. The complaint is one of the most sensational filed in an Alaskan court. In it Ballaine avers that he owns $350,000 of railway preferred stock and $400,000 of common stock.

Ballaine organized the railway company in 1902. In 1903 the company was sold to the Alaska Central Trust company of Illinois, owned by J. P. Morgan, and the railway was operated by an investment company of St. Paul, the General Electric company and many others.

Ballaine organized the railway company in 1902. In 1903 the company was sold to the Alaska Central Trust company of Illinois, owned by J. P. Morgan, and the railway was operated by an investment company of St. Paul, the General Electric company and many others.

Ballaine organized the railway company in 1902. In 1903 the company was sold to the Alaska Central Trust company of Illinois, owned by J. P. Morgan, and the railway was operated by an investment company of St. Paul, the General Electric company and many others.

Ballaine organized the railway company in 1902. In 1903 the company was sold to the Alaska Central Trust company of Illinois, owned by J. P. Morgan, and the railway was operated by an investment company of St. Paul, the General Electric company and many others.

Ballaine organized the railway company in 1902. In 1903 the company was sold to the Alaska Central Trust company of Illinois, owned by J. P. Morgan, and the railway was operated by an investment company of St. Paul, the General Electric company and many others.

Ballaine organized the railway company in 1902. In 1903 the company was sold to the Alaska Central Trust company of Illinois, owned by J. P. Morgan, and the railway was operated by an investment company of St. Paul, the General Electric company and many others.

McAllister and Duniway Argue, but McGarry Fails to Appear.

Before a crowded house at an open meeting of the Federated Trades council held in Bartender's hall last night E. S. J. McAllister and Ralph R. Duniway debated the single tax amendment to the state constitution to be voted on the June election.

Mr. McAllister opened the debate with a vigorous defense of the land tax theory, saying that he was opposed to the taxation of personal property because that among Anglo-Saxon people no system had ever been devised by which such property was assessed, appraised and collected and for the further reason that it incites to perjury and fraud in its payment and that those who are most able to bear the burden of taxation largely escape and those who are least able to pay are compelled to bear the burden.

Mr. Duniway replied to perjury in repeated this year in the usual farcical manner. Last year the tentative personal assessment was $3,492,015, $889,000 of which was paid, leaving only 25 per cent of the other tenths of the total amount assessed and represented by the public franchises of New York city do not appear on the personal tax roll.

Mr. McAllister opened the debate with a vigorous defense of the land tax theory, saying that he was opposed to the taxation of personal property because that among Anglo-Saxon people no system had ever been devised by which such property was assessed, appraised and collected and for the further reason that it incites to perjury and fraud in its payment and that those who are most able to bear the burden of taxation largely escape and those who are least able to pay are compelled to bear the burden.

Mr. Duniway replied to perjury in repeated this year in the usual farcical manner. Last year the tentative personal assessment was $3,492,015, $889,000 of which was paid, leaving only 25 per cent of the other tenths of the total amount assessed and represented by the public franchises of New York city do not appear on the personal tax roll.

Mr. McAllister opened the debate with a vigorous defense of the land tax theory, saying that he was opposed to the taxation of personal property because that among Anglo-Saxon people no system had ever been devised by which such property was assessed, appraised and collected and for the further reason that it incites to perjury and fraud in its payment and that those who are most able to bear the burden of taxation largely escape and those who are least able to pay are compelled to bear the burden.

Mr. Duniway replied to perjury in repeated this year in the usual farcical manner. Last year the tentative personal assessment was $3,492,015, $889,000 of which was paid, leaving only 25 per cent of the other tenths of the total amount assessed and represented by the public franchises of New York city do not appear on the personal tax roll.

Mr. McAllister opened the debate with a vigorous defense of the land tax theory, saying that he was opposed to the taxation of personal property because that among Anglo-Saxon people no system had ever been devised by which such property was assessed, appraised and collected and for the further reason that it incites to perjury and fraud in its payment and that those who are most able to bear the burden of taxation largely escape and those who are least able to pay are compelled to bear the burden.

Mr. Duniway replied to perjury in repeated this year in the usual farcical manner. Last year the tentative personal assessment was $3,492,015, $889,000 of which was paid, leaving only 25 per cent of the other tenths of the total amount assessed and represented by the public franchises of New York city do not appear on the personal tax roll.

Mr. McAllister opened the debate with a vigorous defense of the land tax theory, saying that he was opposed to the taxation of personal property because that among Anglo-Saxon people no system had ever been devised by which such property was assessed, appraised and collected and for the further reason that it incites to perjury and fraud in its payment and that those who are most able to bear the burden of taxation largely escape and those who are least able to pay are compelled to bear the burden.

TAX AMENDMENT THE SUBJECT OF DEBATE

Before a crowded house at an open meeting of the Federated Trades council held in Bartender's hall last night E. S. J. McAllister and Ralph R. Duniway debated the single tax amendment to the state constitution to be voted on the June election.

Mr. McAllister opened the debate with a vigorous defense of the land tax theory, saying that he was opposed to the taxation of personal property because that among Anglo-Saxon people no system had ever been devised by which such property was assessed, appraised and collected and for the further reason that it incites to perjury and fraud in its payment and that those who are most able to bear the burden of taxation largely escape and those who are least able to pay are compelled to bear the burden.

Mr. Duniway replied to perjury in repeated this year in the usual farcical manner. Last year the tentative personal assessment was $3,492,015, $889,000 of which was paid, leaving only 25 per cent of the other tenths of the total amount assessed and represented by the public franchises of New York city do not appear on the personal tax roll.

Mr. McAllister opened the debate with a vigorous defense of the land tax theory, saying that he was opposed to the taxation of personal property because that among Anglo-Saxon people no system had ever been devised by which such property was assessed, appraised and collected and for the further reason that it incites to perjury and fraud in its payment and that those who are most able to bear the burden of taxation largely escape and those who are least able to pay are compelled to bear the burden.

Mr. Duniway replied to perjury in repeated this year in the usual farcical manner. Last year the tentative personal assessment was $3,492,015, $889,000 of which was paid, leaving only 25 per cent of the other tenths of the total amount assessed and represented by the public franchises of New York city do not appear on the personal tax roll.

Mr. McAllister opened the debate with a vigorous defense of the land tax theory, saying that he was opposed to the taxation of personal property because that among Anglo-Saxon people no system had ever been devised by which such property was assessed, appraised and collected and for the further reason that it incites to perjury and fraud in its payment and that those who are most able to bear the burden of taxation largely escape and those who are least able to pay are compelled to bear the burden.

Mr. Duniway replied to perjury in repeated this year in the usual farcical manner. Last year the tentative personal assessment was $3,492,015, $889,000 of which was paid, leaving only 25 per cent of the other tenths of the total amount assessed and represented by the public franchises of New York city do not appear on the personal tax roll.

Peter F. Daly, C. E. Redfield Dies Suddenly

Chicago, May 23.—Peter F. Daly, one of America's leading comedians, died in his apartments in the Auditorium today from pleuro-pneumonia.

Although he had been ill several days, none of his friends, not even the attending physicians, realized that the famous entertainer was so near death until he breathed his last, surrounded by trained nurses and a few intimate friends, in the early morning hours of today.

Mr. Redfield's death was unexpected. He had been in the hospital for several days and was expected to die.

Following is the result of the voting contest up to date: Politics—Evan 208, Taft 159; Chamberlain 214; Manning 1263; Cameron 213; Word 804; Stevens 832; O'Day 212; Morrow 223.

Reorganization of the Portland board of trade has been completed by election of the following board of directors: T. S. Townsend, A. B. Steinhilber, D. A. Farnham, Leo Page, Fred M. Sweet, W. Cummings, Richard Chilcott, John F. Dally, W. B. Glaser, W. H. McCorquodale, Willis Fisher, C. F. Johnson, T. R. Stoppacher, W. T. Taylor, E. W. Bell, J. E. Murphy, F. E. Beach, E. C. Johnson, F. W. Swanson, G. A. Westgate, C. L. Goodrich.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Prominent Young Attorney Passes Away Unexpectedly From Blood Poison

Chicago, May 23.—Charles E. Redfield, one of the most prominent young attorneys in the state, died at his home here last night from blood poisoning.

Mr. Redfield's death was unexpected. He had been in the hospital for several days and was expected to die.

Following is the result of the voting contest up to date: Politics—Evan 208, Taft 159; Chamberlain 214; Manning 1263; Cameron 213; Word 804; Stevens 832; O'Day 212; Morrow 223.

Reorganization of the Portland board of trade has been completed by election of the following board of directors: T. S. Townsend, A. B. Steinhilber, D. A. Farnham, Leo Page, Fred M. Sweet, W. Cummings, Richard Chilcott, John F. Dally, W. B. Glaser, W. H. McCorquodale, Willis Fisher, C. F. Johnson, T. R. Stoppacher, W. T. Taylor, E. W. Bell, J. E. Murphy, F. E. Beach, E. C. Johnson, F. W. Swanson, G. A. Westgate, C. L. Goodrich.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Band Will Play Down Town, and Then Go to the Street Fair

There will be a free band concert this evening at the Catholic Young Men's club on Morris street.

Following is the result of the voting contest up to date: Politics—Evan 208, Taft 159; Chamberlain 214; Manning 1263; Cameron 213; Word 804; Stevens 832; O'Day 212; Morrow 223.

Reorganization of the Portland board of trade has been completed by election of the following board of directors: T. S. Townsend, A. B. Steinhilber, D. A. Farnham, Leo Page, Fred M. Sweet, W. Cummings, Richard Chilcott, John F. Dally, W. B. Glaser, W. H. McCorquodale, Willis Fisher, C. F. Johnson, T. R. Stoppacher, W. T. Taylor, E. W. Bell, J. E. Murphy, F. E. Beach, E. C. Johnson, F. W. Swanson, G. A. Westgate, C. L. Goodrich.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

Deciding that neither husband nor wife had sufficiently supported their numerous charges against each other, Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning refused to grant a divorce in the case of Mrs. Minnie M. Kane against her husband, John Kane.

ONE TRAIN FROM SOUTH LATE TODAY

Northern Pacific No. 1, due at 7 a. m. on time.

Southern Pacific No. 16, due 7:55 a. m., arrived 2:45 p. m.

Southern Pacific No. 18, due 11:30 a. m. on time.

Oregon Railroad & Navigation No. 3, due 8 a. m. on time.

Oregon Railroad & Navigation No. 5, due 9:45 a. m. on time.

Astoria & Columbia River No. 21, due 12:15 p. m. on time.

Astoria & Columbia River No. 21, due 12:15 p. m. on time.

REVIEWING STAND FALLS; NO ONE KILLED

Bellingham, Wash., May 23.—With a crash that was heard for blocks away a section of the big reviewing stand on the corner of Elk and Holly streets went down at 10:30 o'clock last night precipitating 100 or more persons in a heap on the ground below.

When the stand away and began to sink toward the rush of a thousand or more men, women and children in the other section was started and was only by the presence of mind of a few persons in the crowd that a panic was averted.

The collapse had been built late in the day to be used for ringside seats for the wrestling match between Sailor Barlow and the champion of the world, which was held at the reviewing stand were occupied by the timekeepers, newspaper men and a half dozen other persons.

When the stand away and began to sink toward the rush of a thousand or more men, women and children in the other section was started and was only by the presence of mind of a few persons in the crowd that a panic was averted.

The collapse had been built late in the day to be used for ringside seats for the wrestling match between Sailor Barlow and the champion of the world, which was held at the reviewing stand were occupied by the timekeepers, newspaper men and a half dozen other persons.

When the stand away and began to sink toward the rush of a thousand or more men, women and children in the other section was started and was only by the presence of mind of a few persons in the crowd that a panic was averted.

The collapse had been built late in the day to be used for ringside seats for the wrestling match between Sailor Barlow and the champion of the world, which was held at the reviewing stand were occupied by the timekeepers, newspaper men and a half dozen other persons.

ALL WAS JOY ON UNIVERSITY DAY

University of Oregon, Eugene, May 23.—To the delight of everybody University Day yesterday turned out to be a perfect day. In the morning all of the university boys set to work and finished the big football game on Blinn's field, and 40 feet of cement was poured on the campus and built a set of bleachers on Kincaid field.

The evening was a dainty luncheon to the laborers in the dormitory reception room, each class having its table decorated with flowers and colors. After the luncheon the music of the glee club sang for the ladies and the dormitory was thrown open to visitors.

In the afternoon everything was laid aside in order that all might see the "Varsity" football game.

The evening was occupied by the junior oratorical. An interesting program was given, literary and musical. Orations were delivered by Jesse Bond, Edna Cameron, Herbert Clarke, Merle Chessman, Earl Kilpatrick, Mac Snow, Earl Strong, Thomas Townsend, Professor Glen and Miss Sue Hayes sang pleasingly and Miss Adele Gorf rendered several beautiful songs.

Today there will be two baseball games with O. A. C. and in the evening the junior prom will close the gala.

Seattle, May 23.—The Oregon team defeated the University of Washington law school team in debate last night on the question, "Resolved, That the initiative and referendum, as embodied in the Catterill bill, should be adopted by the state of Washington." Washington had the negative. The teams were headed by Fred H. Peters and L. B. Smith, Washington—O. M. Thompson, M. R. Good and W. Allen. The judges numbered 10.

Seattle, May 23.—The Oregon team defeated the University of Washington law school team in debate last night on the question, "Resolved, That the initiative and referendum, as embodied in the Catterill bill, should be adopted by the state of Washington." Washington had the negative. The teams were headed by Fred H. Peters and L. B. Smith, Washington—O. M. Thompson, M. R. Good and W. Allen. The judges numbered 10.

SCARRED JAPANESE LANDS IN JAIL, and Children Will Confront Him.

The Japanese who has been responsible for a reign of terror among little girls living in the vicinity of Second and Harrison streets is believed to have been captured. This morning the wife of a former police detective informed the police that she had handed the guilty person.

Two charges will be preferred against him if he is identified by the little girls whom he is thought to have attacked. The first by the parents of the young girl who was attacked a month ago and the second by the parents of his latest victim last Saturday.

When Officer Evans in company with the woman sleuth had about