Mr. and Mrs. A. Attyeh.

Last week A. Attyeh and wife, (nee Miss Selma Mullouk, returned from New York city, Mr. Attyeh and Miss Mullouk were married in Brooklyn at the home of the bride's parents on May 4, by Bishop Hawaweeny. Immediately after the ceremony they left for Portland, Oregon, where Mr. Attyeh has been in business for several years.

TRIES SUICIDE; UNDER ARREST

San Francisco Woman, Who Married Two Men, in Prison at Paris.

(Heart News by Longest Leased Wire.) Paris, May 23.—A mania of persecution, attempted suicide, arrest by the police, detention in a police station, 24 hours in a cell in a lunatic asylum and treatment in a private sanitarium have all been crowded into one week of the life of a once well-known San Francisco woman, Mrs. Jean Sawyer.

Two divorcees had preyed upon her mind. The first was about 12 years ago, when the courts freed her from the clutches of a prominent and rich citizen of San Francisco. Once free she took up her residence in France, and after a few years she married Count de Montigny. The married life of the new countess was very stormy and three years ago she was divorced from the count, and she has since been in the courts not to use his name.

SEWELL'S CREW ON DESERT ISLE

Ship Bound for Seattle With Cargo of Coal Believed to Be Stranded.

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, May 23.—Somewhere on the desert, on an island, perhaps, in mid-ocean, the crew of the ship Arling, which for a long time was believed to have gone down with all on board, is now thought to be waiting, Robinson Crusoe fashion, for the signal of a sail.

The news that the men might still be alive reached the maritime station, Australia, in shape of a report from Captain Hill of the British steamship Himpstead, which had just put in there from the Hawaiian islands.

CALEDONIANS CLOSE A GLORIOUS PICNIC

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Athens, Or., May 23.—The ninth annual picnic of the Umatilla County Caledonian society came to a close tonight in a blaze of glory. Yesterday and today the walk-in rang merrily with Scottish song and a cherished feature of the occasion, one doubly dear to the Scottish heart, was the shinty, or football.

Today was political day. Addresses were made by George E. Cameron, George E. Sheppard and E. Wilson. Many of the politicians of the county spoke.

KAISER AS AN INVENTOR

Portable Station on Which He May Address His Subjects While They Are Working in the Field—King Otto's Ravings.

By Malcolm Clarke. (Heart News by Longest Leased Wire.) Berlin, March 23.—In order to be able to address his peasant subjects while they are working in the field, the Kaiser is having made a sort of portable station, which is to be carried on the imperial train and which may be put together in a quarter of an hour.

It is to be used this fall when Emperor William intends to spend considerable time visiting the various parts of his empire, which he has not yet honored with his presence. Whenever he is then passing a number of peasants harvesting their crops the Kaiser will stop the portable station will be put up and the Kaiser will lecture to the farm laborers on their duty toward their country, or whatever subject he chooses.

An incurable maniac, King Otto of Bavaria, the other day celebrated his sixtieth birthday in the palace of Fuesstreu, which has been his prison for over 30 years.

Berlin Journalist who was allowed to see the mad king says that evidently his health is as good as ever. He looks in the way of a man who is being treated, but his mental condition remains unchanged.

The unhappy monarch never speaks and does not allow a word to be spoken in his presence and this enforced silence is so depressing that his attendants are being changed frequently.

What is described by the German press as "one of the most marvelous baritone voices ever listened to," has been discovered in Berlin, the possessor being Berthold Pusch, a young bricklayer, who has just entered his nineteenth year.

The discovery was made in somewhat romantic fashion by a gentleman who is an enthusiastic musical amateur. Passing a house in the process of building he heard a song trailed out in a voice of surprising richness. When it was finished he sought the singer, who proved to be a bricklayer at work on the building.

Because of a gang of clever forgers the National Bank of Belgium has just issued a new 1,000-franc bill to replace that previously in circulation. This bill will in a few weeks be replaced by another one of some more intricate design in order to baffle old counterfeiters.

GIRLS POSE ON TOP OF 175-FOOT CHIMNEY

Two Plucky Young Women Go Up to Top of New Huge Smokestack.

Sellinggrove, Pa., May 23.—Upon the completion today of the smokestack at the Sunbury Dye works, Miss Elma Derrick and Miss Frances Wolf, two well known young women of Sunbury, sought the top of the new chimney.

HIPPO, IN RUNAWAY, TERRIFIES CROWD

Circus Cage in Mad Rush Down Cleveland Hill—Horses Killed.

Cleveland, May 23.—Two horses out of eight attached to a circus cage were crushed to death in a runaway this afternoon, and a hippopotamus inside the cage had such a ride as had never been scheduled for him in any circus parade.

THE PIANO BUYERS' GUIDE

SHERMAN, CLAY & CO. PUBLISHERS. SIXTH AND MORRISON. OPPOSITE POST OFFICE.

Devoted to the interests of the piano player. The latest, new and best pianos, player pianos and talking machines. G. F. JOHNSON, Editor in Chief.

We have just received a carload of beautiful Kurtzman Pianos. Ask to see them as you will be particularly pleased with the tone. Prices start at $335.00.

We have handled the Ludwig Pianos for a good many years and they are giving better satisfaction than ever. The price starts at $350.00.

The old reliable Kingsbury is still well known and hundreds of homes happy in Portland. We carry a complete line of these fine pianos and the prices start at $200.00.

The Packard Piano deserves your investigation. It is a finely made high grade instrument. The case is very beautiful and the workmanship will satisfy the most critical. The prices start at $390.00.

Don't forget our exchange department. We are constantly taking in pianos as part payment for Steinways and Player Pianos, and our bargain column will give you some idea of the real bargains to be had.

We have the Victor Talking Machines, which is admitted to be the only perfect machine. Our parlors are at your disposal any time during the day. Come in and hear your favorite music reproduced as only the Victor can do it. Look for the dog.

Of course you know we are the largest dealers in Steinway Pianos in the world. We always carry a most complete stock in the Grand and Uprights, including some art styles.

We have a number of very good pianos at moderate prices, which are well adapted for beginners. If you don't start your children on the piano at the right time, it may be too late to attract them musically later on.

Do you know that we handle the Emerson Piano? It is one of the great pianos of its class and has been giving satisfaction to all who own them.

The Knabe Piano is so well known that it is unnecessary to enlarge on its many sterling points. We shall be pleased to show you these pianos.

When you think of Talking Machines, think of the Victor—if you don't, you think wrong.

Another Milton Piano for some lucky buyer at $150.00. It is in very fine condition and is a good piano for a beginner.

Ask to see the Richmond Piano at $210.00. It has a sweet tone and may be exactly what you are looking for.

Then there is the Standard Piano which we will sell for $175.00. This is too good a bargain to stay on our floors any length of time.

If you are looking for a slightly used high grade piano, we have them. We are continually taking in these pianos in exchange for player-pianos.

An unusually attractive bargain in an Autotone Player-Piano, which sells regularly for $650.00, we offer at $450.00.

Player-Pianos

Trade in your "Silent" piano for one that is animated with music of all kinds ready for you at your own good pleasure.

Are you interested in $5-note Player-Pianos? If so—wait about two or three weeks, then come in. We'll show you.

A new arrival is the Kurtzman Player-Piano. This piano contains within its case the celebrated Chase & Baker Player action, completing a fascinating combination of musical arts.

Note our bargain sale of two hundred rolls of music for Player-Pianos, 50c each. Values from 75c to $1.25.

Our window display of Player-Pianos is attracting great interest. Six instruments of different makes are shown, some with the mechanism exposed to view showing the NEWEST and LATEST improvements. Here are shown instruments which leap years in advance of others which have stood still.

Do not confuse the A. B. Chase Artist-Piano with many so-called "Artist-Pianos." It is different.

The word Artista means Artists' Piano, thus the A. B. Chase Artists' stands for supremacy.

The name Estey is a household word and we sell both organs and pianos. If you have an Estey Organ we will trade it in and allow you a liberal price for it on an Estey piano, or any other piano you may select.

Do you go camping? Well, if you do, don't forget to take along a Victor Talking Machine. What is camp life without a Victor?

PRESIDENT HAS SOME PET BLOWS

They Are Not All Superheated Atmosphere, He Proves to Pugilist.

(Heart News by Longest Leased Wire.) Washington, May 23.—President Roosevelt stopped long enough today from wielding the big stick to discuss the strenuous art of boxing with Leo Ferenczi of Chicago, amateur lightweight champion boxer of the United States.

The president is no novice in the art. He has a few "punches" he has studied in the past, and he says that he would be effective but he wanted expert advice.

When the young boxer was introduced the president said: "I'm glad to meet you, mighty glad. You go over to England and you lick every British organization, he says, but it does not get you any farther out of them. Here, give me one of your pictures and I'll give you one of mine, I return." And don't you get whipped over any young man. Beat 'em and beat 'em hard."

Much to the surprise of Representative Ferenczi, the president squared off to illustrate some of his pet blows.

Ferenczi was delighted. As an expert he studied the blows and promised to familiarize himself with them. His astonishment at the president's knowledge of the "mully" style was found. It was an interesting half hour's chat for the president, but Representative Ferenczi, when he got outside the executive offices.

WITH BARE HANDS SHE KILLS BIG WILDCAT

After Bloody Struggle She Beats It to Death Against a Tree.

Danville, Pa., May 23.—In a desperate encounter in Pine Swamp Hollow, three miles south of Danville, Mrs. Jeremiah Altwater, last night slew singlehandedly the large wildcat that has been terrifying that neighborhood.

Mrs. Altwater had been at the bedside of a sick friend and was returning home, she had arrived at a place in the road opposite the Pine Swamp school house, where the trees arch overhead and shut out even the faint light of the stars.

Suddenly a heavy form struck her on the back, clinging there, while she, reaching over her shoulder, was obliged to touch the fur of an animal. Acting quickly, however, Mrs. Altwater grasped the wildcat, tore its claws from her dress and dashed it to the ground with all the strength she possessed.

Slightly dazed, the big cat was up again in a twinkling, and then began a hand-to-claw encounter backward and forward across the dark road, lasting fully five minutes. From the clawing of the cat, Mrs. Altwater's hair in the face were badly lacerated, and her clothing was torn into ribbons. Several times she succeeded in throwing the cat away from her, but it would return quickly, clawing and biting more fiercely than ever. Almost exhausted, she was fainting from fatigue, she was able to secure a firm grasp on the cat's neck, and with the writhing animal literally tearing her flesh into shreds, she dashed it to death against a tree.

Mrs. Altwater had just strength remaining to make her way home, and her husband of the encounter. The body of the cat was found where Mrs. Altwater had killed it. During the winter the children going to and from the school house have been frightened by a wildcat. Several times a hunt was made for the cat, but it could never be found.

HOWLING MOB SEES PARISIAN CREATION

(Heart News by Longest Leased Wire.) Chicago, May 23.—A mob of business men, women shoppers, loafers and street gamins howled, jeered, flouted and tore each others' clothes today in the mid afternoon in a riotous attempt to gain first hand view of Miss Bertie Carlisle, who is introducing the director town of the Parisian boulevards and of the Leuchtergasse course to Chicago and to State Street.

In short the gown lived up to the forecast. It was sensational and shocking, as well as wagger and stunning. Contrary to anticipation no attempt was made to arrest Miss Carlisle. Miss Carlisle is a show girl in the burlesque of "The Merry Widow."

SCIENTIST REVILED FOR MAN-APE THEORY

Jena, Germany, May 23.—Since Professor Ernest Heinrich Haeckel, the naturalist and lecturer on zoology, continues to receive threatening letters from various parts of Germany, he has asked for police protection at the Villa Medusa, his beautiful home in this city.

Several of the letters received by the venerable scientist declare that the death sentence was passed against him, and that he cannot hope to escape his persecutors long. "You have earned death a hundred times for your attacks on religion," wrote several anonymous correspondents.

Mrs. C. Mattson Leaves Inherited Fortune, and According to Husband, She Is With Another Man—Children With Mother.

Heiress to a Portland estate valued at $50,000, Mrs. C. Mattson has deserted her husband and is now believed to be associating with a man named Huffsmith, formerly of Portland. Her husband, who is a stonecutter in Portland, filed suit for divorce about 10 days ago in the circuit court. In his complaint he names Huffsmith as the co-defendant.

Mrs. Mattson was formerly Miss Grace Potter, daughter of L. C. Potter, who died some years ago, leaving his valuable property on the corner of Seventh and Flinders streets and on Flinders street, Flinders and Everett streets, the total value of which is conservatively estimated at $50,000, to his wife, Mrs. Hannah Potter, and the two daughters and son living. The name of the other daughter is not known. She is married and lives in Alaska.

Descriptions Best Broadcast. The Potter family is a prominent one in Portland. Miss Grace married C. Mattson some years ago. They have two children—Alice, aged 5 years, and Carl, aged 3. When Mrs. Mattson disappeared she took the two children with her. Of Huffsmith little is known.

To frustrate this the husband has sent descriptions of the mother and her two children to the police all over the country. In his suit for divorce he stipulates that he wishes the custody of the children. The money is claimed to be a secondary consideration.

Last Seen in Vancouver. Mrs. Mattson was last heard of on May 1 in Vancouver, British Columbia, where she went ostensibly on a visit. From that place all trace of her is lost, with the exception of various rumors. The husband first supposed that she had gone to Seattle. Another time it was said she was seen on the streets of Portland. All these rumors proved to be unfounded.

Mrs. Mattson is described as being about 30 years of age, of medium height and dark complexion. The husband offers a reward of $25 for information as to her whereabouts. Attorney John Shillock, whose office is in the Mohawk building, is representing Mattson.

ANKENY SCORES FOR HIS HOME TOWN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Walla Walla, Wash., May 23.—Senator Ankeny visited the commercial club this afternoon that he had succeeded in getting through the conference committee an appropriation of $140,000 for Walla Walla's public building.

Neck Dislocated, Yet Lives.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Aberdeen, May 23.—Richard Wachter, a sailor, who fell from the house of the 15th street, dislocating his neck, is still alive at a local hospital and may linger some days. He fell a distance of 15 feet, striking in some gearing, and when found it did not seem that he could live long. He is about 26 years of age and is said to have a wife and children in Austria.

Did you read Mr. Ellers' "good advice" to a friend in buying a piano published in our previous issue?

If not, hunt up last week's paper and read it, because it gives an unbiased and unprejudiced opinion from one of the best informed piano men in the United States to one of his friends, Mr. Ellers, the president of the Ellers Piano House—with forty stores under his personal control and with many years' experience in factory work—is beyond question better informed on musical instruments of all kinds than any other man in the West, consequently his advice was given intelligently.

To show Mr. Ellers' thoroughness in seeking reliable and authentic information, only last year he traveled to Europe—thousands of miles—to investigate one manufacturer's product. Many dealers would have merely taken the instruments and sold them regardless of what the future might bring to the buyers—not so Mr. Ellers. He must know, and so it has been with every piano—every musical instrument—placed in his stores from the best to the best.

Mr. Ellers said to his friend— "I have read your 'good advice'—and he gave his reason why.
