SOCIETY

UNDOUBTEDLY the number of people who have gone or are going to Seattle, or who have not returned from seeing the fleet in San Francisco, have left a substantial hole in Portland society and till things resume their natural condition again people seem to have suspended their efforts at entertaining. Everything that has been given lately is on the small, informal plan.

The festivities at Seattle are going to be elaborate and many who could not go to San Francisco are taking this time to visit in Seattle. Among the Portland visitors at the sound city will be Mr. and Mrs. Alma D. Katz, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ames, who will go together in a party. Others will be Mr. and Mrs. John C. Ainsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Simon and Miss Helen, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Chamberlain and Miss Ethel, Miss Lois Steers and Mrs. Philip Neu, Mr. and Mrs. James R. McCraken and Mr. and Mrs. Peter McCraken.

Among the events reviewed in the daily issues was a bridge given by Miss Ella Stephens Monday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. Lewis Russell, Mrs. George Russell and Mrs. S. R. Johnson, who are soon leaving for Europe and for Mrs. Leroy H. Parker, who has just returned. There were seven tables.

Tuesday the events of interest were the informal opening reception for the Arts and Crafts exhibit, in the evening, a tea given by Miss Marion Jackson for Miss Lillie V. O'Ryan, a bridge luncheon at which Mrs. Charles T. Whitney was the hostess and a charming bridge given by Miss Myrtle Schaefer for Miss Grace Nicholson and Miss Helen Brigham.

Thursday afternoon Bishop and Mrs. Scadding gave a large informal tea for the visiting Episcopalians and the visiting bishops received with them. Friday the chief attraction was the symphony concert in the evening which was a smart affair.

A good many young people left Thursday and Friday for Eugene at attend junior week-end at the University of Oregon. Among them were Mrs. H. W. Goddard, Mrs. W. D. Fenton, Miss Lola Goddard, Miss Jean Brownlee, Miss Gladys Rose, Miss Myrtle Schaefer, Miss Louise Bradley, Miss Frances Bradley, Miss Clementine Cutter, Miss Winnie Abbott, Robert R. Boyer and Francis V. Galloway.

One of the most delightful teas ever given at the Patton Home was that of last Tuesday, when little Marguerite Egbert had charge of the program. Miss Marguerite is a clever reader, who is coaching with Mrs. Mina Crollus Gleason. She has the ease and grace that many older ones might envy. In arranging the program for Tuesday she had only children younger than herself to take part, and the old people of the home were delighted. Mrs. A. C. Barber assisted and opened the program with a pleasing song. Jule Oliver gave a piano number, played with good tone and careful work; Frances Bliss sang, and her clear soprano voice was enjoyed, and Miss Marguerite's own readings were most heartily encored.

Mrs. A. Lange received, assisted by Mrs. Murray Gay, Mrs. E. S. Howe and Mrs. Hardy Moreland. The dining-room was in charge of Mrs. D. M. McLaughlin and Miss Evelyn Condon and Miss Zerene Hamilton poured.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK

To the A. B. C. girls of Albany falls the distinction of having given one of the most elaborate and successful social events of the year. Last Friday evening they gave their May dance at the skating rink. Music was furnished by McElroy's orchestra of Salem. The beauty of the decorations was much commented on. Along the sides of the spacious hall and overhead heavy fir boughs were interlaced, and yellow poppies in brass jardinieres about the hall lent to the attractive appearance. In the center of the room, pendant from the ceiling, was a basket of Oregon's red roses. Punch was served from one corner of the hall, and another corner beautifully decorated was occupied by the handsomely gowned patronesses, who were Mrs. E. W. Langdon, Mrs. D. O. Woodworth, Mrs. E. A. Wallace, Mrs. William Fortmiller, Mrs. J. C. Hammel, Mrs. George Simpson, Mrs. William Pfeiffer, Mrs. J. K. Haight and Mrs. W. B. Stevens.

Promptly at 9 o'clock the grand march was led by the president of the A. B. C.'s, Miss Vesta Wallace, and Wayne Stuart of Portland, followed by Miss Walch, vice-president, and Chester Cox of Salem. Miss Wallace wore a charming gown of pale yellow crepe de chine made empire, and Miss Walch appeared in white net over taffeta. About 100 couples were present, many out-of-town guests being among the number.

The Tuesday Afternoon club met at the home of Mrs. A. A. Bailey, with Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Crotton as hostesses. Roll call was responded to by impressions received from the year's study. Miss Packard of Los Angeles was then introduced and guided her listeners on a delightful ramble through the beautiful lake district of England, visiting the homes of Coleridge, Wordsworth, Southey and others. Many personal experiences were related, giving a distinctive charm to the occasion.

Miss Robison caused much merriment by her clever recitals of "Sally Ann's Experience."

A vocal solo, "Little Boy Blue," was given by Mrs. Harry Vorse, who kindly, responded to an encore with "My First Love." Mrs. Vorse possesses a sweet, beautifully modulated voice, to which it is a delight to listen. A finely executed piano solo by Miss Grace von Groenewald closed the program. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by their guest, Mrs. F. E. Reed. At the close of a delightful afternoon, ending a delightful year's work the club adjourned to meet the first Tuesday in October.

The reception given to Mamie Wagley Briggs, superior chief of honor, by the Degree of Honor lodges of Portland Friday evening was a brilliant affair. The spacious W. O. W. hall was filled with many enthusiastic friends of Mrs. Briggs. Many handsome gowns were in evidence. The hall decorations were artistic. A delightful musical program was given by the Leon des Larzis' orchestra. The grand march was led by William J. Clarke, G. M. W., and Mrs. Briggs.

G. U. Sadie E. Moore, in behalf of the D. of H. lodges, presented the guest of honor with beautiful roses and carnations. Mrs. Briggs expressed her appreciation and thanks and as she was speaking a shower of rose leaves fell from the folds of the American flag over head. Fruit punch was served throughout the evening. Dancing was indulged in until a late hour.

Mrs. Briggs leaves shortly to preside over the superior lodge, which convenes in Des Moines, Iowa, June 9.

WEDDINGS

A pretty wedding was celebrated at the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Seattle at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, when the Rev. Father E. J. Gallagher married Miss Theodora Charlotte Anderson, youngest daughter of Mrs. B. Anderson of Portland and Jerome Walter of Republic, Washington. The bride was dressed in a beautiful gown of white linen embroidery made princess with train, and carried an arm bouquet of Bride's roses. She was attended by Miss Edyth Klopf, who wore white swiss and carried pink carnations. The groom was attended by Charles Ashford. After the ceremony the bridal party retired to the residence of the bride's sister, Miss Irene Anderson, where the wedding breakfast was served. In the evening a reception was tendered the bride and groom by Mrs. I. Klopf, in her apartments at the St. Aubin. Mr. and Mrs. Walter left amid showers of rice and good wishes on the night boat for Victoria, and will return to Seattle to see the fleet. They will sail on the Princess May for Alaska May 24, expecting to return to Portland in time for the Rose Festival. They will make their home at Republic, Washington.
