

CLUB FIGHTS BE READY THIS WEEK

Large Crew Starts Making Track Tomorrow Morning—Multnomah Stronger.

By Wednesday Multnomah field will be in shape to permit the club athletes to train for the Pacific northwest championship games June 6, the sun yesterday and Friday having dried out the soft clay sufficiently to permit the continuation of work. A working crew of 15 men will be placed on the track tomorrow morning and the work will be up by Tuesday, when the various layers of sand, adhesive clay and cinders will be laid. They cannot begin until Wednesday and Wednesday the men will be able to use it.

The flooring will be laid in the grandstand track and the seats will be in place when the meet is called a week from next Saturday. Rush is the work at the Multnomah club now and things are moving along with amazing rapidity.

Advices received yesterday afternoon from Eugene state that the University of Oregon will enter a full team in the meet. Oregon Agricultural college, not entering a college team, but as practically all the star performers are Multnomah men, they will be shown up in the games. Forrest Smithson, captain of the track squad, is now at Corvallis and will prepare David, Tom Greenway and several of the other college clubmen for the meet. With this material the winged wheel will be a formidable opponent, showing against any of the teams.

Multnomah will be further reinforced by the presence of Rolfe Peterson, the former well known sprinter from Pacific university. Peterson is just as good as he used to be when his "rap" Oregon. He will be in the 100, 220 and 440-yard dashes besides running a lap in the relay.

Seattle Athletic club is coming along with a relay team from Washington high school at the place. Billy Ingham says the sound city is coming after points. Billy usually knows what he is talking about. But Seattle won't have the services of "Spide" Cos, the phenomenal Michigan half-miler, because "Spide" is still doing stunts at a law-abiding school. He will settle in Seattle until after the meet.

Relay teams in the high school event will be numerous. Every team in the Portland interscholastic leagues will be represented along with quartets from Pendleton, Eugene, Salem, Astoria, and other prominent schools.

Members of the games committee are anxiously awaiting word from Bert Kerigan and the Holle Peterson, the Olympic club will be on hand with a galaxy of stars and very likely Reliance will send one or two. Whittman are members of the P. N. A. and will undoubtedly send from one to six men for the games. The entire games committee made out its list of officials for the season, which is as follows: Judges at final—N. Teal, Rev. A. Morrison, Judge J. B. Cleland, H. E. Judre, D. T. Honeyman, R. G. Jubita, Edward Cookington, R. Gilman, W. C. L. Murray, Allen Ellsworth. Timers—W. B. Fechtelmer, A. B. McAlpin, Herbert Greenland, E. Tongue, W. E. Edgerton, Washington, H. H. Hume, D. G. ANNUAL RELAY RACE GIVES LINE ON WINNER

The result of the annual relay race of the grammar schools yesterday afforded a line on what the athletes will do at the coming track meet. The Rose-Carnival, thirty-five schools are entered in the 4-6 mile relay on Multnomah field. The Hawthorne team looks like the strongest competitor for the honors at present.

The boys of the Hawthorne team secured their big lead in the race when Noreen, who ran the second mile, starting 60 yards behind the Mount Tabor boys, overtook and gave his teammate on the third lap a lead of 100 yards. Noreen has the making of a great distance runner.

Jay Beats Miles Fourth Time.

London, May 23.—Jay Gould, the American player, today added another victory to his long list by defeating Eustace Miles in the Olympic series by a score of 6-5, 6-4 and 6-4. Gould's victory over Miles was his fourth during the present contest. He defeated the same English player a year ago in what practically amounted to the world's championship tournament.

FOURS, DOUBLES AND SINGLES WILL DELIGHT ROSE FESTIVAL VISITORS.

Three Portland Regulars Inside 300 Mark—Heitmuller and Casey Up.

Heinie Heitmuller, the hard-hitting individual who guards the right garden for the Oakland team, has been the real sticking kid this last week, for he has whanged out 11 hits and advanced 24 points and 10 positions in the list of players. His teammate Slattery has done the vice versa act and dropped 14 points, but owing to the long lead which he already had, still maintains second place.

For Portland, Casey has made the best gain, moving up 8 positions and 20 points. Slattery has again gotten into the 300 class and Ryan has moved from 267 to 287. Danis has not hit up to the gate, having dropped to 281. Portland and Los Angeles each have seven men battling 250 or better. Casey has six and San Francisco six. The Angels have four men ticking in the 300 class, while Portland has but three. But McCredie and Ryan are within three points of the coveted place. However, Portland's trio are regulars while two of Los Angeles' quartet, Gray and Ketchel, are not.

The averages to date are as follows:

BEATEN BITTERS LEADING LEAGUE

Three Portland Regulars Inside 300 Mark—Heitmuller and Casey Up.

Chicago, May 23.—Stanley Ketchel arrived in the city today from the coast. He did not linger long but went up to Milwaukee to size up the situation. Only one item of interest developed, that is, there may be a little hitch to the match that Ketchel demands with Train.

Ketchel declares that he is growing so fast that the time between now and June 4 will be insufficient for him to make the weight agreed upon. Manager Jones protested that he would not stand for a postponement, and many who have been posted gives Ketchel a good chance to have his way about it.

Ketchel looked as big as a house, and there is no doubt that he will soon be able to fight in the heavy weight ranks if he keeps on growing at the present rate. Ketchel is a fighter who is absolutely confident of himself. "I can whip any middleweight in the world," is the way he sizes up the situation. He admits that he will have a hard fight to beat Pape and Paque, but the possibility of losing has not even remotely occurred to him.

ALLEN WRIGHT WINS BLYTH GOLF TROPHY

Beats Linticum on Waverly Links by Close Score—Many Practice.

Allen Wright won the Blyth trophy at the Waverly golf links yesterday afternoon with a net score of 82. T. A. Linticum was a good second with a score of 84. Wright played well throughout the match, and his victory was deserved. He will have possession of the medal for a year. Last year it was won by Chester Murphy.

All day yesterday about 75 members of the club were on the links, most of them preparing for the state tourney which commences May 27 and continues four days. The local golfers expect to win a majority of the medals from the visiting players from California, Washington and British Columbia.

AGGIES WIN BOTH GAMES.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., May 23.—Oregon Agricultural college won both baseball games today through bad errors by the home team. The Aggies, who were leading the players fumbled at critical moments. These are Oregon's first defeats but the team hopes to win the return game at Corvallis next week. In the morning game O. A. C. made three runs in the first inning on errors. Hinko out-pitched Roper, but had bad support. The score was 5 to 3. The afternoon game was more even, being 5 to 4. Oregon tied the score in the eighth inning. Corvallis out-batted Oregon all the way through.

FAMOUS CAT IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Death of Feline That Defended Mails Caused by Train Crew That Loved Her.

Asheville, N. C., May 23.—Emma has gone to her last account, her passing one of pathetic tragedy—killed by the friends who loved her best—and if there be a niche above among the home-ly saints and heroes whose deeds are the unflinching devotion of every day, the small little form must surely fill it. No one knew her patronymic. Whence she came or whether she was bound none asked. Her simple dignity forbade all questioning. But when one night her black shadow fell softly across the threshold of J. McClellan's store, where the residents of Emma township, an Asheville suburb, collect their mail, she uttered an inarticulate "miaow." McClellan accepted her as a good luck omen, and she straightway began her duties as the postoffice cat.

YALE JUNIORS TAKE AMERICAN REGATTA

(United Press Leased Wire.) Philadelphia, May 23.—Yale won in the junior eight-oared races at the American Henley regatta on the Schuylkill river. Not only did the New Haven lads defeat the crews from Pennsylvania and Harvard, who raced a dead heat for second honors, but they clipped seven seconds off the record for the course. Another dead heat also resulted in the first eight-oared shells in which the crews from the University of Pennsylvania and Nyack ran.

In the second eight-oared shell race, Harvard defeated Pennsylvania and the West Philadelphia crew. The interscholastic eight-oared shells was won by Georgetown.

Arthur Olsen of Mount Tabor school coming in the finish after the winner in the big relay race of the grammar grades.

AFRAID TO GET TO WEIGHT

Ketchel Absolutely Confident He Can Defeat Any Middleweight Alive.

LAW FIRMS DOWN

Attorneys Doubt Whether They Can Send Defendant Back to Asylum.

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.) Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 23.—It has just been learned on the best of authority that Justice Morschauser has been unable up to the present time to find any law whereby he can find that Justice Dowling's committal of Harry K. Thaw is constitutional.

District Attorney Mackin in fact has been aiding the justice in the search for the law which will make it possible to send Harry K. Thaw back to Matteawan. There is every reason to believe that the court will find Thaw insane, to the effect that he and his wife and nephew were refused service in a cafe on Market street, Philadelphia, solely as he was personally informed, because he (Sturtevant) was in uniform and "it was the rule of the cafe not to serve anyone in uniform."

This brings about the situation that was prognosticated last week. It makes it imperative upon the court to commit Thaw to some institution for the insane. It is understood as causing no end of fear in the Thaw family, and which it is said arose from the fact that Thaw and Thaw's sister, Mrs. Carnegie, spending the afternoon with the prisoner.

LAMP FLAME GIGATES GASOLINE

And a Fine Farm Residence Worth Thousands Is a Total Loss.

Dayton, Or., May 23.—The beautiful farm residence of Sanford Goodrich, about three miles south of Dayton, was burned to the ground last evening about a o'clock. Lewis, the son of Mr. Goodrich, was filling a gasoline lamp and had a coal oil lamp setting near by which ignited the gas and caused the explosion.

SALORS MUST BE RESPECTED

Secretary Metcalf Comes to Defense of Men Wearing Our Uniform.

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.) Washington, May 23.—Victor H. Metcalf, secretary of the navy, is indignant over the exclusion of an enlisted man from a Philadelphia cafe simply because the man was wearing the uniform of the navy. He has officially requested Mayor Reayburn of Philadelphia, in a letter made public today, to cooperate in a movement to legally enforce respect to the uniform of the enlisted men of the army and navy under all circumstances.

His request is based upon a report from V. B. Sturtevant, chief yeoman United States navy, attached to the United States Steamship Montgomery, to the effect that he and his wife and nephew were refused service in a cafe on Market street, Philadelphia, solely as he was personally informed, because he (Sturtevant) was in uniform and "it was the rule of the cafe not to serve anyone in uniform."

In this letter to Mayor Reayburn the secretary of the navy said that the complaint in this case had been verified by an investigation. Said Secretary Metcalf: "The department has long been endeavoring to secure proper respect for the uniform of the enlisted men of the navy and notes with profound regret the occurrences of the nature referred to herein. It is the policy of the department throughout the country seems to be turning favorably toward the enlisted men and to give them the same opportunities as the citizenry. It is the policy of the department to have the enlisted men in uniform in public places to show respect to the men in uniforms are especially welcomed."

The character of the enlisted men and their moral tone is higher today than ever before, and any discrimination shown by managers of restaurants, theatres, etc., against them solely because they are in uniform is unjustified. If there is now no municipal covering the point in question, I would most respectfully request the desirability of steps tending to such result.

DOLL 2,000 YEARS OLD EXHIBITED IN LONDON

Was Playing of Some Egyptian Child Centuries Before the Christian Era.

London, May 23.—A wonderful exhibition of toys of all nations and of all ages will be opened at the London Day Training college today by Lady Margaret Campbell.

It was the happy idea of Dr. Slaughter, of the Sociological society to bring together this classified collection of toys and games.

Its chief object is to give parents some idea of the invaluable means of education which is offered in the use of suitable toys.

Not only ancient and modern toys and games are to be seen, but also a series of pastimes suitable for children and youths and girls.

The oldest and most interesting doll in the collection is 2,000 years old and once upon a time delighted an Egyptian child.

"Knuckle-bones," the playthings of savage races, are a feature of the collection lent by Edward Lovett, of Croxley, in the collection is a doll of the nation, which is only a part of his Folk museum collection.

There are dolls and toys from Lapland, the British Isles, Holland, Spain, France, Germany, Russia, Africa, India and North America.

Now his wife waits patiently at the curb while her husband searches for his wife harnessed to his junk cart. Mrs. Mulcaiki is the wife of a heavy laden cart aroused the sympathy of the town.

DETERMINED TO FORCE ASSOCIATES TO CALL END OF SESSION BEFORE ANY MORE LAWS ARE PASSED.

G. O. P. Members of Congress Determined to Force Associates to Call End of Session Before Any More Laws Are Passed.

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.) Washington, May 23.—Determined not to transact any business except that of a routine nature until the condition of affairs in the house will permit of final adjournment, the senate Republican leaders today instituted an effective filibuster against all pending measures. Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island and other Republicans refuse all "unanimous consents," when the measure involved appears to have the slightest chance of passing.

Senator Foraker of Ohio made an unsuccessful attempt to secure the reading in the open senate of the president's letter to Senator Smith of Michigan, in which the president said he would veto the Foraker bill for the reinstatement of the negro officers alleged to be involved in the Brownsville raid. He declared that the matter was of a serious nature and that the senate should take notice of an attempt on the part of the president to dictate to congress.

Mr. Smith, he said, was in the chamber and providing the president had the opportunity to present the letter if he desired, and the senate should take official notice of it.

Senator Clapp of Minnesota held that a letter to a senator was not to be discussed, and should not be discussed. The Republican majority resulted in several acrimonious debates.

Senator Owen of Oklahoma endeavored to submit the amendment providing for the election of senators by direct vote, but on motion of Senator Hale it was referred to the committee on privileges and elections by a vote of 23 to 20.

During the debate on Senator Hale's bill the legislatures of a majority of the states favored the amendment, whereas Mr. Hale asked why it was that the senate had not favored such a resolution.

"Because it takes such an unusual effort to get anything through here," said Mr. Owen.

WIFE TAKES HORSE'S PLACE ON JUNK CART

Harnessed for Her Toil, She Drags a Heavy Load Through Streets.

Evanston, Ill., May 23.—Substituting his wife for the horse which he had lost, Frank Mulcaiki, a junk dealer of this city, appeared in the streets today with his wife harnessed to his junk cart.

The woman was harnessed to the cart as if she had been a horse, with the exception that she was guided by her shoulder straps instead of a bit. She responded promptly to her husband's cries of "whoa" and "giddyap" and she didn't seem to mind the attention which she attracted.

BOOSTER NUMBER IN LECTURE SERIES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Albany, Or., May 23.—Bury I. Dasant of the Albany Commercial club yesterday addressed the students of Albany college on the subject of advertising a community. This was one of the regular series of special addresses that have been delivered to the pupils at regular intervals and was received with much enthusiasm.

RIPARIA YARD MASTER DIES UNDER WHEELS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Walla Walla, Wash., May 23.—James Leake, yardmaster at Riparia, while standing on the steps of a caboose on his way to Granite City, either fell or was knocked backward by the wheels and was so badly injured that he died while being rushed to Walla Walla on a special train this afternoon. Little is known of Leake, except that he recently came from New York.
