GALLOWS STARES CLUBMAN IN FACE

Wealthy New Yorker on Trial for Killing Cabman During Spree.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, May 25.—Gaston P. Philip, a wealthy young clubman of New York and Washington, was today placed on trial before Justice Barnard in criminal court No. 2 to answer an indictment for first degree murder. Philip is alleged to have shot to death Frank Macaboy, a cab driver, in the Arlington hotel a year ago. The alleged crime occurred during the early hours of the morning. During the previous night Philip is said to have been out "seeing the town" under the pilotage of the cab driver.

Both men are said to have been badly under the influence of liquor when they returned to the hotel. A dispute occurred and the shooting of Macaboy followed.

Philip has been at liberty since last July, on a bond of $25,000, furnished by his brother and sisters, and has been residing at Cloverneck, New York. His attorneys intend to interpose a plea of self defense to the allegations of the indictment. They expect to prove that Macaboy had threatened Mr. Philip and when he followed the clubman to his room in the hotel the latter was apprehensive that the threats would be executed and shot to save himself.

WOMAN'S RICHES GO TO HER HIRED MAN'S SON

Jury Approves of Disposition of Miss Eugenia Haskell's Estate.

Brockton, Mass., May 25.—Another chapter in the romance of Miss Eugenia Haskell, once belle in Baltimore and Washington and for a decade prior to her death, two years ago, a recluse on her estate in the village of Rochester, this county, was closed today by a jury deciding that the will under which she left all her property to the son of her hired man was executed when she was in sound mind and that the instrument is valid.

"Miss Eugenia," as she was known, died among her cows one winter morning, and her dead body was found in the barn by neighbors.

Passing through New Bedford one day, Miss Eugenia and her father chanced to see a party of Portuguese immigrants, and among them one Jose Silviera. He was engaged to work at the country place, and remained there for the rest of his life, eventually marrying and having a son, George Silviera, the beneficiary under the will.

A number of relatives objected to the disposition of the property and sought to break the will.

DIVORCE SUIT SEQUEL TO A GUN EPISODE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Pendleton, Or., May 25—As an aftermath of the sensational gun snapping episode on Main street in this city a few days ago, Mrs. Lizzie Price has filed suit for divorce from her husband, T. L. Price, who attempted to shoot Dorsey Green. According to the allegations in the complaint, Price has been cruel and abusive towards the plaintiff for the past 18 months. In part his treatment has consisted, it is alleged, of personal abuse and general jealousy and suspicious actions on the part of the defendant, and it is charged that a short time ago he shot at her with a revolver, but missed her.

It is the intention to give Mrs. Price and her two children shelter at the expense of the county.

SPIRITS DO HIM OUT OF HIS PROPERTY.

David S. White, whose picture here appears, with that of his wife, is a wealthy lumberman of Brooklyn, New York. He has brought suit to regain property he deeded to Henrietta L. Woodhouse, the Spiritualist medium. Mr. White alleges that he deeded the property as a result of instructions from spirits given through Miss Woodhouse.

ONE STAMBULOFF SLAYER IS REAL POLITICAL BRAVO

Sofia, Bulgaria, May 25.—At last one of Stambuloff's murderers has been caught. When on July 15, 1895, the "Bulgarian Bismarck," Prime Minister Stambuloff, was hacked to pieces by political enemies in the streets of Sofia, his widow inclosed his two hands, cruelly amputated by the murderers' swords, in a jar of alcohol and placed this on an altar in her house chapel "to remain on view until the slayers should be brought to justice."

The arrested man has confessed to being a political bravo, whose dagger, bomb or pistol was at the service of anyone paying his price. His name is Tufecktschieff, and he is a near relative of Ludskanoff who was minister of the interior under the premiership of Stambuloff and the latter's secret enemy.

It is charged that Ludskanoff and others hired the man now under arrest to kill Stambuloff. The deed was done with the assistance of several brigands, secured by Tufektschieff, and the murderers escaped by the connivance of the minister of the interior.

The above allegations Tufecktschieff has made after securing immunity for his own act by turning state's evidence.

GEN. M'KENZIE RETIRED TODAY

Chief of Engineers of United States Army Reaches Age Limit.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, May 25.—Brigadier General Alexander McKenzie, chief of engineers of the United States army, was placed on the retired list today on account of age. General McKenzie is a native of Wisconsin, and graduated from the military academy in 1864. He took part in some of the closing engagements of the civil war, and after the end of that conflict was assigned to the engineering corps, and in later years has seen service in many parts of the country.

He has been chief of engineers since 1904, and in that position has been charged with the disbursement of the many millions of dollars appropriated for river and harbor improvements. For many years these expenditures have averaged $50,000,000, and in some recent years have risen as high as $50,000,000. It is an interesting fact that in spite of the enormous amount of money that has been paid out under the supervision of the engineer officers of the army, only one scandal has occurred in this department of the public service since the foundation of the republic. That one was the notorious Carter case.

Captain Carter was convicted by court-martial, dismissed from the army and sentenced to a term of imprisonment at Leavenworth, while Greene and Gaynor, the millionaire contractors who are alleged to have profited by his frauds, are now confined in the federal prison at Atlanta.

OREGON DEBATERS WIN IN SEATTLE

Subject, "That Washington Should Adopt Initiative and Referendum."

Seattle, May 25.—L. B. Smith, F. R. Peters and Leslie W. Humphries of the University of Oregon law school, won the debate at the State university Friday night, defeating M. S. Good, E. W. Allen and O. M. Thomason, the Washington team.

The subject for debate was, "Resolved That Washington Should Adopt the Initiative and Referendum." Oregon had the negative.

W. A. Peters of Seattle presided at the debate. The judges were:

George Reed and J. H. Easterday of Tacoma and James H. Kane of Seattle.

Oregon received two of the three votes of the judges. The contest was close, both teams showing a thorough grasp of the initiative and referendum and presenting their arguments in a direct and convincing manner.

HOT CAMPAIGN BY WASHINGTON DRYS

Union Meeting of Church People to Aid Cause—Special Effort to Carry Two Precincts.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Forest Grove, Or., May 25—The churches of this city held a union meeting last night at the Methodist church in the interests of the local option movement in this county. Addresses were made by H. W. Boyd, pastor of the Congregational church, and by Rev. Gould of the Methodist church.

The prohibitionists of Washington county will not only make strenuous efforts to carry the entire county for local option at the election in June, but they will endeavor to place South Forest Grove and Cornelius precincts in the dry column regardless of the result in the county as a whole.

Cornelius has for years supported several saloons, but the temperance sentiment has been growing there until at this time it is believed that by joining with South Forest Grove, which has a majority of dry voters, local option will carry.

CHORUS GIRLS CAUSE OF SOCIETY DIVORCE

Jude Ready to Sign the Papers Freeing Mrs. "Sam" Patterson From Husband.

Baltimore, May 25.—On the ground that he made chorus girls his favorites and spent most of his time at theatres, Mrs. Bessie A. Patterson, who resides in fashionable apartments in this city during the winter and principally at Blowing Rock and Dixondale, North Carolina, during the summer, will probably be granted a divorce from "Sam" Patterson, one of the directors of the Thistle Mills company in Ilchester, Maryland, and well known in Philadelphia and this city.

The pair separated and it was agreed that the wife was to get $3,000 a year. This is in excess of the amount of alimony Judge James Gorter wishes to allow, although he says the charges are proved. If the pair agree on the money question, the judge stands ready to sign the decree.

The Pattersons were married April 3, 1890, in Charlotte, North Carolina, and have three children, the oldest of whom is 14 years old. Mrs. Patterson testified that various women were implicated in the misdoings of her husband.

SHERIFF LET GO HER FIANCE; SHE SUES HIM

Girl Wants Damages Because Her Jilting Sweetheart Was Released.

Paterson, N. J., May 25.—Miss Marie Antolnotti, a pretty Italian girl of Hoboken, has entered suit against Sheriff Frank J. Van Noort of Passaic county, for $1,000 damages, for his alleged failure to keep Carlo Cerrutti, her former fiance, in jail until he paid the amount of a judgment she secured against him for breach of promise to wed her.

Carlo and the young woman were engaged to be married, but the match was broken off, and she sued him, obtaining a verdict for $438.32 against him.

The sheriff, who, on advice of counsel, released Carlo on a surety bond, to appear when wanted, is ordered to appear in court at Trenton.

GAS CAUSED ILLNESS OF MARY GARDEN

Turned Off as Prima Donna Was in Bed and Then Turned on Again.

Paris, May 25.—When Miss Mary Garden became "suddenly ill" last Monday and was unable to sing in "Thais" that evening, it was not an ordinary case of sore throat or influenza. She confided to a correspondent the real cause of her illness.

"It was gas," she said, "just ordinary illuminating gas, part of which I used for reading and the other part I inhaled. I said nothing about it at the time, not wanting to frighten my parents in New York late at night.

"When I finished reading in bed the gas supply was shut off in the kitchen. Early in the morning before I was due to awake the gas was turned on again. When I regained consciousness my maid and the cook were holding my head out of the window. It was a narrow escape. For two days I had a terrible revival of my recent seasickness. I was not afraid, as I have died many times on the stage. Next week I am moving into a new apartment in the Avenue Malakoff. There will be no gas there."

JOHN MANNING

A DISTRICT ATTORNEY WHO HAS MADE GOOD WITH THE PEOPLE

Mr. Manning's administration of the district attorney's office has been upon the side of law, order and morality. He has treated every one fairly and honestly. He has never allowed his office to be made the tool to further private interests or vent the personal spite of any man or set of men.

His services to the people during the trying bank disasters of last fall are well known, and entitle him to honest public judgment.

After Portland has been a wide open town for more than half a century, he closed the saloons on Sunday, and thus contributed vastly to the purity of public morals. In recognition of his stand for clean government and good morals, Mr. Manning has been indorsed and recommended by the Portland Municipal association.

HARRY LAUDER IN AWKWARD POSITION

Comedian Tries to Buy Off the London Manager for an American Trip.

London, May 25.—Harry Lauder, the Scotch comedian who has arranged to go over again to New York next October, has been placed in a very awkward position.

One of the leading managers of pantomime, Robert Arthur, some time ago secured Mr. Lauder's services for the pantomime of "Cinderella" to be performed at the Theatre Royal, Glasgow, next Christmas. The contract is for $1,000 a week. Mr. Lauder would, of course, have to get back to London for rehearsals, and his season on the other side would have to be a brief one, so last week he went to Mr. Arthur with an unusual offer.

He proposed to hand over $12,500 in cash to Mr. Arthur on condition that the contract for the pantomime should be canceled. Mr. Arthur thought it over a day or two, and then decided to decline the tempting offer. That is how matters stand at present, but the canny Scott still hopes to wriggle out of his contract.

DOG'S BODY SENT 1,000 MILES FOR BURIAL

Owner's Family Meets the Casket and Follows the Funeral to Cemetery.

Long Branch, N. J., May 25.—Exhumed after it had been embalmed the body of "Kaiser," a white fox terrier dog, the property of H. P. Kingsland of New York, reached Long Branch today from St. Augustine, Florida, and was buried with ceremony in the Kingsland dog cemetery in Ocean township, near Elberon.

The dog was sent south last winter for its health. At St. Augustine it was treated by a specialist.

The body of the dog was met in New York by Mr. and Mrs. Kingsland, who accompanied it to the Kingsland estate, where the interment took place under the direction of a local undertaker.

Already two headstones have been reared to dogs which died several years ago. Another one will be built to the memory of "Kaiser."

PAPA LO CALLS OFF A SOCIETY STUNT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Pendleton, Or., May 25—Mounted on a vari-colored cayuse, two young Indian maidens of the Umatilla tribe started a few days ago for an overland trip to Lewiston, Idaho, to visit relatives. They got as far as Dayton, Washington, when they were intercepted at the instance of Indian Agent McFatridge of the Umatilla reservation and they have just returned home. The young girls were plentifully supplied with clothing and provisions, the only shortage having been in traveling accommodations, as the little cayuse was scarcely able to carry his load of freight. The father of one of the girls complained to the agent, and they were soon returned.
