RECEIVER SALE!

Memorial Day Saturday May 30th

FRIDAY WILL, OF COURSE, BE THE BIG SHOPPING DAY

DECORATION DAY has always stirred up my patriotic spirit. It is the day we all pay tribute to the loyal patriots long since passed away who so nobly defended the grand old flag and nation and died to free the oppressed. We are now a free nation, not obligated to any one set of men—free to go where we choose, do as we please, live as we like, buy wherever we can do best. LONG LIVE LIBERTY. This is my FIRST and perhaps LAST MEMORIAL DAY selling clothing, as I have no desire to become a merchant, and now that I have an opportunity to do something for my friends that want clothing I am going to make this Memorial Day the greatest and best of all yet. Bear in mind that other merchants cannot afford to cut prices, as they are in business to make profits. I have no desire to make profits, all I want is to sell goods no matter as to how much I lose. I am living up to the letter of the law laid down by my superiors (the creditors). I will give you $2 worth of goods for every $1 you spend with me.

HOLDS MILITARY LAW TOO HARSH

Correspondent Thinks Buwolda Case Strange Happening in Free Country.

Wilsonville, Or., May 28.—To the Editor of The Journal—It is the custom of persons to fly to the papers to praise or to damn. Just now I feel like damning a great deal. Under the head lines, "Soldier a Victim of Anarchism," I see that General Funston is in Portland, and that he says "William Buwolda, the private of the Presidio, who has just been sentenced to three years in prison for shaking hands with the anarchist."

COFFEE

A middling steak and first-rate coffee are better than middling coffee and first-rate steak. Consider the cost.

Your grocery returns your money if you don't like Schilling's Best; we pay him.

Emma Goldman, is lucky not to have been given 15 years for his crime." One of the reasons given for Buwolda's extraordinary good luck is that "only the oldest man in the Presidio served—the officers were none of them beneath the rank of captain." If a jury of captains gives a man a sentence of five years, how many years would a jury of generals give him? And such a crime, too! A man shakes hands with a woman, he applauds her remarks—goes to prison for five years, less two by the grace of the brave Funston. The general could not have made a mistake. Everything must be just as right as a liberty loving people and a standing army can make it, for the general sums up the evidence for us that we, too, may see the enormity of the crime.

"Thoughts Applauding Permissible." I have always been under the delusion that in this country a man could listen to what he pleased, applaud when he pleased, think what he pleased and shake hands with whom he pleased—if the person will let him. It seems as though Buwolda and I are both mistaken. All my neighbors confess they were mistaken. Now my neighbors and myself are not anarchists if we know it. Some of us are Republicans, some are Democrats, and some are both. We know nothing of anarchy, either theoretically or bomb throwing, but we do know what constitutes fair play and free speech. Whether Emma Goldman is good or bad, whether the assassin of McKinley was an anarchist or a Republican, makes no difference in this question. If Emma Goldman is not permitted to speak, Bryan may be stopped also. If a man can be sent to jail for appointing Miss Goldman he can just as logically be sent to jail for applauding Tillman or Roosevelt.

velt. For let us remember Buwolda was not sent to jail for anything he did against good morals, good law or the peace of the country, but solely for what the court thought he (Buwolda) thought. It is hardly conceivable at this time that any civil court could or would act as this court of military officers has acted in this case. But it is passing strange that in the same country, under one constitution we have two governments with different standards. The one, military, curbs free speech, and even punishes free thinking when it is possible. The other, civil, is supposed to protect a man in his right to life, liberty, free speech and untrammelled thought. The military branch is of very small caliber, generally speaking. This is made evident by Funston's boast that no officer under the rank of captain sat on the case of Buwolda. A sheep would have the same chance before a jury of hungry wolves. But I doubt if there is a coyote as bereft of a sense of justice as to boast that the sheep had a fair trial because of the wolf jury.

"Victim of Anarchism." Indeed! Which anarchism, military or Goldman? Of all the anarchisms I have heard of, this one by Funston takes the cake. So General Funston is in Portland. Perhaps he is after C. B. Wood, for he has lately dared to say something in favor of free speech—and Emma Goldman was in town at the time. May his visits be few and far between. FRANK CRONER.

CAKE WAS HERE; CAKE WAS THERE

Now Newport Doesn't Really Know Just Where He Is.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Newport, Or., May 28.—The political situation in Lincoln county appears liable to undergo a sudden change, so far as the senatorial election is concerned. Cake has never been popular here, but the regular Republicans to a great extent at least accepted him in view of the fact that he is his party's nominee. But evidence has come to light within the last few days which seems to point to Cake's having given his Lincoln county supporters the double cross, and as a consequence they are thoroughly disgusted. Tonight several of the Republican county leaders stated frankly that unless Cake came through with an immediate explanation of some of his strange actions they would feel obliged to support Chamberlain.

he has an arrangement with Cake, and letters to prove it, to the effect that after the election he will cease to be a Democrat and return to the Republican fold. Cake will then make him a member of the Republican state central committee, which will give him and his business partner, Frank Baker, and R. A. Bessell control of the situation in this county. When this came out yesterday and today there was consternation in the stalwart Republican ranks. A number of the most prominent Republicans of the county got together and talked the matter over and decided that if Keady's statements proved to be true they would have to throw Cake over and give their support to Chamberlain, who is personally very popular in the county. They feel that Cake has not treated them fairly. However, they are disappointed as yet to give him a chance to explain. If he does not deny Keady's claims and convince them that he will support them as Republicans, he will be politically dead in Lincoln county. In the southern end of the county particularly, and especially in Waldport, Chamberlain is everything is Chamberlain. Nobody has a good word to say for Cake, and unless his standing is a good deal surer in other parts of the county he will not get enough votes to satisfy a Prohibitionist.

HEARST DODGES PROCESS SERVER

On Way to Europe to Avoid Giving Testimony in Recount Case.

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, May 28.—After dodging a process server by going aboard the Lusitania at 4 o'clock this morning, William Randolph Hearst is now bound for Europe to avoid giving testimony in the famous recount case which is now in progress, thus upsetting the plans of Mayor McClellan. It had been the intention of the mayor's lawyers to put the editor on the stand at the hearing. They obtained a subpoena for him and placed it in the hands of a server who camped on the doorstep of the Hearst home all Tuesday night, as it had been announced that on that night an important meeting of the Independence League would be held there. Hearst heard of the mayor's plans, and at 4 o'clock in the morning quietly left through a rear door and boarded the ocean liner. He was well out to sea when the tired and sleepy subpoena server learned that he held the bag but no game. The recount has shown so far that 27 votes were illegally counted in the first two boxes, reducing McClellan's plurality of 3,547 to 3,420. Chamberlain Rally. Come and hear Chamberlain at Empire theatre tonight.

JOHN MANNING A MAN OF THE PEOPLE.

John Manning should be reelected to the office of district attorney for this county. His administration has been honest. Aside from this, his magnificent service to the thousands of people affected by the calamitous bank disaster of last fall commends him with added force as an executive of sterling integrity and large capacity. It cannot be denied that his efforts in securing the depositors from the loss of their money and in directing the prosecution of the officials who wrecked the Title Guarantee & Trust company, stamp him as a man who has at heart the interests of his constituents, and the determination that the laws shall be enforced, regardless of who may be hit or hurt, or the station the guilty may occupy.
