

PORTLAND REVERENTLY RECEIVES PARADE OF GRAY-HAIRED VETERANS

Employment of Non-Union Band Forces Members of Second Oregon to March By Themselves—Services on the Plaza Block.

With a parade that was witnessed by thousands of people on the downtown streets, and patriotic exercises that were cheered by other thousands at the city plaza yesterday afternoon, the observance of another Memorial day has passed into the annals of the G. A. R. and of the Spanish War Veterans of Portland.

As the dedicated ranks of the men who fought for the preservation of the union passed through the streets there were outbursts of applause that told the grizzled veterans of the regiments in which they are held—the day's tribute to the living on the day dedicated to the memory of the dead.

There was applause also for the men of more sprightly step who marched in the division of Spanish war veterans—men for the most part who participated in the campaigns in the Philippines as members of the Oregon volunteers.

The crowd likewise noted the fine appearance of the six companies of the Third regiment of the Oregon National Guard, who acted as escort for the band.

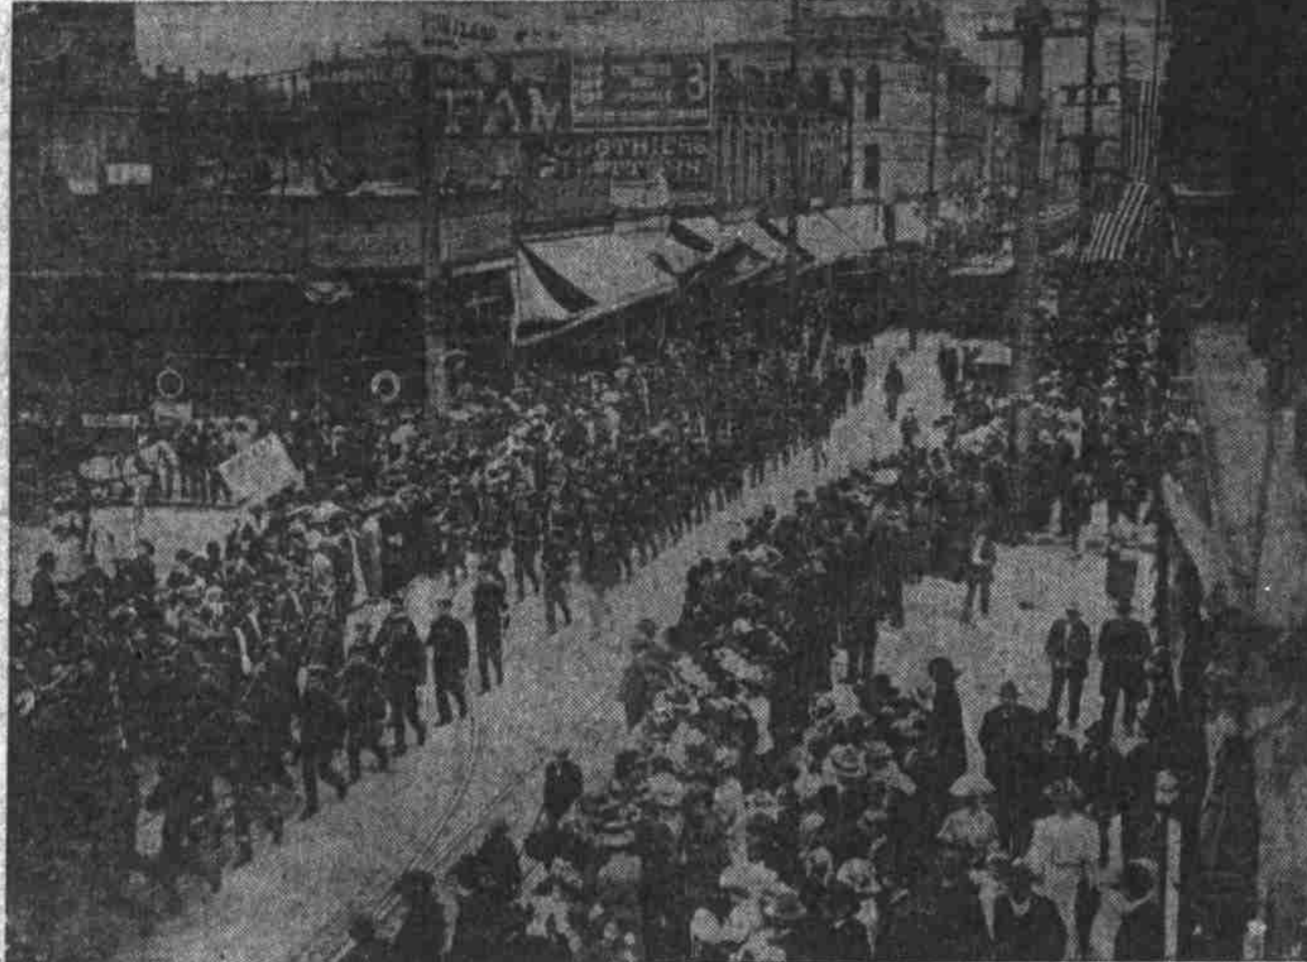

Guardmen Receive Veterans.
Marching four abreast, about 250 veterans stepped into the line that formed at Second and Morrison streets for the march. The route was not long, but it was too long for many, who either rode behind the marchers in carriages or went to the scene of the exercises at their leisure.

The parade was headed by Captain Moore and 14 members of the police force, marching from curb to curb, followed in order by Tomlinson's band and the National Guard. As the column swung up Fourth street to the plaza, the National Guard stood at present arms while the civil war veterans filed in front of them into the plaza.

The Spanish War Veterans, led by Commander Seneca Fouts, formed a separate division and took an independent line of march, that criss-crossed the route of the main parade. This apparently eccentric course resulted from an unfortunate controversy over the bands. The veterans of the Spanish unpleasantness had engaged the artillery band from Vancouver barracks to head their line. As the parade was forming the president of the Musicians' union appeared and objected to the presence of a non-union band, contrary to the rules of the union.

'88 Vets Parade Alone.
It is stated that the artillery band joined in the parade without pay, and the Spanish vets were indignant, refusing to give up the band. On the other hand, the union leader threatened to withdraw the music from the main parade if the artillery band fell into line. In the end the Spanish veterans decided to take their own line of march and have a parade of their own. This course was somewhat mysterious to the crowd, who did not understand the fact that the Spanish veterans were maneuvering alone.

At the plaza the exercises of the G. A. R. were held at the south end of the park, the Spanish war fighters assembling at the monument erected to the memory of their dead at the north. Rev. H. A. Barden, department chaplain, opened the G. A. R. ceremony with prayer, the ritual of the G. A. R. and the Women's Relief corps following. Lincoln's immortal address at Gettysburg was read by W. M. Rasmussen, commander G. E. Calkin, who presided, then introduced Rev. Benjamin Young, pastor of the Taylor Street M. E. church, who delivered the address of the afternoon. His address made the hit of the day, the speaker being repeatedly applauded as he gave a brief resume of the antagonism of north and south, paid tribute to the military commanders and statesmen of the north, and exhorted his hearers to be worthy of the heritage they have received from the men who fought for the perpetuity of the union.

Section of Parade in Which the Oregon National Guard Took Part.

Moderns Match Ancients.
Linking the names of Washington, Lincoln and McKinley, the speaker declared that the history of the past cannot show greater leaders. The boasted prowess of the Greeks and the Romans, Charlemagne, Wellington, Napoleon—all of these, he declared, are matched by our Washington, Hooker, Sherman, Sheridan, Grant and other leaders of the civil war.

Rev. Young told the story of horses that were in the battle of Waterloo and years afterward, in a storm, kept time with their hoofs to the roar of nature's artillery, which inspired them with the battle spirit. So said the speaker, "if Hobson's prediction of war comes true, and we engage in deadly conflict again, the alacrity of the old men will inspire the younger men with an unbounded enthusiasm."

Only once did the speaker refer to issues that confront the nation today. This was when he declared that the nation needs the old men of the guard—men who will see that the priceless boon for which they fought and the liberty they cherish shall not perish by the concentration of wealth. This sentiment was roundly applauded, as was his declaration denouncing the spirit of anarchy.

Committed by Sacrifice.
Mr. Young told of a visit he paid to the battlefield of Chickamauga and the emotions which filled him as he viewed the field of carnage and tried to count the loss. "The great struggle was worth the awful cost," he declared, "for God sometimes takes this means of strengthening a nation, cementing it by sacrifice."

The speaker touched briefly on the tendencies of the earlier statesmen, the schools represented by Calhoun and Haynes on one side, and by Clay, Webster and Jackson on the other. Jackson's toast, "The union—it must and it shall be preserved," was admitted as being worth more to the nation than all the state papers that could have been written.

The R. exercises were concluded by a song and the pronouncing of the benediction by Chaplain Barden.

What Oregon Volunteers Did.
Meaning the Spanish war veterans were carrying on exercises that attracted a crowd of almost equal size at the base of the soldiers' monument in the city. The exercises were conducted by the orator of the day was Chaplain W. S. Gilbert of Astoria, formerly pastor of the Cavalry Presbyterian church in Portland. In eloquent terms he referred to the service of Oregon volunteers in the Philippines, they being the first to arrive in a full list of the stars and stripes at Manila in place of the flag of Spain. He spoke feelingly of several of the volunteers who lost their lives in the far-off islands and urged that the patriotic memory of such achievements be kept alive each memorial day.

Commander Seneca Fouts of the local camp acted as chairman of the exercises and in opening the exercises delivered a short address on the value of the day and the lesson it teaches. Comrade Jay H. Upton acted as chaplain of the day, because of Chaplain Gilbert's service in another capacity.

What Oregon Volunteers Did.
Meaning the Spanish war veterans were carrying on exercises that attracted a crowd of almost equal size at the base of the soldiers' monument in the city. The exercises were conducted by the orator of the day was Chaplain W. S. Gilbert of Astoria, formerly pastor of the Cavalry Presbyterian church in Portland. In eloquent terms he referred to the service of Oregon volunteers in the Philippines, they being the first to arrive in a full list of the stars and stripes at Manila in place of the flag of Spain. He spoke feelingly of several of the volunteers who lost their lives in the far-off islands and urged that the patriotic memory of such achievements be kept alive each memorial day.

Commander Seneca Fouts of the local camp acted as chairman of the exercises and in opening the exercises delivered a short address on the value of the day and the lesson it teaches. Comrade Jay H. Upton acted as chaplain of the day, because of Chaplain Gilbert's service in another capacity.

What Oregon Volunteers Did.
Meaning the Spanish war veterans were carrying on exercises that attracted a crowd of almost equal size at the base of the soldiers' monument in the city. The exercises were conducted by the orator of the day was Chaplain W. S. Gilbert of Astoria, formerly pastor of the Cavalry Presbyterian church in Portland. In eloquent terms he referred to the service of Oregon volunteers in the Philippines, they being the first to arrive in a full list of the stars and stripes at Manila in place of the flag of Spain. He spoke feelingly of several of the volunteers who lost their lives in the far-off islands and urged that the patriotic memory of such achievements be kept alive each memorial day.

Commander Seneca Fouts of the local camp acted as chairman of the exercises and in opening the exercises delivered a short address on the value of the day and the lesson it teaches. Comrade Jay H. Upton acted as chaplain of the day, because of Chaplain Gilbert's service in another capacity.

What Oregon Volunteers Did.
Meaning the Spanish war veterans were carrying on exercises that attracted a crowd of almost equal size at the base of the soldiers' monument in the city. The exercises were conducted by the orator of the day was Chaplain W. S. Gilbert of Astoria, formerly pastor of the Cavalry Presbyterian church in Portland. In eloquent terms he referred to the service of Oregon volunteers in the Philippines, they being the first to arrive in a full list of the stars and stripes at Manila in place of the flag of Spain. He spoke feelingly of several of the volunteers who lost their lives in the far-off islands and urged that the patriotic memory of such achievements be kept alive each memorial day.

Commander Seneca Fouts of the local camp acted as chairman of the exercises and in opening the exercises delivered a short address on the value of the day and the lesson it teaches. Comrade Jay H. Upton acted as chaplain of the day, because of Chaplain Gilbert's service in another capacity.

What Oregon Volunteers Did.
Meaning the Spanish war veterans were carrying on exercises that attracted a crowd of almost equal size at the base of the soldiers' monument in the city. The exercises were conducted by the orator of the day was Chaplain W. S. Gilbert of Astoria, formerly pastor of the Cavalry Presbyterian church in Portland. In eloquent terms he referred to the service of Oregon volunteers in the Philippines, they being the first to arrive in a full list of the stars and stripes at Manila in place of the flag of Spain. He spoke feelingly of several of the volunteers who lost their lives in the far-off islands and urged that the patriotic memory of such achievements be kept alive each memorial day.

land & Seattle railway cut will be taken up. Approximately $218,500 of the total appropriation will be made for electric Water Power & Railway division of the system. The new Clackamas river bridge now under construction will be completed, and new feed wires will be built for the Oregon City and Mount Scott lines, a new club house will be built at the station for O. W. P. conductors and motormen.

Clubhouse for Garzern.
This club house will be one of the most modern in the country. The structure will include a new car barn, and will cover ground 400x800 feet. It will furnish the employees with a meeting place and recreation resort high class in character and containing every convenience.

One of the most important improvements in the O. W. P. division is a new freight house, to be built one block south of the present freight house at the east end of the Madison street bridge. The new structure will be 200x35 feet in dimensions, and planned along the lines of architecture of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle railroad company's new freight houses in North Portland. It will have rolling steel doors, and modern appliances for handling freight. It will be built on fronting on the docks at this point, and have the advantage of river transportation connections.

Double Track Through Yards.
The new passenger track now being built for the O. W. P. cars through the Inman-Foulson lumber yards to Hawthorne avenue will be made a double track, giving clear right of way at all times through the O. W. P. freight yards for Oregon City, Casadero, and Oaks passenger cars.

Half a mile of track on Hawthorne and Berkeley avenues will be reconstructed, and extensions will be made on Berkeley along Hawthorne avenue to the Section Line road. A portion of the Mount Scott line will be double-tracked. The Brooklyn trestle on the Sellwood line will be filled.

Improve Electric Lights.
A very large amount, estimated at $445,000, will be devoted to improvement of the electric lighting and power system of the Portland General Electric department, the result of which will be important betterment throughout the city. General street fixtures will be put in for Portland district lighting and power system. A lighting system will be put in for Gresham. A new sub-station will be put in at Northern Hill, near St. Johns.

Salmon and Oregon City.
At Oregon City the wires will be removed from their present positions on Main street and placed in less conspicuous places.

The Salmon streetcar and lighting plants have been included in the budget to the extent of $185,000. The Mill creek trestle so long in controversy will be built. Tracks will be rebuilt on State and Commercial streets, and paving laid. New cars will be placed in service, line extensions will be made for electric light customers and meters will be put in. The proposed new gas plant will be built with this amount of immediate improvements. Salem's streetcar and lighting service will be greatly improved.

CONFERENCE REPORT
(Continued from Page One.)
time Senators La Follette and Stone came into the chamber in response to the ringing of the call bells. Both were surprised at the turn of proceedings. It developed later that Mr. Stone had an agreement with Mr. Gore to receive him at 3 p. m. It was not quite five when the roll call began. Mr. La Follette voted in the negative but a few moments later changed to the affirmative side in order that he might under the rules move a reconsideration of this proposal.

Mr. Aldrich then moved to reconsider the vote by which the report had been adopted, whereupon Mr. Foraker immediately moved to lay Mr. Aldrich's motion on the table. Before this motion could be moved Mr. La Follette appealed to the chair, claiming that Mr. Aldrich had been out of the chamber in his regular place when he addressed the chair. The galleries applauded. Mr. Hale moved an appeal on the adoption of Mr. Aldrich's motion to reconsider the vote on the conference report was then adopted by a vote of 47 to 17.

This ended the contest.
Mr. La Follette is very angry tonight at the unexpected victory of the Republican leaders. He believes that the fault lies in the failure of Mr. Gore to keep his compact with Mr. Stone to speak until 3 p. m.

Fearing that all opportunities for future filibustering of such vital measures as the famous Force bill, which was for the purpose of compelling the enfranchisement of the negroes in the southern states, the Republicans brought every argument to bear on members to desert La Follette. In the end both Senators Gore and Stone asserted they would stand by the Wisconsin Republican. After the Republican coup, made possible by the alleged misunderstanding between Stone and Gore, as to how long the latter was to speak, both of these senators stoutly asserted that they did not mean to desert.

Force Bill Makes Progress.
The effort, however, was made by Mr. Gore who is blind, to discover whether or not Stone was in the chamber and ready to continue speaking until La Follette arrived. Under the present rules the minority of the senate standing together can easily defeat any legislation objectionable to them. The Democrats prefer not to put this condition to the test and thereby endanger their present rights except in matters of the gravest importance to them. It was by thus standing together under the leadership of the late Senator Gorman of Maryland that the Democrats defeated the force bill. Their filibuster was successfully conducted tactically through an entire session of congress. None of the Democrats, including Stone and Gore, will admit that anything but a misunderstanding existed. La Follette will make no statement about the matter.

With the current bill out of the way, the senate and house entered with zest on the work of the closing hours. The bill on the building bill, the general efficiency bill and the general efficiency bill all passed smoothly through well-oiled grooves and went to President Roosevelt for his signature. The passage of these bills was the opportunity for Chairman Tawney of the Appropriations committee to defend the republican party for its expenditures and an attack on the majority for extravagance by Representative Fitzgerald of New York.

Would Close Printing Office.
Earlier in the day, Mr. Tawney issued a statement warning congress that if the efficiency bill, he deflated upon tonight the government printing office would have to close, throwing several thousand out of employment, and the printing office would be transferred to the great hardship of the old pensioners. He sharply criticized the filibustering of Senator La Follette and the Democratic delay tactics in the house which had delayed legislation and threatened the country with disaster.

The bill was signed tonight by President Roosevelt. The last bill to pass during this session was the general efficiency bill, which is to be transferred to the treasury library to the libraries of the life saving stations such books and publications no longer in use to the department, but which will be of use to members of the life saving crews in the event of a disaster.

The president signed the government "employers' liability" bill granting compensation to the employees in the government service tonight. The act grants one year's salary to the injured man or woman and the same amount to their families in case of death.

the leadership of the late Senator Gorman of Maryland that the Democrats defeated the force bill. Their filibuster was successfully conducted tactically through an entire session of congress. None of the Democrats, including Stone and Gore, will admit that anything but a misunderstanding existed. La Follette will make no statement about the matter.

With the current bill out of the way, the senate and house entered with zest on the work of the closing hours. The bill on the building bill, the general efficiency bill and the general efficiency bill all passed smoothly through well-oiled grooves and went to President Roosevelt for his signature. The passage of these bills was the opportunity for Chairman Tawney of the Appropriations committee to defend the republican party for its expenditures and an attack on the majority for extravagance by Representative Fitzgerald of New York.

Would Close Printing Office.
Earlier in the day, Mr. Tawney issued a statement warning congress that if the efficiency bill, he deflated upon tonight the government printing office would have to close, throwing several thousand out of employment, and the printing office would be transferred to the great hardship of the old pensioners. He sharply criticized the filibustering of Senator La Follette and the Democratic delay tactics in the house which had delayed legislation and threatened the country with disaster.

The bill was signed tonight by President Roosevelt. The last bill to pass during this session was the general efficiency bill, which is to be transferred to the treasury library to the libraries of the life saving stations such books and publications no longer in use to the department, but which will be of use to members of the life saving crews in the event of a disaster.

The president signed the government "employers' liability" bill granting compensation to the employees in the government service tonight. The act grants one year's salary to the injured man or woman and the same amount to their families in case of death.

meeting next Tuesday. The union has grown so rapidly that the officers and members don't know one another so how to when they run across one another coming out of a matinee, and so next Tuesday is going to be members' day at headquarters, 122 East Twenty-third street. Tea and instruction will be served in the afternoon and in the evening there will be a special reception for the new members, and any other men who wish to see the light and will not disturb the conversation of members. The receptions will be continued on successive Tuesday evenings until further notice.

Twelve cups and saucers have been donated by a friend of the union, and Mrs. Sophie Loshinger of 32 Edgemoor terrace, who has just been made a member of the executive board, is getting up a raffie for five dollar gold pieces, the profits of which are to go to the general fund.

In view of this increasing prosperity it has been decided that a selected delegation in as many yellow motor cars as can be obtained will on Saturday night make a descent upon the lower east side.

The goal is the working girl, who is to be won over to the "cause" in large numbers.

Mrs. Wells is also arranging for a series of simultaneous open air meetings in different portions of the city. By means of these and the Tuesday evening talks to men she is confident that the suffragette educational campaign will make rapid strides.

meeting next Tuesday. The union has grown so rapidly that the officers and members don't know one another so how to when they run across one another coming out of a matinee, and so next Tuesday is going to be members' day at headquarters, 122 East Twenty-third street. Tea and instruction will be served in the afternoon and in the evening there will be a special reception for the new members, and any other men who wish to see the light and will not disturb the conversation of members. The receptions will be continued on successive Tuesday evenings until further notice.

Twelve cups and saucers have been donated by a friend of the union, and Mrs. Sophie Loshinger of 32 Edgemoor terrace, who has just been made a member of the executive board, is getting up a raffie for five dollar gold pieces, the profits of which are to go to the general fund.

In view of this increasing prosperity it has been decided that a selected delegation in as many yellow motor cars as can be obtained will on Saturday night make a descent upon the lower east side.

The goal is the working girl, who is to be won over to the "cause" in large numbers.

Mrs. Wells is also arranging for a series of simultaneous open air meetings in different portions of the city. By means of these and the Tuesday evening talks to men she is confident that the suffragette educational campaign will make rapid strides.

ELECTRO DENTAL PARLORS

"ELECTRO PAINLESS SYSTEM"

"No More Fear of the Dental Chair" — "Nor a High Dental Bill"
Having fitted up our offices with the most modern appliances we are now doing dental work at half what one usually pays for first-class work.

Full Set Teeth that fit... $5.00 Bridge Teeth$3.50
Gold Crowns, 22-k. $3.50 Gold Fillings$1.00
Silver Fillings 50c

EXTRACTION FREE
when plates or bridge work are ordered. With the latest equipment, both mechanical and electrical, we are now able to do all kinds of scientific dental work.

A 12-year guarantee with all work. We do strictly as we advertise. Bank references.
Open evenings and Sundays.

The ELECTRO DENTAL PARLORS
303 1/2 WASHINGTON STREET, COR. FIFTH
E. AUSPLUND, D. D. S., Mgr.

WILL SPEND $1,200,000

(Continued from Page One.)
East Fifteenth street and East Twenty-second street lines.
Loop at St. Johns Line.
A new loop on the St. Johns line will be built, permitting of the most convenient and rapid operation of cars on this line. The loop will leave the main line at Wall street and run northerly, crossing the Spokane, Portland & Seattle cut on a steel bridge, and connect with the present line at a point near Columbia boulevard. The present line running along the Spokane, Port-

District Attorney MANNING

In recognition of his past and future policy, District Attorney Manning has been given the endorsement of the Portland Municipal Association in the following frank, official letter:

Portland, Oregon, May 23, 1908.
John Manning, Esq., District Attorney, Fourth Judicial District, Portland, Oregon.
Dear Sir:—In reply to your inquiry concerning our attitude towards your candidacy for District Attorney, we will say frankly that we were disappointed with your administration of the office during the first part of your term, but we heartily approve of and commend you for your conduct of the office during the past year.
Your declared future policy is in harmony with our views, and we commend you to the voters of Multnomah County, and hope that you may be re-elected.
Very sincerely,
THE PORTLAND MUNICIPAL ASSOCIATION,
SAMUEL CONNELL,
O. P. M. JAMISON,
H. W. STONE,
Committee.

PRESBYTERIANS END ASSEMBLY

Congratulated Roosevelt for Efforts Towards Arbitration of Nations.

(Herald News by Longest Leased Wire.)
Kansas City, Mo., May 30.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States adjourned at noon today. The last and most important duty of the week was the appointment of an executive committee, which is to supervise the work of the eight boards constituting the government of the church. This is the commission of the church.

One-year class—Ministers, S. M. Fullerton, St. Louis; Joseph Weaver, Denver; J. E. Bushnell, Minneapolis; Elders, John W. Foster, Washington, D. C.; H. B. McCormick, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.
Two years—Ministers, S. M. Templeton, Texas; Robert Watson, Cincinnati; Elders, J. H. Cleveland, Edgewood, Bulky, New Jersey.
Three years—Ministers, J. D. Moffatt, New York; W. H. Black, Missouri; W. H. Hubbard, New York; Elders, John W. Baer, California; Judge J. M. Gant, Tennessee.

The moderator of the assembly will preside over the meetings of the commissions and the stated clerk will be its secretary, but neither will have a vote on any question. No paid agent or officer or a member of any church board or any permanent officer of the assembly may be a member of the commission except the moderator and the clerk, who as related, have no votes.

A committee was appointed to prepare a catechism to contain the same language practically as that now used, to be shorter and simpler to use, particularly in the home and in the Sabbath schools, but not to displace the present catechism in the church's articles of faith.

This business had been disposed of by the assembly vote, to the satisfaction of the president of the United States for his efforts in behalf of arbitration of the nations of the earth.

The committee on catechism is: Ministers, J. G. McClure, Chicago; Harry Van Dyke, Princeton; D. S. Schaefer, Alhambra, California; Elders, J. H. Stephens, Lebanon, Tennessee; William McKibbin, Cincinnati; A. L. Haynes, Indianapolis; Elders, R. E. Prime, New York; P. E. Howard, Philadelphia; W. M. Lanning, Trenton, New Jersey.

SUFFRAGETTE SOAP.

From the New York Sun.
Believing that cleanliness is next to a proper mental attitude, the Progressive Woman Suffrage union will in partnership with a converted chemist launch upon the market in the near future a new brand of soap.
It is to have impressed in large letters on each cake the alliterative phrase "Suffragette Soap" and is to be scented with a composite perfume formed from violets, attar of roses, lilies of the valley, essences of ylang-ylang, geranium, heliotrope, ylang-ylang, du Barry and musk. The wrapper is to be yellow and inscribed with the suffragette slogan, "Votes for Women." In each package, moreover, there will be a pamphlet setting forth all the reasons why men shouldn't monopolize the ballot.

Will it float?
Well, just ask Mrs. Borrman Wells and Mrs. Lydia H. Commander and Miss Harry Coleman, the corporation attorney, and above all the chemist.
Mrs. Borrman Wells announced last night that there would be no open air

ROSE FESTIVAL VISITORS

Some of our festival visitors will desire to purchase pianos. We invite you to make our store your headquarters while in the city. Meet your friends here, have your mail sent in our care. Our Victor Talking Machine parlors are at your disposal. We also have the largest line of dependable pianos carried by any one house in the west.

Famous Pianos

Read the names below; names that are household names throughout America: Steinway, Everett, A. B. Chase, Packard, Conover, Estey, Ludwig, Kingsbury, Emerson, Wellington and Kurtzman; also Estey and Chicago Cottage Organs.

A SPLENDID VALUE

Slightly used upright only.....$238
Used Steinway Upright, splendid tone; used 10 years.....$450

The Steinway lasts a lifetime; come in and hear this piano; its tone is beautiful.

Sherman Clay & Co.

SIXTH AND MORRISON, OPPOSITE POSTOFFICE

meeting next Tuesday. The union has grown so rapidly that the officers and members don't know one another so how to when they run across one another coming out of a matinee, and so next Tuesday is going to be members' day at headquarters, 122 East Twenty-third street. Tea and instruction will be served in the afternoon and in the evening there will be a special reception for the new members, and any other men who wish to see the light and will not disturb the conversation of members. The receptions will be continued on successive Tuesday evenings until further notice.

Twelve cups and saucers have been donated by a friend of the union, and Mrs. Sophie Loshinger of 32 Edgemoor terrace, who has just been made a mem-