SENTENCES SERVED OUT

Pardons Generally Given Afterwards to Restore Citizenship—Signers of Petitions Incensed at Effort to Injure Governor.

In his attacks upon Governor Chamberlain for his reform of the state penitentiary and the use of his pardoning power, the evening edition of the Oregonian overlooked a pardon granted by the governor 10 days ago, and one which he himself calls attention to.

"As long as publicity has been given my work, I want it to be complete," said Governor Chamberlain last night. "I can help the Telegram in its efforts by mentioning another pardon granted a week or so ago. The man is Frank McCann who for nearly a year has been superintendent of a mine down in California.

Full Time Served.

"McCann's full sentence was served. This has been the case in almost one fourth of the pardons which have been granted during my term of office. A pardon does not necessarily mean that a convict is released before his sentence expires, but after the completion of his time, under the law, a pardon is necessary to restore him to citizenship, that is, to give him the same right to vote and do other things as the ordinary citizen. This after he has paid the full penalty of the law.

"Pardons of this kind have been the rule in nearly one fourth of the entire list published by the Telegram and for which I have been censured.

"McCann was convicted for assault with a dangerous weapon. His term expired June 19, 1907, nearly a year ago. Prior to the expiration of his sentence I declined to issue a pardon releasing him, although the petitions were signed by Senator Stewart of Nevada, the late Senator Mitchell of Oregon and many other prominent California, Oregon and Nevada citizens.

Restored to Citizenship.

"Ten days ago, nearly a year after he had served his full time, I granted him a pardon. The pardon simply restored him to citizenship. Before he received it he could not file on a mining claim or a homestead and was barred from many other privileges. The pardon annulled these difficulties and was issued because he was with his wife and family, filled a responsible and trusted position and was living an honest and upright life.

"McCann's case is no different from 60 more which have been granted to restore men who have served their time to full citizenship again."

Every pardon which Governor Chamberlain has granted during his term of office has been signed by from 10 to 500 citizens. In many cases, says the governor, these petitions have borne the signatures of the district attorney who prosecuted and the judge who sat on the case.

Unexpected Effect.

"Had the Telegram wished to play fair," said the governor, "it would have published along with the names of the men pardoned the list of those who in each instance requested the pardon to be given."

Scores of those whose names appear on the petitions are incensed at the unjust attack which has been made upon Governor Chamberlain for his acts of clemency. Likewise they characterize the publication of names of those who are now living upright lives as an extremely unjustifiable method of trying to manufacture political meat."

WEEPINGLY EMBRACED DIVORCED DAUGHTER

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.)

New York, May 30.—Greeted by Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, Mrs. F. O. French, her mother, today landed from the White Star liner Celtic and weepingly embraced the young society woman, who has recently obtained a divorce from the millionaire. On the pier with Mrs. Vanderbilt was her brother, Amos T. French.

Mrs. Vanderbilt retained a discreet silence in spite of the insistent questions put to her concerning her divorce suit and future plans. Mrs. French also refused to discuss her daughter's matrimonial troubles.

"It is nobody's affair, you know," said Mrs. French, crisply interrupting the questions. "I am going to take my daughter to Europe in July," said Mrs. French. "We are going to Newport first," interrupted Mr. French. "We have no plans further."

SHOOTS SWEETHEART THEN KILLS HIMSELF

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 30.—Almost duplicating a tragedy of a week ago, Herman Hicker, 22 years old, tonight shot and it is believed mortally wounded his sweetheart, Miss Pauline Sherman, 20 years old, at her home, 636 Fifth avenue, and then fired a bullet into his own brain and died instantly. The first bullet took effect in the woman's neck and the second in her shoulder. She was hurried to the hospital, where physicians expressed the belief that she cannot recover.

The killing was almost a duplicate of that enacted by Lippman Kessler in this city at the home of his former sweetheart, Miss Nina Ethel Doane, shot to death and later killed himself as he was about to be arrested.

AERONAUTIC EXPERT COMES FROM ABROAD

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.)

New York, May 30.—Patrick V. Alexander, aeronautic expert for the British government arrived on the Campania today on his way to Dayton, Ohio, where he will have a conference with Wilbur Wright about securing the European rights to the aeroplane which the Ohio brothers recently tested so successfully on the North Carolina coast.

Mr. Alexander's impression of New York today was as wet and murky as the weather. He had a miserable sea trip and he got exceedingly wet driving from the pier to the Hotel Manhattan.

The British balloon expert kept to his room during the day and evening. A dinner by the Aero club of America is one of the entertainments planned for the Englishman.

MINISTER SPRINGS FRESH SENSATION

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Leavenworth, Kan., May 30.—Rev. R. Elwood, former pastor of the Leavenworth Presbyterian church, who resigned owing to publicity caused by letters he wrote to a young woman of his congregation, has created a fresh sensation here by cards he is circulating. On the cards is his picture and the verse:

"I cannot see the end, nor understand his way, but I can follow where he leads, and trust him day by day."

His name appears in large letters with the date, May 23, 1908. This is the day when the church elders demanded his resignation.

Dr. Elwood refuses to discuss the cards. His purpose is a mystery.

WEATHER REPORT

The relative positions of the high area over the Oregon coast and the depressions over British Columbia and southern Utah remain practically stationary. The last mentioned disturbance has undergone a decided development during the last 12 hours, and light rain has fallen during the day over southern Idaho and Utah, while over southern Nevada snow was falling this evening. Over Washington and eastern Oregon the weather was cloudy, but no rain had fallen. Over western Oregon moderate rains occurred. Temperatures were decidedly lower over Nevada, Utah and southern Idaho.

The indications point to continued cloudy weather Sunday over Washington, Oregon and northern Idaho, with possible showers, while over southern Idaho showers are expected.
