POUNDED PULPIT INTO SPLINTERS

Revivalist "Billy" Sunday Collapses From Exhaustion After Meetings.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Sharon, Pa., June 1.—At the conclusion of a strenuous sermon here yesterday, "Billy" Sunday, the ex-baseball player, who closed a series of revivals, collapsed from exhaustion and today is so weak that he is confined to his bed. During the course of his sermon Sunday became so excited that he pounded the pipit into splinters with his fist. He pulled off a large sliver of wood from the desk and beat the air with it to emphasize his remarks.

At times he would grasp the stick in the manner of a batter facing a pitcher, measure the distance with his club and beat the air as if pounding out a three-bagger.

AUTHORITIES IGNORE SMUTZER "CONFESSION"

(United Press Leased Wire.)

La Porte, Ind., June 1—The remarkable "confession" made by Julius G. Truelson Jr., in Vernon, Texas, and then quickly repudiated by him, that he aided Mrs. Bella Gunness and Ray Lamphere in committing murder and burying bodies, including that of his wife, in the private cemetery of the murderess, will be ignored by the authorities here.

While some of the details he relates correspond with the evidence in minor respects, the police say it is evident that what he told in his statement was learned through reading the newspaper accounts of the tragedies.

Sheriff Smutzer, who went to Vernon to get the young man, returned today alone as he did not think enough of Truelson's story to bring him here for further examination.

WILL NOT MARRY ON JUNE TENTH

Harry MacMillan Gives Rest to Story of Date to Wed Edna Goodrich.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, June 1.—Harry MacMillan, the Berkeley millionaire, who is engaged to marry Miss Edna Goodrich, this morning, denied a report from New York that the marriage would take place as scheduled, on June 10.

The New York story stated that Herman A. Roth, Edna Goodrich's attorney, had made the statement that all difficulties in the way of the wedding had been overcome.

"I don't know this man Roth," said MacMillan this morning, "and I don't know by what authority he makes this statment about my affairs. I have nothing further to say about that matter further than to reiterate the statement that I made several days ago, that the wedding will take place next fall."

Both Miss Goodrich and her mother are denying themselves to all callers and refuse to make any statement about the report. Roth is quoted as saying that George Weedon, Nat Goodwin's theatrical manager, who has been in San Francisco for some time, will marry Mrs. Goodrich. It is thought here that Weedon is trying to induce Miss Goodrich to forego her plans for the marriage to rejoin Goodwin's company.

MADE NO ATTEMPT TO STOP HIS TRAIN

Engineer Kills Two Thinking They Would Get Off Railroad Trestle.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Stockton, Cal., June 1.—The inquest on the remains of Henry Daus Scott and his daughter Lillian who were killed on the railroad trestle across the Mokelumne river at Lodi yesterday afternoon by an overland train, is being held in this city this afternoon.

Engineer Sankey testified that he saw Scott and four little children near the end of the trestle but that as they seemed to be getting off all right, he made no attempt to stop his train. However, when the little girl got her foot caught between the ties and fell about five feet from the end of the bridge, he applied the brakes but it was too late. The engineer is on the verge of nervous collapse.

The father was killed while trying to save his daughter.

W. H. Conners, the insane man from Salem, Massachusetts, who leaped from the train when it was brought to a standstill and darted across the fields, is now confined in the local detention hospital. He is improving. Conners is said to be suffering from delerium tremens and he frequently gave the train hands trouble on the way out from Chicago. He is still ignorant of the accident.

CAMPAIGN OF DRYS AT COTTAGE GROVE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Cottage Grove, Or., June 1.—A temperance meeting was held here last night at the Methodist Episcopal church. During the past few weeks a series of such meetings has been held in and near this place. The local option movement has been tireless. It is believed this precinct will continue as it has been for the past few years.
