from will throw the county into the Chamberlain column. In any event the margin will not be over 100 votes, whichever way the county goes.

Umatilla is close but will probably give Cake a plurality of 150 or 200. Josephine went for Cake by about the same amount.

As usual, Baker gave Chamberlain a heavy vote, and it is estimated that he has carried the county by about 150. Benton, which was confidently claimed by Cake, went for his opponent by 12 votes.

Strong with Farmers. Chamberlain appears to have been especially strong among the farmers and the back precincts, as they come in, are adding to his lead.

CAMERON IS VICTORIOUS

Republican Candidate for District Attorney Receives a Few More Votes Than Manning in Each Precinct Thus Far Counted.

George J. Cameron, Republican, has defeated John Manning, Democrat, for election to the office of district attorney by a probable margin of 2,500. With the office practically conceded to Manning by the Republican county central committee, Cameron has come out of the woods with a most surprising vote, sweeping precinct after precinct into his column where Manning expected to poll a heavy vote and, if the ratio keeps up, the completion of the count, will land in office with 2,500 or more votes to the good.

The result of the district attorney fight is one of the surprises of the campaign. Manning and his friends made a consistent and energetic campaign, establishing headquarters and fighting for votes on every hand. Everything that Manning has done in an official way for some time has been urged as a reason why he should be given another term in office.

Cameron's Quiet Work.

Cameron on the other hand conducted a sort of a "pussyfoot" campaign, making no stir and only bobbing up in public at an occasional meeting. As a result of the two lines of attack the Manning talk was much the loudest and he was taken to win by most of the political oracles.

Manning money had a hard time to find. Cameron money to cover in the betting and consequently the Manning camp considered they had the battle as good as won.

With returns from 71 precincts, 37 of which are complete, Cameron has been given a vote of 4,327 while Manning has polled 641, with a total vote of close to 25,000, running at the same relative ratio Cameron should increase his lead to approximately 3,500 when the other two thirds of the vote are in and counted.

There seems to be no particular district which went abnormally for or against either candidate. All along the line there was a steady consistent majority handed to Cameron while Manning was turned down in the inverse ratio. Each precinct, generally speaking, came up with a few votes for Cameron more than those for Manning, thus putting the Republican candidate steadily further and further to the front.

Long Trip in Balloon.
(United Press Leased Wire.)

Chicago, June 2.—The balloon "Chicago," carrying Charles A. Coey of this city, and two companions, which ascended at Quincy, Illinois, last night, landed safely at Clear Lake, South Dakota, today. Reports received here state that the three men made the long trip in the air in comfort, although it was extremely cold in the air.

REVOLT IS PREDICTED IN PANAMA

Conservative Business Men of Isthmus Demand Intervention of United States—Dynamite Threats on Canal Work Freely Made.

Double Guards Placed About Storehouses Where Explosives Are Kept—Minister Squires Called to Washington.

(Copyrighted, 1908, by United Press Association.)

Panama, June 2.—Never in the political history of this country has the situation been at such fever heat as it is today, nor has it ever contained such possibilities of real danger.

The most conservative business men are predicting a revolution and demanding the intervention of the United States.

Threats of using dynamite on the Panama canal works are freely made, and it is constantly feared that an effort will be made to blow up the Hotel Rivoli.

Presidential Election Soon.

The presidential election will be held the last week in June or the first week in July, and it is expected that, certainly will take place at that time.

Double guards have been placed around all the storehouses where dynamite is kept, and every precaution is being taken to prevent an outbreak.

Seek Our Intervention.

The thing most desired here is that the United States duplicate its action in connection with Cuba and establish military rule at once, assuming control of the Panamanian government.

Both Conservatives and Liberals wish this and there is much talk of it.

It is alleged that the campaign for the presidency has been most corrupt in the history of the country. Senator Arias is the candidate of the constitutionalists and Senator Obaldia, of the revolutionists.

Taft Takes a Hand.

It is alleged that the men in charge of registration offices sent out formal notices that a fair election would be held and later distributed confidential letters ordering their lieutenants to see that none but men favoring Arias reached the polls on election day.

It is reported here that one of these letters has reached Secretary of War Taft. As the result of Taft's visit the registration lists are being revised under the supervision of Americans.

The United States has notified the local government that the election must be fair and orderly. This is taken to mean that in case of trouble military control will issue at once.

It is predicted on all sides that if Arias is elected there will be a revolution.

Minister Squires has been called to Washington.

LEAPS END OF TRUCK; SIX HURT

Troutdale Car Rushes Past Station and Jumps Over Terminal Embankment Because Motorman Misjudged Distance.

A. G. Jenkins Expected to Die and Meat Inspector Hancock Also Severely Injured—Early Morning Car on Way Out From City.

Swinging at a terrific speed past the Troutdale station this morning, a car of the O. W. P. Co., carrying six passengers, plunged over the steep embankment at the end of the line, and at least one man is expected to die as a result. The five other passengers were severely injured. Conductor Olsen was thrown through the glass doors of the car, which cut his face and head in a frightful manner.

Motorman Lost Control.

The accident was caused by a green motorman who was making his first trip. He lost control of the motor after misjudging the distance he might have stopped, and was not able to check the wildly-swaying car until it had leaped over the brink of a 25-foot bank at which the tracks terminate. The car this afternoon is still hanging over the edge.

The only injury that is believed to be fatal is that to A. G. Jenkins, an employe of the Union Meat company at Troutdale. He is suffering from internal wounds and will probably die.

Meat Inspector Hurt.

Dr. H. J. Hancock, a federal meat inspector for the Union Meat company, was severely cut about the head and had his eyes hurt and his jaw broken. Dr. Hancock lives at Tenino avenue and East Fifteenth street, Sellwood. His little son was drowned only a short time ago.

An employe of the Union Meat company named Ashcraft was hurt about the body. His horse is in Fairview.

Louis Kummer, another employe of the Union company, had the back of his head cut open and his injuries may prove fatal.

Injured Are Cared For.

The car which ended its trip in such a disastrous fashion left Portland at 5:30 a. m. and was due in Troutdale about 6 o'clock. The injured people, with the exception of Dr. Hancock and A. G. Jenkins, are being cared for in Troutdale. Dr. Hancock was brought to his home in Sellwood, and Jenkins has been taken to the Good Samaritan hospital.

Dr. Hancock told the story of the accident as he saw it to a reporter this afternoon at the Good Samaritan hospital. He said:

"We had been going along at a very fast clip when I noticed that the motorman was not shutting off his power at the little bridge where this is always done. Realizing that the man was a new one I jumped to the front of the car and shouted for him to stop the motor. This he started to do, but of course was too late.

The car only had a few feet further to go and it plunged off the embankment. I did not know anything for several minutes after the accident. The conductor was hurled through the glass

REVOLT CERTAIN IN GUATEMALA

President Cabrera Preparing to Flee to His Palace in Germany.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, June 2.—Passengers who arrived here yesterday on the steamer Acapulco from Guatemala today confirm the report that a revolution is imminent in the Central American republic on account of the arbitrary rule of President Cabrera. It is stated that Cabrera intends to flee to Europe shortly and take up his residence in Germany, where he has purchased a palace.

Dr. H. Prowie, who comes from San Jose de Guatemala, told a story today that confirms the first reports. He says that men who incur Cabrera's enmity are shot and that physicians are forced to sign the death certificates stating that death ensued from natural causes. Many prominent men of the republic are in prison, says Prowie, and

7 NEW COUNTIES IN DRY COLUMN

Prohibitionists Claim Union, Polk, Josephine, Crook, Douglas and Clackamas.

Rev. E. Nelson Allen, who is actively connected with the campaign for prohibition, said that the workers are well pleased with the result of yesterday's election. Complete returns have not come in yet from the east side precincts though bulletins received show that the wet element would have the majority. Reports from St. Johns show a majority for E.

"This is no more than we expected," said Mr. Allen, "and we do not find it discouraging at all. We are working in precincts there which are filled with the laboring element that supports the saloons, though the exact majority is not given. Polk and Josephine are also safe. Crook carried by 250, Sherman by 57, Douglas by 450. Yamhill by three to one, and Clackamas by 100. Only Lane, Sherman and Yamhill of these were dry before, and as it is easier to remain dry than to make a wet county dry, the workers feel greatly encouraged with the seven new recruits to the dry line.

THUGS HOLD UP TWO STREET CARS

Daring Highwaymen Rob Crews of Two Coaches in San Francisco.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, June 2.—After an all-night search throughout the city and a careful guarding of the roads leading out of town, the detective force secured no clues that will lead to the arrest of two men who carried out two of the most daring street car holdups in the history of San Francisco today after midnight this morning. The police say today that they are as far along in the case than they were last night.

The cars were held up at Kearney and Bay streets, the terminus of the North Beach line. The men boarded the first car four blocks from the end of the line and waited until the trolley had been pulled off the wires at the end. Then they held up Conductor A. S. Birch and Motorman Frank Johnson at the point of resistance and secured all their money, $15 in each. They took the watches of both men and threw the conductor into the street.

After the car had started back to town a second car was held up at the terminus in the same way. The crew had been warned of the first robbery and were on the lookout, but they were held up and the driver, who had had time to get out, was forced to give over all of his money, $15.

The report of the robbery was made from 1000 Broadway by the men who had disappeared.
