By an error in an advertising article written for this paper and published yesterday it was stated that Richard C. Hart, superintendent of the United States light-house service for this district holds the position of vice president of the Florence Placer Mining company, which owns the rich placer grounds in the Florence district in Idaho. Mr. Hart is the secretary and treasurer of the company, and not its vice president. Mr. George L. Peaslee occupying that position and Hon. John B. Cleland, one of the circuit court judges, its president. Press dispatches published yesterday state that the steamer Prospector left Dawson, Yukon Territory, with a 1750 ton board for Canadian and American ports, and that $26,000,000 is the estimated product of Alaska. The comparatively small district—about two miles wide and 10 miles long—in which is located the mines of the local company, has produced more than $100,000,000, and the $40 acres owned by our home people covers the greatest gold deposit of the entire region, and no part of it ever has been mined by any one. For the reason that coal could not be worked as they were, by the pans of the placer miners, but when their bases were reached the water from the mountains pouring down into the channels of the creeks below had been washing down the gold and depositing it there, where it has remained until now. H. B. Perks, a mining engineer of almost international reputation, last fall discovered that these meadows, formed by the deposits from the mountains, were owned by William Crandall, of Grangeville, an embezzled man 63 years of age, and could be bought for $100,000. Before the death of Mr. Crandall in March, and machinery is now being taken in to work the mines. A small mill was shipped to the mines by the Portland Machinery company of this city two weeks ago, which will be used to cut lumber for the flumes, and the piping and auxiliaries are being carried in. As the ground has been thoroughly sampled there is not the slightest doubt of its richness, and those persons who secured the company's stock at 25 cents per share at this time may confidently count on a 25-year income of at least 200 per cent per annum on their investment. Upon request, by telephone or mail, made to the company, 230 Commercial club building, Fifth and Oak streets, its complete prospectus will be mailed to any address. It is worth reading. Telephone Main 985.

Every man should have at least one good suit of clothes and that suit should be made to order. An opportunity to get such a suit we might say almost gratis, is now presented. In order to clear the counters immediately so carpenters may remodel the store and make room for an immense fall stock, Maxwell offers you your choice of his entire stock of imported and domestic wools, suits and overcoats to suit your taste, and at a price strictly one price—$27.50, and an extra pair of trousers or silk or fancy vest with suit, worth $12 to $15, for $10. Notwithstanding there are over 500 patterns to select from, nevertheless, there are thousands of buyers who are looking for just such an outfit as this. It is quite evident that the business is booming. The store is located at 142 Second street, near Alder, will be the busiest place in town for the next three days and tomorrow particularly. This offer will continue until every pattern in the house is sold. Call early for the best selections. Store open until 8 o'clock for your convenience.

The Portland Railway, Light & Power company will run special ticket office First and Alder streets ever 30 minutes from 9:30 in the morning, and an additional train of 10 cars to leave First and Alder streets at 12 o'clock. Trains will be banked at the Base Line siding to take care of the rush after the races are over. Fifty-mile race starts at 1 p. m. 100-mile race at 3 p. m. A special rate of 25 cents for the round trip has been arranged. Tickets, including round-trip fare and grandstand, $1. Tickets are on sale at the railway company's ticket office First and Alder streets. In order to receive the benefit of the reduced rates, it will be necessary to secure tickets before boarding the train.

At a meeting of the city water board yesterday Caldwell Brock, of Seattle, was awarded the contract for water works amounting to $3,410. No other business was transacted by the board save to decide in regard to the laying of water mains in the new town planned by the Swift Packing company. The city will not install mains in this section until after the company puts in its own plant.

Hundreds of the visitors to the Rose Festival are taking time to visit the museum at the city hall this week, and every day the corridors filled with a crowd of people viewing the exhibits. Most of the spectators are out of town people who follow the rounds of stuffed animals, cases of curios and other exhibits with great interest.

Portrait Will Be Shown Again at Vesuvius—Also Charleston's Picture.

Portland's most handsome woman beamed upon the large audience assembled at Pain's fireworks spectacle last night, but as there was diverse opinion as to the beauty's identity, the portrait will be shown again this evening at the big fireworks program which follows the Carnival at Naples and Eruption of Vesuvius at Multnomah Field. Admiral Swinburne and officers of the visiting fleet have accepted an invitation to attend the Vesuvius show at Multnomah Field, and a number of boxes are being held for them for Thursday night. The fireworks force will produce a gigantic portrait of the admiral, also a likeness of the Charleston, and a number of beautiful devices. An appropriate salute will be given each night and the fireworks program kept up to the high standard already established.

The Women's Press club will meet at 9 o'clock this evening at the home of June McMillen Ordway, 300 Crosby street. It will be a business meeting of importance, and a large attendance is desired. Take any steel bridge car.

CRUISER'S MEN AS HOSTS AT DANCE. The Jolly Cane Men of the Charleston added something last night to the enjoyment of the Rose Festival for many Portlanders. About 350 people were gathered at the Armory for the dance given by this organization of sailors of the flagship in harbor. The dance followed the parade down town, and at about 9:30 Admiral and Mrs. Swinburne led out the grand march. Several of the junior officers were present the earlier part of the evening, and with them were a few prominent young women of the younger set who made up the admiral's party.

A New Departure. The cost of interments has been greatly reduced by the Holman Undertaking company. Heretofore it has been the custom of funeral directors to make charges for all incidentals connected with a funeral. The Edward Holman Undertaking company, the leading funeral directors of Portland, have departed from that custom. When casket is furnished by us we make no extra charges for embalming, hearse to cemetery, outside box or any services that may be required of us, except clothing, casket and carriage, thus effecting a saving of $25 to $75 on each funeral.
