

WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS

by Druilla Drew.

The ball at the Armory tonight promises to be the smart affair of festival week. Invitations are in demand and there will doubtless be a large crowd on hand. Some 40 tickets were sent over to the barracks and the officers of the festival will be in honor of the guests. The attendants are expected to gather at the hall about 7:30 and the grand march will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

General Charles F. Beebe, S. G. Reed and James McI. Wood comprise the general ball committee and they expect to make a splendid affair of the dance. The patroness list as well as the names of the prominent matrons in society. The king and queen of the festival will be the grand march.

Following will be the officers of the fest and the barracks, then will come the officers of the Rose Festival association, followed by the reception committee of the ball, the general committee of the Rose Festival and the guests of the evening. Richter's band and Frasp's orchestra will furnish the music.

Miss Mary Hewitt has been elected secretary of the famous Barnswallows, the leading students organization of the Wellesley college. Miss Hewitt, who was known among her friends as Polly, was formerly a Portland resident and one of the most popular of the younger set.

Mrs. William T. Muir has cards out for a dinner dance at the golf club tomorrow.

Mrs. Edward Cunningham gives a tea this afternoon for Mrs. Cunningham and her daughter, Mrs. James Canby, who has been so much entertained since her arrival here with Major Canby, the new paymaster. Mrs. Canby was formerly a Portland girl and has many friends.

STRONG HANDS AT HELM OF THE INDEX

Miss Holmes Editor and Mr. Witham Manager of Pacific U. Paper.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Pacific University, Forest Grove, Or., June 5.—The board of editors of the Weekly Index, the college paper, has elected Miss Martha Holmes editor in chief for next year and H. E. Witham business manager.

Miss Martha Holmes, Editor-in-Chief of Weekly Index, Pacific University.

Miss Holmes will be senior next year, and has had a good deal of experience along literary lines, having been a member of the board of editors of the paper for the past two years, and is now editor in chief of the Junior Annual, which will be issued in a few days. She is president of the Y. M. C. A. and has been secretary of the student body and president of the Philomathean literary society.

H. E. Witham has been very successful chief for next year and H. E. Witham business manager.

WEAK WOMEN

NEED A TONIC AS THEY APPROACH THE AGE OF FORTY.

Much Suffering is Caused by Being Unprepared to Meet the Extra Strain to Be Born at That Time.

As a woman approaches the age of 40 or thereabouts, she should pay particular attention to her health. The hard work which she may have been accustomed to do and the worry and dissipation of her daily life should be lessened or avoided as much as possible. As her health after she passes this time will depend in a large measure upon it, every woman owes it to herself to build up her health during these years. It is absolutely necessary that the blood be made pure and rich, thereby enabling all the organs of the body to perform their work regularly. For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have long been recognized as the standard medicine, because of their great blood-building and tonic properties.

Mrs. M. A. Kehling, a professional nurse, of 1005 1/2 North Illinois street, Indianapolis, Indiana, says:

"An operation for appendicitis left me in a weakened condition and I approached the age of 40 in a poor state of health. I was sick for two years, being very restless and had sick headaches all the time. I did not have much of an appetite and lived mostly on fruits and light foods, but even these caused so much gas on my stomach that I was continually belching it. Often these things seemed to be a weight on my stomach."

"I was doctoring with local physicians but did not get better, so decided to give myself a trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I had read about in the paper. I noticed after taking a few boxes of the pills that I was beginning to get a little color. I took several boxes more and was cured. I have been in good health ever since and able to do my work."

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are adapted for diseases due to impure blood and shrunken nervous system, such as neuritis, in anemia, rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fever and sick headaches, dizziness, nervousness, neuralgia and even partial paralysis, and locomotor ataxia."

A valuable booklet entitled "Plain Talk to Women" will be sent free in a sealed envelope, upon request, to any woman interested.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box; six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

ANGRY PASSENGERS ASSUAGE HUNGER BY THROWING STONES

Four hundred hungry, angry passengers, after a strenuous afternoon at the automobile races, were nearly three hours getting to the city on an O. W. P. train last evening, spending most of the time in the aisles awaiting for no one to know just what.

Guns were fired by the angry passengers, rocks thrown at passing cars and several attempts were made to turn the cars over or displace the trucks of the wheels from the tracks. Had it not been for the presence of the constabulary and an effort made to preserve law and order a serious riot would undoubtedly have been the result.

The train of half a dozen cars was crowded to the sideboards before 6 o'clock. This was at the siding near the cross road. Eventually, after an hour's wait the train moved forward to Jenns. Then there was another wait—a long one. It was here that the passengers became unruly and threatened to show their disregard for the railroad company by destroying the corporation property. Hundreds of people left the cars and threw rocks at the fences and

PLUNGERS QUIT NEW YORK TRACKS

Majority of Big Bettors Stay Away, While the Few Who Attend Are Just "Piking."

New York, June 5.—The jockey club has been successful. It is asserted, in suppressing big plungers at the Metropolitan tracks. Dave Johnson, who was the biggest bettor last year, is only a piker now.

He bets $100, $200 or $500 on a single race, but that is about all. Last year Johnson won $2,000 in one day at Belmont Park, but he went flat broke before the season ended.

John W. Gates and his son Charles G. who made sensational plunges last season, have not been seen at the races this spring.

John A. Draks sailed for Europe the other day. He said that he did not intend to play the races at all when he came back. Jesse Lewisohn, who was betting thousands last year, is again absent one. The same can be said of C. E. Ellison, Joe Yeager and other daring turf operators who caused daily sensations last year.

It is believed that the jockey club has ended a bad habit of being methodical. At least the order went forth some time ago, and there has been virtually no plunging since then. It is a fact that professional turf speculators who confine their business to the ring are wagering about one quarter as much as they did last season. In the big ring the layers say the business has fallen off at least 50 per cent because of the anti-plunging and the $5 limit rule.

RUBY ROBERT'S HORSESHOE HIDES AMID FESTIVAL HATS

Joe Gans, not the prize fighter, Robert Fitzsimmons, former prize fighter and now an actor, and Basting Nelson, prize fighter-actor, are all registered at the Hotel Portland this week. Mr. Gans (the one now in Portland), has never met either of the fighters. Yet he is an admirer in that direction. He is a traveling man.

Nobly attired in the latest fashion and with a swagger that would do justice to a Broadway dude, Mr. Fitzsimmons walked into the lobby of the Hotel Portland this morning, carrying a set of blacksmith tools in the hands which had once helped him to be pronounced the champion of the world.

The tools were entrusted to the clerk until called for. Carefully they were placed among dainty bouquets left in the office by other guests. Surrounding the flowers and the blacksmith tools were dainty hats belonging to the guests take in and out of the hotel during the day.

Mr. Fitzsimmons had just come from a horse shoe shop where with his own hands and tools, he had made an immense horseshoe for an admiring friend.

Then the prosaic old tools were placed among all the pretty flowers and other things of a delicate nature which appeal to the aesthetic temperament.

One of the former champion's long suits is to go back to his former occupation and make a horseshoe for someone whom he likes.

ful as business manager of the Index paper without running it into debt. Witham also will be a senior next year. He is very popular with the students, and is a strong debater, having been a member of the team that defeated Williamette university last winter.

NEW PHOTOGRAPHY WITHOUT CAMERA

London, June 5.—Photographs will soon be able to dispense with cameras. As the result of a wonderful invention by Professor Lippmann, it will be possible to obtain an excellent picture by merely exposing before the object to be photographed a specially prepared plate. No camera or other apparatus will be needed.

For months past Professor Lippmann, who is the inventor of the direct process of color photography, has been working on his new invention at the Research Laboratory of the Sorbonne, in Paris, and he has now overcome all difficulties except the manufacture on a large scale of his new plate, which at present is made by hand. The plate is in effect an immense honeycomb with tiny holes, about 15,000 microscopic lenses being packed in each square inch of it. Each of these tiny lenses, separated from the surrounding ones by a black or opaque substance, produces its own little photograph on the portion of sensitive film immediately behind it. When the developed plate is examined, only one point of each small image is seen by the eye, the sum total of these points producing a stereoscopic picture.

The Vermont legislature has just passed a bill making women eligible as town clerks and town treasurers. The women of Vermont are rejoicing over it, while at least a small majority of the older men are said to be busy shaking their heads and advising their women folk to remain in the kitchen election days.

WEAVE THE WOOL ON THE GROUND

Racine Company Negotiating for the Pendleton Woolen Mills.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Pendleton, Or., June 5.—Agents of the Racine Woolen mills of Racine, Wisconsin, are here looking over the Pendleton woolen mills with a view of purchasing them and making them a part of the great Racine industry. It is proposed to employ at least 200 men and women in the plant and to increase the capacity by more than three times and make it the largest woolen mill in the northwest. Pendleton, being on a main line of transportation and in the heart of the sheep district, has been selected as the most favorable location for the branch of the Racine industry. It purchased the mill to be devoted exclusively to the manufacture of high grade Indian robes, blankets and similar lines of goods.

SHOEMAKER WINS FROM KING'S ESTATE

Warsaw, Poland, June 5.—Kaminsky, a Polish shoemaker, has secured judgment against the estate of the late King Alexander and Queen Draga of Serbia, who jointly owed him a bill of $40 rounded when the royal couple slaugtered them in Belgrade palace.

Kaminsky produced the identical orders sent him by the royal couple through the agency of the Serbian consul general, and to clinch the case the shoemaker produced photographs showing that King Alexander in his coffin wore one of the pairs of shoes that are still unpaid for.

STAMP GOLD ITS REAL KARAT ONLY

Jewelers' Association Also Proposes Licensing the Watchmakers.

The State Retail Jewelers' association met yesterday in second annual convention. Two important matters were up for discussion, that of licensing watchmakers throughout the state and that of taking steps to secure a state law regulating the stamping of gold in accordance with the United States law bearing on this subject.

A committee was appointed to draft a bill to be presented to the next legislature, making it optional to stamp gold of higher karat value than it purports for the protection of dealers and public alike.

The banquet which took place at the close of the convention at the Hotel Noronia, some interesting papers were presented. President L. A. Lewis of Blamouth Falls sketched the future of the organization. C. H. Williams of Clatsop talked of the benefits of or-

GREEK MEETS GREEK; KAISER GIVES OUT

Rome, June 5.—Before setting out for Corfu the Emperor William had committed to memory a speech in Greek, written out for him by an erudite professor of Berlin. Upon his arrival the local authorities met him, and one of them, a kind of mayor, compared him in a pompous speech to the hero of the Iliad.

At a certain moment the mayor paused to take breath and the Kaiser, thinking he was done, recited the Greek phrases the Berlin professor had taught him. Then he thought the ceremony was over, but the mayor having got his wind began once more. He talked for a long time, and the Kaiser could not reply because he had used up all his Greek. He bowed and walked away in silence while the Greeks laughed.

A sharp appetite can get along with a dull knife.
