WHAT INJURES BASEBALL

McCredies Abolish Ladies' Day and Cause Hundreds Discomfort.

Whether it was the desire to add a few paltry dollars to the McCredie coffers by abolishing ladies' day at the ball park yesterday, or, as it was explained, to prevent such a rush of women spectators as would overcrowd the grandstand and park, the management deserves censure. Hundreds of ladies who had journeyed out to Vaughn street, not knowing of the suspension of ladies' day, were turned away at the gate because they were not prepared to pay the necessary 50 cents for admission. Some could pay, but many were compelled to return to town.

Such eleventh-hour procedure does not popularize the ball park management, and the announcement that ladies will be admitted free next Wednesday and Friday is no balm for the wounded feelings of those who were rudely treated. If the charge at the gate was made to catch the visiting women then the criticism is deserved. It is a disgrace to the city during its carnival week to be entitled to just as much consideration as the home women, and the management will not be more sympathetic than the home sister.

Had the decision of the management been generally advertised earlier in the week of last week even, the women would have been prepared for the occasion, and the attitude of the McCredies might have been less condemned by feminine Portland.

Angel Team Proves Worst Kickers in Pacific Coast League.

Winning or losing, the Angels are the worst set of kickers in this league and their tactics robbed the game yesterday of what little interest there might have been in the matinee.

Umpire O'Connell was compelled to banish Kitty Brashear from the field, but had he done the same with Dillon and Hogan he would have pursued the proper course. Jud Smith's exhibition was not so flagrant as the other trio, but it was wholesome to the crowd. Ruben Ellis evidently got the fever from Brashear, Hogan, Dillon and Smith, and he couldn't resist butting in with the best.

Umpire O'Connell has been doing some good work, and any criticisms are unjustified. His decisions have been perfectly fair during his local engagement, and cool-minded fans know it. Off the field Jack is popular with all the players, but the Los Angeles brigade in its insane desire to win every game does not hesitate to resort to methods which ruin the sport. O'Connell would have merited the approbation of the spectators had he chased the kicking quartet of Angels out of the field.

Auto Drivers Return Home.

Fernando Nelson and son Frank, William Simmons, Harry Johnson, William Wagner and Alex Bertus, who represented the White steamer car in Portland during the auto races, returned last night to San Francisco. Mr. Nelson intends making another run from Frisco to Portland in August. H. Bell Jones, J. Cooper and the Studebaker company's drivers, will return to San Francisco, while H. Harrison who drove the Oldsmobile and S. Cristofani, at the wheel of the Studebaker, will return in a few days to their homes in Los Angeles. Murray Page of the Locomobile will also return to the Bay City in a day or so.

Ready for Grand Steeplechase.

Paris, June 6.—The grand steeplechase in Paris, the most valuable steeplechase in the world will be run tomorrow at Auteuil. The race will be decided over the course known as No. 14, which consists of 24 jumps of the most trying character, some up and down hill, which test the soundness of the horse more than any amount of ordinary jumping. The amount is a little more than four miles.

SPENDS HER FORTUNE IN AIMLESS TRAVELS

Wastes $30,000 in Four Months—Leaves Father Penniless and Children Ill.

New York, June 6.—Recurrence of a mental trouble is said by her father and other relatives to have caused Mrs. Charles B. Grant Jr. to squander her estate of more than $30,000 in aimless traveling since January. Mrs. Grant's husband and children were made homeless through Mrs. Grant's action in selling her home in Binghamton recently. The children, 3 and 2 years old, are now ill with scarlet fever while Mrs. Grant's old father, Cornelius Brooks, is at the home of his son in law in a penniless condition. He says his daughter brought him there two weeks ago from his home in Oxford and abandoned him.

Neither Mrs. Grant's husband nor father knows where she is. She wrote a letter several days ago from Birmingham saying she was visiting friends at the insane asylum. She often had visited there after being discharged as a patient.

Wherever she is her relatives think she is without money, except what she obtains from ministers and lawyers by methods they say she has adopted since the last of her fortune disappeared. Since she began her wandering in January, the woman has been at her husband's home several times, but after a day or two her restlessness would again take possession of her and she would start forth on another journey.

Playwright's Widow Weds.

New York, June 6.—The wedding of Mrs. Marie Nodine La Shella, widow of Kirk La Shella, the well known playwright and theatrical manager, and Joseph Howard Hunt took place quietly today at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip, near Tarrytown. The Vanderlips are old friends of the bride. Mr. Hunt, the bridegroom, is a son of the late Richard Morris Hunt, the noted architect, and is well known in New York society.

FOUR HITS GIVE GAME TO ANGELS

Dillonites Put Three Over in Fifth Inning—Brashear Is Canned.

These Los Loos are an awful bunch of kickers, don't you know. Though Hogan's at it all the time, He's not the whole dinged show. There's Brashear and one tuddy Smith Who're bound to have their blow. And old, gray-haired Pop Dillon Is not 'no' blooming low— O'Connell's Offering.

Four singles off Bobby Groom in the fifth inning yesterday netted the Angels three runs and clinched the game for the southerners. The best Portland could do was to put Bassey over twice, once in the sixth and again in the eighth. The game was without fealty unless the two hits made by Bobby Groom and the stopping of Groom's long fly by Oakes could be classed as such.

Hosp pitched a creditable game for Los Angeles, although at times he was wobbly. In several innings Portlanders were on the bags and a single needed, but the pinch hitting was conspicuous by its absence.

It was a string of poorsees for both teams all the fifth. Successive hits by Smith and Ellis covered two sacks and Groom moved both up by hitting Delmas on the arm. With bases populated Bobby Ozone, Hogan and Hosp. Oakes looked easy but proved deceptive. He laid a nice hit down the center base line and Smith registered. Delmas pitched what the savored of long horns scored both Ellis and Delmas.

The Angels' other run came in the ninth. Easterly, who stepped into Brashear's place after Umpire O'Connell canned the scrappy gardener, batted second and scored. He was followed by Dillon who scored on a fly to center. The first run scored by the Angels was by Ryan, who scored at second. He scored on Smith's fumble. The marquis scored a second time in the eighth. It also was the record of a fielder's choice, Bassey having again forced McCredie at second. Bassey pitched well. He gave in when Hogan threw high to catch Coney at second.

RECAST LIBERTY BELL, IS PREACHER'S PLEA

The Rev. Charles L. Seasholes Wants to Hear the Nation's Greatest Relic Ring.

Philadelphia, June 6.—Following a patriotic sermon preached last night in the Third Baptist church, Germantown, by the Rev. Charles L. Seasholes, city council will probably be requested to have the liberty bell recast, so that its long silence may be broken on the opening day of Founder's week in October.

Dr. Seasholes said after the service that meetings may be called in the near future, when steps will be taken toward appealing to councils. The minister said:

"We are prone to forget things that are good. The liberty bell, in its out of the way place is seldom thought of. We should not be satisfied with gaining at its broken side. We want to hear it ring. Would it not be a great thing for this city to have the relic could be recast and rung at the opening of the celebration next October? Such an occasion would attract thousands to this city."

Another thing we must not forget is the Betsy Ross house, the home of Old Glory. It is a thousand times more important for Philadelphia to preserve this building than to extend Brother Nichol's front yard from city hall to Fairmount park.

State of Ex-Speaker Reed.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Union, N. Y., June 4.—Burr L. Miller, sculptor, son of Warner Miller of Herkimer, has closed a contract with the chamber of commerce of Portland, Maine, to make a life-size statue of the late Thomas B. Reed, who was for many years speaker of the house of representatives. The Reed statue is to be placed in the city park at Portland. Mr. Miller receives for his work $25,000.

REFUSAL IS DENIED FURTHER DELAY

Fear That Life of Prosecution's Chief Witness Is in Danger Reason.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, June 6.—Because he agreed with Assistant District Attorney Henry that ex-Superintendent James L. Gallagher, chief witness for the graft prosecution, is in danger of losing his life, Police Judge Cabanis today refused to grant a petition from Abraham Ruef to have his arraignment in the Parkside bribery cases put off for two weeks.

Ruef was without counsel as his attorney, Henry Ach, is in the east. Henry Ach opposed Ruef's petition vigorously and stated that Gallagher might be killed any time.

Judge Cabanis set Ruef's case for arraignment Monday morning.
