

THE LIFE OF HIS EMPLOYER

Capture of Fugitive Accountant Who Forged Unearthed Scandal. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seattle, June 6.—Not only a forger, but a home wrecker and betrayer of the most sacred trust and friendship, is uncovered in the arrest at Newark, N. J., of Charles W. Sharp, an expert accountant who forged the check for $2,000 in cash, but stole the check from Mr. Temple, a well known business man. Mrs. Temple is a beautiful and accomplished woman, who moved to this city for the past several years. It is now publicly known here that Sharp and Mrs. Temple eloped from this city February 8, the date he was last seen in Seattle. Mrs. Temple, who is the daughter of a brave and intrepid Indian fighter under the famous General Custer, is now in Newark, N. J., having gone there, it appears, with Sharp. Mrs. Temple kept to herself, though he is said to have been almost constantly with her, since his wife's desertion and flight. Sharp, during the last months of his residence in this city, was an employee of Temple, the latter being a certified public accountant, maintaining elaborate offices in the city. When he first came to Seattle, about two years ago, he found employment as an accountant with the firm of R. G. Wilson, in his capacity as an accountant he assisted in experting the books of John Ripinger, the fugitive controller of this city. Sharp, now a forger, disclosed a $55,000 shortage. Sharp is charged specifically with having forged the name of his former partner, R. G. Wilson, a Los Angeles man, to two checks, each for $50,000, and drawn on the bank of California. One of these he deposited in the Puget Sound National bank, the other with the Scandinavian American bank, opening an account in each institution. He checked out the amount from each bank, cashing his last check February 8, and on that date he and Mrs. Temple disappeared. From this time on the whereabouts of Sharp in Tacoma, Portland, Salt Lake and Denver and finally to Newark, where Sharp was taken into custody, is about 45 years of age and Mrs. Temple is five years his junior.

NEWS FORECAST OF THE COMING WEEK

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, D. C., June 6.—The near approach of the Republican national convention will cause the party leaders to turn their attention toward Chicago, where the arrangements for the gathering will be completed during the week and headquarters opened in the interest of the various presidential aspirants. Toward the end of the week the advance guard of delegates and visitors will put in an appearance and the pre-convention activity will commence in earnest. During the week Democratic state conventions to select delegates to Denver will be held in Virginia, Utah, Oregon, Kentucky and Missouri. In all these states the Democratic party is expected to dominate practically all of these conventions, though there is talk of possible blocks in Missouri and instructions in Virginia and Montana. The fight between Senator Alfred B. Kittredge and Governor Coe L. Crawford for the seat of the state in the United States senate will be settled at the general primary to be held Tuesday in St. Joseph, Mo. The result of the nomination will be made for all state offices. An event of social interest will be the wedding here next Wednesday of Miss Juliette Williams and Joseph L. Crawford. The wedding will occupy a large share of public attention. Noted speakers will be heard at many institutions, but probably those attracting most attention will be the address of Governor Johnson of Minnesota at the University of Kansas and of Wu Tingfang, Chinese minister, at the University of Illinois. The annual convention of United Confederate Veterans at Birmingham will occupy first place in the list of conventions scheduled for the week.

FAWCETT TO CAMPAIGN WITH HORSE AND RIG

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, June 6.—A. V. Fawcett, candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant-governor, will make a unique campaign in effort to sandbag the nomination. Within a few days he intends leaving the city, accompanied by his family, in rig, and will drive leisurely across the mountains into the most remote corner of the state, where the fishing is good he will turn with zest to the pursuit immortalized by Isak Dinesen in his classic fishing stories. When the time comes to file his name for votes, North Yakima will be his first objective, and he will put in most of the summer traveling. Keeping in touch with his friends working for him in different parts of the state by wire and post, Mr. Fawcett has been mayor of Tacoma, and also served as county commissioner. He has made a fortune in selling farm implements and is well acquainted in all the farming communities of Washington.

canby getting ready for fair. Clackamas Determined to Make Great Success of Coming Celebration. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Canby, Or., June 6.—The people of Canby are beginning work on an extensive program for the second annual fair of the Clackamas County Fair association, which has located its exhibit grounds permanently at Canby. A delegation of business men went to Oregon City yesterday to confer with other members of the fair board and to make arrangements for the fair. Plans and funds for the fair, Canby has tendered the association 40 acres of choice land in the city limits and the commission on which to build exhibit booths, etc. Work on the grounds will begin within a few weeks. The location of the fair here is generally satisfactory to farmers of Clackamas county, because the larger agricultural area of the county is tributary to Canby, and the town is easily reached over good roads. The people of Canby are cooperating with Oregon City and other points in a great effort to make this one of the most successful county fairs in Oregon. INVENTION THROWS IMAGE ACROSS SEA Took Nine Years to Perfect a Machine to See Through a Brick Wall. London, June 5.—Explaining his invention of the "lynoscope," which it is claimed will make it possible for any one in London to see a friend in New York, to see through a brick wall, and so make a person invisible, John Wesley Lynn, who has spent nine years in perfecting it, makes the following statement: "The lynoscope consists of three distinct parts—the operator, the transmitter and the receiver. They are used in reflecting images like a mirror, and are not connected by wires or worked by electricity. The operator is a large square box with a hole at each end, mounted on the top of a telegraph pole, while the transmitter is a similar box, containing a telescopic arrangement which focuses the images from the operator. At the other end, where the image is to be reflected, is another box-like arrangement. At one end it has a large brass funnel like a sphenoid, and at the other a screen on which the image is reflected as in a looking glass. All that is necessary for sending reflections any distance over land is to fix a transmitter on the highest available point and the image is correctly reflected in the receiver. "A curious accident helped me to a solution of the problem of seeing through solid objects. I was working in my study with my apparatus, and, looking through, saw what appeared to be a hole in the floor. To my surprise that I could see right through carpet and floor to a transmitter in the cellar." REPUBLICAN FIGHT IN SOUTH DAKOTA Pierre, S. D., June 6.—The two factions of the Republican party in South Dakota, known as the stalwarts and the progressives, have girded for the final round in the political prize ring, which will come next Tuesday with the general election. The result will determine whether Alfred B. Kittredge is to hold his seat in the United States senate or surrender it to Governor Coe L. Crawford, the progressive leader. Should the Democrats by an unexpected turn of events succeed in getting control of the legislature the next session from South Dakota would probably be former Governor Andrew E. Lee of Vermilion. Waiting to Hear From Home. (United Press Leased Wire.) San Jose, Cal., June 6.—Fred Brockway, aged 16, son of a wealthy Tacoma resident, is being held here in jail awaiting an answer from his father to whom the police have telegraphed for instructions. He had been ejected from the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco for non-payment of his account, and had come to San Jose via blind baggage. VOTING WOMEN OF FINLAND STILL HAVE MEN Vienna, June 6.—Baroness Alexandra Grippenberg, member of the recent Finnish Diet, has entered upon a lecture tour to encourage suffragettes world over. In her first talk before the Vienna Commercial society she defined the success of Finnish women in the realm of politics as follows: "After twenty years of struggle, Finnish women have succeeded in acquiring the same political rights as men. "Yes," she added, "though now our husbands squabble all outward respects, we continue to love them, to bear them children, to cook and sew and care for the house—just as we would if we had not the right to vote. "And the men dividing political power with us seemingly like it. They endorse our political program, they assist us in electing—some of them are even more enthusiastic about our rights than the women themselves. "Politicians though we are, we Finnish women recognize that a wife's first and main duty is to make a happy home for husband and children, to be the husband's loving mate, the children's trust and careful guardian. "The lecturer said that the female deputies in the dissolved Diet did not come up to the expected standard of intelligence, but that the women intended to do better in future elections. There were nineteen female deputies among them, seven teachers, and student one farmer's wife, one landowner, one servant girl and one policeman's wife. "The women deputies succeeded in passing the following bills: Providing better education for girls, and fixing the marriageable age at seventeen years, instead of fifteen. "Encouragement of morality and temperance have been the motto of Finnish suffragettes from the start," concluded the lecturer, "and our greatest triumph is that we helped to down alcohol."
