

THE GOOD NEWS FOR COMMITTEE

Georgia Delegate Declares Conference Is the "Taft Limited" — Row Occurs Over Seating of Members — Session Abandoned.

Allies Intend to Carry Fight Into Convention and Live Time Is Promised — Battle Said to Have Been Just Begun.

By John E. Nevins. Chicago, June 6.—This is not a Republican national committee; it is a committee of the Taft Limited. I would tear it down in a hurry and substitute therefore this statement:

"The national committee for the manufacture of Taft delegates limited." Wiping his face down with the perspiration was streaming freely, every hair in his head standing well high on end and his general appearance indicating his indignation, Delegate T. M. Blodgett of Fifth Georgia district emerged from the Republican national committee-room this afternoon. He had just voted against the seating of the delegates pledged to the nomination of the Taft of Cincinnati and Washington following the precedent set at its initial session and seating the Taft delegation from his state. Summed up, the session of the committee was a gain to the Taft people of six delegates from Florida with two others passed over by proxy of E. H. Hitchcock and the contestants failing to put in an appearance, and six district delegates from the same state were each from the Fifth, Eighth and Eleventh districts.

Made Good Progress.

The committee made good progress and the suggested session scheduled for Monday was abandoned. The committee adjourned until Monday morning. At this time the contests in Kentucky will be taken up. The delegates being made by Senator-elect Bradley.

Half a dozen times during today's session of the committee contestants passed the line and the meeting was strenuous. Taking up the contest in Florida at the start of the entire history of the fight in that state was recited and the allegation again made of Federal domination by proxy of E. H. Hitchcock and two other Taft managers.

Few of the allies would talk about the matter, but Congressman G. F. Burke of Pennsylvania, a Knox man, declared the action of the committee would result in more damage to Taft than to the allies.

"Why," he said, "this running rough shod over contesting delegates and passing up cases just as some people want it done will create more sentiment against the candidate than benefits. Tammany tactics are, to say the least, in bad taste."

Fight Merely Begun.

Burke and the other managers insisted to the United Press that the fight was merely beginning, and they expressed the belief that the committee on contested seats and the convention itself reverse today's action.

Now that it is certain the Taft people will be in control of the temporary organization the vice-presidential problem is being discussed. The general feeling tonight is that the ticket will be Taft and Fairbanks. The Indiana man was not withdrawn from the race for president, but it is said that if he cannot win first place he will not object to being named for second.

If Fairbanks is to be nominated as the party candidate for vice-president," said a Fairbanks leader tonight, "we must have the honor conferred upon him by the unanimous vote of the delegates."

SIX SUFFERING TERRIBLE AGONY

Negro Fireman Fitz Patrick's Bravery on Cruiser Tennessee Saved Ship.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Los Angeles, June 6.—Six men lie almost hopelessly burned and suffering terrible agony in the Angelus hospital here tonight. Five were burned with full naval honors this afternoon in the national seaman's cemetery at San Pedro, and the whole warship-loving Pacific coast is in deepest mourning as a result of the accident on the cruiser Tennessee yesterday when a bursting water-pipe in the engine-room caught the hairdressers and scalding steam.

Chief Surgeon Kaufman, of the Tennessee, came out this afternoon to see the officers of the ship. He said all of them are in a serious condition. He said:

Ever Man & Hero.

"I cannot say whether one of them will survive. The poor fellows are in horrible agony. Their bravery should give them an everlasting place in the country's history. If these men had not stayed at their posts they could have escaped without injury. H. Fitz Patrick, a Brooklyn negro, who was a fireman, perhaps deserves the most honor of all. He went back into the scalding steam and flying cinders and succeeded in shutting off the water pipe. He is frightfully burned and will probably die. Who has heard of greater heroism than this?"

Displayed Great Bravery.

Another of the injured, Maxfield, of Toughkega, Pennsylvania, also a negro, displayed great bravery, according to the officers of the ship. S. Stenatis, a first-class fireman, whose home is in Norfolk, Virginia, is perhaps the worst burned of all here and there is practically no hope for him.

Admiral Sebree, who was in command of the ship, and who escaped death by a minute, having just left the engine-room when the explosion occurred, said this afternoon that an investigation would be held according to the rules of the navy and the cause of the trouble probed.

There is little expectation of anything of importance being learned, however, as it is believed the accident was neither the fault of the men nor the ship, but merely an unavoidable one. The accident has not been attended with such great loss of life as has attended some other disasters at sea. It is especially interesting because the explosion occurred so soon after an inspection by competent officers.

Investigation by Admiral.

Washington, June 6.—The accident on board the cruiser Tennessee in which five men were killed and several seriously injured, will be thoroughly investigated by a board of investigation appointed by the navy department today. The inquiry will, of course, go into the construction of the boiler-tubes, with a view of ascertaining if there were any inherent defects in the material.

FIVE MONTHS' SEARCH OF SEA ENDS IN VAIN

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, June 6.—After searching the central Pacific ocean for five months in a vain search for the crew of the burned British bark Silberhorn, the British sloop of war, Shearwater, arrived at this port today on her way back to Victoria, B. C., where she has been stationed before she started on the unsuccessful cruise. The Silberhorn, with 40 officers and men, took fire on the west coast of South America last summer. A passing merchantman saw her with her small boats all gone and her decks bare. The passing ship at that time made search for the crew but found no trace of them.

The Shearwater has visited every possible point where it was believed the shipwrecked men could have landed, but never found the slightest clue to their fate.

In Washington it is here. Every provision included in it is so far carefully guarded that it is known, though, that it declares for tariff revision, and this fact it is asserted tonight may result in a lively fight.

In fact it is being born home more and more upon national committees here that the convention will be remarkable in many ways and will last much longer than was at first believed possible.

Tonight it is suggested that the convention will be in session not fewer than four days. This is due to state-ments from allies that they will carry their fight to the floor, no matter what the committee on credentials does.

Dance, Council Crest, Sunday night.

BUYING THE WAY ON SOUND LINE

Revival Along Route Abandoned Recently Because of Alleged Holdup.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, Wash., June 6.—The long delay in the construction of the proposed Port Townsend Southern Railroad company's line from Tacoma to Tenino will be ended within a few days by the commencement of right-of-way buying. The proposed road is the line surveyed along the sound shore to the Tacoma smelter, where a tunnel is projected underneath the ridge separating commencement bay from The Narrows. The road then follows the meander of the beach to Stielacoom and on to the mouth of the Nisqually river. Up this stream the road finds an easy water grade to a point southwest of Sherlock. There, leaving the river valley, it makes a straight-away course across the country to Tenino.

The survey is James J. Hill's solution of a water grade line from the Columbia river to the sound, and when completed it will be joined to the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern lines. After the survey was completed 18 months ago considerable right of way had been purchased, and the road also instituted many condemnation suits against land owners who held their property at prohibitive figures. The survey, however, assessed the valuations but little lower than the prices placed on the property by the land owners. The road quit buying, announcing it would do nothing more toward the construction of the line until the people came to their senses and stopped trying to hold up its right-of-way agents.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Princeton, Or., June 6.—The arrest of two men on election day on charges of using liquor on that day has caused no little comment here. B. Puett and J. L. The first case found guilty and bound over under $200 each, to appear at the fall term of district court. The case was immediately dismissed. San Francisco, June 6.—All the graft cases were continued in the courts here this morning, owing to the fact that Assistant District Attorney Heney is busy with the Ruff cases and desires to get the testimony of ex-Superintendent James L. COMPANY LOST ON THREE-CENT FARES

Cleveland Strike Costs Municipal Traction Company $5,000 Loss Last Month.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Cleveland, Ohio, June 6.—The first month of three-cent fares under the Municipal Traction company did not pay, it was announced by President Dupont today. "The strike was the cause of our loss. However, the fare was not kept within the receipts for the month. It could have made money at three-cent fares regardless of the strike, if we had not to meet the obligation assumed in the lease."

TARIFF PLANK MUST BE SOUND

Leaders Feel That Nothing With Knots in It Will Support Taft.

Washington, D. C., June 6.—The president, Secretary Taft, and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, conferred this afternoon up to 4:30 o'clock on what is stated to be a draft of the platform sent up from Virginia Beach by Attorney-General Wade Ellis, of Ohio. Mr. Ellis came here some days ago expressed his ideas to the president and Secretary Taft and he got a commission to write a declaration of principles of which two were regarded as of great importance. One of these was the tariff revision plank, the other terms in whose administration of President Roosevelt is to be endorsed. It was announced today after the conference at the White House that Mr. Ellis is expected here after he takes another day's rest at Virginia Beach. When he arrives there will be a general conference of the president and his various friends of Secretary Taft now in Washington. As pointed out heretofore, the president and Secretary Taft are aware that the tariff plank cannot be a wishy-washy affair this time. It must be strong, to the point, certain in tone and incapable of misunderstanding. The leaders now feel that hoisting of their ability to manipulate the convention also carries with it the ability to manipulate the convention in the interest of tariff reform.

CERTAINLY WE'LL STICK TO PLEDGE

Legislators - Elect Incensed at Doubts of Their Voting for Chamberlain.

Indignation has been aroused among the Statement No. 1 members of the legislature because of the rumors set afloat that not all of them would stand back of their pledges and cast their ballots for Governor George E. Chamberlain. Already 49 out of the 82 Statement No. 1 men have been heard from, many of them having written The Journal, all asserting in no uncertain tones their intention to stand behind their Statement No. 1 obligation. Among these are Fred J. Brady and L. E. Mahone, both of the Multnomah delegation, the house, who have written The Journal in positive terms of their intention of supporting Governor Chamberlain first, last and all the time. Both gentlemen are incensed because they have been classed as uncertain in their attitude regarding Statement No. 1. There are but three members of the legislature pledged to Statement No. 1 who have not been heard from definitely. These are Representative Allan H. Eaton of Lane, Senator W. T. Schofield of Clatsop and Senator A. A. Bailey of Multnomah, Clackamas and Columbia. Of the three the first two have not had time as yet to state their attitude definitely.

MISCEGNATION CURSE DECLARES H. F. BRIGGS

(United Press Leased Wire.) Berkeley, Cal., June 6.—"Miscegnation is an unmitigated curse," declared H. F. Briggs, who has just returned from an extensive trip through Africa and the Orient. "You may appeal to your constitution, the brotherhood of man, or what you may, but the mixture of the black and white races is totally bad. The offspring inherits the vices of its father and the stupidity of the mother, forming the basest sort of creature."
