

SALESMAN'S MARKET

Latest News of Oregon Crops

Northwest Weather Forecast. Western Oregon and Western Washington—Fair tonight and Wednesday, variable winds, mostly westerly. Eastern Oregon, Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho—Fair tonight and Wednesday. Southern Idaho—Fair and warmer tonight and Wednesday.

The production of hothouse cucumbers locally this season is only about half that of last year, despite the larger acreage. The continued cool weather shown during the spring was responsible, says Michael Welter, a hothouse man of Beaverton. "The small production is shown by the price. A year ago at this time we were receiving 15¢ per dozen in the wholesale market, while at this time the price is $1 a dozen. Bell peppers and eggplants promise well in the hothouses. In fact, the latter are already full grown."

Tekoa, Wash., June 9.—Crop prospects were never better in this vicinity than at the present time. A late, cool and very damp spring has been most favorable to the wheat crop. The weather coming on now will almost insure full and plump heads. While other crops are promising well in growth, no damage has been done.

Spokane, Wash., June 9.—Manager Harry Neely of the International Harvester Co. is here next December, has returned after a trip through the fruit country south and west of here. He says the prices will amount to $25,000. Many applications have been made already for space for exhibiting the fruit crops as reported looking well.

Mr. McAllister left today at noon for the Rogue river, where he goes to inspect the hatchery of O. H. Williams.

Talk of New Salmon Laws. There is much talk among salmon-men at this time regarding the newly passed act in the legislature. Some of the interests still claim that the law does not affect them because they received the most votes and that the other law which creates a hatchery is null and void. They claim they have received legal advice regarding the law and will ignore the law until the courts have decided they cannot fish. On the other hand the upper river men will ignore the law until the courts have decided they cannot fish. On the other hand the upper river men will ignore the law until the courts have decided they cannot fish.

Potato Market is Firmer. There is a much firmer tone in the local potato market and the trade is now paying on a basis of 30 and 35 cents per 100 pounds. Portland. According to potato interests there are now but about 50 cars of potatoes in this area in the hands of dealers. Because of the firmness of local conditions it is expected that the market will continue in this direction and more will follow if the market continues firm. The eastern Oregon stock here at this time is about 70 and 75 cents f. o. b. Portland.

First New Oregon Potatoes. The first new potatoes from this state are put on display at the Front street market this morning by Dryer, Bollen & Co. The stocks were of the Early Rose variety, and were in fine condition. The stocks were grown in one of the suburbs of the city and more of the same variety are expected to be on the market in the next 10 days. It is not likely, however, that regular shipments of local stock will begin until the middle of July and between that time and this the demand for old Oregon will continue unabated.

Manure Famine is Worse. The tie-up of the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern railroads by storms and floods have caused a continuation of the famine of manure all over the Pacific northwest. A large number of cars are stalled in the flooded districts and messengers have refused to haul manure here at what is considered a small price. The tie-up will force the local trade to look for considerable manure.

Brief Notes of the Trade. Receipts of cantaloupes have cut down the price. Tomato receipts are heavier and price lower. Egg hogs are finding little call but small and medium will. Dressed veal, if in fine shape, are in demand. Creamery butter is holding steady to firm. Strawberry market is lower; larger strawberries. Eggs are quoted easier because of heavy arrivals. Local garden peas are lower with better supplies. Those who sell at the following prices: Those paid shippers are less regular commissions:
