DECISION AFFECTS MECHANIC'S LIEN

of extra work under contract does not serve to keep open or extend the time in which a mechanic's lien may be filed beyond the 30 days allowed in case of subcontractors. The question came up in the case of Fox & Co. Builders v. Authors, Phillips Chapman and Anna

Chapman. The Chapmans own a house in Sunnyside on which the work in question was done. Authors had the building contract and sublet the plumbing to Fox & Co. On May 21 the work was finished, but certain extras were ordered and the work on these not completed until October 18. A mechanic's lien was filed on the whole within 30 days after October 18, but Judge Gastenbela sustained a demurrer on the ground that it should have been filed within 30 days from May 31. It would have been otherwise had the later work consisted of omissions from the original contract, as the contract would not then have been complete and the lien would hold.

Successful Wool Sale.
Boise, Idaho, June 11.—A very successful wool sale took place at Midvale yesterday. Six hundred and fifty thousand pounds were disposed of at prices ranging from 8½c to 14½c per pound.

About 250,000 pounds that were offered for sale were withdrawn, the growers refusing to accept the bids made. For vice-president: Wall street or the Smelter trust.
