All the churches of the city will join in this service Sunday forenoon. The baccalaureate sermon is usually the opening event of the O. A. C. commencement exercises, but the order of events is somewhat different this year. The first affair is the inter-septennial contest in the gymnasium, to be held in the Armory Friday evening, June 12, at 8:30.

Saturday, in the Armory at 8:30, occurs the Junior Prom; Sunday is baccalaureate, and Sunday, at 2:30 p. m., in the church, a joint farrow meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. is to be held.
Monday, at 10 o'clock a. m., on the college campus, 98 class exercises will take place; in the afternoon, at the residence of President W. J. In the evening, at the opera-house, the 98 class will put on their play, "The Great Expectation," under the direction of Professor G. Lester Paul of Portland.
Tuesday, at 11 a. m., in the gymnasium, the "Six" will hold their reunion, and at 2:30, on the campus, will be witnessed the graduating parade, this being a new feature. A joint farrow meeting at 3:30 p. m., in the Armory, a musical recital will be given by the students of the O. A. C. School of Music. Tuesday evening, at 8:30, Waldo hall will be the scene of the Alumni banquet.
This will close the list of major events, the commencement exercises taking place in the Armory Wednesday morning, June 17. There are over 90 graduates in this year's class, the largest number ever graduated in a single class at the institution.

MAKES LAST RUN TO YAQUINA BAY

Old Steamer T. M. Richardson Has Outlived Her Usefulness.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Newport, Or., June 11.—The old steamer T. M. Richardson, which for 30 years has plied on Yaquina bay and been almost the only link connecting Newport with the outside world, has made her last trip and is now laid up at Yaquina. She has been dismantled and her machinery and boilers taken out and installed in the new steamer Newport, which is to take the T. M. Richardson's place on the run. The T. M. will either be broken up or used merely as a scow.
The T. M. Richardson was built on Yaquina bay in 1878 for Tom Richardson and was launched in July of that year. Richardson was then in a poker game from a man named Morris on a single hand, Morris wagering the then "ambitious" vessel on the game. Richardson's stack of Richardson's chips, Captain James Chatterton, then a well-known figure among Oregon and Washington seamen, and former commander of the Tressie May, an outer vessel, was the first master of the T. M. Richardson, commanding her for several years. About five years ago the vessel passed by purchase into the hands of the Newport Navigation company, Captain Jacobson, who was to be master of the new vessel, the Newport, has been in command of the Richardson for the past year.
Captains Jacobson and Marshall, who are the Newport Navigation company and owners of the steamer, have presented the colors of the old T. M. to Richardson Chatterton, a Newport boy, who is the son of Captain Chatterton, the T. M.'s first master.

ELECTRIC WILL HAD FREIGHT SERVICE

Oregon Company Wants Exemption From Demurrage Law Until September.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., June 11.—The Oregon Electric Railway company has notified the railroad commission that it expects to have an efficient freight service established between Salem and Portland by September 1, 1906. Steps have been taken to permit a freight service on the line until that time, upon a temporary demurrage law, but a permanent law is being prepared. Any railroad doing a freight business in Oregon must be prepared to furnish cars to shippers within a certain number of days or stand a fine of $100 a day. The Oregon Electric is not able at this time to meet all the demands that would be made upon its equipment, and has applied to the railroad commission for permission to haul a few cars of freight, such as wood or lumber until September 1, at which time the company expects to be prepared to operate an efficient service under the provisions of the Oregon law.

PREPARING FOR FAIR AT SALEM

More Space Will Be Provided for County Exhibits This Year.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., June 11.—At a meeting of the building committee of the state fair board in Salem yesterday the contract was let for enlargement of the grandstand at the fair grounds so that it will accommodate an attendance of 5,000 people. McFarlane, Denison & McLaren, Salem contractors, were awarded the contract for $2,900.
From the reports that have been received the state fair this year will be one of the grandest in the history of the state. Nearly every county has signified its intention to be on hand with a large exhibit next fall.
The board has already concluded to move the administration offices to another location to make room for additional county exhibits, and the building committee is seriously contemplating the necessity of putting up new structures. Besides the remodeling of the grandstand, a new entrance will be constructed before the fair opens. The members of the building committee who were in session yesterday are W. T. Mallock, Frank Lee and F. W. Welch. Mike Wisdom was also in Salem with the committee inspecting the grounds.
The organization of the Portland Country Club and Livestock association has been a great factor in bringing better horses to the west this year, and will continue to be so in the future. It is therefore expected that the racing feature at the fair this year will be much stronger than in former years. The large purses hung at Portland will attract many drivers and breeders who have never before visited the Pacific coast. The two fairs, coming one following the other, will enable both to get the full benefit of the exhibitions, which will be the best ever seen on the coast.

RENO BANKER HELD UP BY TWO ROBBERS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Reno, Nev., June 11.—August Frolich of the Washoe County bank was held up early today while on his way to his office. Two highway robbers, the way in front of his buggy, forced him to stop and then searched him at the point of a revolver. They took the money he had with him, his stick, rings and watch. Then they forced him to turn his back and walk in the other direction while they shot at him with his horse and buggy. The men wore masks and there is no clue to their identity.

AUTOMATIC GUN GOES OFF BY ACCIDENT

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, June 11.—It became known here today that consternation was caused in the office of the city treasurer late Tuesday night, when two gunshots crashed through the cage door of the city penitentiary, and left but a few seconds before.
The matter was hushed up and the facts have just become public. A watchman, one of the guards, had picked up an automatic gun, and it went off before he knew it. The gun had been left in the repair shop, as it was nearly responsible for a death in the same office on a former occasion.

STATE TREASURER RETURNS TO DESK

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., June 11.—George Steel, state treasurer, has returned to his desk in the state treasury after a visit extending over a month to San Francisco and other California points. Mr. Steel left shortly after the conclusion of the trial in April and returned to Portland Monday, coming to Salem yesterday.
Mr. Steel reports that he is feeling very well as the result of his vacation, and also that the health of Mrs. Steel is much better.

TO INVESTIGATE FREIGHT SERVICE

Railroad to Probe O. R. & N. Shipments Between The Dalles and Portland.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., June 11.—After a thorough investigation the railroad commission has found sufficient grounds existing to warrant a hearing on the freight service afforded by the Oregon Railway & Navigation company between Portland and The Dalles and has ordered the railroad company to be prepared to answer to a complaint in a hearing to be held at Portland July 8. The investigation conducted recently by the commission has applied more especially to livestock. Roy Fairchild, a small shipper of lone, complains that after a great deal of inconvenience and delay he succeeded in shipping a few horses from lone to Portland, and at The Dalles, through failure to make the proper connections, he was obliged to stay several days and was charged $32.50 for feeding and yarding his stock during that time. Fairchild is only one of many dissatisfied shippers.
J. P. O'Brien, manager of the Harbinger lines in Oregon, in a letter to the commission disclaiming any responsibility for the yarding charge and says those charges are made against shippers by those of the yards. However, it is the opinion that such charges allowed by the railroad and charged in their freight bills are malicious. It will be the object of the hearing on July 8 to determine whether those charges are unreasonable and if so, why they should not be refunded.
It will also be determined whether the facilities for handling, receiving and delivering livestock and other freight along the Oregon Railway & Navigation company's line between The Dalles and Portland are adequate and reasonable. This hearing was called on the commission's own motion.

HEIRESS SECRETLY MARRIES CLUBMAN

Daughter of Treasurer Lathrop of Stanford Weds Walter Watson.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, June 11.—It became known here today that Miss Jennie Stanford Lathrop, daughter of Charles G. Lathrop, treasurer of Stanford university, and niece of the late Mrs. Jane L. Stanford, was secretly married last April to Walter Watson, a popular clubman about town and a rancher of Napa county.
Mrs. Watson was left $1,000,000 by the late Mr. Stanford. Her husband is in the east and know nothing of the marriage. Every effort has been made by the young people to keep the wedding a secret, it was with difficulty that confirmation of the rumor was obtained today. Although they are supposed to have been married in the city, no record of the issuance of a marriage certificate to them can be found.
Miss Lathrop's brother married a sister of Watson, and the romance is said to have begun at the home of the bride's sister-in-law. The young people are in Mill Valley, where they are expecting a summer home.

Are You Interested?

Less Than Half for Some—Half Price for Many—All Are Astonishing Bargains
If you're interested in a Piano—Grand or Upright, or a Player Piano—interested enough to not be satisfied until you have seen and heard them, come right down to the Piano Exchange and Bargain Room—don't wait a day or so to come to the store, but find the bargains advertised today, because they won't be here—they'll be sold.
The Publicity Department advertise and make the price that sells the bargain the same day it is announced. It has no restriction in handling the selling of pianos taken in exchange, pianos from rent stock, pianos that show warehouse handling, pianos that have been damaged in transit, or from any cause are slow sellers, and styles not in new catalogues—all are "Bargain Room" stock.
Player Pianos of all makes—the "88," "No. 1" Player Piano, the "Ariston" Player Piano, all good instruments—but, of course, not Pianola Pianos, and that's the reason we have them—but we have the right price on them to sell quick.
"Small Babies" are here in the P. E. & B. R., too—was four, now only two—beautiful of the "new" grand model, and you're lucky to get down here in time today and secure one at the price they are marked at. The Piano Exchange and Bargain Room has captured all Portland and now the country around is getting the news—good news, the conclusion of the public was instant and unanimous. The public was quick to welcome the "Piano Exchange and Bargain Room" to make it popular in three short days. The souvenirs which we have been offering in the shape of wonderful bargains have been snapped up eagerly, producing a record-breaking attendance far beyond our expectations.
Yesterday we had nothing to say—virtually nothing to sell, we were about all sold out—so rested a day and everybody got busy. Our repair and finishing shop, using some special pianos, several came in from rent, and we picked out a few that had been used as samples, these, with some fairly good "exchanges" that have been regulated, tuned, refinished and polished, allow us to start the last half of the week with even greater offerings than on opening day.
The crowds of satisfied buyers who have attended the "clean-up" sale have secured some of the strongest values ever offered. The crowd that will be here today and tomorrow and Saturday will be equally as well satisfied.
Don't neglect these opportunities—their very unusual and now about prices and makes. It's a question to whether we should quote the pianos with prices—we handle some—many are handled by other houses—old makes—well known—high priced—old makes—most of them musically like new. Why confuse future buyers? We, or no one else can handle them for much less than double the "yellow-tape-must-go" price. So we will say "if you are interested in a piano, grand or upright, or a Player Piano, interested enough to buy one right now, provided you can save about half, or more of your Piano or Player Piano money, come right down to the Piano Exchange and Bargain Room, and come prepared to buy—cash or on payment plan to suit the circumstances—the bargain is here waiting for you. Park (8th) street and Washington, but the bargain will not remain long—some one else will pick it up.
