TODAY'S MARKETS

Every Reliable Merchant Will Condemn Efforts of Morning Paper to Rob Oregon Farmers.

STIR TRADE BY HITTING EGGS

Attack on Local Product by Morning Paper Is Condemned by Merchants.

Attack on Eggs Stirs Trade.

That the attack upon the quality of the Oregon egg in the market report of a morning publication was not justified is the undivided opinion of Front street handlers—and no one knows better as to quality than those who do the business. That the attack upon the quality of the local production was due to the efforts of the morning paper to help out friends who have eastern eggs to sell is likewise the opinion of Front street handlers.

The following firms are among the most prominent in the northwest and are among the most reliable. Their opinions regarding the effort to pull down the reputation of Oregon eggs in order to help the sale of eastern stock are:

Eggs as Good as Ever.

W. H. Dryer of Dryer, Bollam & Co.—"I am astonished at the attack upon the quality of Oregon eggs. They are just as good now as at any time during this period of the year. While of course they cannot be considered as good as early in the season, the same condition exists every year, both here and in the east. Fresh Oregon eggs are as good as fresh eggs from any section."

Page & Son—"The idea of Oregon eggs not being as good as those from the east is ridiculous. There is absolutely nothing in the report printed by the morning paper. It is out of the question. Our eggs are well up to any standard."

Ben Levy & Co.—"The Journal should refute the statement made by a morning paper regarding the poor quality of the Oregon eggs."

No Trouble With Quality.

John A. Bell of Bell & Co.—"We are experiencing no difficulty with the quality of our Oregon eggs. They are as good as the best. No, there is no truth in the report that we intend to stop their sale."

John Koskey of McEwen & Koskey—"It's absurd to talk of cutting out the sale of Oregon eggs because of quality."

Better Than Eastern Eggs.

Henry Everding of Henry Everding & Co.—"I never heard of such a thing as cutting out the sale of Oregon eggs. It's not to be thought of for a single moment. It's natural that our eggs should be better than the average run of eastern stock because we can get them within a few days from the time they are laid."

W. B. Glafke Co.—"Oregon eggs are good enough for us. We still want shipments."

Charles Levy of Levy, Spiegl & Co.—"We are still in the market for Oregon eggs. The report that we are going to cut them out is silly."

George Pearson of Pearson, Page & Co.—"While Oregon eggs are not coming in as fine shape as they might, we are not considering the idea of cutting out their sale."

Our Eggs Not to Be Condemned.

Henry C. Thompson of Davenport-Thompson Co.—"No, we do not intend to cut out the sale of Oregon eggs and substitute eastern stock for them. We believe in home industry and there is no cause for complaint regarding the quality of our eggs. They are as good as any eggs in the country that are produced at this time of year."

Davenport Bros.—"We intend to continue selling Oregon eggs whenever we receive them. We have no fault to find with the quality."

Everding & Farrell—"We always handle mostly Oregon eggs and always will. Knocking the quality will not affect us in the least. We welcome shippers of local eggs."

Brief Notes of the Trade.

Chicken market is lower with larger supplies.

Local wheat is weaker although no large lots are being offered for less.

There is a nibbling for flour by oriental buyers but no actual business has resulted.

Local potatoes are firmer and higher although the California markets are not so good.

Hops are exceedingly quiet.

While supplies of bananas are heavy only green stock is available.

Strawberries are lower with more liberal supplies.

Latest News of Oregon Crops

NORTHWEST WEATHER FORECAST.

Western Oregon and western Washington—Fair tonight and Sunday; northwest winds.

Eastern Oregon, eastern Washington and Idaho—Fair tonight and Sunday.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

La Grande, Or., June 13.—With the advent of warm weather comes a serious problem to the fruit growers of Union county. From every district in the valley come calls for cherry pickers from outside points. Where 40 to 50 were formerly employed to handle the fruit picking 200 are now called for. July 12 has been commonly decided upon as the day which will mark the harvest of cherries in the Cove district. Other sections will form in line about that time.

Milton, June 13. — The east end of Umatilla county is rapidly developing into a district of small fruits, berry patches and vineyards, with land at exceptionally high prices, and exceptionally productive. Land for several miles out of this place is selling for excellent prices, and is being converted into berry patches as rapidly as possible, and within a couple of years there will be a great increase in the amount of fruit raised in this section. The entire distance from Milton to Walla Walla along the line of the electric road is now filled with homes where formerly it was owned in large tracts, and but few people lived there. The land is highly productive, and water is plentiful and every imaginable variety of fruit is being grown in abundance.

Portland Union Stockyards, June 13.—The overbuying of cattle in California by practically every local killer has been a very hard blow to the local industry according to cattle raisers. "I don't see just what the packers and killers mean," said a prominent authority. "They tell us to build up the cattle industry and the very first thing they do is to go elsewhere for their supplies and let us suck our thumbs so far as they are concerned."

Just at this time the cattle market is very dull locally with quite heavy arrivals. There was no change in the price during the day.

Sheep market, while showing no arrivals for the 24 hours, was weak at unchanged values because of the liberal offerings. At this time killers are making their own values.

Hogs are just about steady with a small run and former quotations the top.

A year ago today there was intense weakness in the cattle situation with prices 25c lower. Hogs and sheep were easy to steady at unchanged values.

Official yard values today:

Hogs—Best stuff, $6.00@6.25; China fats, $5.00@$5.50; stockers and feeders, (—).

Cattle—Fancy eastern Oregon steers, $4.50; medium, $4.00@4.25; best cows, $3.50@3.75; bulls, (—); stags, $1.50@2.50.

Sheep — Best wethers, $3.75@4.00; spring lambs, weighing 75 lbs., $4.75@5.00; mixed, $3.25@3.50.

New York, June 13.—A strong recovery took place in the stock market today but sentiment shows selling pressure but declines have been shown mostly on professional selling rather than on liquidation. Commercial outlook is reported as more encouraging and the crop outlook satisfactory but a great many are inclined to wait until after the conventions when the places of the different political parties will be known. The inquiry for copper metal is better and has a bright outlook.

Chicago, June 13.—Short covering and a badly oversold condition of both this and foreign markets caused an advance of 1c to 1⅛c at the close of wheat trading today.

Damage reports continue to come and are getting many hearers.

Kansas City wired: "There has been entirely too much rain in this section. There is supposed to be a big short interest in July as well as September wheat in this market."

The Inter-Ocean today says: "All the big professionals who discussed the wheat situation last night, with but few exceptions, were bullish on crop damage reports. They looked upon Expert Inglis reports from Kansas as sensational and it was remarked that Inglis was not as good a crop reporter this year, although he went out instructed.

"The head of a leading grain concern here is quoted as very bullish on both July and September wheat and talking $1 for September. A few of the bears admitted that there had been some deterioration in the winter wheat crop since June 1, but believe that the crops in Kansas and Missouri can be more than made up by the increased yield in the northwest and the Canadian northwest, the latter having the promise of an exportable surplus of over 100,000,000 bsuhels, as the acreage has increased 15 per cent. They also say that they do not like the character of buying, as a change in the weather would start them selling."

JEWELRY ALSO IN SAFE THEFT

Troutdale Postoffice Expensive to Owners of Store Used by Government.

That the safe-crackers who blew the postoffice safe at Troutdale early yesterday morning got away with more than was believed to have been stolen at first and did more damage than was evident yesterday, is brought out by the fact that in addition to the money taken, considerable jewelry of value belonging to the postmaster's family is also missing.

The strong box which was carried from town and cracked is a total loss. It was worth about $150. The damage to the safe and cabinet work on the inside from which the strong box was torn amounts to about $400. The firm of Harlow, Blaiser & Harlow, in whose store the postoffice is located, lost $934 in cash. The loss to the postoffice is $267. In their hurry the robbers overlooked $337 in timechecks on Harlow, Blaiser & Harlow.

A Masonic pin made of gold mined in California in 1849 by John Harlow, father of F. E. Harlow, the postmaster, was among the articles of jewelry which the burglars found in the strongbox, together with the money. There were also two gold band rings which had belonged to two children of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow and who are dead. Mr. Harlow's father is dead also and the rings and the Masonic pin were being retained as keepsakes. In addition a necklace, a gold chain and several articles of value were taken.

The men left nothing behind by which they might be traced and so far as is known the county authorities have absolutely no clue as to their identity.

WOMAN SHOOTS MAN THEN PHONES POLICE

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Reno, Nev., June 13.—Mrs. George Winters, mother of five children, and well known here is being held in jail today pending an investigation of a tragedy on the Reno-Sparks road last night, in which Mrs. Winters shot and killed James A. Beatty, a well-known merchant of Sparks and Reno.

Beatty and the woman were out for a buggy ride when the shooting occurred. The woman telephoned to the chief of police at Reno that she had shot a man and he went out and got the body. Investigation showed that Beatty had been shot in the back as his clothing was burned there and the bullet entered from that side.

Mrs. Winters admitted that she had done the shooting and said that she shot in self-defense. She said that they had quarreled. The police are investigating her story, and will keep the women in jail until the coroner's jury either releases her or she is indicted by the grand jury.

Mrs. Winters' husband accompanied her to the jail last night. He said today that he can give no explanation for the shooting.

Booth's cottage is located on the very point of the hill and one more charge of dynamite would send it to destruction. Booth lived here from 1852 to 1856. During that time Telegraph hill was the center of San Francisco's social life.

LEADERS SELECT CLARK TO RUN WITH BILL TAFT

Member of Interstate Commerce Commission, Formerly Union Leader, Will Be Used to Combat Strength of John Mitchell on the Bryan Ticket.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Chicago, June 13.—A big sensation was sprung here today when it was reported that E. E. Clark, member of the interstate commerce commission, who formerly was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors, has been chosen by the Taft leaders as the candidate for vice-president. The decision, it is said was made for the purpose of meeting the possibility that John Mitchell will be Bryan's running mate and at the same time smoothing out the old resentment said to be held by some labor unions against Taft for his strike decisions when on the United States circuit bench.

It is understood that Governor Deneen of Illinois first suggested Clark for the place. The report says the boom will be announced formally tonight.

DAGGER ENDS ITALIAN PARTY; ONE IS DEAD

Desantes, the Victim, Tried to Force Boy Away From His Hosts.

Jim Vengezo Desantes, an Italian, aged 40 years, is dead; Tom Petarsso, another Italian, is in jail, charged with murder; Desantes' son, Joe, and Luigi Martina, an Italian youth, are in jail on a charge of drunk and disorderly—all this the result of a birthday party given at the home of Frank Riormonti, on Patton road, last night. The affair which terminated fatally was given by Tom Petarsso, the alleged murderer, in honor of his twenty-third birthday.

Liquor flowed freely, and the participants were more or less under its influence when the quarrel occurred about 10:30 o'clock. Desantes and his son were departing when the father remembered that Luigi Martina, for whom he held himself responsible, was not with them. He called for the boy to accompany them. Petarsso demurred, saying that his departure would break up the party.

Luigi sided with Petarsso, and Desantes, bent on taking the youth, advanced toward him with a stick of wood. Luigi drew a dagger and Petarsso jumped in front of him to ward off the impending blow from Desantes' stick. At this juncture Desantes is said to have flashed a dagger, cutting Petarsso in the chin. This led Petarsso to draw and fire his revolver, the bullet piercing Desantes' body just below the heart.

Desantes died at 3:40 o'clock this morning in St. Vincent's hospital. His home is at 658 Sixth street. Petarsso claims self-defense.

Tacoma, Wash., June 13.—The Tacoma Daily Tribune, the new newspaper, made its bow to the public yesterday afternoon in a 12-page edition. The publishers are R. F. Radabaugh, editor-in-chief and F. H. Eastman. George E. Garrett, formerly of the Evening News editorial staff, is the managing editor. The new paper uses the Hearst news service and describes itself in its foreword as non-partisan in politics, "and mighty little of that."
