suited in an exciting finish between Campbell of Columbia, and Dart and Meier of West Side High. The college athletes, however, on the high school man and got even for his defeat in the century by taking the event in 2:30 and 2:35 seconds. Dart was also placed third from the last by his schoolmate, Meier, and the best he could do was to take third place. Meier, however, and Cornell, who were placed in the preliminaries failed to make good in the finals.

Quinn Wins Shotput.
Tim Quinn, whose muscles were hardened to shape in the Walla Walla harvest fields last summer, proved an easy winner for the Columbia team in the shotput. Quinn was not required to do his best and contented himself with a record of 25 feet, 9 inches. Runyon of the West Side team was second and Starke of the same team, third.

Latourette, West Side High's 220-yard hurdler, was an easy winner in this interesting event. McGuire, his teammate, ran second and Gammons of Portland Academy, took third by a small margin from Holden the stocky little Columbia man. The time was 27 3/5 seconds. The mile was won by Quinn, who met last Saturday again proved the spectacular runner of the day. Burns, Columbia University's clearest distance runner, ran a heady race and in a record-breaking sprint on the last lap outdistanced the runner held by Davis of West Side High and won by a few inches. All credit must be given to the high school boy, though, for he set a terrific pace for the first two laps and responded gamely to the Columbia lad's challenge in the stretch. He succeeded in creating second place for Graham of Hill Military Academy, who also ran a good race and finished third. The time was not very fast, however, the mile being won in 4 minutes and 9 seconds.

Big Jumps Made.
Manager Hickson of West Side High added to the lead taken by his school early in the meet by leading 15 feet, 11 inches in the broad jump and getting first place. Norris of Portland Academy, took second place with a jump of 19 feet, 8 inches, and Hill of Hill Military Academy, took third, jumping 18 feet, 10 inches.

Columbia got five more points in the pole vault, Perkins winning this event with a vault of 9 feet, 4 inches. He then excelled in the 100-yard dash, where he won by 1/2 second. Jamieson of West Side High school was second and Baker of the Hill Military Academy, third.

By a common agreement on the part of all five schools the discus and hammer throw were eliminated from the program, none of the teams having practiced for these events. The last event of the day, the relay, proved exciting for the first two laps with the runners bunched. A mishap resulted at the beginning of the third lap and Portland Academy's runner got ahead while the others could not cut down. Columbia might have protested the race as Ennis was interfered with, but the boys from the Catholic college showed good sportsmanship by waiving this right. West Side High school was second in this event.

California's Coach TELLS OF BOAT RACES
San Francisco, June 13.—M. Garnett, coach of the University of California rowing crews, has just returned from the trip to Seattle on which the varsity eight from Berkeley was beaten in a three-mile race by the crew of the University of Washington. He has nothing but praise for the way the northern people treated the Californians, and while regretting that his crew did not win, he praises the work of the Washington eight and waxes enthusiastic over the splendid course on which the race was rowed on Lake Washington.

Next summer, and Garnett today, "when the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition is on, the management intends to promote a big four-handed race. It is the intention to invite the University of Wisconsin, the University of California and Stanford university to make the trip to Seattle and engage in a race with the University of Washington crew in eight-oared shells, and it is also proposed to have varsity four and freshmen eights."

West Side High school won the inter-scholastic championship of the city yesterday afternoon in an interesting and at times spectacular track meet on Multnomah field. Five teams were entered in the meet, those being Columbia University, West Side High school, East Side High school, Hill Military Academy and Portland Academy. The West Side boys scored a total of 48 points, their nearest rival being Columbia with 28 points. Portland Academy took third place with 18 points and Hill Military Academy was fourth with 11 points. East Side High, which entered a track team for the first time this year, was unable to secure a point, but the boys showed that with more experience and training they have material which will develop some good men.

McGuire is Star.
McGuire, of West Side High, was the star of the day. He scored 13 points for his team, winning the high jump and the pole vault, and placing second in the low hurdles. Campbell of Columbia, Graham of Hill Military Academy and Latourette of the West Side High school were second, West Side High scoring second in the 100-yard dash, East Side High, which entered a track team for the first time this year, was unable to secure a point, but the boys showed that with more experience and training they have material which will develop some good men.

Hundred in Fast Time.
The 100-yard dash, the first event of the meet was run in four heats. Dart of West Side High school won the first heat in 10 4/5 seconds. Cornell of Portland Academy was second. In the second heat Campbell of Columbia and Crickmore of West Side High finished in the order named. Time, 10 4/5 seconds. Baker of the Hill Military Academy took the third heat in 11 1/5 seconds. Cornell of East Side High was second. The final heat was a close race between Dart of the West Siders, and Campbell of Columbia. The little fellow from this side of the river, however, ran like a hare and won by a foot and finished ahead of the frocked collegian by a foot. Cornell of Portland Academy was third. Time, 10 3/5 seconds.

Graham, Hill Military Academy's half-mile sprinter, ran a pretty race, coming up from the back of the pack of Portland Academy when the latter looked like a sure winner. Burns, a sturdy leaper, won the 220-yard dash. Columbia took third place in this event. The time was very good for a meet of this kind considering the soft condition of the track. Graham crossed the tape in 2 minutes, 14 1/2 seconds.

McDaniel Wins Quarter.
McDaniel, Portland Academy's great quarter-miler, showed exceptional speed in the 400-yard dash, winning in 1:13 3/5 seconds. Meier and Davis, both of West Side High, finished behind the leader. The race was a close one. McGuire, the star athlete of the meet, exhibited fine form in the high jump. He took first place in this event with a leap of 5 feet 7 inches after a pretty competition with Baker of Hill Military Academy and Black of Columbia, who got second and third places respectively.

Baker jumped 5 feet, 5 inches and Black cleared the bar at 5 feet, 4 inches. In an exhibition jump McGuire almost succeeded in making a record of 5 feet, 7, but the bar fell after he had passed over it and the jump was not counted.

NEW CHAMPIONS WITH RACQUETS

Annual Irvington Tennis Tournament Comes to a Close With Great Games.

The annual tournament of the Irvington Tennis club, which closed yesterday afternoon, closed the most interesting local event ever held in Portland. A large number of entries competed for the trophy cups and the field near the tennis courts was the scene of a gay remembrance of enthusiastic spectators. The day was ideal, the hot sun being tempered by a gentle breeze which filled the racquet swingers with energy and made the contests close and exciting.

The Wilbur challenge cup for the gentlemen's singles was won by B. H. Wickersham after a pretty exhibition of the tennis game on the part of both Mr. Wickersham and his defeated rival, E. A. Black.

E. A. Cawton and J. Shiven furnished the surprise of the day in the gentlemen's doubles, they winning the tournament.

Oliver B. Huston.

HUSTON BEST SPRINTER ON THE PACIFIC COAST

In speaking of the recent P. N. A. games in Portland upon the return of the Olympic track team, the San Francisco Chronicle said:

Huston of Oregon showed great speed and the Olympic men declare he is the best 100 yards man on the coast. He ran the 100 in 10 1/5 seconds on a track which, being new, was badly out of shape before the final of the 100 yards. In the 200 yards Gerhardt won handsily, beating Martin S. Beckman, the runner who is credited with covering the distance in 21 1/5 seconds, a time equal to the world's record held by B. J. Winters. As Gerhardt's time on Saturday was 22 3/5 seconds, it is probable that the watches at Spokane were not handled just right.

GRAVESEND TRACK IN GRIP OF POLICEMEN

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Gravesend Race Track, New York, June 13.—The races here this afternoon were in the hands of the police. Bluecoats were at the gates and all the entrances. The betting ring was held by a strong squad of men. The paddock and the clubhouse also were under heavy guard.

No disposition was shown by the bookmakers to attempt to take bets until the third race when three arrests were made, one of the prisoners being Bookmaker Jake Kline.

The crowd was as large as on any previous Saturday afternoon, and the gate receipts were sufficient to pay the club. There was a notable absence, however, of the better class of women, who were kept away by fear of a repetition of yesterday's riots.

The passive attitude of the bookmakers is believed to be the result of a conference held today by President Dwyer of the club, Major Dangerfield, John Cavanaugh, the czar of the betting ring, and two attorneys.
