

elecon cures A. A. Buck of Awful Rheumatism

Prominent Rancher and Stockman Suffered Fearfully and Had No Faith in Treatment.

Couldn't walk; couldn't work; couldn't move hand or foot; entire body bloated; in the most excruciating pain all the time; suffering untold misery that he has not the power to describe, condition of A. A. Buck, one of the biggest stockmen in Stevens county and the best known citizen in that section of the state. Before he called upon James Austin Larson for treatment, according to Mr. Buck, no man ever suffered more than he did of rheumatism. Being a large man, weighing considerably over 200 pounds, this gentleman's agony may be better imagined than described.

Mr. Buck said: "With the exception of a slight twinge of pain in my right ankle, actually, I never felt better in my life than I do now."

Mr. Buck was urged to tell the story of his case in his own words. In response to the question he said that he couldn't stop talking about Teleconi. He said that he was the happiest man in the country and willingly, in fact eagerly, sought the opportunity to tell to others, whoever may read, what Teleconi had done for him.

"I had about the worst case of rheumatism that I think anybody ever did have," said Mr. Buck. "It would leap from my feet to my hands and to other places all over my body. My hands and my feet suffered most, although my arms and my hips were about as bad. There were moments, at times, when I could walk, but for the greater part of four months I could neither walk nor could I even move my hands or my feet. I lay flat in bed and whenever my feet or my hands had to be moved my wife had to pick them up as tenderly as though I was a new born babe. I believe my cries could be heard for a mile whenever I had to be moved."

"In addition to this pain and suffering my body bloated. No part of my entire body was free from this attack. My hands were actually four times as large as normal. My face bloated almost out of recognition, while my legs and feet were frightful to look at. I suffered the greatest agony for four months, during which time I was treated by all the local physicians that I could get to visit me; I tried every rheumatism remedy that I had ever heard of and many that I had not heard of till some one suggested them.

"One day A. F. Thorp, a friend of mine, told me about James Austin Larson. He urged me to go to Spokane and try the treatment. I laughed at him; I didn't believe in it. I didn't want any Teleconi for me. My friends insisted, and I was finally persuaded to give my consent. I was carried from my bed to the train at Fruitland, and when I reached Spokane was taken from the depot to the hotel in a cab, during all of which time I suffered more than I can tell. The first trip to the Spokane hotel I was carried in a cab; carried upstairs and treated. I continued these treatments for six days, just one single week, and today I can jump up and down on my feet; can put the palms of my hands together for the first time in 10 years; this morning I wrote a letter to a friend of mine who has the rheumatism and this is the first time in four months that I have been able to take a pen in my hands."

"I want to tell you, Mr. Reporter," continued Mr. Buck, "that this is a wonderful man. To think that I have been on my bed for four months as helpless as a child and never had sense enough to come to Spokane and be cured in six days makes me almost mad at myself."

Mr. Buck bade me a very good day and walked very briskly to the elevator, preparatory to leaving for his home in Stevens county, where he intends to spread the good news of his recovery with the hundreds of people with whom he has business relations in Stevens county.

Says His Stomach Was Burning Up and Teleconi Cured Him

A. F. Thorp, a Herrington Rancher, Given Up by Doctors, Cured by James Austin Larson.

"I suffered so with dyspepsia that I had to give all my work up and could not get about at all, I was so weak. I went to see the doctors. I consulted with them time and time again. They told me that I was a victim of acute indigestion, or dyspepsia. They said that they could do nothing for me. So, then I came to Spokane. I went to a specialist here and after taking a lot of money away from me, he said that I was incurable."

"In these few words, A. F. Thorp, Herrington, Wash., yesterday told a reporter the condition he was in when he had exhausted all the resources at his command and was given up.

"I have had dyspepsia for the last three years," he continued. "I have never been entirely incapacitated until last February. Then I was all in. I could not work and expected that I would have to suffer until I died."

"In the latter part of July I called upon James Austin Larson. I had heard a great deal about him and wondered if he could do anything for me. I could not keep anything on my stomach. I had pains all the time in my stomach and chest. I could not work; could not walk and was in a fearful condition. I had to go around in a hack before I commenced to take Teleconi treatments."

131. Since then I have gained right along, and today I weighed 135.

"My appetite is better, and I can eat far more now than I could before. I understand that my stomach is still weak and I cannot eat all that I would like to, but I can eat things now that I never could keep down before. I never knew what it was to be hungry then; now I am hungry all the time."

"I could not walk a block then; now I can walk all day without being tired. I am gaining every day, and never expected that I would be as well now as I am. Teleconi is certainly a wonderful method of treatment."

"Another feature of my trouble was that I was constipated nearly all the time. I never had a natural passage of the bowels for a whole year. I had to take drugs all the time. I very seldom have to do that now. My bowels are rapidly getting back into their natural condition."

"I also suffered something awful with a burning sensation in the stomach. At times it seemed as though my stomach was fairly burning up. I never suffered more in my life than I did with this condition. But, ever since the first treatment by Larson, I have not felt it in the slightest degree."

Mr. Thorp is a young man and has been ranching for his health for a long time. He kept continually getting worse, and says that he never experienced such relief as he has since he commenced taking Teleconi treatments under James Austin Larson.

Teleconi treatment Cures Little Girl of Asthma

James Austin Larson Given Credit for Performing Almost a Miracle.

"Lette is only a child," said her mother, "and she has suffered from asthma since she was a baby. We have done everything that we could think of to cure her, but everything had failed until we put her under Teleconi treatment. She has taken treatment three times a week. The treatments commenced September 18 and there has been a wonderful improvement."

"All summer long she wheezed and was in very bad shape. Her father had to carry her from one room to another and we could not touch her arms or shoulders. At times she could not chew, swallow or help herself in any way. She was simply a wreck. We could count every muscle in her throat and had to attend to her every want, even to undressing her at night, and dressing her again in the morning."

"When Mr. Larson first called to see her, he said right away that her stomach was the cause of her trouble. Other doctors had treated her for stomach trouble, but none of them ever had success. After he had left the house one day Lette said to me: 'Mama, I wish you could feel his hands when he puts them upon me. They make me feel so much better and so relieved, at once.'"

"Teleconi treatment is simply wonderful. I do not understand what it is, but it is wonderful. From the very first treatment, Lette commenced to grow better."

"I first read of Mr. Larson's treatment in the paper. My husband was very skeptical and would not let me send for him. But something had to be done. We had taken her to the Wisconsin, Montana, Idaho and other places, with no result. So I realized that the situation was becoming desperate. Lette was growing worse every night. She had been to Newport for a while, and we brought her back here to die.

"The doctor down there said that she had a very few days to live and that she had better be hurried to her home in Spokane. So there was nothing else to do but wait for Friday to follow. We arrived home one Friday night. I sat up with her all night and saw her getting steadily worse. Sunday night she seemed about to die. I watched her with feelings that you can imagine. Her eyes were half closed and the expression upon her face was like one about to die."

"As a last resort we determined to try Teleconi treatment. At this time she could not talk. We had to burn powder in the room all the time and the most that she could ever say was, 'Burn some more powder.' Oh, how I longed to have her speak to me. If she could have just opened her mouth and called me 'Mama.' That would have been such a relief."

"I have not burned any powder since the third treatment. She has been treating only four weeks, all of the treatments being given by Mr. Larson, and now she eats anything she wants, she sleeps soundly, her wheezing is all gone and her appetite is splendid. At first we did not dare to hope for relief for Lette. We could not believe that the treatment could bring such misery and suffering to an end, but now we know."

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 12, 1906.

"We have carefully read the attached article, written by the reporter, and it is true in every particular. In fact, it does not express the gratitude we feel for our child's recovery, and the publication of this statement is fully authorized."

THOSE WHO DESIRE A FULL COURSE OF TELECONI TREATMENT MUST ENROLL WITHIN THE NEXT FEW DAYS AS THE LIST IS ALMOST COMPLETED

Letters From Patients That Prove Beyond Question of Doubt That J. Austin Larson Cures Permanently a Large Percentage of His Patients.

That J. Austin Larson, originator of Teleconi, the science of vibration, has wrought remarkable cures of the ills that humanity is heir to, and that an overwhelming majority of such cures proved permanent is indisputably shown in the appended answers received to inquiries sent out by the Beloit, Kansas, Daily Call, for the purpose of establishing the reliability of the Teleconi treatment and the permanency of the cures effected. The editor and publisher of the Daily Call deemed it due to its readers that they should know of the results obtained. The patients interviewed had taken the treatment months previous, but all praised Mr. Larson as much as they did when the originator of Teleconi was in their midst. James Austin Larson is, now at the Oregon Hotel.

Affidavit of Publisher

EVERY LETTER PUBLISHED IN THIS CIRCULAR WAS RECEIVED, OPENED AND READ BY ME IN ANSWER TO THE FOLLOWING INQUIRY SENT OUT BY THE DAILY CALL:

"We take the liberty of addressing you in regard to J. Austin Larson's work at Salina. Of course this treatment is entirely new and we feel that it is due our readers to know of the results obtained. Please answer the following questions: For what did you take treatment of J. Austin Larson? What do you think of Mr. Larson's work in Salina? What do you think of him as a man, and as a healer? What do you know now in your own case of the permanency of the results obtained? These answers are for publication in this week. Very truly yours, THE DAILY CALL."

The answers received by me are the answers published in this circular. These answers were kept on file for some time at the office of the Daily Call for the unrestricted perusal of the general public. The investigation of the permanency of the work done by J. Austin Larson at Salina was conducted by the Daily Call with a view to ascertaining the truth for the protection and benefit of its readers. The nature of the replies I had no power of predicting, and I frankly acknowledge my surprise at the number who wrote to me, an unknown third party, several months after they had taken treatment under Mr. Larson, that they were cured or materially benefited and continuing to improve in health. As these letters united in their praise of Mr. Larson as a man of honesty and integrity, and a healer of rare power, I have turned the letters over to him to use as he sees fit in the future. His work in Beloit has been eminently satisfactory and has resulted in material benefit to a very large per cent of his patients. This knowledge I have gained from personal conversation with many of his patients and from the personal investigation of my reportorial force.

Beloit, Kansas, February 11, 1904. (Seal.) Subscribed and sworn to before me this 11th day of February, 1904. N. L. WILSON, Notary Public, Mitchell Co., Kansas.

Father Helped, Daughter Cured.

The following letter is from the wife of a man who took treatment for fistula, which alleviated the pain and partially stopped the discharges, and whose little 5-year-old daughter was cured of eczema:

"Smolan, Kan., Jan. 19, 1904. THE DAILY CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"Dear Sirs—Yours of the 15th inst. at hand and contents noted. In behalf of my husband, Andy W. Miller (who is absent from home at present), I will say that he took treatment from J. Austin Larson for fistula. We think his work in Salina gave universal satisfaction. We are all very grateful and happy in his dealings, and his a wonderful gift of healing. Mr. Miller was not cured and seems to be in about the same condition as he was when he stopped taking treatment. Our little girl, Ina M. Miller, was treated by Mr. Larson for eczema. Last winter she was broken out in several places on her face, was treated by a good physician, but got only temporary relief. She commenced breaking out in winter again. We took her to Mr. Larson and it is now several weeks since her last treatment and it has not yet made any reappearance."

"Yours truly, Mrs. Andy Miller, Ina M. Miller."

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured.

Here is a letter from a man who was sick about three months with sciatic rheumatism and was dragged with morphine in order to stand the pain incident to going to Salina for treatment of Mr. Larson. After taking eight treatments he was cured and went to his home and about a week since his cure has lasted is best told by himself:

"Brookville, Kan., Jan. 20, 1904. THE DAILY CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"I took treatment for sciatic rheumatism. I think Mr. Larson's work in Salina was successful from the number of letters I have received. He is a perfect gentleman, and as far as healing is concerned, he has done wonders in Salina. I commenced taking treatment on the 18th of October, 1903, and haven't had any return of the rheumatism since, and I feel like a new man."

"Yours truly, Adam Bowman."

How He Can Walk.

Mr. R. Rose took treatment for his feet, which were locked stiff and drawn up with rheumatism. The treatment he received relieved the pain and partially loosened the knee joint, as is shown by the following letter:

"New Cambria, Kan., Jan. 20, 1904. THE WESTERN CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"Gentlemen—In answer to your letter of inquiry, would state that I took the treatment for a stiff knee, caused by rheumatism set in, in regard to Mr. Larson's work in Salina, about which that he was very successful in most of his cases. As a man he has been straight with me. As a healer I would not like to make any comparisons, because I have always considered the whole lot as takes, pure and simple, and since I met him, I have had no suspicion comes to me that I may have judged the others too harshly. In regard to my own case, last Saturday in prospecting for oil I walked over eight miles in the forenoon and went to town in the afternoon, none the worse for my trip."

"Respectfully yours, E. R. Rose."

Has Gained Twelve Pounds.

This letter is from the wife of a hardware merchant at New Cambria, Salina county, Kansas:

"New Cambria, Kan., Jan. 19, 1904. THE DAILY CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"Editor—With regard to J. Austin Larson, I believe him to be honest and upright in his dealings and I think he did a grand work in Salina. I took treatment for stomach and bowel troubles, and am well pleased with results obtained. I have gained twelve pounds since taking treatment and I believe his cures are permanent."

"Yours respectfully, Mrs. Ella Dornier."

Getting Better Right Along.

The writer of the following letter was suffering greatly when he began taking treatment, and beneficial results have continued after completing his course:

"Salina, Kan., Jan. 20, 1904. THE WESTERN CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"I took seventeen treatments from Mr. J. Austin Larson in Salina in about twenty-five days. I did not commence as soon as I ought to, but took treatment for constipation of seven years' standing, and I have tried seven big doses of salts or pills or drugs one day regular, and it seemed the longer the worse. I met Mr. Larson, and I have taken no physic since, and the present indications are that I won't have to, and I am proud of it. A good, big tablespoonful of salts don't do the well every morning before breakfast. My other troubles were stomach trouble, rheumatism, sciatic rheumatism, and lame back. My stomach is getting better. My back is well. In fact I am better all around that I have been in five years. When my seventeen treatments were taken I did not feel a great deal improved, but Mr. Larson told me I would get better right along and so I did. I think any man or woman not too old will never regret a course of treatments. I have spent over $1,500 for doctors and medicines in the past eight years. Mr. Larson has cured me. Some take longer than others. I myself had taken half the course before I felt any change outside of constipation. If Mr. Larson ever comes back to Salina and I need treatment, I will surely go to him, for he is the best I ever met yet, and wherever his treatment takes hold it goes ahead."

"Yours truly, Jas. W. Mason, Salina, Kan."

Six Treatments Improved.

The writer of the following letter began taking treatments of Mr. Larson just six days before he left Salina and got such good results that she regretted having delayed so long as to be unable to take a full course:

"Salina, Kan., Jan. 19, 1904. THE DAILY CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"Your questions concerning Mr. Larson's work here in Salina, I will say that I have heard given everyone seemed well satisfied with his treatment as a healer, and that he is a good man. I took treatment for stomach and heart trouble. I only took six treatments—he has never should have taken more—although my stomach is much improved, also my heart works better and a lame back is considerably relieved (which was the result of a hard fall some years ago). Altogether, I really think he has patched me up for a time. At least I am glad I have given him a trial."

"Yours truly, Mrs. G. P. Banks, Salina, Kan."

Five Years of Spookache.

Here is the very remarkable story of a man who had suffered from a lame back for nine years, and had tried to gain relief through the ordinary medical channels for years without any appreciable result. How different the result, obtained after consulting Mr. Larson, the letter he writes makes only too plain:

"Salina, Kan., Feb. 1, 1904. THE WESTERN CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"Dear Sir—In answer to your letter

James Austin Larson

The Originator of Teleconi, the Science of Treating Human Diseases by Vibration.

Mr. Larson maintains that vibration is the energy that will put all the functions of the human system into perfect harmony. This results, he claims, in perfect health. Discard of these functions means disease, which the Man of Teleconi seeks to correct by his system.

I have much pleasure in saying that I took treatment of J. Austin Larson for a trouble from which I had suffered for nine years. I had sought the advice of medical physicians for years, but the relief I gained was only of a temporary nature and never permanent. I consider J. Austin Larson, who thought he could cure me, and after taking the first treatment, I was cured. I am still feeling fine and his cure I think is permanent.

"I wish, before closing, to say that Mr. Larson has given perfect satisfaction and that some of his cures seem to be little less than miraculous. Mr. Larson has proved himself to be a perfect gentleman, and as a healer he is far superior to any I have ever heard about."

"Yours respectfully, Andrew Humbarger."

Benefit Through Difficulties.

The following letter is from a man who drove twenty-two miles each time he took a treatment of Mr. Larson. His trouble was asthma, a disease which displays its worst features in the winter and is never benefited by long, cold drives. In spite of the drawbacks attending his treatments and the treacherous nature of his trouble, he obtained benefit and the improvement has continued since dropping the treatments, the best possible proof that where Mr. Larson's treatment takes hold, improvement continues until a cure is effected. In fact, many of his greatest cures were effected after the close of a course of treatments. The letter follows:

"January 21, 1904. THE DAILY CALL, Beloit, Kansas."

"Gentlemen—I took treatment from Mr. J. Austin Larson for asthma. I am not cured, but was greatly benefited, and am improving slowly even now, and believe that if I could have continued to take more treatments, I would have effected a permanent cure. I think he did a wonderful work in Salina, but will let others sound his praises themselves."

"Respectfully, H. C. Keeler, Gypsum, Kansas."

Constipated Forty Years.

This letter is from an old soldier a veteran engineer and a man well known among the cattlemen of Central Kansas:

"Salina, Kan., Jan. 18, 1904. THE DAILY CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"Six—I took treatment of Mr. J. Austin Larson for constipation and was greatly benefited and think he will do as he says he will. I think he is a perfect gentleman and a great healer. My treatment so far is all right and the results are far better than anything I have ever tried before. As to his work in Salina, as far as I know, he has given satisfaction."

"Respectfully, J. E. Pearson."

Ten Treatments Benefited.

The writer of the following letter took only a partial course of treatments but received material and permanent benefit:

"Seattle, Wash., Feb. 2, 1904. THE WESTERN CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"Gentlemen—Yours of January 16 received in regard to Mr. Larson's treatment will say that I did not take a full course as I did not have time on account of going west and getting benefit of low rates. I was treated for nervous indigestion and am confident that I am much better than before taking treatment, although not entirely cured. I took only ten treatments, but wish now that I had taken the full 17 treatments. I think Mr. Larson did lots of good while working in Salina, and many of my friends were treated with good results. He is an honest man and undoubtedly a great healer."

"Yours respectfully, A. E. Lagerstrom, 1207 Seventh Ave., Seattle, Wash."

Relieved from Sick Bed.

Following is a letter from a woman who had been sick a bed for over three months and had been given up by the doctors:

"Salina, Kan., Jan. 18, 1904. THE WESTERN CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"In answer to your letter of the 16th and the questions you ask me to answer regarding Mr. J. Austin Larson's work in Salina, will say, his work here has been successful and good—so many people were cured of their troubles. As for the treatments they are all right. I took treatments of Mr. Larson for heart trouble, stomach trouble, extreme nervousness and constipation, a soreness in my right side which had caused me great pain in the past three years, but which is now gone. The results I have obtained are permanent so far in my own case. As for what I think of Mr. J. Austin Larson as a man and a healer—well, he is a perfect gentleman and an honest man. You can believe what he says. Mr. Larson is certainly a great healer."

"I say to the sick and suffering, go to Mr. Larson and let him treat you. If he says he can cure you, he will. Mr. Larson is well spoken of in Salina and has many friends here, and all that I have met speak well of him."

"Yours very respectfully, Mrs. D. B. Carpenter, 223 North Santa Fe Avenue."

Received Great Benefit.

The writer of this letter was treated for a running sore. The pain was removed and the sore diminished in size:

"January 19, 1904. THE WESTERN CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"Your note of inquiry received yesterday. I took treatment of Mr. J. Austin Larson for ulcer on my leg, and was cured in five days. When I went to Salina for treatment, I was in a very bad state, but he cured me. I received more benefit than from anything else that I have tried. I lessened the pain and the limb is better and the sore healed and hasn't got any worse since I quit. My treatments were taken under many difficulties, for I was so far from Salina and was on my feet so much, but I think Mr. Larson is honest in his work and a gentleman."

"Mrs. M. E. Saunders, Klapp, Kan."

Old Man Entirely Cured.

The following letter is from a man 70 years of age:

"Salina, Kan., Jan. 16, 1904. THE DAILY CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"Gentlemen—Four favor of the 16th inst. in regard to Mr. J. Austin Larson's work in Salina received and fully noted. In reply, beg to state that I have seen some remarkable cures performed in this vicinity."

"In regard to my own case, will say that I have been troubled with rheumatism, stomach trouble and constipation for the past 30 years, and have tried various doctors and patent medicines without any benefit. Early in December, 1903, I commenced taking a course of treatment from Mr. J. Austin Larson, with the result that my stomach trouble and constipation are entirely cured and my rheumatism is very much improved. In fact, I am in better health than I have been for a number of years, and have every reason to believe that the results obtained will prove to be permanent, and I feel very grateful to Mr. Larson for the good he has done me."

"I believe Mr. Larson to be a man of great integrity, honest and fair in his dealings, and a healer of remarkable powers. Very respectfully, Swan Ekstrand."

Cannot Praise Enough.

The almost miraculous cure of Miss Myrtle Phillips of Bavaria, who was brought to Mr. Larson in a mentally unbalanced condition, is known to newspaper readers everywhere:

"Bavaria, Kan., Jan. 17, 1904. THE WESTERN CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"To those afflicted—I wish to offer a few words of testimony in regard to Mr. Larson's great work. I think Mr. Larson as a man is a gentleman in every respect and I cannot say enough in praise of his good work, for I feel fully assured that he has done me more good in my hours of trouble than any one else I was in. I was in a very bad condition, and which doctors claimed was due to nervous prostration. I had no appetite and could not sleep, in fact I was on the verge of giving up. I now feel like a different person, eat hearty, sleep well, and have not felt better in a long time. Hoping these few words will help to bring comfort and happiness to those afflicted, I extend my sincere thanks to Mr. J. Austin Larson for his work."

"Yours very truly, Miss Myrtle Phillips."

Healing Sore Cured.

The following letter shows that the cure of a running sore for S. A. Miller was permanent:

"Assaria, Kan., Jan. 20, 1904. THE DAILY CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"Dear Sirs—Yours of the 16th at hand and contents noted. In reply I wish to say that I took treatment from Mr. J. Austin Larson for a running sore on the right side of my face of four months standing. His work in Salina and vicinity was satisfactory as far as I know. As a man and a healer I think he is honest and upright in his dealings. In my case I think the cure is permanent."

"Very truly yours, S. A. Miller."

Constipation Cured, Lameness Helped.

Here is a letter from a woman who was badly crippled and never obtained benefit until treating with Mr. Larson:

"Salina, Kan., Jan. 25, 1904. THE BELLOIT DAILY CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"I will write and let you know that I took treatment for constipation and lameness in my limbs. He has cured me of constipation and also helped my limbs a great deal, and he has also helped me in a great many other ways. I know him to be an honest man and that he does as he says he will."

"Yours respectfully, Four in question, Salina, Kan., 303 North Ninth Street."

Years of Suffering Ended.

J. C. Owen, proprietor of the Palace Bakery and Kandy Kitchen of Salina, suffered intensely from stomach trouble for 30 years and obtained relief only after treating with Mr. Larson:

"Salina, Kan., Jan. 20, 1904. THE WESTERN CALL, Beloit, Kan."

"First question—For what did you take treatment of J. Austin Larson? For stomach and heart trouble. Second question—What do you think of Mr. Larson's work at Salina? It surely was a blessing to a great man. I know who took advantage of the opportunity."

"Third question—What do you think of him as a man and a healer? As a man he is a gentleman. As a healer he ranks among the best."

"Fourth question—Do you know in your own case of the permanency of the results obtained? He did me a great deal of good and instead of having suffered intensely from stomach trouble I have improved some."

"Respectfully, J. C. Owen."

James Austin Larson has his offices in the Oregon Hotel, Suits 212-213-214-215-216. His office hours are from 9 to 12; 2 to 5; 7 to 8. Positively no Sunday hours. Enter at 91 Seventh street, take the elevator and the elevator boy will point out Mr. Larson's apartments.
